

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE.

THE volume of the NEW EDINBURGH ALMANAC now issued will be found to contain considerably more than the ordinary number of pages.

Recess. 4-6-31. NDL for D.F.

THE LEGISLATION of the last session, in so far as Scotland is concerned, was more than usually voluminous, and called for an enlargement of the limits of this section of the work. Room has thus been made for ample digests of the important Acts for the consolidation and amendment of the Bankruptcy Laws, for the removal of Nuisances and regulation of Lodging-houses, for the new system of Registration of Voters in Burghs, for the incorporation and regulation of Joint-Stock Companies, for increasing the efficiency of Reformatory and Industrial Schools, and for transferring the jurisdiction of the Court of Exchequer to the Court of Session. Abstracts are inserted of other statutes of general concern, such as those regarding Commissioners of Supply, Advances for Improvement of Land, Fire Insurances, Malt Duty, Income Tax, Procedure before Justices, Judicial Procedure and Securities for Debts, Alteration of the Mercantile Laws, and Amendment of the Law of Marriage. Local Acts do not fall within the plan of the volume; but as the Edinburgh Almanac would have been incomplete without an abridgment of the Edinburgh Municipal Extension Act, an analysis of its clauses has been given.

THE still increasing interest and extent of the PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS has swelled that division of the work also beyond its accustomed dimensions. The annual Returns and Reports presented to the Legislature are year by year becoming at once more instructive in their nature and more comprehensive in their range. It will be seen from the following sheets that there scarcely a point in the whole Statistics of Scotland on which information is not now collected and elaborated. Without venturing to what the readers of the New Edinburgh Almanac have long learned to expect in its pages—such as details regarding the Poor Laws, Crime, Prisons, Education, Fisheries, Navigation, Railways, Roads, Taxes, Trade and Manufactures—attention may be called to the new features which have been introduced in the abstracts of the Expenditure and Income of all the Public Offices, of the annual Report of the Post-Master-General, of the yearly, quarterly, and monthly Reports of the Registrar-General of Births, Deaths, and Marriages, of the Valuation of Scotland, of the Tables of Agricultural Statistics, of the weekly prices and quantities of Grain in the Edinburgh Market, and of the returns regarding the Ordnance Survey, the Public Registers of Deeds and Writs, Appeals to the House of Lords, Rural Police, Medical Graduates and Licentiates, Mineral Produce, &c. &c.

The Publishers, while they continue to request that information of all changes in the Lists may be sent to them as soon as possible, have once more to express their thanks to the many public officers and private gentlemen who have kindly contributed to the authentication of the ensuing pages.

TWEEDDALE COURT, EDINBURGH,
December 24, 1856.

For the concluding portion of the Tables of the Agricultural Statistics of Scotland for 1856 (published after the earlier sheets of the Almanac had been printed), and for other Additions,—at the end of the volume, p. 752-756.

The Kalendar,

AND INFORMATION CONNECTED THEREWITH.

PRELIMINARY OBSERVATIONS ON THE KALENDAR.

THOUGH the Astronomical portion of Oliver & Boyd's New Edinburgh Almanac is specially designed for popular use, it may, in the absence of the Nautical Almanac, be found serviceable to the Astronomer and the Navigator.

All the computations are adapted to Greenwich mean time. If we subtract 13m* from the time in the tables, the remainder is Edinburgh mean time. Mean Time is that which is shown by a well-regulated clock; Apparent Time that indicated by a sundial. The column called Equation of Time shows the difference between mean and apparent time: when it is headed "Clock before Sun," the mean is earlier than the apparent noon; and to obtain apparent time, the equation must be subtracted from the mean time: when the column is headed "Clock after Sun," the mean is later than the apparent noon, and to obtain apparent time, the equation must be added to the mean time. To reduce apparent into mean time, add the equation when the clock is before the sun; subtract it when the clock is after the sun.

The rising and setting of the centre of the sun are calculated for the latitude of Edinburgh, at the level of the sea, allowance being made for parallax and refraction. The declination, parallax, semi-diameter, right ascension, and logarithmic distance of the sun, the equation of time, and the places of the principal planets, are computed for the instant of mean noon. The semi-diurnal arcs of the planets are used in ascertaining the times of their rising and setting: thus, to find the approximate time of rising, subtract the arcs from the times of southing; and to find that of setting, add the arcs to the times of southing.

The time of high water at Leith is computed from manuscript tables deduced from recent observations on the Tides in the Firth of Forth, and the depth from FORMULÆ investigated in the second and fifth volumes of the Mécanique Céleste of La Place. The depths, as shown by signal, are 1 foot 6 inches less than those computed. The times, though calculated for Leith, will be found sufficiently correct for the other ports on the Firth of Forth, as well as for Berwick, Dundee, Holy Island, and London Bridge, as the winds frequently cause a wider difference than that which exists between the times at those places and Leith; but when greater accuracy is required, recourse should be had to the table at page 23.

The time of high water at Granton may be assumed the same as at Leith; the depth of high water at the Victoria Jetty will be obtained by adding six feet six inches to the depths calculated for Leith; at the two upper jetties by adding eight feet; and at the end of the pier by adding ten feet three inches.

The rising and setting of the moon, corrected for parallax and refraction, are computed for Edinburgh, at the level of the sea; and her Semi-diameter, Horizontal Parallax, Right Ascension, and Declination, which are given for each day at noon, afford the means of making many useful and interesting Nautical and Astronomical calculations.

All the results have been carefully checked by means of differences and by frequent independent calculations, so that it is hoped no error of importance will be found.

NOTE.—When the time is between noon and midnight, it is indicated by the letter a. or A.; and when between midnight and the following noon, by the letter m. or M.

* In using this Table take from the Kalendar the time of High Water at Leith; add to it the time opposite the place required when the sign + is prefixed; subtract it when the sign - occurs. Thus the time of High Water at Leith in the morning of January 3 is 7h. 51m.; the time in this table opposite Liverpool is - 3h. 14m.; and by subtracting this from the former is obtained 4h. 17m. the time of the morning tide at Liverpool.

FARMER'S AND GRAZIER'S KALENDAR.

January.—In fresh weather, where the soil is moderately dry, the plough may be kept in motion.—To make the feeding of cattle remunerative, it is necessary that the most unremitting attention be paid to the animals. Whether they are fed in courts, byres, or boxes, they ought to be kept warm and comfortably littered, whilst their food, of whatever description, ought to be regularly supplied at stated hours. Crushed grains, and artificial food given in addition to stored roots, will be found a profitable mode of feeding, and chopped straw may also be given as a healthy and economical addition to their diet. Cows require succulent roots or food prepared by steam or hot water, to yield milk copiously. Shelter new dropt lambs, and give their dams roots, hay, and bruised grain, or linseed cake.

February.—Frost being a powerful agent in obtaining mould for covering seeds, plough grass and other lands intended to produce a crop. Whether turnip be folded or carried from the field, plough the land as the crop is removed, and wheat-sowing may follow. Beans and oats may be sown; but it is only rich dry soils which can be seeded so early with prospect of success. In mild weather thorn hedges may be dressed, and new ones planted. Lay up stores of seed-corn, put implements into working trim, and execute many little jobs, that no interruption may be experienced in sowing-time.—Animals about to bring forth merit particular attention,—the supply of milk and strength of offspring being affected by the dam's treatment previous to birth. Keep calves warm, clean, and dry; give hay and sliced roots in addition to liquid food to such as are rearing.

March.—Finish wheat-sowing about the middle of the month. Sow beans, oats, and barley as soon as the weather and soil admit,—reserving cold wet lands till the season advances. The seeds of clover and ryegrass will succeed amongst autumnal-sown wheats, without harrowing or rolling, unless the surface be peculiarly dry. Particular fields intended for barley or potatoes may receive a second ploughing. Prepare composts and manures for turnip. This is the best time for planting hedges.—In altering the diet of fattening animals, always let the change be to one more nutritious. Fattening cattle may be allowed bruised grain or linseed cake. If there be a scarcity of turnip for cattle intended for grass, give a small allowance of bruised grain, cake, or hay. Should the weather be favourable, potatoes may be planted after the middle of this month.

April.—No favourable opportunity should now be lost to sow grain crops. Harrow and roll clover and ryegrass sown amongst wheat, to ensure the seed germinating. Store the residue of the turnip crop, to preserve the bulbs and prevent the exhaustion of soil. Drain lands intended for green crop where previously neglected. Potatoes may be planted in favourable situations. Finish planting thorn hedges.—On store farms, this is the chief lambing season, and the shepherd's utmost attention is necessary. Cease folding turnip, and either feed sheep on stored roots, or restrict them to grass. Should the pastures be late, give sheep grains or prepared cakes. Fattening lamb-hogs require good pasture, being unable to eat turnip freely, from shedding teeth. When there is a scarcity of keep at the homestead, lean cattle may be allowed to roam over permanent pastures. Seedling grasses will seldom admit of being depastured with cattle.

May.—Conclude the sowing of grain crops; and, with the advance of the season, use early varieties. From necessity, barley and pease may be sown up to the end of the month; but full crops cannot be counted upon from such late sowing. Prepare soils for turnip, and use every means to produce a fine tilth. Finish potato-planting. Give a second ploughing to summer fallow, and never allow vegetation to make progress at this season on its surface.—Fattening cattle may be continued on well-kept Swedish turnip and potatoes. When there is a sufficiency of grass, and the soil becomes dry, stock pastures with all descriptions of cattle. In cold and wet evenings, shelter milch cows and fat cattle in courts. Wean early calves, and turn late ones out to pasture. Swedish turnips may be sown from the middle of this month to the end of it.

June.—This is the month for sowing turnips. Where Swedes could not be sown during May, they may still be planted during the first days of June. All other varieties may be sown in course of the month. Drilled crops require attention. Weeds are most easily destroyed when young; and as a general rule, use hand and horse hoes as soon as the crops admit of the operations. Earth up early-planted potatoes. Haymaking commences in early situations. Mow grasses before the plants seed; remove the crop quickly from the ground, and soon afterwards carry it to the stack.—Sheep-shearing becomes general. Fleeces are proportionate to the treatment of animals; and every progression or falling off in condition may be traced in the quantity and quality of wool. Cattle may be best soiled this month, and this mode of feeding has many advantages.

July.—Conclude haymaking from artificial grasses. Single out turnip, leaving on rich soils spaces of from ten to twelve inches between each plant, and let hand and horse hoes be in constant requisition, with a view to improving the crops and benefiting succeeding ones. Work fallows thoroughly with plough, harrow, and roller, carefully removing root-weeds by the hand. Execute draining, and apply lime and lime-composts when such operations are necessary. Hand-weed grain crops.—In warm weather fattening cattle and milch cows are the better of sheds, to shelter them from the sun. Throughout summer examine flocks daily, to preserve them from the attack of flies, and use the common remedies for the prevention and destruction of maggots.

August.—Conclude hand and horse hoeing turnip. Apply manure to the fallows, and immediately plough it into the soil, putting the ridges into proper form, and clearing out water-courses, to guard against wet weather. In mountain districts haymaking from natural grasses engages the attention of store-farmers. In low situations corn-harvest will occupy all hands.—Lambs not separated from their dams last month must be weaned and put on the best pastures. On lowly situated arable farms get in ewes for early lambing. In high districts select and prepare the stock to be sent to market in the course of autumn. Prepare ropes, thatch, and every description of store necessary for the harvest, and see that the requisite implements are in proper order.

September.—This may be considered the harvest month. Engage plenty of assisting hands for this important season. Guard against shaking winds by reaping before the juices have left the straw; and to avoid sprouting, keep cut crops always standing in an upright position. When the crop is fit for stacking, carry it by day and by night, and cover the stacks as soon as they are built. Hand-weed turnip where necessary. Finish fallows; and such as are wet and coldly situated may be sown with wheat.—On arable farms, weaned lambs and ewes for early lambing may be allowed to depasture stubbles and seedling grass. The breeders, rearers, and feeders of stock will meet at the different markets, and make arrangements for their customary changes of animals.

October.—Harvest being finished, this month may be considered the first in the agricultural year, as on the carrying of one crop, preparations for the next should be begun. The plough should now be set in motion. Commence wheat-sowing in later situations, and defer only such fields as are very dry, and situated in an early climate. Use the preventatives for smut immediately before scattering the seed, and never sow unless there be moisture in the soil to effect germination. Gather potatoes, and carefully secure them from frost.—Unless there is abundance of grass, sheep should get turnip on the pastures. In the beginning of the month remove fattening cattle to the courts, and shelter milch cows during night. Keep weakly calves warm, and allow them nourishing food.

November.—Conclude potato harvest. Finish wheat-sowing, although this grain may be sown any time on rich dry soils up to the middle of March. At this season, sow wheat from day to day as the soil is turned over. Begin to store turnips for winter use; and wheat may be sown where the crop is removed. Form lime-composts for applying in spring and summer. This is the best time for draining soils intended for green crop and fallow. Dress hedges and ditches.—Sheep intended to be fatted should be folded on turnip, and allowed dry fodder. Lamb-hogs will thrive best with an allowance of turnip on pastures. To all flocks apply the salves and lotions in common use. Cattle of all descriptions should receive fodder and shelter during night, and such as are fattening be carefully attended to in the courts or boxes.

December.—Continue to plough stubbles. Store turnip in mild weather. Regulate thrashing, so that there may be straw to last through the season. In mild weather dress ditches and repair fences, drain, and add by every means to the stores of compost and manure. During frosty weather bring forward materials for drains and composts, and remove heavy commodities which require a firm surface for transport.—Cattle of every description should now be in winter quarters, and receive winter fare. Separate the weak from the strong. Have a constant supply of water to store cattle, and apportion their litter and food to last till the arrival of the grass season. Give fattening cattle as much as they can eat, commencing with globe turnip, and proceeding with food of increasing richness.

GARDENER'S KALENDAR.

January.—When the frost is not severe, trench, manure, and turn up in ridges all vacant ground, and prepare hotbeds. In open and dry weather, sow in mild exposures, for a succession, a few early-frame pease, common beans, short-topped radishes, lettuces, carrots, onions, spinach, and curled parsley, protecting them from the frost by mats or straw; and, in hotbeds, sow cauliflowers, melons, cucumbers, small salading, early cabbages, and kidney-beans. Plant, prune, and train standard and wall fruit-trees, gooseberry, raspberry, and currant bushes. Edge beds, form new flower-gardens, and shelter from frost tender evergreens, tulips, ranunculuses, &c. Pot choice dahlias, placing them in a stove or hotbed. Air and keep dry carnations and stage auriculas. Plant snowdrops, crocuses, gladioluses, irises, &c.

February.—Make ready all the ground intended for early crops; and, when the weather is favourable, continue to sow every fortnight pease, beans, onions, spinach, savoys, lettuces, celery, cauliflowers, carrots, parsnips, and radishes, as directed in the kalendar for the preceding month. Cut early kidney-potatoes for seed, and put them into the stove or hotbed in order to start them for planting out. Clean shrubberies, roll walks and lawns, and plant out evergreens and shrubs of all kinds, particularly roses. Put cuttings into rich light soil in well-sheltered borders, and plant stocks of the common wild rose for standards on which to bud the Chinese and other fine varieties. Protect all tender plants from the effects of frost, and air greenhouse and stage auriculas and polyanthus frames. Top-dress all fine auriculas and polyanthuses in pots or boxes. Strike dahlias from roots in hotbeds, and sow balsams, cockscombs, tricolors, amaranths, sensitive and ice plants, as well as other tender annuals. Plant carnation-layers, ranunculuses, anemones, and bulbous roots, and divide the roots of herbaceous plants.

March.—The principal crops of vegetables should be put into the ground this month. Sow asparagus, celery, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts, beets, brocoli, spinach, onions, Dutch turnips, carrots, pease and beans, savoys, parsnips, and turnip-rooted radishes. Plant red cabbage, sea-kale, kidney-beans, and cauliflowers from frames; and sow cucumbers and melons in hotbeds. Finish pruning, dress borders and strawberry beds. This is the best time to graft fruit-trees, and the China, perpetual, moss, and rosette roses, on the common brier or blush China rose, and to propagate them by layers. Pot dahlias that have pushed, and also cuttings from the offsets, placing them in a moderate heat. Protect tender plants and blossoms, and sow polyanthus, auricula, and almost every kind of perennial, biennial, and annual seeds.

April.—Sow whatever was omitted last month, and plant out such of the pot-herbs as are ready for that purpose. Continue to sow and plant out rhubarb, artichokes, asparagus, nasturtiums, sea-kale, Dutch turnips, German greens, and small salading. Earth up pease, tie up lettuces, and in very dry weather water seedling beds. Finish the grafting of fruit-trees, and train and clean walks and edgings. Sow annuals, biennials, and perennials. Plant evergreens, and propagate by cuttings jasmine, lavender, sage, rosemary, rue, &c. and all the woody kitchen shrubs. Sow dahlias, carnations, pinks, hollyhocks, Cape, Brompton, and German stocks, China asters, and all kinds of hardy annuals. Destroy the green fly on roses, and preserve the bloom of stage auriculas from sun and rain. Top-dress all flowers in pots by removing withered leaves, and put in fresh earth. Hoe and rake gravel walks, cut box-edgings, and mow grass plots.

May.—Sow capsicums, cauliflowers, carrots, lettuces, spinach, Knight's marrow-fat pease, cucumbers, red beet for pickling, and a full crop of kidney and French beans. Transplant cabbages, winter-greens, lettuces, cauliflowers, and celery. Hoe and stake pease, water newly planted crops, and propagate aromatic plants by slips or cuttings. Plant out dahlias, if there be no appearance of frost, and protect from wind and rain choice tulips, ranunculuses, and anemones. Propagate herbaceous plants by dividing the roots; wallflowers, sweet-williams, lychnis, and rockets, by slips; and China roses, calceolarias, mimuluses, heliotropiums, &c. by cuttings. Put out into the open border calceolarias, pelargoniums, fuchsias, salvias, the verbena melindris, with other greenhouse plants; also Neapolitan violets, and such other hardy annuals as were sown last month. Sow biennials and perennials, if formerly omitted.

June.—Continue sowing the vegetables directed last month, and also turnips for autumn use. Plant out brocoli, cabbages, savoys, celery, cauliflowers in shady borders, leeks, lettuces, cucumbers for pickling, and kidney-beans. Watering is requisite in dry weather both evening and morning; and also the hoeing of potatoes, cabbages, and pease. Thin out onions, leeks, carrots, parsnips, and early turnips. Gather and preserve kitchen-herbs. Shade and air melon-plants, and strike by cuttings double-wallflowers, rockets, scarlet lychnis, and stocks. Transplant annuals, biennials, and perennials, and seedling pinks into a bed. Lift all hyacinths, tulips, and other bulbs that have ceased flowering. Cut off the foliage an inch above the stem, and before putting by lay them in sand a fortnight. Re-pot auriculas, polyanthuses, &c. Mow and roll grass walks and plots once a fortnight during this and the other summer months.

July.—In this month prepare all unoccupied plots of ground for autumn and winter crops. Sow turnips, French beans, lettuces, and black Spanish radishes. Plant out brocoli, cauliflower, savoys, leeks, and winter cabbages, and earth up celery. Lift full-grown winter onions, and prepare mushroom spawn. In fine weather, gather medicinal flowers and sweet herbs when in bloom, dressing them in the shade for winter use. Divest wall-trees, espaliers, and standards, of all superfluous shoots. Continue to water in dry weather, and gather all kinds of seeds as they advance to maturity. Propagate evergreens, roses, and other shrubs, by laying the young wood. Inoculate flowering and other shrubs, bud roses in cloudy weather, and divide the roots of double primroses, polyanthus, and auriculas. Lay or pipe carnations and pinks, take up anemones and ranunculuses, and put in cuttings of pansies, calceolarias, dahlias, Chinese chrysanthemums, geraniums, &c.

August.—Sow onions, early cabbages, and parsley, for the succeeding year; and lettuces, spinach, brocoli, and cauliflowers, to stand the winter. Earth celery; hoe and thin turnips; transplant brocoli, savoys, and cauliflowers, and the principal crop of celery into trenches for blanching. Cut those herbs which are adapted for distillation or for winter use. Make mushroom-beds, propagate kitchen herbs by slips, and take up all onions, garlic, and shalots that are withered in the stem. Continue to bud on fruit-trees, roses, and bushes, so long as the bark rises freely and the weather is cloudy. To obtain new varieties, sow auricula, polyanthus, and anemone seeds, and mignonette to blow in winter; as also the seeds of tulips, hyacinths, irises, and all the other bulbous-rooted flowers. Support and thin dahlias to improve their bloom. Shift tender exotics and hardy green-house plants into fresh pots. Keep the ground clear of weeds; and continue to water plentifully.

September.—The operations of this month are not very numerous. Sow vegetable seeds for a spring-crop, and plant brocoli, cauliflowers, savoys, German greens, leeks, lettuces, celery, and perennial aromatic and pot herbs. Hoe winter-spinach and turnips, earth up celery and cardoons, weed cauliflowers and young onions, prick out cabbage-plants, gather ripe seeds, and make mushroom-beds. Plant cuttings of gooseberries, currants, and raspberries, and also strawberries, taking out all the old stools which have twice produced fruit. Continue to divide and transplant biennial and perennial flower-roots; lay almost every kind of shrubs; and put in cuttings of evergreens, China roses, and flowering shrubs. Crocuses, snowdrops, Persian irises, dog's-tooth violets, fritillarias, crown imperials, narcissuses, and most of the other bulbous roots, may now be planted. All the rooted pinks and carnations may be planted out. Sow hardy annuals to stand the winter, and trench up ground in which to plant tulips and hyacinths during October or November.

October.—Sow radish, lettuce, and carrot seeds; also early pease and beans in a warm exposure. Plant horse-radishes, lettuces, early cabbages, and other greens neglected last month, in sheltered situations; also cauliflowers, mint, and tarragon in frames, for winter use. Earth up savoys and cabbages as high as the leaves. Take up carrots and parsnips, cut off their tops, and bury them in dry sand. Crop the tops of parsley, to make fresh leaves for winter. Plant all deciduous trees and shrubs. Commence pruning, taking the vertical branches in fruit-trees, and cutting obliquely to prevent rain from lodging; also roses, honeysuckle, and other flowering shrubs. Protect dahlias, young carnations, and layers, from sudden frost; and, about the end of the month, begin to plant hyacinths, tulips, ranunculuses, and anemones. In favourable weather, transplant hardy fibrous-rooted plants, intermixing them in the borders, to keep up a succession in the flowering season.

November.—Although hazardous, early pease and beans may be sown in a warm border; if neglected, most vegetables recommended in the last two months may still be planted, earthed up, &c., taking care to protect them from frost. Force sea-kale, rhubarb, and asparagus. Prune and plant fruit trees and bushes; and finish flowering shrubs and trees. Transplant seedling stocks, and suckers taken from the roots of the pear, codling, plum, and quince trees, to prepare them for budding or grafting different fruits upon; also stocks of the tree-rose, for budding upon them the garden and Chinese varieties. Shelter choice flowers. To make the colours of the tulip distinct, the compost ought to be changed every alternate year; an operation which should be performed this month. Tulip-soil should be one-third of fresh, light, turfy loam; one-third of fine sand; and one-third of sandy peat, or leaf-mould. Take up dahlia roots whenever the bloom is nipped by frost, and keep them in sand free from damp.

December.—Prepare for future operations, by digging, manuring, or trenching vacant ground, and collecting dung, leaves, and turf, to make compost. In mild weather, a few early pease and radishes may be sown in a warm border, and small salads and cucumbers in hotbeds. Cover with fern, straw, litter, or mats, all such plants as are likely to be injured by frost, either in the open ground or in frames, admitting free supplies of air when the weather is favourable. Plant and prune all kinds of trees and bushes, taking care to stake the trees that are newly planted. In pruning roses, remove the old wood, curtail the young straggling branches, adding good store of decayed manure. Fine auriculas, polyanthus, and carnations must now be treated with great care.

FAIRS, CATTLE-MARKETS, &amp; TRYSTS IN SCOTLAND.

WHEN the appointed day happens to fall on Saturday, Sunday, or Monday, the fair is generally deferred till the Tuesday following. Fairs which are held according to the Old Style are distinguished by the letters o s placed after the day indicated. In some parts of the country the difference between the Old and New Styles is computed to be eleven, in others twelve days,—the Old being reckoned to be so much later than the New Style.

PART SECOND.

SECTION I.—USEFUL TABLES.

IMPERIAL MEASURES, WITH THEIR EQUIVALENTS IN THE METRICAL SYSTEM OF FRANCE.

I.—LENGTH.		Metres.
12 Inches	= 1 Foot	0.30479
3 Feet	= 1 Yard	0.91438
5½ Yards	= 1 Pole or Perch	5.02911
40 Poles	= 1 Furlong	201.16436
8 Fur. or } 1760 Yards }	= 1 Mile.	1609.31492

The hand = 4 inches; ell = 45 inches; pace = 5 feet; fathom = 6 feet. The degree = 20 leagues, or 69.121 miles. The land chain of 100 links = 66 feet.

II.—SURFACE.		Ares.
144 Sq. inches	= 1 Sq. foot	0.00929
9 Sq. feet	= 1 Sq. yd.	0.008361
30½ Sq. yds., or } 272½ sq. feet }	= 1 Sq. Pole	0.252919
40 Sq. poles	= 1 Rood	10.116775
4 Roods, or } 4840 sq. yds. }	= 1 Acre	40.467102

The acre also contains 10 square chains, and 640 acres = 1 square mile = 258.989 hectares.

III.—CAPACITY.
I.—GENERAL MEASURES OF SOLIDITY.
1728 Cubic inches	= 1 Cub. foot
27 Cubic feet	= 1 Cubic yd.
The ton measurement = 8 barrel bulk, or 40 cubic feet.

II.—MEASURES FOR LIQUIDS, CORN, AND DRY GOODS.*		Litres.
8665 Cubic in.	= 1 Gill	0.142
4 Gills	= 1 Pint	0.568
2 Pints	= 1 Quart	1.136
4 Quarts	= 1 Gallon	4.543
2 Gallons	= 1 Peck	9.087
4 Pecks	= 1 Bushel	36.348
8 Bushels	= 1 Quarter	290.781
The peck, bushel, and quarter, are used for dry goods only: there is besides, the last = 10 quarters.

In Beer Measure, the barrel contains 4 firkins or 36 gallons; and the hogshead 1½ barrel or 54 gallons.

In Wine Measure, besides the gallon and its subdivisions, various denominations are used, as the butt, pipe, &c., given on page 73, but these are now to be considered rather as the names of casks than as expressing any definite number of gallons. The standard gauges in trade are as follow:—Pipe of Port, 115 Imp. galls.; pipe of Lisbon, 117 do.; pipe of Cape or Madeira, 92 do.; pipe of Teneriffe, 100 do.; butt of Sherry, 108 do.; hogshead of Claret, 46 do.; aum of Hock, 30 do.

Herrings are measured by the barrel of 26½, or cran of 37½ gallons.

IV.—WEIGHTS.
I.—AVOIRDUPOIS WEIGHT.
27.34375 Troy gr.	= 1 Dram
16 Drams	= 1 Ounce
16 Ounces, or
7000 gr.	= 1 Pound
14 Pounds	= 1 Stone
2 Stones,
or 28 lbs.	= 1 Qr.
4 Qrs., or
112 lbs.	= 1 Cwt.
20 Cwts.	= 1 Ton
Flour Weight .—1 stone = 14 pounds; 1 boll = 140 pounds; 1 sack = 280 pounds, or 2½ cwt.; 1 barrel = 196 lbs. A quintal of fish is 100 lbs.
II.—TROY WEIGHT.
24 Grains	= 1 Pennyweight
20 Dwts	= 1 Ounce
12 Ounces,
or 5760 gr.	= 1 Pound

* In Ireland, grain is commonly sold by weight; a practice which is also followed in Liverpool, except in sales of malt and barley for malting purposes. In the latter place, wheat is sold by the 70 lbs.; oats by the 45 lbs.; and barley for grinding by the 60 lbs. weight.

The use of Troy weight is chiefly confined to the precious metals.

The fineness of gold is expressed in carats and grains, the unit of reference being divided into 24 carats, and the carat into 4 grains. The standard of gold coin is 22 carats; that is, the pound or other weight should contain 22 parts pure and 2 alloy. The mint-price of gold is £3, 17s. 10½d. per ounce; and hence the full weight of a sovereign is 5 dwts. 3·274 troygrains; * but the sovereign of 5 dwts. 2½ grains, and the half sovereign of 2 dwts. 13½ grains, are allowed currency. Wrought gold has two legal standards; one is 22 carats, the same as the coin, and the other 18 carats. The latter, instituted in 1798, is used chiefly for watch-cases and rings.

The fineness of silver is expressed in ounces and pennyweights; the standard fineness is 11 oz. 2 dwts. of pure metal and 18 dwts. of alloy, making together 1 pound troy. Since 1816, the silver coin is minted at 5s. 6d. per oz., as 66 shillings are coined from a pound of bullion. But as this is about 10 per cent. above the market value of the metal, the act of 1816 declares, "that silver coins shall be a legal tender for 40s. only at one time," and that gold coins shall be in future the sole standard measure of value and legal tender for payment, without limitation.

Wrought silver has two legal standards; one is the same as that of the coin, and the other 8 dwts. better, or 11 oz. 10 dwts. But the latter, called new sterling, is seldom used.

Diamond Weight.—Diamonds are weighed by carats, 151½ of which make one ounce troy; this carat is therefore equal only to 3¼ troy grains.

Pearl Weight.—The troy ounce contains 600 pearl grains, and hence one pearl grain is 4·5ths of a troy grain.

Apothecaries' Weight.—20 troy grains make 1 scruple; 3 scruples make 1 dram; and 8 drams make 1 troy ounce.

* AUSTRALIAN MINT.—Under recommendation of Treasury Minute of March 22, 1853, a Branch Mint was established in 1855 at Sydney, which coins sovereigns of the same weight and fineness as those issued from the London Mint; but they are stamped on one side so as to indicate their origin, and they are not legal tender in the United Kingdom, nor, as yet, in any part of Australia beyond New South Wales and Tasmania. The Sydney Mint differs from that of London in charging a seigniorage, which, under the existing regulations, is ½ per cent. on lodgements of gold dust or bullion of 10,000 oz. or upwards; lodgements under this amount are coined at a charge of 1 per cent.

These tables are also equalization tables of prices, as well as of measures and weights, but in the inverse ratio of the latter. Thus, for example, 9 lbs. = 4·0819 kilogrammes; but when the price of a kilogramme = 9 francs or shillings, the price of a pound = 4·0819 francs or shillings; also 9 kilogrammes = 19·84371 lbs.; but when the price of 1 lb. = 9 francs or shillings, the price of 1 kilogramme = 19·84371 francs or shillings.

OLD MEASURES SUPERSEDED BY THE IMPERIAL SYSTEM.

Scottish Measures of Length.—5280 feet = 1920 ells = 320 faths = 8 furlongs = 1 mile = 5920-568 imp. feet; or 10 Scots miles =  $11\frac{1}{4}$  imp. miles nearly.—Chain of 100 links = 74-120 imp. feet.

Scottish Measure of Surface.—5760 ells = 160 faths = 4 roods = 1 acre = 1-261183 imp. acre, or 6104 square yards nearly; and 23 Scots acres = 29 imp. acres nearly.

Scottish Measures of Weight.—Troyes or Dutch weight, 4096 drops = 256 oz. = 16 lbs. = 1 stone = 17-391835 lbs. avoird. The standard Scottish meal boll contained 8 stones Dutch, or 132-133 lbs. avoird.; but usually reckoned at 140 lbs. in consequence of the Dutch or Lanark stone being estimated at 17½ lbs. avoird.

Scottish Liquid Measure.—128 gills = 32 mutchkins = 16 chopins = 8 pints = 1 gallon = 3-00661 or about 3 imp. galls.

Irish Measures.—11 Ir. miles = 14 imp. miles.—30½ Ir. acres = 49 imp. acres.

English Wine Measure.—32 gills = 8 pints = 4 quarts = 1 gallon. And 262 galls. = 6 tierces = 4 hhds. = 3 puncheons = 2 pipes or butts = 1 tun.

1 wine gall. = -83311 imp. gall.; or 6 wine galls. = 5 imp. galls. nearly.

English Ale Measure.—8 pints = 4 quarts = 1 gallon. And 216 galls. = 24 firkins = 6 barrels = 4 hhds. = 3 puncheons = 2 butts = 1 tun.

1 ale gallon = 1-01704 imp. gall.; or 59 ale galls. = 60 imp. galls. nearly.

Linlithgow Dry Measure.—1024 lippies = 256 pecks = 64 fir. = 16 bolls = 1 chaldor, for wheat, 7-96048, and for barley, 11-650240 imp. quarters. Hence 2 wheat bolls = 1 imp. quarter; and 11 barley bolls = 8 imp. quarters nearly.

English or Winchester Dry Measure.—64 pts. = 32 qts. = 16 pottles = 8 galls. = 4 pks. = 1 bushel; 80 bushels = 20 cooms = 10 quarters = 2 loads = 1 last. 1 Winchester bushel = 7-73558 imp. galls.; and hence 32 Win. bushels or quarters = 31 imp. bushels or quarters nearly.

RECIPROCAL CONVERSION OF WINCHESTER AND IMPERIAL MEASURES.

As the Winchester and Imperial quarters are similarly divided, the first two columns in the right-hand table will also serve for the conversion of Winchester bushels, pecks, gallons, and quarts respectively, into the same denominations in Imperial; while the inverse operation may be performed by means of the first two columns in the left-hand table.

West Indies.....	In the British Islands, sterling money and dollars have now generally superseded the old currencies. By Proclamation, Sept. 21, 1833, the value of the dollar is fixed at 4s. 2d., and of the gold doubloon at 64s. sterling. The nominal values of L.100 sterling in the old currencies were:—Jamaica, L.140; Barbadoes, L.185; Windward Islands, except Barbadoes, L.175; Leeward Islands, L.200. But these values differed, in most instances widely, from the actual exchange. In 1835 the rates on London of several of the islands for L.100 sterling were in currency as follows: Jamaica, L.160; St Vincent, L.235; Grenada, L.240; St Lucia, L.237; Antigua, L.230.

STATE OF THE FIARS-PRICES

OF THE SEVERAL COUNTIES OF SCOTLAND FOR THE CROPS AND YEARS FROM 1849 TO 1855 INCLUSIVE.

The Fiars are the average prices, yearly ascertained by the Sheriff, with the help of a jury, of the several kinds of grain of the growth of his county, in the preceding crop. Their origin is obscure: it has been referred to the year 1627, when, it is said, they were for the first time ascertained in the county of Haddington; but they appear to have been struck in some other counties in the end of the previous century. The terms of procedure are regulated by the Acts of Roderunt, 21st December 1722, and 20th February 1723.

The Tables have been prepared from official documents in the Told-Office. The average is that of the period of Seven Years; but in a few cases, distinguished by an asterisk, that of Six Years only. Where blanks of more than one year occur, no average is stated, the Fiars not having been regularly struck.

The Grain is computed by the Imperial Quarter; the Meal by the Boll of 140 Imperial Pounds.

AWARD OR DECREE-ARBITRAL.

When less than 2160 words..£1, 15s. (INLAND BILL) DRAFT OR ORDER, after 10th October 1853, for the payment of any sum of money to the bearer, or to order, on demand.....1d.

And the following instruments shall be deemed and taken to be drafts or orders for the payment of money within the intent and meaning of this act, and of any act or acts relating to the stamp duties on bills of exchange, drafts, or orders, and shall be chargeable accordingly with the stamp duties imposed by this act, or any such act or acts, viz. :—

All documents or writings usually termed letters of credit, or whereby any person to whom any such document or writing is or is intended to be delivered or sent, shall be entitled, or be intended to be entitled, to have credit with, or in account with, or to draw upon any other person for, or to receive from such other person any sum of money therein mentioned.

Exemptions from the Duties on Drafts or Orders.—All drafts or orders for the payment of money to the bearer on demand, drawn upon any banker or bankers, exempt from stamp duty at the date of the act 16 & 17 Vict. c. 59. These are drafts on bankers who shall reside or transact the business of a banker within the distance of fifteen miles of the places where such drafts or orders shall be issued. They must specify the place where issued, and bear date on or before the day on which they are issued, and not direct the payment to be made by bills or promissory notes. In reference to this exemption, the act 17 & 18 Vict. c. 83, § 7, provides that they shall not be remitted or sent to any place beyond fifteen miles in a direct line from the bank or place at which the same are made payable, or be received in payment, or as a security, or be otherwise negotiated or circulated at any place beyond that distance. Penalty on persons sending or receiving such drafts, £50. Section 8th provides, that unstamped drafts, received within fifteen miles, on the adhesive stamps being affixed and cancelled, may be received and negotiated beyond that distance.

All letters of credit, whether in sets or not, sent by persons in the United Kingdom to persons abroad, authorizing drafts on the United Kingdom. —(16 and 17 Vict. c. 59).

Note.—The duty on drafts or orders may be impressed on the paper, or an adhesive stamp may be affixed. —16 & 17 Vict. c. 59 § 3. The adhesive stamp may be either a receipt or draft stamp. —17 & 18 Vict. c. 83, § 10. Where an adhesive stamp is used, the maker of the draft to cancel the stamp by writing on it his name or initials. Penalty for omission, £10. Penalty for removing adhesive stamps or using them a second time, or doing any act to defraud of duty, £20. —16 & 17 Vict. c. 59, § 4 & 5.

INLAND BILL payable otherwise than on demand;

PROMISSORY NOTE payable otherwise than to bearer on demand;

4000 and upwards ...	15s.

N.B.—The duties on Foreign Bills, drawn out of the United Kingdom, are to be denoted by adhesive stamps. The holder to affix the adhesive stamp, if one not on it before he negotiate it, and cancel the stamp by writing his name or the name of his firm and the date on it. The amount of duty on the adhesive stamps is impressed on two parts. The Board of Inland Revenue recommend that the cancellation should be on one of the parts, and the other left legible.

If a Foreign Bill payable abroad, and as to which the provision "drawn in sets of 3 or more" apply, shall be drawn in a single bill, the duty will be the same as on an Inland Bill, and if in a set of two, the duty on each will be the same as on an Inland Bill. This is in accordance with the opinion of the Board of Inland Revenue (see North British Daily Mail, 3d November 1854). But the Board have given an opinion that a Foreign Bill drawn abroad and payable in this country in duplicate or triplicate only represents one transaction, and is liable to the duty on one Inland Bill of the same amount,—that is, if one of the parts have the full duty, the others may be unstamped (see Times, 6th November 1854). The schedule of the act does not provide for such a Bill being drawn in sets. Bills bearing to be drawn out of the United Kingdom are to be deemed Foreign Bills so drawn, although they may in reality be drawn in the United Kingdom, 17 and 18 Vict. c. 83, § 4. A person in the United Kingdom drawing and issuing a bill payable out of the United Kingdom in a set, must draw the whole set, and a person transferring or negotiating such bill must transfer and deliver, stamped, the whole number of the set. Penalty, £100. A person taking such bill must get the whole set stamped, otherwise he cannot recover on it or make it available, ib. § 6. This applies only to bills drawn within and payable out of the United Kingdom.

INLAND BILL, DRAFT, OR ORDER for the payment of any sum of money, though not made payable to the bearer, or to order, if the same shall be delivered to the payee, or some person on his or her behalf, the same duty as on a bill of exchange for the like sum, payable to bearer or order.

INLAND BILL, DRAFT, OR ORDER for the payment of any sum of money, weekly, monthly, or at any other stated periods, if made payable to the bearer, or to order, or if delivered to the payee, or some person on his or her behalf, where the total amount of the money thereby made payable shall be specified therein, or can be ascertained therefrom, or shall be indefinite, the same duty as on a bill payable to bearer or order on demand.

PROMISSORY NOTE for the payment of any sum of money by instalments, or for the payment of several sums of money at different days or times, so that the whole of the money to be paid shall be definite and certain, the same duty as on a promissory note, payable otherwise than to the bearer on demand, for a sum equal to the whole amount of the money to be paid.

BILLS OF LADING ..... 6d.

BONDS AND OTHER SECURITIES.

BOND (personal) given for any certain sum of money not exceeding

And where the same shall exceed £300, then, for every £100, and also for any fractional part of £100, 2s. 6d. BOND as security for monies to be there-after lent, advanced, or paid, or which may become due upon account-current, together with any sum already advanced or due, or without, as the case may be,—

Where the money secured or to be ultimately recoverable shall be limited not to exceed a given sum,—The same duty as on a bond for such sum. Where uncertain, and without any limit,—The same as on a bond for a sum equal to the amount of penalty. Where there is no penalty, the bond shall be available for such an amount only as the ad valorem stamps will cover.

PERSONAL BOND given as a security for the transfer or retransfer of any share in any of the Government or Parliamentary Stocks or Funds, or of the Banks of England or Ireland, or of the East India Company, or of any other company or corporation,—The same ad valorem duty as on a bond for a sum of money equal to the value of the stock or fund secured, according to the average price at the date of the bond, or on either of the ten days preceding; or the latest day preceding on which there shall have been a known sale.

PERSONAL BOND given as a security for the payment of any sum of money, or for the transfer or retransfer of stock secured also by a wadset, or other instrument paying duty as a wadset, or for the performance of covenants contained in such instrument, or for both those purposes, provided such other instrument bear even date with, and be referred to in such bond—

Where the sum of money or the value of the stock secured shall not exceed £800,—The same ad valorem duty as on a mortgage or wadset for securing the like amount or value.

Exceeding £800, £1.

PERSONAL OR HERITABLE BOND given as an additional or farther security for the payment of any sum of money.

or for the transfer or retransfer of any share in any of these stocks previously secured by a bond or other security therein referred to, which has paid the proper ad valorem duty on bonds at the date thereof,—

Where the sum or the value of the stock shall not exceed £1400,—The same ad valorem duty as on a bond or mortgage for securing the like sum or value. Where said sum shall exceed £1400, £1, 15s.

BOND—Transfer or Assignment disposition or assignation of any such bond as aforesaid, and which has paid the proper ad valorem duty on bonds—

Where the principal money or stock secured by the bond shall not exceed in whole £1400,—The same duty as on a bond for the total amount or value.

And in every other case such transfer, assignment, disposition, or assignation shall be chargeable with the duty of £1, 15s.

PERSONAL OR HERITABLE BOND given as the only or principal security for payment of any annuity upon the original creation and sale thereof,—The same ad valorem duty as on a conveyance upon sale in consideration of the sum or value given or agreed for the purchase.—See Duties on Conveyances.

PERSONAL BOND given as a collateral or auxiliary security for the payment of any annuity upon the original creation and sale, where granted or conveyed or secured by any other deed or instrument, paying the ad valorem duty on conveyances upon the sale of any property—

Where such ad valorem duty shall not exceed 20s. such bond shall be chargeable with a stamp duty of equal amount therewith.

And where such exceeds 20s., £1.

PERSONAL OR HERITABLE BOND given as a security for the payment of any annuity (except upon the original creation and sale), or of any sum or sums of money at stated periods (not being interest nor rent upon a lease), for any definite and certain term, so that the total amount to be paid can be previously ascertained,—The same ad valorem duty as on a bond of the like nature for the payment of a sum of money equal to such total amount.

PERSONAL OR HERITABLE BOND given as a security for the payment of any annuity (except as aforesaid), or of any money at stated periods (not being interest nor rent upon lease), for the term of life or any other indefinite period, so that the whole cannot be previously ascertained,—

Where the annuity or sum secured shall not exceed £50 per annum, £1.

Exceeding £50 and not exceeding £100 per annum, £2.

And where exceeding £100 per annum, then for every £100, and also for any fractional part of £100 per annum, £2.

But where there shall be both a personal and heritable bond in separate deeds of the same date for securing any such annuity, &c., and the ad valorem duty above charged amounts to £2 or upwards, the heritable bond only to be charged with the ad valorem duty, and the personal bond to be charged only with a duty of £1.

BOND of any kind or description given for any other purpose than as aforesaid,—The duty chargeable by any act in force at passing 13th and 14th Vict. c. 97.

But no such bond shall be charged with any greater amount of stamp duty than the ad valorem duty before charged upon a bond given for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money of the same amount as the penalty of such bond.

BOND of RELIEF to a cautioner or surety, £1, 15s.

BOND for the due execution of an office, and to account for money received by virtue of such office, £1, 15s.

BOND given for, or in respect of, duties of customs or excise, or for preventing frauds or evasions thereof, or for any other matter relating thereto—relanding of plate—registering of British vessels,—5s.

HERITABLE OR PERSONAL BOND, of any kind whatever, not otherwise charged nor expressly exempted from all stamp duty, £1, 15s.

Note.—The above provision, that the duty shall not exceed the ad valorem duty on a sum the same amount as the penalty in the bond, applies to the four preceding entries.

CHARTER, DISPOSITION, OR CONTRACT (after 10th October 1854), containing the first original constitution of feu and ground-annual rights in Scotland (not being a lease or tack for years), in consideration of an annual sum payable in perpetuity, or for any indefinite period, whether feu farm or other rent, feu-duty, ground-annual, or otherwise:—

And where the purchase or consideration money shall exceed £600, then for every £100, and also for any fractional part of £100, 10s.

It is directed that the purchase money or consideration shall be truly expressed and set forth in words at length in or upon every deed or instrument of conveyance; and where such consideration shall consist either wholly or in part of any stock or security, the value thereof respectively, to be ascertained as after mentioned, shall also be truly set forth as aforesaid in or upon every such deed or instrument; and such value shall be deemed to be the purchase or consideration money, or part thereof, as the case may be, in respect whereof the ad valorem duty shall be charged.

And where the consideration or any part of the consideration shall be stock in the public funds, or any government debenture or stock of the banks of England or Ireland, or any debenture or stock of any corporation, company, society, or persons or person, payable only at the will of the debtor, the duty shall be calculated (taking the same respectively, whether constituting the whole or a part only of such consideration) according to the average selling price thereof respectively on the day or on either of the ten days preceding the date of the deed or instrument of conveyance, or if no sale shall have taken place within such ten days, then according to the average selling price thereof on the day of the last preceding sale, and if such consideration or part thereof shall be a mortgage, bond, or debenture, the amount whereof shall be recoverable by the holder, or any other security whatsoever, whether payable in money or otherwise, such calculation shall be made according to the sum due thereon for both principal and interest.

In any case where property shall be conveyed in consideration of any rent-charge or annuity, or any annual or periodical payment to be made permanently or for any indefinite period, so that the total amount of the money to be paid for such property cannot be previously ascertained, which shall be made subject to redemption, the money or the consideration mentioned as that on payment, &c. of which the same shall be redeemed or purchased, or repurchased, or shall cease to be payable, shall be deemed to be the purchase-money or consideration, on the sale of the said property so conveyed, and in respect of which last-mentioned purchase-money or consideration, the ad valorem duty shall be chargeable; and where any such last-mentioned consideration shall consist wholly, or in part, of any stock or security mentioned in the act 13 and 14 Vict.
c. 97, the value thereof shall be ascertained as in said act; and where any such annuity, &c. shall be made subject to redemption upon payment of any money or value to be ascertained in manner provided in the said deed or instrument, the amount of such money or value shall, for the purpose of charging the said ad valorem duty, be ascertained as in said deed or instrument. 16 and 17 Vic.
c. 59, § 11.

COPIES or EXTRACTS from the public register, or from books of any court of record, 2s. 6d. And where the same shall contain more than 600 words, any less quantity of words over and above the first 600 words, or above any second, third, or other full quantity of 600 words, a further duty of 2s. 6d.

Copy attested of any agreement or deed for the security or use of a person not being a party or taking benefit under it, 1s.

‡ Exceeding 100 years.

As to the duties in the first column, if the rent shall be under £20, and if a sum of money, by way of fine, premium, or grassum, shall be paid, the same duty as on a conveyance on sale; if the rent shall be above £20, both the lease duty and conveyance on sale duty. In the case of a lease to which the second and third columns apply, where there is a fine, premium, or grassum, and whatever the amount of rent, both the ad valorem lease duty and conveyance on sale duty.—13 & 14 Vict. c. 97; and 17 and 18 Vict. c. 83.

LEASE or TACK made for any term or period less than a year, at a rent reserved or payable for the same, shall be chargeable with the same ad valorem duty as a lease or tack, at a yearly rent of the same amount as the sum so reserved or payable.—17 & 18 Vict. c. 83, § 23.

LEASE or tack of any mine or minerals or other property of a like nature, either with or without any other lands or heritable subjects, where any portion of the produce shall be reserved to be paid in money or kind—

If it be stipulated that the value shall amount at least to a given sum per annum, or it be limited not to exceed a given sum, to be specified, then the ad valorem duty shall be charged in respect of the highest of such sums. And where any yearly sum is reserved in addition to or together with such produce, relative to the yearly amount or value of which there is no such stipulation or limitation, the ad valorem duty shall be charged in respect of such yearly sum.

And where both a certain yearly sum and also such produce relative to the yearly amount or value of which there shall be such stipulation or limitation is reserved, the ad valorem duty shall be charged on the aggregate of such yearly sum, and also of the highest yearly amount or value of such produce.

N.B.—Where a grassum or rent is in grain, it is to be charged according to the stipulated rate of conversion, and if none be stipulated, according to the fiars on an average of seven years. Where there are separate grassums or rents payable to separate pro indiviso proprietors in the same deed, the stamp is on the cumulo amount.

TACKS in pursuance of Dwelling Houses Act, 18 and 19 Vict. c. 88, and Transfers thereof, stamp duty may be impressed on paper, or denoted by special adhesive stamp, 18 and 19 Vict. c. 88, § 21.

LEASE or tack, of any kind, not otherwise charged, £1, 15s.

ASSIGNMENT or surrender of a lease or tack upon any other occasion than a sale or mortgage.—A duty equal to the ad valorem duty with which a similar lease or tack would be chargeable under 13 and 14 Vict., c. 97; but where a similar lease would be chargeable under said act with any stamp duty amounting to £1, 15s. or upwards, such assignment or surrender shall be chargeable with a duty of £1, 15s.

And no stamp duty, except the ad valorem duty, shall be chargeable for any lease, expressed to be granted consideration of the surrender of an existing lease and also of a sum of money.

And where the same exceeds £300, for every £100, and fractional part of £100, 2s. 6d.

Where the deed is made as a security for the repayment of money to be thereafter lent, advanced, or paid, or which may become due upon an account-current, together with any sum already advanced or due, or without, other than any sums to be advanced for the insurance of any property comprised in such security against damage by fire, or for the insurance of any life or lives, or for the renewal of any grant or lease upon the dropping of any life or lives, pursuant to any agreement in any deed whereby any estate or interest held upon such life or lives is granted, assigned, or assured, or whereby any annuity is granted or secured for such life or lives—

If the total amount of the money secured or to be ultimately recoverable is limited not to exceed a given sum, —The same duty as on a wadset for such limited sum.

And if the total amount is uncertain and without any limit, then the same shall be available as a security or charge for such an amount only as the ad valorem duty denoted by the stamp will cover.

And where the same is made as a security for the transfer or retransfer of any share in any of the government or parliamentary stocks or funds, or of the Bank of England, or of Ireland, or of the East India or of the South Sea Company, or of any other company or corporation, in consideration of stock or money advanced or lent at the time, or previously due and owing, or foreborne to be paid, being payable, —The same duty as on a mortgage for a sum equal to the value of the stock or fund secured according to the average price at the date of the mortgage, or on either of the ten days preceding, or on the latest day preceding on which there has been a known sale.

And where the same respectively shall be made, as a security for the payment of a sum of money, and also for the transfer or retransfer of a share in any of the said stocks or funds, the said ad valorem duty shall be charged in respect of each.

And in case the same respectively shall be made, as a security for the payment or transfer, to different persons, of separate and distinct sums or shares, —The ad valorem duty shall be charged for each separate and distinct sum or share therein specified and secured, and not upon the aggregate amount.

And where any such deed or instrument shall be made respectively as a security for the payment of any annuity, or any sum by way of repayment, or in satisfaction or discharge, or in redemption of any sum lent, advanced, or paid, as or for or in the nature of a loan intended to be repaid, discharged, or redeemed, in manner aforesaid, —The same duty as on a mortgage or wadset for the sum of money so lent, advanced, or paid.

TRANSFER, disposition, or assignation of any wadset or other such security, &c.—

Where no further sum or stock shall be added to the principal already secured, if such principal shall not exceed in the whole £1400, the same duty as on a wadset, &c., for the total amount or value of such principal.

And if such principal shall exceed in value in the whole the sum of £1400, £1, 15s.

And where any further sum or stock shall be added to the principal already secured,—The same duty as on a wadset, &c., for such further money or stock only.

And in every other case not expressly provided for, £1, 15s.

Such instrument is not chargeable with further duty (except progressive duty) by containing any further or additional security for the payment, transfer, retransfer of such money, stock, interest, or dividends, or any new covenant, proviso, or other matter whatever in relation to such money or stock, interest or dividends.

Any deed made for the further assurance only of any property already constituted a security, by a deed which has paid the ad valorem duty—

Also any deed made as an additional or further security for any sum, &c., already so secured—

Where the total amount or value already secured does not exceed £1400, —The same duty as on a wadset for the amount.

And in any other case, £1, 15s.

If any further sum be added to the principal, the deed is chargeable only (exclusive of progressive duty), with the ad valorem duty on wadsets, &c., in respect of such further sum.

RECONVEYANCE, surrender, discharge, or renunciation of any wadset, or other such security, or of the benefit thereof, or of the money or stock secured—

Where the total amount of the principal shall not exceed £1400, the same duty as on a wadset for the amount.

And in any other case, £1, 15s.

NEWSPAPERS.—Any newspaper printed on one sheet not exceeding 2295 inches in superficies, 1d.

A supplement printed on one sheet, and with the newspaper not exceeding 2295 inches in the whole, is free of duty.

Any other supplement not exceeding 1148 inches, ½d.

Any two supplements, each printed on one sheet, and together not exceeding 2295 inches, each, ½d.

The superficies is one side of the paper, and exclusive of the margin.

It is not compulsory to stamp newspapers excepting for transmission by post, 18 Vict. c. 27, § 1.

PROXY to vote at any meeting of any joint-stock or other company whose shares are transferable, or at any parish meeting of heritors or proprietors.....6d.

RECEIPTS for money amounting to £2 or upwards, 1d.

The following provisions as to what shall be deemed a receipt, and the exemptions from receipt duty by 55 Geo. III. c. 184, are still in force.

Any note, memorandum, or writing whatever, given upon the payment of money, whether signed or not, shall be a receipt if it shall import or signify that any sum of money, debt, or demand, or any part thereof amounting to £2 or upwards, has been paid or settled; and like documents given upon payment by bills, drafts, promissory notes, or other securities for money, are also receipts.

According to decisions a simple acknowledgment of a sum of money in loan, or of the correctness of a debt, or of a deposit of money, is not liable to stamp-duty, either as a receipt or promissory note. The judges held it essential to render a receipt liable to duty that something formerly due had been discharged. On this principle a receipt for a sum of money as a donation to a religious or charitable purpose, not being any thing formerly due, would not be liable. The Board of Inland Revenue have intimated that they are to regard such receipts as exempted.

Receipts written on promissory notes, bills, drafts, or orders for the payment of money, duly stamped.

Letters by the general post acknowledging the safe arrival of any bills of exchange, promissory notes, or other securities for money. This exemption is repealed by 17 and 18 Vict. c. 83, § 13. The effect of the repeal is, that letters by the general post are put on the same footing as letters delivered or sent otherwise. If they amount to acknowledgments of the statutory description (that is whereby any sum of money, debt, or demand, or any part thereof amounting to £2 or upwards, shall be expressed to have been paid, settled, balanced, or otherwise discharged or satisfied, or which shall import or signify such),—given for or upon payments made by or with bills of exchange, drafts, promissory notes, or other securities for money,—they will be liable to the receipt duty.

Receipts written on any bond, mortgage, or other security, or any conveyance, deed, or instrument whatever, duly stamped, acknowledging the receipt of the consideration money therein expressed, or the receipt of any principal money, interest, or annuity thereby secured.

Note.—Stamps may be impressed or affixed. Where adhesive stamps are affixed, the granter is required to cancel the stamps by writing his name or initials on them. Penalty for omission, £10. Penalty for removing adhesive stamps, or using them a second time, or doing any fraudulent act to defraud of duty, £20. (16 and 17 Vict. c. 59, § 3, 4, and 5.)

RESIGNATION.—Principal or original instrument of resignation, or service, or cognition of heirs, or charter, or sasine of any houses, lands, or other heritable subjects holding burgage; also instrument of resignation of lands, &c. not held burgage, 5s. Progressive duty, 5s.

SASINE.—Instrument of sasine given on any charter, precept of clare constat, or precept from Chancery, or on any wadset, heritable bond, disposition, apprising, adjudication of any heritable subjects not of burgage tenure, 5s. Progressive duty, 5s.

SCHEDULE OR INVENTORY of heritage or movables, or containing the terms of any proposed sale, lease, &c., or regulations for the cultivation and management of any farm, &c. separate from and referred to in lease, bond, deed, agreement, &c., chargeable with any stamp-duty not exceeding 10s.—The same duty as shall be chargeable on such lease, bond, agreement, &c., and where referred to in such, chargeable with a duty exceeding 10s.,—10s. Progressive duty, 10s.

SCRIP CERTIFICATE, after 4th Aug. 1853, that is to say, any document denoting or intended to denote the right or title of the holder thereof, or any person to any share or shares in any joint-stock or other company, or proposed or intended company, or any certificate declaring or entitling the holder thereof, or any person to be or become the proprietor of any share or shares of or in any such company, where such certificate, or the right or title to such share or shares shall be, or be intended to be, transferable by the delivery of such certificate, or otherwise than by deed or instrument in writing, Id. (16 and 17 Vict. c. 63).

SETTLEMENT.—Any deed or instrument, whether voluntary or gratuitous, or upon any consideration other than a bona fide pecuniary consideration, whereby any definite and certain principal sum or sums of money, or any definite and certain shares in any stocks or funds, shall be settled or agreed to be settled upon or for the benefit of any person or persons, either in possession or reversion, either absolutely, or for life or other partial interest, or in any other manner whatsoever,—if such sum or sums, or the value of such share or shares, together, shall not exceed in the whole £100—5s.

And if the same shall exceed £100, then for every £100, and fractional part of £100—5s.

All such deeds which contain any settlement of lands or other property, or any other thing besides the settlement of such money or stock, shall be chargeable with such further duty as any separate deed containing such settlement of lands or other property, or other thing, would have been chargeable with, exclusive of the progressive duty.

And where there is more than one such deed chargeable with any such duty exceeding £1, 15s., one of them only shall be charged with the ad valorem duty; and also where any settlement shall be made in pursuance of any previous articles chargeable with and which shall have paid any such duty exceeding £1, 15s., it is not chargeable with the ad valorem duty; and the deeds not chargeable with the ad valorem duty shall be charged with the duty to which they are liable under any more general description in the stamp schedules; and on the whole being produced, duly executed and stamped, the latter shall also be stamped with a particular stamp for denoting the payment of the said ad valorem duty.

WIT OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT by any person infest of lands in Scotland, in favour of the heir or disponee of a creditor fully vested in right of an heritable security constituted by instrument, 10s. (16 and 17 Vict. c. 63, § 6).

INVENTORY DUTY.

The duty is imposed on the inventory of the personal estate and effects of deceased persons, required to be recorded in the commissary courts according to the rates in the following Table, and is regulated by the amount of such estate in Scotland. The same rates of duty are payable on probates and letters of administration in respect of the personal property situated in England and Ireland.

person comprised in the former inventory. By 16 and 17 Vict. c. 59, § 8, such additional inventory shall be chargeable only with such amount of stamp duty as, together with the stamp duty charged upon the former duly stamped inventory of the estate and effects of the same deceased person, shall make up the full amount of stamp duty, in respect of the total amount of all the estate and effects of the deceased specified in the said additional and any such former inventory. If the estate shall be over-estimated, or something improperly included in the inventory, an inventory on a stamp corresponding to the value must be exhibited, and the original inventory will be allowed on affidavit as a spoiled stamp, within six months of the recording of the second inventory.

LEGACY DUTY.

Legacies, Annuities, Residues, &c.

To Children or their descendants, or lineal ancestors . . . . . £1 0
 Brother or sister, or descendant . . . 3 0
 Uncle or aunt, or their descend. . . 5 0
 Grand uncle or aunt, or descend. 6 0
 All other relations or strangers. . 10 0
 The husband or wife of the deceased is not chargeable with duty. If the legatee's husband or wife is of nearer consanguinity than the legatee, duty is payable according to such nearer relationship. (16 and 17 Vict. c. 51, § 11.)

This duty is payable for every legacy out of the personal or movable estate, or out of or charged upon the real or heritable estate of the deceased, or out of any monies to arise by the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of the deceased's real or heritable estate, or any part thereof: Also for the clear residue (after deducting debts, funeral expenses, legacies, and other charges first payable thereout) of the personal or movable estate, whether the title to such residue shall accrue by virtue of any testamentary disposition, or upon a partial or total intestacy: And also for the clear residue of the monies to arise from the sale, mortgage, or other disposition of any real or heritable estate, directed to be sold, mortgaged, or otherwise disposed of by any will or testamentary instrument.

Annuities are valued for legacy duty according to tables annexed to the Succession Duty Act.

Duty is not exigible on legacies or residues under £20; but if a legatee take two or more legacies under any testament, which shall together be of the amount of £20, each shall be charged with duty, though each or either may be separately under that amount.

N.B.—Printed forms and regulations for payment of the legacy-duties will be obtained gratis, on application at the Legacy Duty Office, Inland Revenue, Edinburgh; and at the offices of the distributors of stamps in the country.

SUCCESSION DUTY, 16 and 17 Vict. c. 51.—The duty commences on the death of persons dying after the 19th May 1853, and seems to be imposed on all property, both heritable and movable, passing by death, not liable to the duty on legacies and successions to personal estate upon intestacy—the duty imposed by the Legacy Duty Acts.

The duty on HERITABLE PROPERTY is charged on the annual value, after allowance of the necessary outgoings (§ 22), as an annuity for the life of the successor (§ 21), which is to be valued by tables annexed to the act.

PERSONAL PROPERTY is liable to duty according to the value of the succession; and money charged on heritage—heritable securities—is chargeable as personalty (§ 1).

RATES OF SUCCESSION DUTY.

Lineal issue or lineal ancestor of the predecessor, £1 per cent.

Brothers and sisters of the predecessor and their descendants, £3 per cent.

Brothers and sisters of the father or mother of the predecessor and their descendants, £5 per cent.

Brothers and sisters of a grandfather or grandmother of the predecessor and their descendants, £6 per cent.

Any other person, £10 per cent.

The husband or wife of the predecessor is not chargeable with duty (§ 18), and if the successor's husband or wife shall be of nearer consanguinity than the successor, duty is payable according to such nearer relationship (§ 11.)

The following are also exemptions from the succession duty:—

1. Successions from the same predecessor, passing on any death, not amounting in principal value to £100 (§ 18).
2. Any succession of less value than £20 in the whole (ib.)
3. Legacies and personal property charged with legacy duty, in respect of the same acquisition (ib.)

Note.—Forms of the accounts may be obtained at the Legacy Duty Office, Edinburgh, and at the offices of the distributors of stamps in the country.

DISCOUNT ON THE PURCHASE OF STAMPS.

Parties who may purchase stamps (except receipt stamps, labels for medicines, newspapers, and postage-stamps) at London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, under the value of £10 each, but to the value of £30 or upwards in the whole, are allowed discount at the rate of 30s. per cent.—12 and 13 Vict. c. 80 : and any person who purchases at the stamp offices of London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, stamps for receipts to the amount of £5 or upwards, or of any distributor or sub-distributor not within ten miles from said respective offices, to the amount of £1 or upwards, shall receive an allowance at the rate of £7, 10s. per cent.—no allowance for a fraction of a pound.—13 and 14 Vict. c. 97, § 18.

To persons who, at one and the same time, shall purchase at the office of the commissioners in London, Edinburgh, or Dublin, or of any distributor or sub-distributor of stamps at any place not within the distance of ten miles from the said offices respectively, stamps to the amount of £5 in the whole, denoting any rate of duty not exceeding 1s. on Bills of Exchange, Drafts or Orders, or Promissory Notes, an allowance shall be made after the rate of 7½ per centum on the amount of such duties respectively, but no allowance shall be made for any fraction of £1.—(17 and 18 Vict. c. 83, § 24.) Any person selling such stamps shall not make any charge for the paper whereon the same are impressed. Penalty for doing so, or demanding or receiving a greater price or sum than the amount of the stamp duty, £10.—Ib. § 25.

REGULATIONS AS TO EXCHANGING SPOILED STAMPS.

The solicitor's office, No. 5 in the Inland Revenue Office, is open for the allowance of spoiled stamps every Tuesday and Thursday, from twelve noon to 2 P.M. The distributors of stamps at the following places also receive spoiled stamps for allowance: Aberdeen, Ayr, Banff, Cupar-Fife, Dumfries, Dundee, Elgin, Glasgow, Greenock, Inverness, Perth, and Wick.

A supply of forms of affidavits is kept by the solicitor and the above distributors, and claimants may attend at the solicitor's office, and have the affidavits filled up and taken; or they may get copies of the forms, and take the oath before a Justice of the Peace, and afterwards lodge the affidavits and the stamps with any of the above officers. If the claim be admitted, a ticket is issued, stating that application is to be made for the new stamps after Thursday se'ennight, and within six weeks from the date of the ticket. If not made within that time the claim will be forfeited.

The stamps, if belonging to parties resident in Edinburgh, or within ten miles thereof, must be presented for allowance within six months after being signed in the case of executed instruments, and six months after being spoiled in the case of unexecuted instruments. If beyond that distance, six months in the former, and twelve months in the latter case.

Bills and notes delivered to payees, or negotiated or issued in any way, and bills accepted or tendered for acceptance, cannot be exchanged, unless a new bill be produced, in all respects the same, excepting the correction of the error.

As to the exchange of sea policies of insurance, see 54 Geo. III. cap. 133.

Unsigned instruments are allowed, if inadvertently spoiled. Signed, if void in law from the beginning; from error or mistake, unfit for the purpose originally intended; from death or refusal to sign, of any person whose signature is necessary; from the want of the signature of some material and necessary party; from refusal to act under, or from non-acceptance—they shall be unfit for or fail of the purpose intended; or if the transaction be carried through by another instrument duly stamped.—See 53 Geo. III. cap. 108. In the case of transfers of stock signed by the seller alone, and other instruments if by one party, new deeds require to be produced to the proper officer of stamps, who, as to transfers, is instructed to certify in what particulars they differ from those spoiled.

Stamps of a different description may be obtained for any stamp spoiled if it be of the value of £6 or upwards. Application for this purpose to the commissioners of Inland Revenue should be lodged with the affidavit. The commissioners, by 3d and 4th Will. IV. cap. 97, sect. 19, may, if in their discretion they think fit, refund, in money, the amount of spoiled stamps. They are also authorized to repay the amount of stamps for which the possessor has no immediate use, if applied for within three months after being purchased. In both cases is deducted the per centage allowed by law on the purchase of stamps.

STAMPING DEEDS AFTER BEING SIGNED.

Beyond Twelve Months.—The duty, or deficiency of duty, shall be due and payable to her Majesty, and also the penalty of £10. The deed will only be stamped on payment of the whole or (as the case may be) the deficiency of the stamp duty remaining payable on it, and, over and above such duty, a penalty of £10; and if the whole amount of said duty or deficiency shall exceed £10, then in addition to said duty and penalty, there shall be paid, by way of additional penalty, interest on the duty or deficiency at the rate of 5 per cent. from the date or first signing of the deed; but such interest shall not exceed the amount of the said duty or deficiency of duty.

Within Twelve Months.—If the deed shall be brought to the Commissioners of Inland Revenue within twelve months after the first signing or executing, in order to be stamped, it may be stamped without payment of the penalty, or on payment only of a portion thereof, provided it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that the deed was not duly stamped previously to being signed, by reason of accident, mistake, inadvertency, or urgent necessity, and without any wilful design to evade or delay the payment of duty.—13 and 14 Vict. c. 97, § 12.

Abroad.—If the deed shall be executed by any party abroad, it may be stamped without any penalty, if brought to be so within two calendar months from the time of being received in the kingdom, upon proof of the facts to the satisfaction of the Commissioners.—13 and 14 Vict. c. 97, § 13.

N.B.—Instruments are received at the Solicitor's Office, Inland Revenue, Waterloo Place, Edinburgh, and transmitted to London to be stamped, if within sixty days of the first date (the Solicitor may in certain circumstances receive them within sixty days of the last date), on payment of the duty; if beyond that date, on payment of the duty and penalty. Parties, on applying, will be furnished with a schedule, and, after being filled up, it is to be presented, along with the instrument, at the Solicitor's Office, No. 5, Inland Revenue, between 10 and 12 o'clock, on Mondays and Wednesdays only. The amount of duty wished to be impressed on the instrument is to be inserted by the applicant before being presented at the Solicitor's Office; and, afterwards, he pays it, and the penalty, if any, to the Cashier, No. 3, Lobby. The instrument will be returned through the Warehouse keeper, No. 2, Lobby, and it must be called for after eight days, and within twenty-one days from the date of its being lodged.

DOUBTS AS TO THE SUFFICIENCY OF STAMPS MAY BE REMOVED.

The opinion of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue as to the duty to which a deed, whether previously stamped or otherwise, is chargeable, may be obtained on the deed being presented, and a fee of 10s. paid. The duty or insufficient duty which the Commissioners may assess, and the penalty, if any, being paid, they shall stamp the deed with the duty so paid, and thereupon, and also in the case of the deed being previously sufficiently stamped, shall also impress the deed with a particular stamp to be provided for the purpose. The deed shall then be received in evidence notwithstanding any objection to it as insufficiently stamped. The provision does not apply to bonds or mortgages for unlimited amounts, nor instruments after being signed, prohibited from being stamped. The opinion of the Commissioners may be appealed against to the Court of Exchequer at Westminster, on the stamp duties assessed being paid, and 40s. for costs being deposited. 13 and 14 Vict. c. 97, § 14 and 15).

The commissioners may also adjudge on deeds not liable to any stamp duty; and if any duty is assessed the party may appeal. (16 & 17 Vict. c. 59, § 13).

N.B.—Instruments are received for adjudication at the Solicitor's Office, Inland Revenue, Edinburgh, on the same conditions as to duty and penalty as instruments to be stamped merely (see above). The mode of proceeding is as follows:—The sum of ten shillings for the adjudication stamp is first to be paid to the Cashier, No. 3, Lobby. Then the schedule (the duty to be impressed of course not being inserted in the schedule), the instrument after execution, and a copy of it, omitting the bounding description of lands, &c., and having appended to it a table giving the substance of the clauses and provisions, particularly dates and sums, and a reference to the page of the copy on which each commences (written on foolscap paper), are to be left at the Solicitor's Office, No. 5, on Mons. & Weds., between 10 and 12 o'clock only. Between 10 and 12 o'clock on the Thursday following, a party, who can give explanation, must call on the chief clerk of the Solicitor's Department,

No. 6; and he should be prepared to pay the proper duty, and penalty, if any, to the Cashier, No. 3, Lobby.

DUPLICATES OR COUNTERPARTS.

Duplicates or counterparts of instruments requiring to be impressed with the denoting stamp to render them valid, may be lodged at the Solicitor's Office, No. 5, Inland Revenue, Edinburgh, between 10 and 12 o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays only. A transmission of them is made once a week to the Head Office. The principal instrument, as well as the duplicate, must be lodged, and both must appear to be properly stamped, otherwise they will not be transmitted.

Mem.—The revenue takes no risk of loss or injury connected with the custody or carriage of the instruments received and transmitted to be stamped.

and so on, increasing 2d. per oz.

The weight of inland letters and packets when paid is not limited, but if sent unpaid they must not be over 4 oz., and none must exceed 24 inches in length. If either of these conditions is not observed, the packet will not be forwarded, the only exception being those for the public departments. Stamps must be used for the prepayment of inland letters: they should be placed on the right hand corner of the letter; and, to cause them to adhere firmly, the letter should be wetted, not the stamp, as letters without a sufficient number of stamps to cover the postage are charged double the deficiency.

REDIRECTED LETTERS are liable to new rates of postage, but though the new postage should not be paid on the reposting of the letter, it will be charged only the prepaid rate on delivery.

LATE LETTERS, posted at the provincial offices, must be paid by attaching the requisite number of postage stamps for the postage as well as for the late letter fee, and are in time if put into the Late Letter Box 15 minutes after the closing of the box, with an additional penny stamp affixed, and with three additional stamps they are in time till 10 minutes before the despatch of each mail.

Letters, when once posted, cannot be given back upon any pretence whatever, but must be forwarded to the person to whom they are addressed.

Letters containing articles of a perishable or dangerous nature will be detained as soon as discovered.

Letters to warm climates should be wafered, not sealed, as the wax is liable to be melted, to the injury of the other letters.

MONEY ORDERS.—An order from one Post-office on another, for any sum not exceeding £2, may be obtained for 3d., and for a sum above £2 and not exceeding £5, for 6d. A money order must be presented for payment before the end of the second calendar month after that in which it was issued, otherwise a new order will be necessary, for which a second commission must be paid; and if not presented before the end of the twelfth month, the money will not be paid at all.

REGISTRATION.—Any letter can be registered on payment of a registration-fee of 6d. The postage and fee must be prepaid in stamps, except the letter is going abroad, when it may be prepaid in money or stamps. Registered letters to France are charged double rates of postage; and to Prussia, a charge of 3d. is made in addition to the British registration fee of 6d. To Russia and Poland in the Prussian closed mails via Belgium, 3½d. is added to the half oz. postage, in addition to 3d. Prussian and 6d. British register fees. To other foreign countries and the colonies, letters cannot be registered farther than the port of despatch. Registered letters must be posted half an hour before the time of the box closing for other letters.

NEWSPAPER AND BOOK POST.

NEWSPAPERS.

All periodical publications, including newspapers, which shall be published in the United Kingdom, at intervals not exceeding thirty-one days, and which shall bear a stamp or stamps denoting the stamp duty, may be transmitted and retransmitted through the post, within the United Kingdom, free of postage, for fifteen days from the date of publication, under the following regulations:—Publications not exceeding two sheets must have one penny stamp, three sheets a three half-penny stamp, and four sheets a twopenny stamp. The title and date of every publication must be printed at the top of every page, and it must be folded in such a manner that the stamps are distinctly visible on the outside. It must either have no cover, or be in a cover open at the ends, and must contain no enclosure, nor have any other writing or mark on it or on the cover but the name and address of the person to whom it is sent. If it be addressed to any person within the Free Delivery of the place where it is posted, it will be liable to the postage of one penny, which must be prepaid by affixing a postage-stamp, otherwise it will be charged twopence on delivery. If the stamp is not visible, it will be charged one penny; and, in case of any other irregularity, it will be dealt with according to book-post regulations.

Newspapers intended for transmission beyond the limits of the United Kingdom do not require the newspaper-stamp, but must be registered by the proprietor at the General Post Office, London, and the postage must be paid either by affixing stamps or in money; they must be posted within fifteen days from the date of publication. The rates will be found in the list of Foreign and Colonial Postages.

Registered newspapers for France must be paid in advance. For a packet not exceeding 4 oz. 1d.; if not exceeding 8 oz. 2d.; and for every additional 8 oz., or part thereof, 2d. This also applies to some countries passing through France; but the rate to Turkey through France is—not exceeding  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. 1½d.; not exceeding 1 oz. 3d.; and so on at the rate of 3d. for every additional oz. or part thereof.

Newspapers from Belgium are charged ½d. on delivery. From Canada and United States 1d. From Holland free.

INLAND BOOK POST.

Each packet not exceeding 4 oz. 1d.
 .... 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 2d.
 .... 8 oz. and not exceeding 1 lb. 4d.
 .... 1 lb. and not exceeding 1½ lb. 6d.
 and so on, 2d. being charged for every additional  $\frac{1}{2}$  lb. or part thereof.

If the postage of a packet is less than 4d. it must consist exclusively of printed matter, but without restriction as to the number of publications, or whether bound or unbound. If the postage amount to 4d. it may contain any number of separate books, maps, or prints, and any quantity of paper, vellum, or parchment (to the exclusion of manuscript letters whether sealed or open), and the books, &c., may be either printed, written, or plain, or any mixture of the three;—further, all legitimate binding, mounting, or covering of the same, whether loose or attached; also rollers in the case of prints, markers whether paper or otherwise in books; in short, whatever is necessary for the safe transmission of literary or artistic matter, or usually appertains thereto; but the following conditions must be observed:—It must be prepaid in full, by affixing on it the necessary number of stamps—must be either without a cover, or in a cover open at the ends or sides—must not contain any manuscript letter open or sealed, nor any sealed enclosure whatever, and must not exceed two feet in length.

If not sufficiently paid, the deficiency will be charged, and 4d. additional. All manuscript letters found in a book-packet, charged the unpaid letter rate, and 4d. additional. If any letter is written on a book or its cover, it will be charged unpaid letter postage.

The COLONIAL BOOK POST is under the same regulations as to the contents of Book Packets, the exclusion of letters, and prepayment of postage by stamps, but the name and address of the sender may be written on the cover. Such packets may therefore be sent to the British West Indies, Malta, Gibraltar, Ionian Islands, and Gold Coast, by Packets via Southampton; to Bermuda, Canada, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, and Prince Edward Island, by British Packet; to New South Wales, Southern and Western Australia, by Contract Packet; and to Cape Town, St Helena, and New Zealand, by Private Ship—at the following rates:—

Under  $\frac{1}{2}$  pound weight, 6d.

Exceeding  $\frac{1}{2}$  and under 1 lb. 1s.

Exceeding 1 and under 2 lbs. 2s.

and so on; to the East Indies, Mauritius, Ceylon, and Hong Kong, by Packet via Southampton, and are charged 8d. under  $\frac{1}{2}$  pound; 1s. 4d. under one pound, and so on; but to the East Indies and New South Wales, no packet above three pounds weight can be sent.

Printed Parliamentary papers may be sent by post from place to place in the United Kingdom at the following rates:—If not exceeding 4 oz. 1d.; if exceeding 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz. 2d.; if exceeding 8 oz. and not exceeding 12 oz. 3d., and so on. There is no limitation as to weight. Papers must be without covers, or in covers open at the sides, and must have no enclosures or writing other than the address. Prepayment is optional. Petitions and addresses forwarded to her Majesty pass free. Members of Parliament may receive petitions and addresses to her Majesty, or petitions to either House, free, if not exceeding 32 oz., and sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides.

Periodical works not of daily publication may be forwarded to Belgium, Bremen, Holland, and Prussia, if the postage is paid in advance, and they are printed in the English language, and sent in covers, open at the sides.

Not exceeding 2 oz. .... 1d.

Above 2 oz. and not 3 oz. 6d.

.. 3 .. 4 .... 8d.

And 2d. additional for every oz. up to the weight of 16 oz., to which they are limited.

Periodical works and pamphlets may be also sent to and received from the United States at the same rates, but the weight is limited to 8 oz.; the postage of those received being paid on delivery. All such works must be sent singly, or only one in a cover.

Printed papers (not registered as newspapers) are sent to France, and some countries through France, at the following rates:—Not exceeding 4 oz. 3d.; not exceeding 8 oz. 6d.; and so on at the rate of 6d. for every additional 8 oz. or part thereof.

No reprints of copyright works from any place abroad are allowed to pass at the above reduced rates, but are subject to letter rates of postage.

RATES OF POSTAGE TO THE COLONIES AND ALL FOREIGN PARTS.

ALL British postages are charged in the same ratio as that for inland letters, viz:—

	Rates.
Under $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.....	1
Above $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. & not exc. 1 .. .. .	2
.. 1 .. .. . 2 .. .. .	4
.. 2 .. .. . 3 .. .. .	6
and so on, increasing two rates for every additional ounce, but not distinguishing the half-ounces after the weight is above one ounce.

Letters, however, for France or passing through it, and to Belgium, are charged an additional rate for every quarter of an ounce the letter weighs. In the following list the single combined postage is given, and it must be understood, that where  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. is specified, it must be under that weight, otherwise it is subject to a farther charge. Where  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz. is specified the postage increases as above.

The route first specified is that by which a letter will be sent, if not specially addressed, and the italic letter after the route has reference to the preceding table of despatches. It is recommended that all letters going abroad should be specially addressed by the route they are wished to be sent.

* The asterisk shows when the postage must be paid in advance; but if a letter is posted unpaid, although addressed by a route which requires pre-payment of postage, it will not be returned to the writer if it can be sent by another route without the postage being paid.

N. shows the newspaper rate, and B. P. when books can be sent at a book-post rate.

SHIP-LETTERS.

Letters for foreign parts to which there are no regular packets, are forwarded through the Ship Letter Office, London, by every outward-bound vessel; and letters can be forwarded to the colonies and foreign parts through the Post-office by any ship or from any port, if specially addressed. In cases where wanted to go by a particular ship, the name must also be specified, as, "Hamburg steamer, via Hull." All ship-letters must be prepaid, 8d. under  $\frac{1}{2}$  oz., 1s. 4d. under 1 oz., except in special cases, which are noticed in the list; and so on in the same ratio as inland letters. If posted for the colonies without being paid, or not marked "by private ship," they are sent by pkt., and charged pkt. rates.

SECTION VI.

ABSTRACTS OF ACTS OF PARLIAMENT, ACTS OF ASSEMBLY, PARLIAMENTARY PAPERS, ETC.

STATUTES AFFECTING SCOTLAND,

JOINT STOCK BANKS.

CHAP. 3. To extend the Period for which her Majesty may grant Letters Patent of Incorporation to Joint Stock Banks in Scotland existing before the Act of 1846. March 7, 1856.

(1.) Empowers the Queen to grant letters patent of incorporation to any company of more than six persons in Scotland who were carrying on the business of bankers prior to the 9th August 1845, either for a term of years or in perpetuity; said letters to be subject to the provisions of any future act.

IMPROVEMENT OF LAND.

CHAP. 9. To amend the Acts relating to the Advance of Public Money to promote the Improvement of Land. March 14.

(1.) Repeals § 8 and § 17 of act 9 and 10 Vict. c. 101, which act is to be read as if the following enactment had been inserted in lieu of § 17. If commissioners think an advance expedient, either for the whole or part of proposed improvements, they may, with the sanction of the Treasury, issue a provisional certificate to the owner. Certificate to declare that when the works have been executed to the satisfaction of the commissioners, an advance will be made, not exceeding a certain sum, to the amount of the whole or such part as shall be expressed in the certificate of the expenses actually incurred in drainage.

The expenses of the investigation may be charged upon the land, and included in the expenses in respect of which such loan and advances are made, if the commissioners think fit. (2.) Commissioners may, with consent of Treasury, charge the expenses of assistant commissioners, engineers, or others, in the form of a per centage on the amount advanced. (3.) Repeals § 28 of 9 and 10 Vict. c. 101, and § 6 of 9 and 10 Vict. c. 11. The commissioners, if satisfied, upon a report by the proper officer of the execution of the whole works, or that the portion executed will produce an improvement in the yearly value exceeding the yearly charge, or that such expense has been incurred as will justify the advance, may issue certificate for an advance under this act; certificate to specify the land, and certify that the sum was issued in respect of the drainage of such land. (4.) Empowers Treasury to direct the comptroller of exchequer to give the necessary funds, and regulates the manner of doing it. (5.) The rent-charge on the land is to commence on the 6th of April or 10th October which shall first occur after the date of the order of payment, and that whether the order has actually been presented for payment or not. (6.) Repeals § 29 of 9 and 10 Vict. c. 101. In the case of advances applied for in Scotland the certificate of advance to be given to the party applying for the advance. The party is to register the certificate in the general or particular register of sasines, and return it to the commissioners with an endorsement by the keeper of the register. (7.) Certificates of advance to be retained by commissioners in the records of their office. (8.) Rent-charge may be apportioned upon part only of the lands comprised in the certificates of advance. In that case the remaining portion of the land to be absolutely discharged. (9.) Repeals § 2 of 10 Vict. c. 11, so far as relates to an advance. Commissioners may issue advances notwithstanding deviations from the proposed manner of effecting the drainage, if permanent improvements of as great yearly amount be effected as would have been accomplished in the manner first proposed. (10.) The board of Inland Revenue are to be "the commissioners." (11.) Where the owner of land is under any legal disability, and has no curator, trustee, or attorney, commissioners may appoint any person they approve of to be substitute for the owner, so far as required for the purposes of the drainage acts. (12.) Act to apply to all future certificates, whatever the date of the provisional certificate. (13 and 14.) The other drainage acts, 9 and 10 Vict. c. 101, 10 Vict. c. 11, 11 and 12 Vict. c. 119, 12 and 13 Vict. c. 100, 13 and 14 Vict. c. 31, 14 and 15 Vict. c. 91, and this act, to be construed as one act, and in legal instruments to be sufficient to use the expression "The Public Money Drainage Acts." This expression to include so much of the 12 and 13 Vict. c. 100, as amends the acts 9 and 10 Vict. c. 101, and 10 Vict. c. 11, otherwise than in relation to the advance of private money for drainage.

GREENWICH AND CHELSEA PENSIONERS.

CHAP. 15. For further regulating the Payment of the Out-Pensioners of Greenwich and Chelsea Hospital.
April 11.

(1.) Repeals the previous act 9 Vict. c. 10, except in so far as it repeals previous acts. (2.) Secretary at war to regulate payment of out-pensioners. (3.) All payments made on this account to be audited as army effective service accounts are audited. (4.) This act not to interfere with the powers of the Admiralty and Chelsea Hospital commissioners as to granting or taking away pensions. (5.) Any person fraudulently getting pension money from the secretary at war, or any officer employed by him, to be liable to the same penalty as in the case of frauds committed on the commissioners of Chelsea, the Admiralty, the treasurer of the navy, or paymaster general. (6.) The secretary at war, with concurrence of the Admiralty, may restore either original pension or any less rate to any Greenwich pensioner convicted of felony. (7.) Secretary at war, with consent of any pensioner out of the kingdom, may pay his wife or children such portion of his pension as may be agreed on, their receipt to be a sufficient discharge. (8.) If relief from the poor's rates in England, or by the heritors and kirk-session of any parish in Scotland, be afforded to any pensioner, or person for whom a pensioner is liable, or if the secretary at war and the guardians of the poor's funds, or heritors and kirk-session, in any case think it desirable that any part of a man's pension should be advanced out of the poor's rates, the secretary at war may repay the advance, which must not exceed in any case where relief has been administered to a wife or one child one-half the pension, or if relief has been given to two children or to wife and child, two-thirds of pension. (9.) If pensioner become insane, pension may be paid to the guardians of the poor, or heritors and kirk-session, or persons having care of lunatic. Where no claim is made for support of the lunatic, or the charge is less than the full rate of pension, the secretary at war may pay it to the wife, or child or children. (10.) Arrears of pension not exceeding £50 may be paid to the person or persons proving themselves, to the satisfaction of the secretary at war or other officer, the personal representatives of a deceased pensioner, and that without probate or letters of administration. (11.) Bills of exchange drawn by consuls abroad, on account of payments made by them to out-pensioners, to be presented at office of paymaster general. Letters and vouchers relating to them to be transmitted to the secretary at war.

FIRE INSURANCE DUTIES.

CHAP. 22. To amend the Laws relating to the Duties on Fire Insurance.
June 5.

On the narrative that stamp and other duties are chargeable in respect of fire insurances, and that a practice has been established of insuring with foreign companies, (1.) enacts that the duties are to be payable on all fire insurances wheresoever made, and whether there be any policy or other instrument or not. (2.) Where insurance is made with a foreign company, the person insured to be chargeable with the duty, and if the company have no licensed agent here, duties to be paid to the receiver general of inland revenue, or other officer appointed for the purpose. Failing payment, the amount to be a debt due to her majesty, recoverable under § 8 of 14 Vict. c. 97, or otherwise. (3.) All persons who, as agents, receive proposals for insurance by foreign companies, or keep offices for receiving such proposals, or are advertised as persons through whose means such insurances may be effected, and all persons effecting such insurances or issuing policies, shall be deemed persons keeping fire insurance offices in the meaning of the Fire Insurance Acts, and are required to take out licenses, and give security for payment of the duties, under the penalty of £100, and the like sum additional for every day's delay. (4.) Persons keeping fire insurance offices for foreign companies to be chargeable with the duties on such insurances. (5.) This act not to limit the charge for duty under former acts, nor to charge insurances exempted. (6.) Reinsurances by any company who has paid the full duty not to be chargeable with the yearly per-centage duty, but only with the policy stamp duty.

BANKERS' DRAFTS.

CHAP. 25. To amend the Law relating to Drafts on Bankers. June 23.

On the preamble that doubts had arisen as to the obligations of bankers with respect to cross-written drafts, and that it would be advantageous if drawers or holders of drafts on bankers payable to bearer or to order on demand, were enabled effectually to direct payment to be made only to or through some banker, enacts (1.) Where a draft on any banker, payable to bearer or to order on demand, is crossed with the name of any banker, or the words "and company," in full or abbreviated, in writing or stamped letters, such crossing is to have the force of a direction to the bankers on whom the draft is made that it is to be paid only to or through some banker, and that direction is to receive effect. (2.) "Banker" to mean any person or company acting as a banker or bankers.

PAWNBROKERS.

CHAP. 27. To amend the Acts relating to Pawnbrokers. June 23.

(1.) The following persons to be deemed pawnbrokers: Every person keeping a place for the purchase or sale of goods, or for taking in goods by way of security for advances of money, who shall purchase or receive goods, and pay or advance or lend thereon any sum not exceeding £10, under any agreement, express or implied, or which, from the nature of the transaction, may reasonably infer that such goods may be afterwards redeemed or repurchased. (2.) Any such person not taking out the proper license to forfeit £50, recoverable by information before a justice of peace by officers of inland revenue. In such information it is enough to say the defendant did use and exercise the trade and business of a pawnbroker without taking out a proper license. Upon conviction the same procedure as to recovering penalty, and as to appeal competent, as under the 39 and 40 Geo. III. c. 99. Justice may mitigate the penalty to any sum not less than a fourth. The proceedings may take place in Scotland before the sheriff or sheriff-substitute. Sheriff's judgment to be final, and no appeal to lie from the sheriff-substitute except to the sheriff.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

CHAP. 28. To make further Provision for rendering Reformatory or Industrial Schools in Scotland more available for the Benefit of Vagrant Children. June 23.

(1.) Where a child has been sent to a reformatory school, the inspector of the poor of the parish or the treasurer of the school may raise an action against the persons liable for its support for payment of a weekly sum for aliment. Action may be brought in the small debt court of the sheriff of the county where the order to send the child to school was pronounced, or the county where the defender resides; sheriff to inquire into circumstances of party, and decern for such sum as may be proper, not exceeding 5s. a-week, or may dismiss action. The decree to have the effect of a decree in each week, and defender's wages may be arrested weekly, arrestment to attach not only the wages due at the date, but the wages current for the week or other period in the course of which it is executed. The inspector of the poor to pay quarterly to the school the sums recovered; the managers of the school to render to the inspector a quarterly account of the sums claimed by them. (2.) #### NATIONAL GALLERY.

CHAP. 29. To extend the Powers of the Trustees and Director of the National Gallery, and to authorize the Sale of Works of Art belonging to the Public. June 23.

INCOME TAX—INSURANCE.

CHAP. 33. To continue the Act for extending for a limited Time the Provision for abatement of Income Tax in respect of Insurance on Lives. June 30.

(1.) Continues the provisions of the present acts for abatement of income tax in respect of insurance on lives till the 5th July 1857.

MALT DUTY.

CHAP. 34. To grant Allowances of Excise Duty on Malt in Stock; to alter and regulate certain Drawbacks and Allowances in respect of Malt Duty; to repeal and reimpose the Excise Duty on Sugar used in brewing Beer; and to amend the Law relating to Malt Roasters. June 30.

The preamble narrates that certain duties had been imposed to continue during the war, and that a definitive treaty of peace having been ratified the duties were to cease on 5th July 1856. (1.) The term "malt trader" is to include every maltster and dealer in malt, and every roaster of malt, licensed brewer, and vinegar maker. (2.) The stock of dry unground malt to be taken between the 3d and 5th July 1856, and allowance to be made in Scotland, for every bushel of malt from bear or bigg exclusively 1s., from any other grain 1s. 3½d. (8.) Deduction to be made of 20 per cent. from the gauge quantity for the swell of all brown and black malt, but if the malt has been screened the commissioners of inland revenue may make such less deduction as they may think proper in respect of the combing and dust taken out, and in regard to all other unscreened malt 7½ per cent. to be deducted, and allowance to be paid only on remainder. (4. to 11.) inclusive contain the regulations to be observed by malt traders on claiming allowance, and the excise provisions for giving effect to the claim. If from any accident a malt trader was prevented receiving any malt delivered to a common carrier to be conveyed to him seven days before 3d July, the commissioners of inland revenue may, if satisfied no fraud has been committed, grant the proper allowance therefor. (12.) Enacts that grain in the process of conversion into malt at the time the excise officer took stock in reference to the allowance claimed, is to be charged only with the rate of duty payable after 5th July 1856. (13.) Malt traders who had contracted for the sale of malt on which the allowance has been claimed, to abate from the price, and allow the purchaser the amount of remission of duty obtained in respect of such malt. (14.) The excise duty of 3s. 9d. per cwt. on sugar used for brewing, imposed by 18 Vict. c. 22., to cease after 5th July 1856 until 5th April 1858. After this last date the excise duty on sugar for brewing to be 2s. per cwt. (15.) On beer brewed between 8th May 1854, and 6th July 1856, and exported before 6th January 1858, drawback to be as in schedule B. In respect of all other beer exported, the following drawback allowed for every barrel of 36 gallons of beer where the worts were of the specific gravity of not less than 1041° 4s. 1d., of 1054° 5s. 5d., of 1068° 6s. 9d., of 1081° 8s. 1d., of 1095° 9s. 6d., of 1108° 10s. 10d., of 1122° 12s. 2d. (16.) Regulates the mode of determining the original specific gravity of worts from which the beer for exportation was made. (17.) No allowances or drawbacks previously granted by 17 and 18 Vict. c. 27 for malt used in distilling to be revived. (18.) Duties and drawbacks, &c. contained in this act to be under the management of the commissioners of inland revenue, and to be collected and paid under the provisions of acts relating to excise. (19.) Grain in possession of a roaster of malt, where the plumule shall not have been elongated to the extent of one-half of the length of the grain, to be deemed unmalted grain. None of the penalties imposed by act 5 Vict. c. 30 to be incurred where malt contains a quantity of unmalted grain not exceeding five per cent., if it be proved such grain has been subjected to the usual process of malting.

FACTORY LABOUR.

CHAP. 88. For the further Amendment of the Laws relating to Labour in Factories. June 30.

(1. & 2.) Act to be called "The Factory Act 1856," and to come into operation 1st June 1856. (3.) The act 7 and 8 Vict. c. 15 and this act to be construed as one act. (4.) § 21 of 7 and 8 Vict. c. 15, as to fencing of mill-gearing, to apply only to those parts with which women and children are liable to come in contact, either in passing or in their ordinary occupation. (5.) The word "machinery," in 7 and 8 Vict. c. 15, § 43, to include all other parts of the mill-gearing in a factory with which children and young persons are not liable to come in contact, and in §§ 24, 42, 59, and 60, to include mill-gearing. (6.) Where notice has been given to factory occupier in relation to any part of the machinery, or any driving strap or band not being securely fenced, if occupier do not refer the question to arbitration, or if having referred it to arbitration, and having obtained an adverse decision, he does not within reasonable time securely fence said machinery, strap, or band, to incur a penalty of not less than £5 or more than £20.

INDUSTRIAL AND PROVIDENT SOCIETIES.

CHAP. 40. To amend the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 25, relating to Industrial and Provident Societies. July 7.

On the narrative that doubts had arisen as to whether the provisions of the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 25, for the better conduct of legal proceedings in matters concerning industrial and provident societies, applied to societies constituted after the passing of that act, (1.) Enacts that the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 25 shall apply to societies which at the time of the passing of this act or thereafter are constituted under the Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1852. (2.) Time fixed by § 2 of the act 1852 for appointing officers to sue and be sued by any such society extended in the case of societies constituted before this act passed to one month after its passing, and in the case of societies to be constituted hereafter to one month after the certificate of registration. (3.) Ratifies appointments of such officers made since 1852. (4.) Extends the provisions as to removal of such officers contained in 17 and 18 Vict. c. 25, § 2 to the case of officers appointed since 1852.

SAVINGS BANKS FOR SEAMEN.

CHAP. 41. To make further provision for the Establishment of Savings Banks for Seamen. July 7.

(1.) Empowers Board of Trade to establish in London a central savings bank, with branches at other places, to receive deposits on account of seamen, or their wives, widows, or children, the amount in name of any one depositor not to exceed £200. (2.) Board may constitute any shipping office established under the Merchant Shipping Act 1854 a branch savings bank, and any shipping master belonging to the office to act as the agent. (3.) The commissioners for the reduction of the national debt to receive the sums deposited, and pay interest the same as on the monies received by them from the trustees of savings banks. (4.) Board of Trade to make regulations for the conduct of the savings banks, regulations so made to be binding on parties interested. No legal proceedings competent against Board of Trade, or shipping master, or other public officer employed in savings banks, for refusal or omission to pay any deposit or interest except on the ground of fraud or wilful misbehaviour. (5.) Money due to the estate of deceased persons to be paid in the same way as directed by the Merchant Shipping Act 1854 with regard to the money or effects of deceased seamen. (6.) Forgery of documents or false representations for the purpose of procuring deposits or interest, punishable with penal servitude not exceeding four years, or imprisonment with or without hard labour not exceeding two years. If summarily prosecuted the imprisonment not to exceed six months. (7.) Expenses of carrying the act into effect to be defrayed out of the interest of monies paid under this act. (8.) Accounts of deposits received and repaid, and interest, to be laid annually before parliament, as also copies of all regulations made under the authority of the act. (9.) Criminal proceedings under this act to be carried on in the same way, and subject to the same rules as to practice and evidence, as under the Merchant Shipping Act 1854.

IMPRISONMENT—MASTERS AND WORKMEN.

CHAP. 46. To exempt Imprisonments under 5 Geo. IV. c. 96, from the Operation of the Act abolishing in Scotland Imprisonment for civil Debts of small Amount. July 14.

On the narrative that the act 5 Geo. IV. c. 96, to amend the law relative to the arbitration of disputes between masters and workmen, empowers justices of the peace to commit persons to prison in certain cases, (§ 1.) enacts that this power is to remain unaffected by the abolition of imprisonment for small debts, 5 and 6 Will. IV. c. 70.

JOINT STOCK COMPANIES.

CHAP. 47. For the Incorporation and Regulation of Joint Stock Companies and other Associations. July 14.

(1. and 2.) Act to be called "The Joint Stock Companies Act 1856," and not to apply to banking or insurance companies.

The rest of the act is divided into five parts: (1.) The constitution and incorporation of companies and associations; (2.) Their management and administration; (3.) Winding up; (4.) Registration office; and (5.) Repeal of former acts, and temporary provisions.

Part I. Registry. (3.) Seven or more persons associated for any lawful purpose, on subscribing a memorandum of association and being registered, may form a company with or without limited liability. (4.) After the 3d November 1856 not more than twenty persons can carry on business in partnership, except they are registered under this act, or have a private act of parliament, or royal charter, or letters patent, or are a mining company in the stannery jurisdiction. In case

(f violation of this enactment every person to be liable for the whole debts, and may be sued individually therefor. (5.) The memorandum of association to contain, 1. The name of the proposed company, 2. Place of registered office, 3. Object of company, 4. Whether the liability of the shareholders is limited or unlimited, 5. The amount of nominal capital, 6. The number of shares and amount of each. If liability be limited, the word "limited" to be the last word in the name. (6.) Prohibits a new company being registered under the same name as another, or a name so nearly identical as to be apt to mislead. Should such a thing occur by inadvertence or otherwise, the new company, with sanction of the registrar, to change its name. The alteration not to affect rights of company or destroy legal proceedings instituted by it or against it. Legal proceedings may be continued or commenced against it by its new name. (7.) Memorandum of association to be in the form of schedule A, and to bind the company and shareholders as if each shareholder had duly executed it, and bound himself and his heirs. (8.) Each subscriber to take at least one share; the number of shares taken by each to be entered opposite his name, and after incorporation to be entered as shareholder for the amount of his shares. (9.) The memorandum may contain special articles of association, which shall be binding. The regulations, &c. in table B to be binding so far as not modified or altered by special articles.* (10.) Articles of association to be in the form of schedule G. When registered to bind the company and shareholders in the same way as the memorandum. (11.) Both memorandum and articles of association to have deed stamps. If proper stamp has been affixed, printed unstamped copies may be used, and persons signing the same to be bound. In executing these deeds the attestation of one witness to be sufficient in Scotland. (12.) The memorandum and articles to be given to the registrar of joint stock companies, who is to retain and register them on payment of the fees fixed in act, or such smaller fees as may be fixed by Board of Trade. These fees to be paid into Exchequer. (13.) Registrar to certify that company is incorporated, and if it be so that the liability is limited. The shareholders then become a body corporate under the name selected in the memorandum, having perpetual succession, common seal, and power to hold land. Registrar's certificate to be conclusive evidence that this act has been so far complied with, and its date to be the date of incorporation. (14.) If directors pay a dividend when they know the company is or will by that means become insolvent, they are to be liable for the debts of the company then in existence, or which shall be contracted during their period of office, to the amount of the dividend. Any director absent, or who files an objection in writing with the clerk of the company at the time of making the dividend, not to be liable. (15.) After being incorporated, company may issue certificates of shares to the subscribers and others of the number and amount fixed by the memorandum. The shares to be personal estate and to be numbered.

Register of Shareholders. (16.) Every company to keep a register of shareholders to contain, 1st, Names, addresses, and occupations of the shareholders, and the distinguishing numbers of the shares held by them; 2d, The amount paid on the shares; 3d, The date of entry of the party's name in the register; 4th, The date when any person ceased to possess a share. (17.) An annual list in form of schedule E to be made of shareholders on register, and to contain a summary specifying, 1. The amount of nominal capital and the total number of shares; 2. The number of shares taken up since the commencement of the company; 3. Amount of calls made; 4. Amount of calls received; 5. Calls unpaid; and, 6. Shares forfeited. This list and summary to be made between the 14th and 21st days after the first ordinary general meeting in each year, and a copy forwarded to the registrar. All persons entitled to inspect and take copies. (18.)

* This table contains rules for management of the company, applying to shares, their transmission, forfeiture, increase in capital, general meetings, votes of shareholders, directors, their powers, disqualification, rotation, and proceedings, dividends, accounts, audit, and notices.

Any company not keeping a register, or not sending a copy of list and summary, liable to a penalty not above £5 for each day's default. (19.) Every person whose name is entered on the register to be deemed a shareholder; no person can be registered as a trustee. (20.) Transfers of shares to be executed as in schedule F by both parties. The transferrer to remain a shareholder until entry of name of transferee in register. (21.) Certificate of shares to be prima facie evidence of title. (22.) Unpaid calls to be a debt due by shareholder to company. (23.) The register of shareholders to be kept at the office of the company, and to be open at least two hours a-day to the inspection of any shareholder gratis, and any other person for a sum not exceeding 1s. Copies to be furnished of it either in whole or in part at 6d. for every 100 words. Penalty for refusal of inspection or copy not above £2, and £2 additional for each day's delay. (24.) Empowers company after advertising to close the register for any time not exceeding 21 days in each year, such time not to be reckoned as part of the time within which a transfer is to be registered. (25.) Any person whose name is improperly entered, or omitted to be entered, may apply, if the company be registered in England or Ireland, by motion in any of the superior courts there, if in Scotland by summary petition to the Court of Session, for an order that the register be rectified. The court to deal with the case at its discretion, and may direct the company to pay costs and damages. A company committing default in not registering a transfer, liable in damages to party injured. (26.) The register of shareholders to be evidence. (27.) Copies of the memorandum and articles of association to be supplied to each shareholder on payment of not more than 1s. per copy.

Part II. General. (28.) Each company to have a registered office under a penalty not exceeding £5 for every day business is carried on without it. (29.) Notice of the situation of the office, or of any change in it, to be given to the registrar. Till such notice is given company to be liable to the above penalty. (30.) Every limited company to have its name outside the office in a conspicuous position in letters easily legible. Name to be engraven on its seal, and mentioned in all notices, &c., and in all bills of exchange orders for money or goods, and in all bills of parcels, invoices, or letters of credit. (31.) Every limited company not having its name outside the office liable to a penalty not exceeding £5 a-day. Any officer using a seal without the name, or authorizing the issue of any official notice without the name, or signing bills or orders, or issuing bills of parcels, invoices, or letters of credit, without the name, to be liable to a penalty of £50, and also personally liable in payment of the bill of exchange or order, if the same be not paid by the company. (32.) A general meeting of the company to be held at least once a-year. (33.) A general meeting may by special resolutions alter and make new provisions in lieu of or in addition to the articles of association, or table B. (34.) A special resolution requires to be agreed to by three-fourths in number and value of the shareholders present, either in person or by proxy. Previous notice of intention to propose the resolution is required. Resolution must be confirmed by a majority at another meeting held between one and three months after it was first passed; due notice of this second meeting must be given. Unless a poll be demanded by at least five shareholders, the chairman's declaration that a special resolution has been carried to be conclusive. The notice of the meeting, and the manner of holding it, to be as prescribed by the regulations of the company. (35.) Copies of all special resolutions to be sent to registrar within fifteen days, under a penalty of not more than £2 a-day for neglect. (36.) Each shareholder entitled to a copy on payment of not more than 1s. (37.) Company, if authorized by its regulations, may increase its nominal capital; notice to be given to registrar within fifteen days, who is to record the amount. Penalty for not giving notice not more than £5 a-day. (38.) Prohibits any company not carrying on business for profit from acquiring more land than two acres without license from the Board of Trade. Board may grant license under such conditions as they please. (39.) If a company carries on business for six months with fewer shareholders than seven, each shareholder to be severally liable for the whole debts, and may be sued individually therefor. (40.) Minutes of the resolutions and proceedings of general meetings to be kept, and if signed by the chairman to be evidence. Where such minutes are kept the meeting to be presumed to have been duly held.

Legal Instruments of Company, (41.) Contracts which require to be in writing and under seal may be entered into, varied, or discharged, on behalf of a company under the common seal of the company. Contracts which require writing may be made on behalf of the company by any person acting under their express or implied authority. Parole contracts to be made in the same way. Contracts thus made to be valid and binding. (42.) Companies by instrument under seal may empower any person to execute deeds on their behalf in places out of the United Kingdom; such deeds to be as binding as if under the company's common seal. (43.) Promissory notes and bills of exchange may be drawn, accepted, or endorsed for company by persons acting under express or implied authority. (44.) Regulates English mortgages. (45.) Scotch bonds and dispositions in security granted by a company to imply, unless special provision be made to the contrary, 1. An obligation by company to pay the money and interest; 2. An undertaking that the company have power to convey the property to the heritable creditor free from encumbrances; 3. An obligation to execute at expense of company any further deed necessary to give effect to the security. A power of sale, if given, to imply authority to sell, either in whole or in part, by public auction or private contract, to make and rescind contracts of sale and resale, without liability for loss, and authority to give receipts for price. The bond and disposition to be in the form of schedule I, and registered in the register of sasines. (46.) Regulates conveyances according to English law. (47.) Scotch dispositions by a company to imply, unless special provision to the contrary be made, 1. Absolute warrandice; 2. Obligation on company to complete their own title at their own expense; 3. Obligation to grant at their own expense any further deeds necessary to make disposition effectual.

Examination of Company's Affairs.

(48.) Empowers Board of Trade, on application by one-fifth in number and value of the shareholders, to appoint one or more inspectors of the company to report in manner directed by Board. (49.) Company's officers to produce all books and documents, and inspectors may examine them on oath. Any company's officer refusing to produce a book or document, or to answer any question, to incur a penalty of not more than £5 for each offence. (50.) Inspectors to report to the Board of Trade: report to be written or printed as Board may direct. Copies of the report to be sent to the registered office of the company, and to the shareholders at whose request the inspection was made. The expenses of the examination to be defrayed by the parties who requested it. (51.) A general meeting may appoint inspectors, who are to have the same powers as those appointed by the Board of Trade, except that their report is to be made in such a way and to such persons as the company may direct. (52.) A copy of a report by inspectors, authenticated by the company's seal, to be evidence.

Notices. (53.) Any summons or notice, except where a particular mode of service is directed, may be served by leaving it at, or sending it by post to, the registered office, or by giving it to any director, secretary, or principal officer. (54.) Notices by letter must be posted so that the delivery shall be made within the period prescribed for giving notice. Proof that notice was properly directed and posted to be sufficient. (55.) In notices or writs requiring authentication by company, any director or authorized officer may sign them: they may be either wholly or partly written or printed.

Legal Proceedings. (56.) Penalties incurred to be recovered by summary prosecution in Scotland before two or more justices or the sheriff in the same way as in the Merchant Shipping Act, 17 and 18 Vict. c. 104; in England and Ireland before two or more justices. (57.) The court may apply the penalties recovered either wholly or partly to payment of costs, or to reward the informer or prosecutor: penalties not so applied to be paid into Exchequer. (58.) Board of Trade may alter the forms in the schedule: the alteration, when published in the London Gazette, to have the same force as if part of the act.

Part III. Preliminary. (59.) Th

provisions as to winding up to apply to all companies registered under this act, and under the 8 Vict. c. 110, after these last have been registered under this act. (60.) "The court" means in Scotland either division of the Court of Session: in England and Ireland Chancery, except in the case of limited companies registered in England, in which case it is the Court of Bankruptcy, and in Ireland the Commissioners of Bankrupt. In the case of mining companies in the Stanneries, it is the Court of the Vice-warden. In these last cases the jurisdiction of the inferior courts is to be the same as to power of enforcing its orders as Chancery. (61.) When a company is wound up the shareholders are liable for the debts and expenses of winding up, but if the company is limited, no shareholder is liable beyond the unpaid amount of his shares. (62.) When a company that is not limited is wound up, all persons who have ceased to hold shares within three years prior to the commencement of the winding up to be deemed existing shareholders, except that they shall not be liable for debts contracted after they ceased to have shares. (63.) In the case of limited companies the same rule to apply to persons who have ceased to hold shares within one year prior to the commencement of the winding up. (64.) In the case of winding up by the court, the commencement is the date of presenting the petition: in voluntary winding up the date of passing the resolution authorizing it. (65.) Any shareholder upon whom this third part of the act authorizes calls is named "a contributory." The representatives of deceased contributories to be liable in a due course of administration. (66.) The rule of liability as between the existing and former shareholders, in the case of companies not limited, is that the existing shareholder shall, in the degree proportioned to the shares transferred, indemnify his author against all existing and future company debts; in the case of limited companies the existing shareholder to indemnify his author against all calls subsequently to the transfer.

Winding up by Court (67.) is to take place, 1. On a special resolution passed at a general meeting requiring it; 2. Whenever the company does not commence business in a year after its incorporation, or suspends business for a year; 3. When the shareholders are reduced to fewer than seven; 4. When the company is unable to pay its debts; 5. When three-fourths of the capital has been lost or become unavailable. (68.) A company to be held unable to pay its debts, 1. When a creditor in a sum exceeding £50, having demanded payment in writing, the company has for three weeks neglected to pay or satisfy the creditor; 2. When in England or Ireland execution issued on a decree in favour of a creditor is returned unsatisfied in whole or in part; 3. When in Scotland the inducias of a charge for payment on an extract decree has expired without payment being made. (69.) Application for winding up to be by petition with an affidavit verifying it. The petitioner must be a contributory, except where the ground is inability to pay debt, in which case a creditor may also present the petition. (70.) If a creditor presents the petition, the court upon hearing it may either dismiss it with or without costs, or order the company on a day fixed to pay the creditor the sum proved due, with such costs as may be directed, or make an order for winding up the company. (71.) If payment be not made nor security given at expiry of time fixed, the court may order the winding up. (72.) Where a contributory presents the petition, the court may either dismiss it with or without costs, or order the winding up. (73.) After the date of decree of winding up, the court may order all actions to be stayed. No officer of the company can without sanction of the court dispose of any of the property of the company, and no transfer of shares to be valid without such sanction. A copy of the decree to be reported by the company to the registrar, who is to minute it in his books relating to the company. (74.) Applies only to England. (75.) As soon as possible after decree of winding up the court to order the assets to be collected and applied in discharge of liabilities. (76.) Fraudulent preferences declared invalid, and for the purposes of this section the presenting a petition for winding up to have the same effect as filing a petition for adjudication of bankruptcy in the case of an individual. Any conveyance by a company of its estate to a trustee for behoof of creditors to be void. (77.) Empowers court, after decree of winding up, to summon persons suspected to have company property or to possess information, and to require them to deliver up books or documents; any person refusing to come, without alleging a lawful excuse, may be apprehended and examined. (78.) Court may examine parties upon oath, either orally or on written interrogatories, and may require parties to sign their answers. (79.) Any officer or contributory of a company destroying or falsifying books with intent to defraud creditors or contributories to be guilty of a misdemeanour, and liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding two years. (80.) Attachments or sequestrations of company property within three months of petition for winding up to be void in favour of the liquidators of the company, except that attaching creditor is entitled, if the attachment would have been otherwise valid but for this clause, to retain the costs of suit, or to proceed to realize said costs. The liquidators of the company, on tendering amount of costs, to be entitled to recover property attached. (81.) The books of the company and of the liquidators to be prima facie evidence as between the contributories. (82.) Court may at any time after decree of winding up make calls on any of the contributories to the extent of their liability for payment of all or any of the sums required for debt and costs. In making a call court may consider the probability of some of the contributories failing to pay their portions. (83.) Monies received in course of liquidation to be paid into bank. Liquidators with sanction of the court may retain a balance for current expenditure. No money to be paid out of bank except on cheques signed in the way directed by the court. (84.) Any time after presenting a petition for winding up court may, on the motion of any creditor or contributory, interdict further proceedings in any action against the company, or appoint a receiver of its estate. Creditors may be required by notice to prove their claims within a certain time, or be precluded from the benefit of a distribution. (85.) In a winding up the court may at any time, on the motion of any creditor or contributory, at its discretion stay the proceedings either wholly or for a time on such conditions as it may deem fit. (86.) After creditors are satisfied court to adjust the rights of the contributories inter se, and to distribute any surplus. For these purposes court may make calls on contributories to the extent of their liability, and consider the probability of some contributories not paying their portions. (87.) Court may make any order as to priority and payment of expenses of winding up.

Official Liquidators. (88.) Official liquidators to be appointed by the court, one or more, who are to find security, and may be removed from time to time. Where a winding up takes place at the instance of a creditor, the majority in value of the creditors, or if at the instance of a contributory the majority in value of the contributories, at a meeting for that purpose, may appoint an official liquidator to act concurrently with the one appointed by the court. (89.) Liquidators to be described by the style of the official liquidators of the company in respect of which they are appointed, and not by their individual names, to take into their custody the effects of the company, and to perform such duties as the court may impose. (90.) With sanction of the court to have power to bring or defend actions civil or criminal in name of the company; to carry on the company's business so far as necessary; to sell the real and personal effects by auction or private contract, in a whole or in parts; to execute deeds in name of the company, and use the seal; to refer to arbitration and compromise debts or claims; to claim on bankruptcy of any contributory, and to receive dividends; to draw and endorse bills or notes, and borrow money in security of the company's assets; to do all other things necessary for winding up. (91.) Liquidators may appoint a law agent, and such clerks as they require; the fees of these officers to be fixed by the court. (92.) Court to fix, by way of percentage or otherwise, remuneration of liquidators. (93.) When affairs of company have been wound up, court to make an order declaring its dissolution. (94.) This order to be reported to registrar, and minuted in his books. (95. and 96.) Apply to England and Ireland. (97.) The Court of Session, by act of sederunt, may make rules as to procedure in winding up. Till such rules are made the general practice of the court registration, the date of certificate to be the date of incorporation under this act. (116.) In the case of existing companies neither registration nor any act of the company subsequent to registration to affect the rights of creditors.

PROCEDURE BEFORE JUSTICES.

CHAP. 48. For amending the Procedure before Magistrates and Justices of Peace in Scotland. July 14.

On the narrative that it is expedient to facilitate the procedure in prosecutions for offences before magistrates of royal burghs and justices of the peace. (1.) Enacts, that where the libel concludes for a fine not exceeding £5 exclusive of costs, which the magistrates and justices are by this act empowered to give, or for imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, with or without caution to keep the peace for a period not exceeding three months, and under a penalty not exceeding £10, the case may be tried without taking down the pleadings or evidence in writing. A record to be kept of the charge and judgment, with the names of the witnesses examined on oath. Where accused pleads guilty, fact to appear on record. (2.) The forms of procedure and regulations in these cases to be the same as in the summary trial of offences before the sheriff; the note of the evidence taken to be made by the clerk of court, and initialed at the end of each witness's evidence by presiding judge. (3.) Extends to the sentences pronounced under this act the provisions of the act 14 and 15 Vict. c. 27, in regard to whipping juvenile offenders, and hard labour, and also the provisions of the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 86. (4.) Any writer elected magistrate or dean of guild in a burgh, where such magistrate is ex officio justice of peace, may act as justice upon intimating to the clerk of the peace that he and his partners are to cease practising in any justice of peace court in the county so long as he continues to hold office; after such intimation it shall not be legal to practise. (5.) Not to affect local acts regulating procedure before magistrates or justices.

RICE FOR DISTILLATION.

CHAP. 51. To permit the Use of Rice in the Distillation of Spirits. July 14.

(1.) Empowers licensed distillers to brew worts and distil spirits from rice, or from any of the articles previously allowed, or from any mixture thereof. (2.) Where sugar is used the duty to be charged as specified in act 11 and 12 Vict. c. 100, § 3.

EXCHEQUER COURT.

CHAP. 56. To constitute the Court of Session the Court of Exchequer in Scotland, and to regulate Procedure in Matters connected with the Exchequer. July 21.

(1.) Transfers the power and jurisdiction of the Court of Exchequer to the Court of Session. (2.) Queen to appoint one of the Lords Ordinary to be Lord Ordinary in Exchequer, such Lord Ordinary to be the sole Lord Ordinary in all Exchequer cases, which are all to be brought in the first instance before him, except where expressly otherwise provided. (3.) The Lord Ordinary in Exchequer may act either during session or in vacation; at any time in the event of his absence any other Lord Ordinary may act in his room. (4.) The depute and assistant Clerks of Session to the Lord Ordinary to be Clerks in Exchequer causes. Treasury empowered to give the assistant Clerk of Session an increase of salary not exceeding £50 per annum; such increase to be paid out of monies voted by Parliament. (5.) Lord Advocate may commence Exchequer cases by a subpoena in the form of schedule A. Subpoena to be executed like a summons. Service may be made either by a messenger, sheriff, excise, or customs officer. (6.) On expiry of induciae subpoena to be called and enrolled like an ordinary summons. If the information to which the subpoena relates be not produced, the first interlocutor is to be one allowing such information to be produced. When the information is lodged, or before that, a copy is to be served on the defender; such copy may be transmitted by post, a certificate on the intimation to be prima facie evidence of service. After service if the defender admit, or does not appear, Lord Ordinary may give decree; if the defender appears and insists, Lord Ordinary to appoint a day for hearing parties, if he thinks such necessary, or for trying the matters put in issue, and that without adjusting any separate issue, or he may take such other course as he may think proper. Where a day is appointed for trial, a common or special jury, as the case may be, to be impanneled, the Lord Ordinary in Exchequer to preside, except where, at his own special request to either division of the court, another Lord Ordinary is appointed to preside. The verdict to be in the form of schedule C, and subject to provisions of 17 and 18 Vict. c. 59. After verdict is given Lord Ordinary to pronounce decree.

(7.) Informations to be in the form of schedule B, and may be amended at any time before verdict. No amendment to be made after the day of trial is fixed, except on payment of defender's expenses. Not necessary to mention in any information any other act of Parliament than the one imposing the penalty or duty claimed. Notwithstanding the terms of the information, pursuer does not require to prove more than is by law required to be proved in order to recover the penalty or duty sought. (8.) In causes commencing by subpoena, where parties are agreed upon the facts, they may lodge a special case setting them forth, which is to be equivalent to a special verdict, and upon this the question of law may be raised for the Lord Ordinary. (9.) Procedure in subpoenas, in so far as not specially provided for, to be regulated by the Lord Ordinary; in so far as not so regulated, to be conducted in conformity with the procedure in ordinary actions, except, 1. Protestation not to be applicable to such cases; 2. No record to be made up nor closed; and, 3. Such cases not to fall asleep, but any Exchequer case lying over so long that, if an ordinary action, it would have been asleep, not to be moved in till ten days from the date of a written notice to the opposite party that the case is to be proceeded with. (10.) The Lord Advocate may commence proceedings in any case by summons instead of subpoena; private pursuers must commence by summons.

Where summons is used the whole proceedings are to be the same as in ordinary actions. Summonses raised for the crown may contain warrant to arrest on the dependence, and it shall be competent for the crown to use diligence as in ordinary causes. (11.) In cases of seizure where judicial condemnation is requisite, in the Court of Session an appraisement of the articles to be made in the form of schedule D, and lodged with the clerk of court within thirty days of the seizure.

This appraisement is to be published in the Weekly Calling List not later than fourteen days after lodging. A claim for the seized articles, or any of them, in the form of schedule E, may be lodged with the clerk, within eight days of the calling, and either party may afterwards enrol the appraisement in the weekly roll. If no claim is made the Lord Ordinary may condemn the seizure, which shall then be at the disposal of the crown. If a claim is made, the Lord Ordinary is to order an information of seizure, and the further proceedings to be the same as in a subpoena. (12.) Where a writ of capias is at present competent, or where the defender may be apprehended until security is found that he shall appear and answer, a warrant for apprehension may be asked for in the information or summons. The warrant is to be granted by the Lord Ordinary before service of the writ, and defender, when apprehended, must find two cautioners to appear and answer, and pay the duties and penalties sought to be recovered. If caution be not found, defender to be imprisoned till security be found or he be liberated in due course of law. (13.) Where rent-charges or penalties might have been recovered by writ of the Pipe, the Lord Ordinary, on certificate of the collector, to issue ex parte, and without any formal written application, decree for payment. All penalties incurred in one county to be included in one decree. Where a charge has been given or diligence followed on decree, a suspension may be brought; no suspension competent before a charge has been given. (14.) Interdict substituted in lieu of injunction. Application to be made by a note, with statement of fact and pleas in law, as in ordinary cases. When note presented Lord Ordinary may either grant, refuse, or order service and answers. Where interdict is granted with reference to instituting any cause requiring to be instituted within a limited time, the said limited time is to be extended by the period which may elapse between the date of the service of interdict and the institution of the cause, and ten free days more. (15.) Instead of mandamus a summary petition to be substituted, setting forth the facts, and craving such order on the respondent as may be competent, or in the event of failure to comply craving damages.

in the burgh a place where a copy of the list will be open for perusal. Everybody entitled to peruse it without paying any fee from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. daily from 16th to 25th August inclusive, excepting Sundays. Copies of list to be furnished at rate fixed in schedule B. Assessor to omit the name of any party intimating that desire in writing. (3.) Persons omitted in list who were entitled to claim as on 31st July preceding, and persons desiring to be registered for a different qualification, must on or before 25th August intimate it to the assessor in form 2 in schedule A. Assessor to make up list of claimants. (4.) Any voter may object to the name of any other appearing in list; a signed notice of objection to be given to assessor and to party objected to on or before 25th August, as in schedule A, No. 4. (5.) Assessors to make up lists of parties objected to, which list, as also the list of claimants, to be open to perusal gratis, at some place of which notice has been given by newspaper advertisement, from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. daily, except Sundays, during the first fourteen days of September. Copies to be furnished to all parties at the same rate as the list of voters. (6.) Assessor to give signed copies of all these lists to town-clerk on or before 1st September. (7.) Where a burgh has more than one assessor the magistrates, within three weeks after passing of the act, to appoint one of them as assessor under this act, and advertise the appointment: if magistrates do not make such appointment, sheriff of the county to do it within five weeks after passing of act. The same rule as to patronage, time, and advertising, to apply in appointing a successor to an assessor. Where more assessors than one, the others are, in matters relating to this act, to be subject to the orders of the one appointed, and to take instructions from him. If any part of a county be included within a burgh for election purposes, assessor of the county to afford access to county valuation roll to assessor for burgh. (8.) Assessors disqualified from being registered themselves or voting either in municipal or parliamentary elections for that burgh. (9.) A notice to the assessor shall be held sufficiently served if delivered or sent by post prepaid to his place of abode or place of business. Notice to any other person may be sent by post prepaid to his usual place of abode. (10.) Advertisements required by this act are to be repeated in the same or a similar newspaper not earlier than six nor later than eight days after the day on or before which such advertisement is required to be published. (11.) Lists to be affixed to any place for a period including at least two consecutive Sundays, and if removed or defaced to be replaced. (12.) Penalty for mutilating or removing lists a fine not exceeding 40s. nor under 10s., to be paid to any person suing for it, to be recovered in a summary manner before the sheriff of the county or two justices. (13.) No list to be invalid in respect of deficient publication, but assessor to be liable in penalties for the wilful or culpable neglect of duty. (14.) Claims or objections not to be affected by mistakes of the public officers to whom they are appointed to be given. (15.) In the event of the vacancy of any officer on whom duties are imposed by this act, the sheriff of the county to appoint a person ad interim, and fix with Lord Advocate's approbation his remuneration, which is to be paid out of the same funds as the regular salary of the office. (16.) Any voter or person claiming to vote to be entitled, gratis, every lawful day from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M., between the 16th August and 21st October, to inspect valuation roll and make extracts therefrom. (17.) Valuation roll to be prima facie evidence of the matters therein set forth, but may be redargued by proof before the sheriff. The roll may be founded on in any registration or appeal court, though not produced. (18.) Town-clerks to transmit, as soon after 1st September as possible, abstracts to sheriff of lists of claimants and of parties objected to. (19.) Sheriffs to hold courts for revising the register of county voters and the list of the burghs, between 1st September and 1st October, and to give sheriff and town-clerk written notice of the days. Town-clerk to advertise notice of the day fixed for the burgh registration court, and send a copy to the assessors requiring their attendance. (20.) The town-clerks and assessors to attend the court: town-clerk to give the sheriff the lists of voters and printed copies of the register of voters. The assessors to give the sheriff the original notices of claim and objection. The valuation roll is also to be on the table of the court, and clerk and assessors to produce all the documents and writs in their power regarding any matter necessary for revising the lists of voters. Sheriff authorized to compel production of valuation roll. (21.) Claimants omitted in list may be enrolled by sheriff on proving themselves possessed of the necessary qualification. (22.) Such claimants may be objected to by any voter, who must, before the claim has been heard, give notice in writing of his intention to oppose. (23.) Sheriff is to correct any mistakes in lists, to expunge names of parties insufficiently qualified or dead. If any requisite in any entry has been omitted, or if the description be insufficient for identification, sheriff to expunge the name of the party unless matter be amended. Sheriff to write his initials in open court against the names expunged or inserted, and where mistakes have been rectified. (24.) Sheriffs and substitutes may grant warrants to cite parties, witnesses, and havers, and grant diligence for recovery of writs, with reference to any claim, objection, or appeal in the registration courts; such warrants and diligence to be valid, though appeal court be held out of the limits of the sheriff's ordinary jurisdiction. (25.) Sheriffs may adjourn registration court, but must finish business by 30th September. At all registration courts sheriffs sitting as members to have power to examine parties on oath; any party swearing falsely to be guilty of perjury. (26.) Sheriff to deliver revised lists of voters to town-clerks not later than 1st October annually. (27.) Persons dissatisfied with sheriff's decision may appeal as provided in the act 2 and 3 Will. IV. c. 65. The appeal courts to commence sitting before the 8th October, and finally to determine burgh appeals by the 21st, and county appeals by the 31st October. Judgment to be pronounced in burgh appeals by one of the judges making the requisite alteration in the list, and the rest initialing them. (28.) Parties bound to attend registration courts, and make productions; also bound to attend appeal courts in the same way. (29.) Town-clerks as soon as possible to print burgh lists, arranged in wards or polling districts, and make the necessary corrections caused by the appeal court, to affix to each name in the register a proper number in regular series, and to sign and deliver a copy to the sheriff on or before 31st October. (30.) This signed printed book to be the register of persons entitled to vote at any election between the said 31st October and 1st November in the year succeeding. Copies to be sold at a rate specified in schedule B; a purchaser must take the whole that relates to any polling district. Clerical errors in the books may be corrected by sheriff at any time, who is to sign his name and the date of the correction. (31.) Registers of voters to be in force till new register is completed. (32.) Substitutes the burgh registers under this act for those prescribed by 2 and 3 Will. IV. c. 65, and repeals the provisions of that act in so far. (33.) Abolishes payments required by 2 and 3 Will. IV. c. 65 to be made by parties claiming to be registered. (34.) The seven miles prescribed as to residence to be measured in a straight line on the horizontal plane. Where there is an ordnance map of the district distance may be measured by it. (35.) Where any day fixed by this act as the last day for doing anything happens to be a Sunday, time to be extended till Monday. (36.) Agents and mandatories may act for parties. (37.) No written pleadings allowed in registration courts. Sheriff to note the name of witnesses, and sign documents produced in registration court; no other witnesses or documents to be allowed in the appeal court. (38.) Persons refusing to attend as witnesses or havers at registration courts liable to a fine of not more than £5 or less than £1 at discretion of court. (39.) Court may give expenses against parties maintaining frivolous objections, such expenses to be recovered as in an ordinary action; witnesses and havers entitled to their ordinary expenses from party citing them. (40.) Assessors or town-clerks committing any wilful breach of duty liable to a fine of not more than £5 or less than £1; this not to affect any right of action against or liability incurred by such party under the 2 and 3 Will. IV. c. 65. (41.) Court imposing penalty to fix to whom and when it is to be paid: where offence relates to the formation of the register fine to be paid to the assessor for the purposes of this act. (42.) Town-clerks and assessors to keep accounts of monies received by them for sales of lists, and pay it over to the assessor specially appointed. (43.) Magistrates of burghs to make up accounts of expenses of annual registrations; where these exceed monies received the excess to be apportioned on the parishes and levied with the poor's rates, or it may be levied in any of the ways allowed by the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 91: any balance on the one year to be retained and applied to the next. No burgh to be liable in any expenses heretofore defrayed by Exchequer. (44.) Register to be conclusive evidence of qualification. (45.) Any public officer wilfully contravening this act to be liable to the party aggrieved by such act in £100, or such less sum as a jury may give in an action for debt in Court of Session, with full expenses of process. This not to supersede any existing right of action against returning officer. (46.) Misnomer or inaccuracy not to vitiate any list or schedule, if the person or place be so denominated as to be commonly understood, and court may correct any verbal, casual, or clerical errors. (47.) Temporary provisions for 1856. (48.) Interpretation clause: "Oath of possession" to mean the words, "That I am still proprietor, or occupant, of the property for which I am so registered, and hold the same for my own benefit, and not in trust for, or at the pleasure of, any other person."

MERCANTILE LAW AMENDMENT.

CHAP. 60. To amend the Laws of Scotland affecting Trade and Commerce. July 21.

On the narrative that trade has suffered inconvenience from the difference between the law of Scotland and England in matters of common occurrence, (1.) Enacts, that goods sold but not delivered cannot be attached by the seller's creditors: the right of the purchaser to demand delivery to be attachable by his creditors. (2.) Where a purchaser of undelivered goods has sold them, the second purchaser to be entitled to demand delivery. The original seller to be bound to deliver on payment of the price or performance of the conditions of contract, and not entitled to retain the goods for any separate debt alleged to be due by the original purchaser. Act not to affect any right of retention for the price of goods sold, or for performance of contract, or as against any party except a subsequent purchaser, or arising from express contract. (3.) Any seller may arrest and poind undelivered goods in his own hands at any time prior to intimation of sale of said goods. (4.) Act not to affect landlord's right of hypothec and sequestration for rent. (5.) If goods sold be defective or of bad quality, seller, if ignorant of the fact, not to be held to have given a warranty unless it be done expressly, or the goods have been sold expressly for a specified and particular purpose, in which case a warranty of fitness is presumed. (6.) All guarantees and cautionary obligations to be in writing, and must be subscribed by cautioner or an authorized mandatory. (7.) Guarantees or cautionary obligations to or for a firm not to be binding after any change of the firm, unless the intention of parties to continue bound appear by express stipulation or by necessary implication from the nature of the firm, or otherwise. (8.) Cautioners not to be entitled to the benefit of discussion, except where such is expressly stipulated for in instrument of caution. (9.) Where there is more than one cautioner, the discharge of one without the consent of the others to operate as a discharge to all. Clause not to affect the case of a cautioner consenting to the discharge of a bankrupt co-cautioner. (10.) The date of bills or notes may be proved by parole. Summary diligence not competent on bills or notes issued without a date. (11.) After 31st December 1856, all acceptances of bills must be in writing on the bill, or a part of it, signed by the acceptor or some one authorized by him. (12.) Bills drawn within the United Kingdom, the islands of Man, Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney, and Sark, on any person resident in any part of the said kingdom or islands, to be an inland bill. Act not to affect the stamp-duty on bills. (13.) After the passing of this act, notarial protest on inland bills and notes not necessary, except for summary diligence. (14.) Notice of dishonour of inland bills and notes to be given as in foreign bills. (15.) In the case of a bill being lost or fraudulently obtained, the holder to be bound to prove onerosity; proof may be by parole. (16.) The endorsee of a bill or note endorsed after date of payment to be liable to all objections competent against the endorser. (17.) Carriers of goods in Scotland to be liable for losses by accidental fire. (18.) Every port in the United Kingdom and adjacent islands to be a home-port in regard to the rights of parties having claims for repairs of ships or supplies furnished to them. (19.) Court of Session may make regulations by acts of sederunt to carry act into effect, copies to be laid before parliament within fourteen days after the commencement of the next session. (20.) Act to be called, "The Mercantile Amendment Act, Scotland, 1856." (21.) Restricts the operation of the act to Scotland.

REPEAL OF OBSOLETE STATUTES.

CHAP. 61. To repeal certain Statutes which are not in use. July 21.

Of the 118 statutes repealed, the only acts which affected Scotland are the 4 Geo. I. c. 7, and 7 Geo. I. stat. 1, c. 12, acts passed to encourage the manufacture of silk and mohair yarn, by prohibiting the wearing of buttons and button-holes made of cloth, serge, or other stuffs.

CUSTOMS DUTIES.

CHAP. 75. For the further Alteration and Amendment of the Laws and Duties of Customs. July 29.

(1.) Bichromate of potash and old metals to be free of duty after 6th July 1856. (2.) After that date, the duty on spruce-beer to be £1 a-gallon, on metallic musical instruments 9d. per lb., on vinegar 3d. a-gallon. (3.) Imposes a penalty of £10 for cutting away or injuring any boats, buoys, ropes, or marks used by customs officers for prevention of smuggling. (4 and 5.) Refers to Channel Islands. (6.) Refers to Ireland. (7.) Costs, including justices' clerks' fees, awarded to the crown in proceedings relating to the customs, or trade, or navigation, to be paid to the collector of customs. (8.) Justices' clerks to be paid, as per table of fees appended, for formal investigations into wrecks constituted under the Merchant Shipping Act 1854. (9.) Refers to Channel Islands. (10.) Act to commence from and after 5th July 1856.

BANKRUPTCY.

CHAP. 79. To consolidate and amend the Laws relating to Bankruptcy in Scotland. July 29.

(1.) Act to be cited as the Bankruptcy (Scotland) Act 1856, and to commence on 1st November 1856. (2.) Repeals the acts 54 Geo. III. c. 137, 2 and 3 Vict. c. 41, and 16 and 17 Vict. c. 53, except as to things done before 1st November 1856. (3.) The procedure in existing sequestrations to be regulated by this act when an interlocutor by the Court or a final interlocutor to that effect has been pronounced; until that time, the procedure to be conducted under the repealed acts. (4.) Interpretation clause—"Gazette" means the Edinburgh Gazette; "Property" and "Estate" to include every kind of property and right capable of alienation; "Sheriff" includes sheriff-substitutes; "Vote" includes a consent to or dissent from an offer of composition or discharge. The words "Debtor," "Bankrupt," and "Creditor," to apply to companies as well as individuals, and to include aliens. (5.) Periods of time in this act to be reckoned exclusive of the day from which the period is to run. (6.) The date of a deed to be the date of recording the sasine where that is required, or of that proceeding which is requisite for rendering the deed completely effectual. (7.) Notour bankruptcy to be constituted; 1st, By sequestration or an adjudication of bankruptcy in England or Ireland; 2d, By insolvency, concurring either (A) with a charge for payment, followed by imprisonment where that is competent, or formal apprehension of debtor, or his flight, or retreat to sanctuary, or the forcibly defending his person against diligence; where imprisonment is incompetent by an arrestment not loosed for fifteen days, or by execution of a poinding, or a decree of adjudication, or (B) with sale of debtor's effects under a poinding or sequestration for rent, or retiring to the sanctuary for twenty-four hours, or applying for a cessio bonorum. (8.) A company may be rendered notour bankrupt in either of the foregoing ways, or by any of the partners being rendered bankrupt for a company debt. (9.) Notour bankruptcy to commence from the time its several requisites concur, and to continue in the case of sequestration till discharge; in other cases, till insolvency cease, without prejudice to its being constituted anew with that period. (10.) Deeds made void by this act, and voidable alienations of property may be set aside by way of action or exception: decree of reduction to be equally effectual in either case. (11.) Trustee in a sequestration may set aside any deed or alienation for behoof of the whole creditors, and is entitled to all the presumptions competent to any creditor. (12.) Arrestments and poindings used within sixty days before or four months after notour bankruptcy to be ranked pari passu. If the arrestments be on the dependence of an action or for an illiquid debt, the proceedings to be completed as fast as possible. Any creditor, within the period here fixed, who produces a liquid ground of debt, to be entitled to rank as if he had executed an arrestment or poinding. Any creditor obtaining payment during this period to be liable to account to others entitled to rank pari passu, after deduction of expense of recovering fund. Arrestments used subsequently to the expiry of the four months not to compete with those used before, but may rank according to law on any reversion. (13.) Sequestration may be granted in the following cases: 1st, As to persons living, subject to the jurisdiction of Scotch courts, either on their own petition, with concurrence of creditors, or on the petition of a creditor alone, if the debtor be notour bankrupt, and have lived or had a place of business in Scotland within a year before presenting the petition; or if a company being notour bankrupt have within the year had a place of business in Scotland, or carried on business in Scotland with a resident partner; 2d, As to estates of parties deceased, who at their death were subject to the jurisdiction of Scotch courts, either on the petition of a mandatory empowered to ask for it by the deceased, or on the petition of qualified creditors. (14.) Petitions for sequestration to be at the instance of or with the concurrence of one creditor of not less than £50, or two creditors for not less than £70, or three or more for not less than £100: the debts may be either liquid or illiquid, provided they are not contingent. (15.) Petitions for sequestration without the concurrence of existing debtors, incompetent after four months from the date of notour bankruptcy; petitions for sequestration of estates of deceased debtors by creditors may be presented at any time; sequestration not to be awarded till six months after death, except deceased was notour bankrupt, or his representatives concur in the petition and renounce the succession. In all other cases, petition for sequestration to be competent at any time. (16.) When petition for sequestration is presented, the Court may, with or without a special application, take immediate measures for the preservation of the estate, by appointing a judicial factor for that purpose, with the requisite powers, who is to find caution. If such officer be appointed by the sheriff, the appointment may be recalled by the Court of Session on appeal. (17.) Sheriff empowered after sequestration and before election of trustee, with or without any application for the purpose, to seal up books and papers of bankrupt, and to lock up his shop and repositories, and keep the keys till trustee's election is confirmed. (18.) Sequestration may be awarded either by Court of Session or the sheriff of any county within which the debtor has resided or carried on business for the year preceding; after sequestration has once been awarded, no court can sequester again till the first is discharged. (19.) Where sequestrations have been awarded by two or more sheriffs, the later in date to be remitted to the first; certificate of sheriff-clerk to be evidence of date. Where all the sequestrations are the same date, any one may be appealed to either division of the Court or Lord Ordinary, who shall remit to such sheriff court as they may deem expedient; they are to do the same thing where sequestration is originally awarded in the Court of Session, or both by Court of Session and one or more sheriff courts. Notice of remit to be inserted in Gazette within four days. Where sheriff has refused to sequester, it is still competent to petition the Court of Session. (20.) Each sheriff awarding sequestration may take measures for preservation of the estate, no other orders or proceedings to be effectual after the date of appeal or of sequestration by the Court of Session. (21.) Petitions for sequestration in Court of Session to be made to the Lord Ordinary, and signed by the petitioner or his counsel or agent, the division of the Court to be marked; in sheriff court, to be signed by the petitioner or his agent. Where in either court petition is at instance of the debtor but not signed by him, a mandate of authority must be produced therewith; creditors, petitioning or concurring, to produce an oath and account and vouchers of debt. If these productions not made, petition to be dismissed: (22.) Oath to be taken before a judge ordinary, magistrate, or justice to the verity of the debt, what parties other than the bankrupt if any are bound, and the extent of the securities held for it. (23.) Where creditor is out of the United Kingdom, oath to be taken before a person qualified to administer oaths, who must be certified to be such by a British minister or consul, or by a notary public. Creditor's known agent or mandatory in the United Kingdom may make oath of credulity for him. (24.) In the case of a deceased debtor, petitioning creditor to state in oath where debtor resided or carried on business in Scotland at the time of his death, and whether he was then owner of estates in Scotland; where petition is presented during debtor's life without his consent, petitioner, if notour bankruptcy be founded on debtor having retired to the sanctuary, must swear that he believes the debtor to have so retired. (25.) Where creditor is a corporation, oath of verity to be made by any of the principal officers; where creditor is a company, oath to be emitted by a partner; where creditor is minor or incapable of swearing, oath to be emitted by authorized guardian or agent. (26.) Where sequestration is asked without the consent of the debtor or his successors, the Court is to grant warrant to cite the debtor or his successors to show cause, within a specified time, why sequestration should not be awarded: diligence may be granted to recover evidence of notour bankruptcy or other necessary facts. (27.) Where the debtor is a company, copy of the petition and warrant, left at the place of business, if a partner, clerk, or servant be there, is sufficient citation; or failing that, citation may be made at the dwelling-house of any of the acting partners, or failing that, by leaving a copy at the office of edictal citations. Sequestration may be awarded of the estates of company and partners jointly, or of their respective estates separately. (28.) The inducias of citation, when made personally or at the domicile, to be not less than six or more than fourteen days; when edictally, twenty-one days. The court to direct intimation of the warrant and of the diet of appearance in the Gazette. (29.)

Where sequestration is applied for by debtor or his successor, or where the succession is renounced, court to issue a deliverance sequestrating and declaring estates to belong to creditors, and if debtor be dead, ordering any successor who has made up title, or is in possession of property, to convey to the trustee. (30.) Where petition is not by or with concurrence of debtor or his successor, and where no appearance is made at the diet fixed, or if the party appearing do not pay or produce evidence of payment of the debt in respect of which bankruptcy was incurred, and pay the debts due to the petitioner and any other concurring creditor, court shall sequester. Not to be competent for any creditor, after the first deliverance, to be confirmed executor creditor, or to adjudge the estate of a deceased debtor. (31.) Deliverance awarding sequestration not to be subject to review; any debtor or his successor whose estates have been sequestrated without their consent, and any creditor, may petition the Lord Ordinary within forty days for recall. Where the estate of a deceased party has been sequestrated upon the edictal citation of his successor, application for recall may be made by any one interested up to the advertising payment of the first dividend. Petitions for recall to be served on the parties who applied for sequestration or their agents, and on the trustee. Answers to be given in and notice of the petition to be published in the Gazette. Lord Ordinary to give judgment. If sequestration recalled, the recall to be entered in the register of sequestrations and register of inhibitions. (32.) After expiry of the periods specified above no petition for recall is competent, except that nine-tenths in number and value of the creditors ranked may at any time petition the Lord Ordinary for recall, who is to order all concerned to appear within fourteen days after publication of his order in the Gazette, to show cause why sequestration should not be recalled: on expiry of that time judgment to be pronounced. (33.) Sequestration to go on until finally recalled. (34.) Any creditor may be sisted in the place of a creditor who is a petitioner, or an objector to a petition, for sequestration or recall. If debtor die after petition for sequestration is presented, the proceedings to go on as far as circumstances permit. (35.) At the meeting for election of trustee, or at any subsequent meeting called for the purpose, a majority in number and four-fifths in value of creditors present may resolve that estate be wound up under a deed of arrangement, and that the Lord Ordinary or sheriff be asked to sist procedure for a period not exceeding two months. On this resolution being carried, not necessary to elect a trustee. (36.) Bankrupt or party appointed by meeting to report resolution within four days to Lord Ordinary or sheriff, and apply for sist of sequestration. Court to hear parties interested, and if reasonable to grant sist. (37.) If not granted the court on application of any creditor may arrange the interim management of the estate. (38.) During sist creditors may produce a deed of arrangement subscribed by four-fifths in number and value. The Lord Ordinary or sheriff to order intimation, hear parties, and make inquiry: if satisfied, to approve of it, and declare sequestration at an end. Deed to be binding on all the creditors. Sequestration to subsist to the effect of setting aside preferences. (39.) If resolution not duly reported, or sist refused, or deed of arrangement not approved of, sequestration to proceed, and the period of time that has elapsed subsequent to the resolution not to be reckoned in calculating the periods of time prescribed in act. The Lord Ordinary and sheriff to make orders necessary for resuming procedure in the sequestration. (40.) If sequestration be declared at an end, the judgment to be recorded as in a case of recall. (41.) The petitioning or concurring creditor to be paid his taxed expenses out of the first funds that come into the hands of the trustee. (42.) Sequestration to be held to commence from the date of the first deliverance, though that should not be an award of sequestration. (43.) In Court of Session the Bill Chamber clerks, and in Sheriff Courts the sheriff clerks, to be clerks to sequestrations. Sequestrations not to fall asleep, nor be dismissed under the 15th section of 16 and 17 Vict. c. 80. When a sequestration is remitted from the Court of Session, a certified copy of the petition, first deliverance, and deliverance awarding sequestration, to be sent to the sheriff clerk. Officers of the sheriff Court to have power to act in sequestrations. (44.) Court may on awarding sequestration grant or refuse warrant of protection to debtor until the meeting of creditors for election of trustee. Warrant not to be effectual unless advertised within a week in the London and Edinburgh Gazettes. Though the court may have refused to grant warrant of protection the creditors may do so at the meeting for election of trustee, or any subsequent meeting. Sheriff to grant the protection on application by trustee. (45.) The court awarding sequestration may upon application, either in the petition for sequestration, or by separate petition, liberate the debtor from prison, after intimation to incarcerating creditor and hearing parties. If the application for liberation be refused the debtor may, with consent of his trustee and commissioners, make a new application, and the court may, after intimation and hearing objections, liberate or not, conditionally or unconditionally. (46.) Allows an appeal against sheriff's judgment in regard to liberation during session to either division, during vacation to Lord Ordinary. Appeal to be heard summarily, and the judgment pronounced therein to be final. (47.) A certified copy of warrant of protection or liberation to be effectual in the Queen's dominions as regards imprisonment for civil debt contracted previous to date of sequestration, not to avail in case of warrants of apprehension in meditatione fugæ, ad factum præstandum, or for crimes. (48.) Party applying for sequestration to present, before expiry of the second day after the date of the first deliverance by the Lord Ordinary, or send by post when petition presented to sheriff within the same period, an abbreviate in form of schedule A, No. 1, to Register of Inhibitions at Edinburgh. Keeper of register to record and write certificate as in schedule A, No. 2, and at request of party, on payment of fees, to return abbreviate. Abbreviate to have the effect, from the date of the deliverance, of an inhibition and of a citation in an adjudication at the instance of the creditors afterwards ranked. Paying the debts on which the sequestration was awarded not to affect force of abbreviate. Abbreviate to have no effect unless recorded. If sequestration be awarded by Court of Session party applying for it shall within four days, or if by sheriff within four days after a copy of the first deliverance could be received in course of post in Edinburgh, insert a notice in terms of schedule B in the Gazette, and one notice in the same terms within six days in the London Gazette. (49.) Creditors claiming to vote or draw dividends must produce at the meeting, or to the trustee, oaths the same as in the case of petitioning for sequestration, and the accounts and vouchers necessary to prove their debts. (50.) Where the accounts and vouchers are not in the possession of the creditor within the period when they require to be lodged, he is to state in his oath where they are and the cause of non-production, and in that case a dividend is to be set apart until production be made or debt otherwise legally established, up to which time creditor not to be allowed to act or vote. Trustee, on production of oath and grounds of debt, to mark them with his initials, and enter them in sederunt book, with date of production. Grounds of debt to be returned to creditor if required. (51.) Where oath or claim is defective the sheriff or trustee may require it to be rectified. If not rectified accordingly, to be rejected. Where the defect appears to have been caused by fraud, or where other creditors can qualify injury in respect thereof, the sheriff or trustee not to be bound to allow rectification. (52.) Creditors to vote and rank for principal and interest up to date of sequestration only. If debt not payable till after date of sequestration, interest to be deducted from that date. Debts to be subject to the deduction of discounts beyond legal interest, according to usage of trade. Creditor not bound to specify separately the debt and interest. If there be any residue after discharging the debts ranked, creditors to be entitled to full legal interest on their debts. (53.) Where a claim depends on a contingency, creditor to apply to the sheriff, or the trustee after his election, to put a value on the debt, and creditor to vote and draw dividends on such value. Where contingency has occurred before the debt has been valued, creditor may vote and draw dividends in respect of amount of debt, but former dividends not to be disturbed. When application is made to sheriff or trustee, notice to be given to the bankrupt and petitioning creditor. The judgment of sheriff or trustee to be subject to appeal; any creditor claiming entitled to appeal, or to appear and be heard on any appeal. (54.) Where bankrupt has granted annuity the creditor to apply to the sheriff, or trustee if elected, to put a value on it. Sheriff or trustee in valuing annuity to have regard to the original price paid for it, and its diminution in value in regard to the lapse of subsequent time up to date of sequestration: notice to be given, and right of appeal, as in the case above of contingent debts. (55.) Where there is a cautioner for payment of annuity, creditor after date of sequestration can only sue him for the value and arrears: cautioner paying value and arrears to be discharged, and may claim in sequestration for sum so paid. If cautioner do not pay the sum so fixed as value before a subsequent termly payment becomes due, he must pay the annuity and all subsequent annuities until payment of the value, under deduction of any dividends the creditor may have received. (56.) Where there is an obligant besides the bankrupt bound for a debt, he is not freed by the creditor voting or drawing dividends for the debt, or assenting to the bankrupt's discharge. Obligant may obtain from creditor an assignation to the debt on payment, and may claim and vote on sequestration in respect thereof. (57.) No creditor, by merely lodging a claim, or voting, or drawing dividend, to be liable for the expenses or outlay of any agent employed by the trustee; the agent's right to payment out of the estate, and from the trustee, reserved. Trustee who pays agent not to have any right of relief against ordinary creditors. (58.) Oaths of verity or credulity not to supersede legal evidence if required by court or trustee. (59.) Where creditor holds a security over any part of the bankrupt's estate, he must deduct its value from his debt, and is entitled to vote only in respect of the balance, except in questions as to the disposal and management of the estate subject to the security, when he is entitled to vote on the full amount of his debt. (60.) Where creditor has any security for his debt from a co-obligant with the bankrupt, he must value it, and can only vote in respect of the balance. (61.) A creditor on the estate of a company in voting need not deduct from his claim the value he may be entitled to draw from the partners' estate:

If he claim on the estate of a partner, he must deduct the value of his claim against the company and against the other partners, and can only vote for the balance. (62.) The trustee, with consent of the commissioners, may require from the creditor a conveyance of any security or obligation on paying 20 per cent. additional to the creditor's own valuation within two months after creditor has used his claim at a meeting; or a majority of the creditors, excluding the creditor making the claim, may require such assignation at any meeting. A creditor may at any time before he has been required to assign, correct his valuation by a new oath, and deduct the new value from his debt. (63.) Creditors may vote by mandatories, provided they exhibit their mandate. (64.) The bankrupt's wife or her trustee, and all persons acquiring debts after the sequestration otherwise than by succession or marriage, not to be entitled to vote in the election of trustee and commissioners, but entitled to rank in all other respects as a creditor. (65.) To entitle a creditor having a security over the bankrupt's estate to rank for a dividend, he must value the security on oath, and specify the balance. The trustee, with consent of the commissioners, may, on payment of the value, demand an assignation of the security over the estate, or reserve to the creditor the benefit of the security. The creditor to rank and draw dividend for the balance. (66.) The valuation put on the claim of a creditor on a company's estate to be deducted from his claim on the separate estate of the partner, and creditor to rank and draw dividend out of partner's estate only for the balance. (67.) In the deliverance awarding sequestration a meeting of creditors is to be appointed at a specified hour and day, not earlier than six or later than twelve days after the date of the Gazette notice, at a convenient place in the county, for electing a trustee and other acts. (68.) Creditors or mandatories to meet at time and place fixed, with power to adjourn to the twelfth day after the date of the Gazette notice. Sheriff to attend on the requisition of two or more creditors. Sheriff-clerk or his depute to attend to mark the oaths and productions, write the minutes, and enter the names and designations of the creditors, the amount of their claims, and any other circumstances the presiding sheriff may think fit. Sheriff to sign minutes. The clerk to retain the oaths of creditors subject to exhibition till the election be determined, then to deliver them to the trustee. When sheriff and sheriff-clerk not present creditors to elect a preses and a clerk to discharge the duties previously assigned to sheriff and sheriff-clerk. The creditors are to elect a trustee, or two or more trustees, to act in succession in event of the failure of the first party. In the case of the sequestration of the estates of a company and of the partners, there may be either one trustee or separate trustees. Unlawful to elect as trustee either the bankrupt or any conjunct and confident person, or any one having an interest opposed to the general creditors, or any one residing out of the jurisdiction of the Court of Session. (69.) When the sheriff is present, if there be no competition nor objection to the party chosen, he shall by a deliverance on the minutes declare the party chosen trustee. Where there is competition or objections to the votes or candidates, sheriff may either decide or make avizandum. He may make a short note of the objections and answers, on which he shall within four days hear parties and decide, stating the grounds of his decision in a note, which is to form part of the process. (70.) Where sheriff is not present the preses of the meeting is to report the proceedings to him; the oaths of the claimants to be put into the hands of the sheriff-clerk. Where there is no objection or competition, sheriff to declare the party chosen trustee; where there is, the parties within four days of the meeting must lodge with clerk notes of objections. The sheriff is to hear parties forthwith, and decide, stating the reasons in a note; these notes to form part of process. (71.) Sheriff's judgment declaring who is to be trustee to be given with the least possible delay, and not to be subject to review. (72.) Creditors to fix the sum for which the trustee is to find caution, and to decide on the sufficiency of the caution offered. Trustee to lodge with sheriff-clerk a bond of caution in the form of schedule C. Bond to be furnished by sheriff-clerk. Creditors may accept the bond of a guarantee society. (73.) After bond of caution has been lodged sheriff to confirm the election of trustee. The confirmation not to be subject to review. Sheriff-clerk to issue an act and warrant as per schedule D. The trustee is to send a copy of this to the accountant, who is to enter trustee's name and designation in the register of sequestrations. This act and warrant to be the trustee's title; a certified copy of it to be prima facie evidence in any court in the Queen's dominions, and to entitle trustee to recover property and maintain actions in the same way as the bankrupt could have done himself. (74.) Trustee may be removed at any time by a majority in number and value of the creditors at a meeting called for that purpose. One-fourth of the creditors in value may petition Lord Ordinary for removal of trustee: petition to be served on trustee, and intimated in Gazette: Lord Ordinary may remove trustee, and appoint a meeting for election of a new one. If trustee dies, resigns, is removed, or remains at one time three months furth of Scotland, any commissioner or creditor may ask sheriff to order a meeting for electing a new trustee. Sheriff is to appoint said meeting, which is to be intimated in the Gazette by the party applying. The new trustee to be elected, find caution, and be confirmed as in the case of a first election; to be vested with the same powers as the former, and to call him or his representatives to account. (75.) After the election of a trustee, and at the same meeting, the creditors are to elect three commissioners, if there be as many creditors claiming, in the same way as they elected a trustee, except that they are not required to find security. Sheriff to declare their election by a deliverance in the sederunt book, which decision is final; a majority to be a quorum. The disqualifications for the office of commissioner the same as for that of trustee. Where a mandatory of a creditor has been appointed commissioner, he loses office on recall of the mandate being intimated to the trustee. Whenever a commissioner declines to act, or becomes incapacitated, trustee to call a meeting to elect another. The election to proceed in the same way as at first. (76.) Commissioners may be removed by a majority of the creditors at any meeting called for that purpose. (77.) A majority in number and value of the creditors may renew bankrupt's personal protection for such period as they choose, either at the meeting held for election of a trustee, or after the examination of the bankrupt, or at any meeting called for the purpose. The trustee is to apply to the sheriff, an extract of whose deliverance is to have the same effect as the original protection. (78.) An allowance not exceeding £3, 8s. per week to each individual bankrupt, from the date of sequestration to the period of the second dividend, may be made by four-fifths in value of the creditors at the meeting for election of trustee, or that held after bankrupt's examination, or at any other meeting called for the purpose. No allowance to be given if bankrupt has not complied with the provisions of this act. If a majority of creditors present at any regular meeting think that it is for the interest of the estate, to make a further special allowance, and if the accountant in bankruptcy report favourably, the Lord Ordinary or the Court may award such allowance on application by the trustee. (79.) Every trustee, within twenty-one days after his election has been confirmed, to record an abbreviate in the form in schedule E, No. 1, in the register of abbreviates of adjudications, and subscribe certificate thereon. (80.) Trustee to take possession of bankrupt's estate and of his books and documents, and to make up an inventory and a valuation. Copies of inventory and valuation to be sent to the accountant. (81.) Bankrupt to make up, to give to the clerk of the meeting for election of trustee, a state of his affairs, specifying his whole property, and the names and designations of his creditors and debtors, and the debts due by and to him, with a rental of his heritable property. This is to be signed by bankrupt, and engrossed in the sederunt book by the trustee. Bankrupt to assist trustee and give information. If bankrupt fail to do so, or to grant the deeds requisite for recovery of the estate, the trustee to apply to sheriff to compel him to do so under penalty of imprisonment and forfeiture of the benefit of this act. (82.) The trustee is to realize the bankrupt estate as directed by the creditors, or failing that with the advice of the commissioners, and to lodge the monies received in the bank chosen by a majority in number and value of the creditors, or, if no bank be chosen, in any Scotch joint stock bank of issue, provided the trustee be not the acting partner, manager, or cashier thereof. The money to be lodged in the trustee's name at the highest rate of interest. The bank must make yearly balances and accumulate principal and interest: if it do not, it is to be liable to account on that principle. (83.) If trustee keep in his own hands a sum exceeding £50 for more than ten days, he is to pay the creditors interest on the excess beyond for the time above ten days at the rate of 20 per cent. per annum, and unless the money has been kept innocently trustee to be dismissed on petition by any creditor, to have no claim for remuneration, and to be liable in expenses. (84.) Trustee to keep a sederunt book, and record minutes, &c., and also regular accounts of the affairs; certified progressive states to be sent to accountant in bankruptcy before the periods fixed for each dividend. The sederunt books and accounts to be patent to the commissioner, creditors, and their agents. Trustee not bound to exhibit any confidential document to any other person than the commissioners, nor to insert it in the sederunt book. (85.) The commissioners are to superintend, to concur with trustee in submissions and transactions, to advise and assist in the management, to decide as to paying or postponing dividend. They may assemble at any time to ascertain the situation of the bankrupt estate, and any of them may report what he pleases to a general meeting. (86.) The judicial factor, trustee, and commissioners to be liable to account to the Lord Ordinary and sheriff, at the instance of any party interested, by petition served on them. If the petition be improper the party complained on to get full expenses, either retained out of the funds, or recovered from the complainer, as the court may order. (87.) The sheriff, on the application of the trustee, which must be made within eight days of his confirmation, is to issue a warrant for the bankrupt's examination in the sheriff court-house, on a day and hour not sooner than seven nor later than fourteen days after the date of the warrant. Trustee to advertise in Gazette and send by post or otherwise a special notice to every creditor who has lodged a claim, or who is named in the bankrupt's state of affairs, inti-imating his, the trustee's, name and designation, his election as trustee, and the time and place of examination, and also a specified day, not sooner than seven nor later than fourteen days after the day appointed for bankrupt's examination. In the case of a deceased debtor trustee to call a meeting of creditors by public advertisement and notice to each creditor, to be held within fourteen days, and also the hour and place for holding a second meeting, and intimate in the notice the period for lodging claims. (88.) The sheriff may grant warrant to apprehend the bankrupt, and bring him up for examination. If bankrupt be imprisoned for debt in Scotland, the sheriff may authorize his being brought up for this purpose, and again sent to prison; he may also bring him from the sanctuary, protecting him during the time from arrest for debt. If the bankrupt be prevented by lawful cause from attending, or be in jail on a criminal charge, or be abroad, the sheriff may grant commission to take the examination, and the examination of the bankrupt may be adjourned, and he may be examined on application by trustee as often as the sheriff may see fit. (89.) If bankrupt be in England or Ireland the Lord Ordinary may, on petition by trustee, grant warrant to all magistrates and officers of the law to apprehend and transmit him to the place of examination. If the bankrupt be in prison he may authorize his being brought up for examination, and sent back afterwards into custody. (90.) Sheriff, on application by trustee, may order examination of bankrupt's wife and family, clerks, law agents, or others, on oath. If such parties neglect to appear after summons, a warrant to be issued for their apprehension. If the person who fails to appear is not the bankrupt, nor his wife, child, clerk, or servant, the warrant for apprehension is not to be issued till eight days after service of the first warrant, unless trustee on oath state a reasonable cause of belief that such person intends leaving the country to avoid examination, in which case warrant may be granted forthwith. Where party cannot attend, sheriff may grant commission. The examination may be adjourned to an early day then to be fixed. All persons summoned other than the bankrupt to be paid as witnesses. Allowance to be fixed by sheriff in case of dispute. (91.) The bankrupt and other parties summoned are to answer all lawful questions relating to the bankrupt's affairs, and may be ordered to produce books and documents in their custody, and cause the same or copies thereof to be given to the trustee. (92.) Examinations to be taken on oath before the sheriff or commissioner. The bankrupt's examination to be written and authenticated as a regular deposition. Notes of the evidence of other persons to be written by the sheriff like proofs in civil cases, except where judge thinks it proper to record and authenticate it as a regular deposition. If the trustee chooses, the examination of the bankrupt and other persons is to take place in open court. (93.) Where party examined refuses to swear, or to answer questions, or produce documents, or sign his examination, the sheriff may commit him to prison until he comply. Warrant to specify cause of commitment, and not to be subject to review by Court of Session. Party imprisoned may petition the Lord Ordinary for recall of the warrant, and the Lord Ordinary, after hearing parties viva voce, is to decide. (94.) Any latent partner not intimating the fact to the trustee before the examination of the bankrupt, to forfeit the benefit of this act, unless he can satisfy the court that the omission arose from mistake, ignorance, or reasonable misconception of his liability as partner, and unless he take steps to remedy the loss and inconvenience occasioned. (95.) The bankrupt, before the close of his examination, may correct the state of his affairs, which state so corrected is to be subscribed by the sheriff and bankrupt. This section then prescribes the oath, which is to be engrossed in the sederunt book and signed by the bankrupt. (96.) Trustee to report the state of affairs to the meeting of creditors held after bankrupt's examination, or in the case of a deceased party to the first meeting after his election. The creditors at these meetings may receive an offer of composition, and may give directions for the management of the estate. Where the estate consists of heritable property, creditors may either sell it judicially or by voluntary public or private sale. (97.) If a majority of the creditors in number and value at any meeting after bankrupt's examination think that he has not made a fair surrender, or that his bankruptcy is fraudulent, they may authorize proceedings against him at the expense of the estate. (98.) The trustee, or any commissioner with notice to the trustee, may at any time call a meeting of creditors, and one-fourth in value of the creditors ranked may require trustee to call a meeting. (99.) Notice of the day, hour, place, and purpose of meeting, to be advertised in Gazette seven days before the day of meeting, and meeting may be adjourned to next day. (100.) Not necessary to notify meetings by post to creditors below £20, except on a written request by such creditor. No notification to be made to any creditor who has directed that none shall be sent. (101.) Except where otherwise regulated, questions at meetings to be determined by a majority in value of the voters present. Where creditors are required to be counted in number, no one under £20 to be counted, but his debt to be computed in value. (102.) The trustee's confirmation vests in him the bankrupt estate from the date of sequestration to the following effects: 1. The movable estate as if actual delivery had been obtained or intimation made at that date, subject to valid preferable securities then existing: 2. The heritable estate in Scotland as if decree of adjudication in implement of sale, as well as decree of adjudication for debt subject to no legal reversion, had been pronounced in favour of the trustee, and recorded at the date of the sequestration, and as if a poinding of the ground had been then executed, subject to existing valid preferable securities, and the creditors' right to poind the ground. A prior inhibition not to affect the trustee's right, but only to receive effect in the ranking of the creditors. This transfer not to affect the rights of the superior, nor a question of succession between a creditor's heir and executor, nor the rights of the ancestor's creditors, except that trustee's confirmation is to operate in their favour as complete diligence. If bankrupt's estate be held under a limited title, the trustee's right to be limited to the extent of the interest which the bankrupt can legally convey or creditors legally attach: 3. Vests in him all real estate in the Queen's dominions, provided, as regards freehold, copyhold, and leasehold estates out of Scotland, the confirmation be registered in the chief court of bankruptcy where the property is situate, as an adjudication of bankruptcy is there recorded, and no onerous purchaser of such property to be affected by the bankruptcy until the confirmation be so registered. Where by the law of that portion of the Queen's dominions, any conveyance is required to be enrolled or recorded, the confirmation is to be enrolled or recorded, and any person purchasing onerously and in ignorance of the sequestration prior to such enrolment or recording not to be affected by it. (103.) Any estate acquired by bankrupt during sequestration and before his discharge, vests in the trustee. The Lord Ordinary upon his petition, and no cause shown to the contrary, to declare such vesting. The proceeds of the estate to be divided in terms of this act, reserving the rights of the creditors of the person from whom the estate has come. Bankrupt to forfeit the benefit of this act if he do not immediately notify such acquisition to trustee. (104.) Persons claiming estates included in a sequestration to petition Lord Ordinary to have them withdrawn: Lord Ordinary to decide upon petition and answers by trustee. (105.) Trustee may make up feudal titles to heritable estate, either in his own name for behoof of creditors, or in name of the bankrupt, or he may without making up title, and without bankrupt's consent, grant conveyances, with such procuratories and precepts as the bankrupt might have granted; such conveyances to be effectual and not affected by any inhibition against the bankrupt. Superior to enter trustee, or purchaser from him. (106.) Where the estate of a party deceased is sequestrated, and his heir has made up titles, trustee may petition Lord Ordinary to have the estate transferred to him. Petition to be served on heir, and answered within fourteen days, and an abbreviate of it as in schedule A, No. 3, to be recorded and operate as an inhibition. If no cause be shown to the contrary the Lord Ordinary to declare the estate transferred, and vested as at the date of sequestration: an abbreviate of the decree to be recorded within eight days in register of abbreviates of adjudication, and certified by the keeper thereof. (107.) Sequestration to have the effect of a decree of adjudication of bankrupt's heritable estate as at its date for the whole debts, principal and interest, and if brought within a year and day of an effectual adjudication the estate is to be disposed of under the sequestration. Rights of heritable creditors with preferable powers of sale reserved. (108.) Sequestration to have the effect as at its date of arrestment in execution and decree of forthcoming thereon, and to a completed poinding. No arrestment or poinding to be effectual within sixty days of sequestration, and all funds or effects recovered by any such diligence to be restored to the trustee, less the expenses bona fide incurred. (109.) Lodging a claim in a sequestration, or concurring in the petition, interrupts prescription of creditor's debt in Scotland, and bars effect of the statute of limitations in England and Ireland, and this though sequestration be afterwards recalled. (110.) Where the estate of a deceased is sequestrated within seven months after death, any preferential security acquired by diligence within sixty days before death or after his death, and any security for a prior debt granted by debtor within sixty days of his death, and any confirmation as executor creditor, to have no effect in competition with trustee. Creditor who is deprived of any such preference to be entitled to payment of the expenses bona fide incurred by him. (111.) All acts of bankrupt between the date of sequestration and discharge, and payments or preferences to prior creditors, to be null and void, and trustee entitled to such payment or preference, deducting bona fide expense. Bona fide purchasers who have got possession of movables received from the bankrupt in ignorance of sequestration, not bound to restore the goods. Debtors who have paid bankrupt bona fide in ignorance of sequestration, not bound to pay a second time. Any party having a bill payable by bankrupt with other parties liable, and receiving payment from bankrupt in ignorance of the sequestration, not bound to repay to trustee, unless trustee replace him in the situation he was in before without loss. (112.) A preferable heritable creditor with power of sale, may sell, notwithstanding sequestration, and trustee may concur in sale, and call on creditor and purchaser to account for reversion of price. (113.) If heritable creditor, with power of sale, concur with trustee, trustee to sell in his own name, and convey, with consent of creditor and commissioners. Purchaser to pay price to parties legally entitled, and in so far as not paid to consign it in bank. Such payment or consignment to discharge the estate from the security of the consenting creditor and all postponed securities. (114.) If the creditors have resolved that the trustee is to sell the heritable property judicially or by public sale, and any creditor with a power of sale unduly delays proceeding, he shall not be entitled to interfere with the trustee's sale. A public sale is to be by auction, at the upset price, and in the manner fixed by trustee, with consent of commissioners. Estate not to be sold for less than upset price, which must be sufficient to pay heritable creditor's debt, interest and expenses. (115.) The trustee may sell the heritable estate by private bargain, with consent, 1. of a majority of the creditors in number and value; 2. of the heritable creditors; 3. of the accountant. (116.) Trustee to make up a scheme of ranking and division in regard to the price of the heritable estate sold, and report it either to Lord Ordinary or Court of Session. The judgment of court to be a warrant for payment out of price against the purchaser of the estate. (117.) Court may, on application by trustee or interested party, and a report by accountant, grant interim warrant for paying preferable claims, or authorize interim scheme of division. (118.) No poiding of the ground nor decree of mails and duties not completed sixty days before bankruptcy to be available against the trustee, excepting for the interest of the heritable creditor's debt for the current half-year, or for arrears of interest for the preceding year. (119.) Act not to affect landlord's hypothec. (120.) At a public sale under this act any creditor may purchase, except the trustee, a commissioner, or an adjudger. (121.) The estate when realized, after deduction of necessary charges and trustee's commission, to be divided among the creditors ranked. (122.) The wages of workmen, clerks, shopmen, &c. if below £60 a-year, to be privileged like the wages of domestic servants to the extent of one month's wages before sequestration, or before concurrence of diligence causing notour bankruptcy.

(123.) Creditor must produce his oath and grounds of debt two months before time fixed for payment of first dividend, or if time of payment be accelerated, one month, in order to enable him to rank, and one month prior to time fixed for payment of subsequent dividends. A creditor who has not come in in time for the first dividend, is entitled, on occasion of payment of the second, if there shall be money enough, to a preference for an equalizing dividend corresponding to what he would have drawn had he ranked at first. The same rule to apply to all subsequent dividends. (124.) Creditors resident abroad at the date of sequestration, or within five months after, may lodge their claims within fourteen days of time for paying dividend. Trustee to set apart from the divisible fund as much as would have been their share had the claim been timeously made and sustained. This sum so deducted to form part of fund divisible for next dividend. (125.) Trustee to make up a state of affairs on expiry of four months after date of actual award of sequestration. Commissioners to examine the state within fourteen days after expiry of the four months, and ascertain if trustee has lodged the monies recovered in bank, if not to debit him with £20 per cent. for the sum not so lodged if not less than £50; to audit the accounts, fix and pay the amount of commission, and certify the balance, declaring with a reasonable regard to contingencies the amount of net produce to be divided among the creditors. (126.) Trustee within the said fourteen days is to examine the creditors' claims, and admit or reject them in writing. He may require further evidence, and examine any parties on oath in reference thereto, and if claim be rejected the reasons must be stated. Trustee then to make out a list of creditors entitled to payment of dividend, specifying the amounts of their debts, principal and interest, and whether ordinary, preferable, or contingent: he is also to make out list of claims rejected. (127.) After expiry of the fourteen days trustee to intimate in next Gazette the time and place of payment of dividend, and on or before next lawful day after the said fourteen to intimate the same to every creditor by post, with the amount of his claim and the proposed dividend thereon. Where a claim has been rejected notice to be sent, with a copy of the deliverance. The trustee's certificate, or an execution by a sheriff's officer or messenger, to be evidence of posting. Any creditor may appeal against trustee's decision by a short note to the sheriff or Lord Ordinary. If no such note has been lodged with clerk within fifteen days after the publication in the Gazette, trustee's decision to be final as to that dividend. Where a claim is rejected it may be renewed in reference to future dividends, but cannot affect those paid. (128.) Trustee before expiry of six months from date of actual award of sequestration to make up a scheme of division, apportioning divisible fund among the creditors whose claims have been sustained, and those who have appealed if any. Notice to be sent to each creditor of the sum he is entitled to. (129.) Dividend to be paid on the first lawful day after expiry of the six months. Sums effeiring to claims under appeal and contingent creditors to be placed in the bank appointed by the creditors, or failing that in any joint stock bank of issue in a separate account. (130.) Trustee on expiry of eight months to make up a similar state to be laid before the commissioners within fourteen days, who are to act in the same manner as before, and to direct payment of second dividend if there be funds. Lists of creditors, intimation, and payment to take place in the same way as in regard to first dividend. Appeals by creditors must be lodged within fifteen days of Gazette publication. (131.) Second dividend to be paid on first lawful day after expiry of ten months, in the same way as the first. (132.) Subsequent dividends to be regulated in the same way, each dividend to be paid on the first day after expiry of three months from payment of the preceding. (133.) After payment of second dividend a majority of the creditors at any meeting called for the purpose may accelerate payment of future dividends so as to wind up affairs. Before period of payment of first dividend three-fourths of the creditors in number and value may at the meeting after bankrupt's examination, or at any other meeting called for that purpose, direct trustee to get authority from sheriff or Lord Ordinary to pay ~~first~~ dividend at an earlier date, not less than four months after actual award of sequestration, and to accelerate the second and other dividends. Court may make requisite provisions for acceleration accordingly. (134.) Commissioners may postpone a dividend till the recurrence of the next stated period: trustee to intimate postponement in next Gazette. (135.) Where estate consists chiefly in land, and in other necessary cases, the Court of Session, Lord Ordinary, or sheriff may, on the application of the trustee and commissioners, alter the period for payment of dividends. (136.) Twelve months after actual award of sequestration, if the trustee and commissioner think it expedient to sell the remaining estate, outstanding debts, and dividends, they are to call a meeting of creditors to consider it. Trustee to advertise meeting in Gazette, and fourteen days before to post to every creditor a notice of the time and place, and a valuation of the estate, outstanding debts, and consigned dividends. If three-fourths in value of the creditors at the meeting decide in favour of a sale either in whole or in lots, trustee to sell by auction accordingly: notice of sale to be given one month previous in the Gazette, and advertised in such newspapers as the creditors may appoint. (137.) An offer of composition, accompanied with security for payment, may be made at the meeting for election of a trustee. If a majority in number and nine-tenths in value agree to entertain the offer, trustee to notify in Gazette that it will be decided upon at the meeting after the examination of the bankrupt, and to post to each creditor a notice of the time and place of that meeting, the offer and security proposed, and an abstract of the state of affairs. (138.) If the offer be accepted at next meeting by a majority in number and nine-tenths in value, a bond of caution to be given to trustee, who shall transmit a report of the resolution of the meeting and the bond either to the bill-chamber or sheriff-clerk to be approved of by the court. Lord Ordinary or sheriff to hear parties, and if they refuse to approve, to state the reason why. (139.) In like manner, at the meeting held after bankrupt's examination, or at any meeting called for the purpose, the bankrupt or his friends, or in the case of a company one or more of the partners, may offer a composition on caution. If a majorrity in number and four-fifths in value of creditors present entertain the offer, the trustee is to call another meeting not less than twenty-one days thereafter, and seven days before meeting to post notices to each creditor the same as above ordered, and if at the meeting so called a majority in number and four-fifths in value accept the offer the bond of caution is to be lodged, and the same steps taken as above ordered. (140.) After approval of composition the bankrupt, or if deceased his successor, or other party offering the composition, to make a declaration, or if required by any creditor or the trustee, to make oath before the judge who has approved, that the estate has been fairly surrendered, and that there has been no preferences, or promises of payment, or collusive transactions to obtain the concurrence of any creditor. If bankrupt be out of the jurisdiction or prevented from appearing, the declaration or oath may be taken by a commission. The court is then to discharge the bankrupt of all debts as at the date of sequestration, to declare the sequestration at an end, and the bankrupt to be reinvested, under reservation of the creditors' claims for the composition. The bond of caution is to be recorded in the books of the court, and an extract signed by the clerk sent to the accountant for preservation by him. The clerk is also to issue an abbreviate, to be recorded in the registers of inhibitions and abbreviates of adjudications in Edinburgh: the keepers of the registers are to grant certification. The discharge to be valid in her majesty's dominions, and to be entered by the accountant in the register of sequestrations. (141.) Before the approval of the composition the commissioners are to audit the trustee's accounts, ascertain the balance, and fix his remuneration, subject to the review of the Lord Ordinary or sheriff. The expenses of the sequestration must be provided for to the satisfaction of the trustee and commissioners before the composition is approved of. (142.) During the pendency of the offer of composition, and until approval by court, the sequestration is to go on; the trustee and his cautioner, on petition to Lord Ordinary or sheriff, to account for his intromissions to the bankrupt or his cautioner. (143.) Neither the bankrupt nor his cau-tioner, or his successor, can object to any debt or security held by a creditor, unless they objected to it in the offer of composition, and gave written notice to the creditor. (144.) The cautioner, after two years, not to be liable to pay composition to any creditor who had not made oath to his claim before the date of approval of offer, such creditor's right to composition reserved against the bankrupt and his estate. (145.) Where an offer of composition has been rejected, or become ineffectual, no new offer can be entertained, unless nine-tenths in number and value of the creditors entitled to be ranked assent in writing to said offer, which must specify the amount of the composition and the terms of payment, and be signed by the proposed cautioner. If such an offer be made, trustee to call a meeting as in other cases of offers, and if a majority in number and nine-tenths in value of creditors present accept the said offer, and it be assented to by nine-tenths in value of all the creditors who have produced oaths, then it is to be carried out in the same manner as other offers of composition are above directed to be. (146.) The bankrupt may petition the Lord Ordinary or sheriff for his discharge at any time after the meeting held after his examination, if every creditor producing an oath concur, and he may petition at the expiry of six months if a majority in number and four-fifths in value concur, or at the end of twelve months if a majority in number and two-thirds in value concur, or at the end of eighteen months if a majority in number and value concur. He may petition on expiry of two years without any consents. An order is to be made for intimation in the Gazette and to each creditor. After twenty-one days from the Gazette intimation, on evidence of concurrence where that is required, and no opposition, discharge to be granted. On appearance by creditor or trustee, objections to be judged of, and decision pronounced, in which discharge may be granted, refused, deferred, or granted conditionally. No discharge to be granted where by this act bankrupt only entitled to ask for decree of cessio. Not competent also for bankrupt to petition for discharge, or obtain any consent, until the trustee has prepared a report of his conduct and compliance with the statute, and particularly as to the fairness of his discovery and surrender, and his attendance on diets of examination, reporting if he has been guilty of any collusion, and whether his bankruptcy has arisen from innocent loss or from culpable and undue conduct. Such report may be prepared by trustee on the request of the bankrupt at any time after his examination, but not to be demandable till expiration of five months from date of actually awarding sequestration. It is to be produced with proceedings for discharge, and referred to by date or other distinct reference in the consents. (147.) Before discharge is granted bankrupt to make a declaration or oath in the same way and to the same effect as in the case of discharge on a composition; the same provisions also as to registering discharge, and giving effect to it abroad. (148.) Bankrupt's discharge not to affect any debt due to the Crown on account of the public revenue, or suits by public officers on bail-bonds by bankrupt in regard thereto, except of consent of the Treasury. (149.) Where bankrupt is in receipt of any pension or salary from the Crown or East India Company, the Lord Ordinary or sheriff may order such portion thereof as may be consented to by the chief officer or secretary of the department to which the bankrupt belonged to be paid to the trustee to be applied in payment of debt. This payment to be made until Lord Ordinary or sheriff make order to the contrary. (150.) Preferences, payments, or collusive agreements for obtaining bankrupt's discharge, to be void. If any creditor enter into such, trustee may retain his dividend, and he or any other creditor may petition the Lord Ordinary or sheriff to have such party's debt forfeited, and decree for double the amount of the consideration promised to be given. Judgment to be pronounced unless cause shown to the contrary; the sum recovered, less expenses, to be distributed among the other creditors in the sequestration. If the sequestration be closed, any creditor not having received full payment of his debt may raise a multiplepoinding in name of the party who has obtained the preference or other consideration, and double the amount of said consideration is to be ordered to be consigned as the fund in medio to be divided among those creditors claiming who have not received already full payment. The multiplepoinding to be executed against colluding creditor, and intimated in the Gazette. Any surplus after paying expenses and debts of creditors claiming, to be paid into account of unclaimed dividends. (151.) If bankrupt be personally cognisant of granting such preferences, &c. to forfeit his right to a discharge and all benefits under the act. Discharge if granted to be null, and trustee or any creditor may petition Lord Ordinary to have it annulled. (152.) After funds are finally divided trustee to call a meeting about his own discharge: meeting to be advertised in Gazette; to be held not less than twenty-one days after date of publication, and intimation to be sent by post to all the creditors. Sederunt book, accounts, and list of unclaimed dividends, to be laid before meeting. The creditors to declare their opinion of the trustee's conduct, who is then to petition Lord Ordinary or sheriff. On advising petition and minutes of meeting, and hearing any creditor, court to grant or refuse discharge. Clerk of court to send extract decree to accountant to be entered in register of sequestrations. Trustee's bond of caution to be delivered up. (153.) Trustee before discharge to transmit sederunt book to accountant, who is to order unclaimed dividends to be deposited in the bank the trustee dealt with; these monies to be kept there under the title "Account of unclaimed Dividends." Accountant to keep a "register of unclaimed dividends," containing an alphabetical list of parties entitled thereto, and the bank where such are deposited. This register to be open to everybody; the deposit receipts to be in the hands of the accountant. After trustee's discharge any person proving his right to apply to Lord Ordinary for authority to receive such dividend, and warrant may be granted for payment. The claimant not to be entitled to interest, but the interest to go into a general fund, called "The Interest Account of unclaimed Dividends," to be applied as directed by act of parliament. Dividends unclaimed for twenty-five years to be vested in government stock, and the dividends thereon accumulated to form a fund for paying the expenses of proceedings in bankruptcy, or as may be ordered by parliament. Bank to balance these accounts yearly, and accumulate interest and principal, or failing that to be liable to account on that footing. (154.) All law accounts incurred by trustee to be taxed by the auditor of Court of Session or Sheriff Court, as directed by the creditors. (155.) Any surplus, after paying debts, interest, and expenses, to be paid to bankrupt or his heirs. (156.) Crown to appoint "an accountant in bankruptcy," salary not to exceed £850. Offices to be provided: three clerks to be allowed, at salaries not exceeding £150. Accountant to hold no other office, and not to practise. (157.) Accountant to keep "the Register of Sequestrations," in form of schedule G. Register to be patent to all concerned: to contain the division of the court to which sequestration is assigned, and the sheriff who awards, or to whom it is remitted; the date of first deliverance, name and designation of debtor, place and county of residence or place of business, name and designation of petitioning or concurring creditor, date of award or recall of sequestration, date of remit (if any), time and place of election of trustee and commissioners, their names and designations, time for lodging claims for first dividend, bankrupt's discharge on composition or otherwise, and trustee's discharge. Clerks of bill-chamber and sheriff-court to transmit to accountant copies of first deliverance, and every sheriff-clerk to transmit every six months the particulars necessary to make these entries. Trustees bound when required to give the necessary information to the sheriff-clerk. (158.) Each trustee within fourteen days after the 31st October each year, or on the first lawful day thereafter, is to give, free of expense, to sheriff-clerk a return in form of schedule H with regard to each sequestration. Sheriff-clerk to transmit within fourteen days thereafter a return to accountant. These returns to be bound up according to the alphabetical order of counties, and to be patent to all concerned. Any trustee failing to make such return to be removable at the instance of any creditor or the accountant, or subject to such censure as Lord Ordinary may adjudge, and to be liable in expenses. (159.) Accountant to take cognizance of the conduct of trustees and commissioners in all sequestrations awarded after the date of this act, or in which proceedings have been had within five years before; and where the duties are not faithfully performed, or in the event of any complaint being made by creditors, he is to inquire into the matter, and if not satisfied, to report to the Lord Ordinary in vacation or to either division in time of session. Court to investigate the matter, and after hearing trustees or commissioners, to censure, remove, or otherwise deal with them. (160.) Accountant to superintend the returns from trustees, and to report annually to Court of Session, showing the state of each depending sequestration. Report to be published as court may direct. Accountant may either proprio motu, or on the application of one or more creditors, call for the sederunt book in any sequestration, and other documents. He may order a meeting of creditors to be called to consider any measures he may deem requisite for the due management and more speedy realization and winding-up of the estate. (161.) Accountant to report to Lord Ordinary or either division any disobedience by trustee or commissioners of his orders, and generally any other thing he may think necessary in the due discharge of his office. Court to deal summarily with the report. (162.) If accountant have reason to suspect fraud on the part of the bankrupt, trustee, or commissioners, such as would infer punishment, he is to inform the Lord Advocate, who is to inquire and take such proceedings as he may think proper. (163.) If accountant be ill or necessarily absent, the Lord President of the Court of Session to authorize one of his clerks or other qualified person to act pro tempore. (164.) Where a party deceased has left no settlement appointing trustees to manage his estate, or where trustees will not accept, one or more creditors to the amount of £100, or parties having an interest in the succession, may petition summarily either division of the court for appointment of a judicial factor. After intimation and hearing parties, court may appoint factor upon caution. Factor to manage the estate, recover debts, sell movables publicly or privately, and dispose of heritage by public or private sale, as directed by court on report of accountant. The free proceeds, after paying expenses, to go to creditors, according to a state of funds and scheme of division to be prepared by him, reported on b-countant, and approved by court. The residue, if any, to go to the parties' heirs. Accountant yearly to audit factor's accounts, and report to the court from time to time, and subject to the control of Lord Ordinary or court to exercise generally the same duty as in regard to a trustee. (165.) The court to regulate by act of sederunt the amount of caution to be found by such factor, the mode of realizing and dividing funds, and other matters. (166.) Where deceased has left trustees, they may, with or without concurrence of parties interested, apply to the court, and get an order on the accountant to superintend the administration of the estate, who is then to exercise the same duties, under control of Lord Ordinary or court, as in preceding section. (167.) Trustees in cases of cessio to act under supervision of accountant. Every such trustee, whom failing the clerk to the process, is to transmit a note of it and of the trustee's residence to the accountant, who is to make a list of cessios, and to require from the trustees yearly accounts. He is to report annually to either division of the court, and to bring forward any malversation or irregularity. Court to censure and punish as may seem just. (168.) A majority in number and value of creditors, at any meeting called for the purpose after the election of a trustee, if estate appear unlikely to yield £100 for division among ordinary creditors, may resolve that bankrupt shall only be entitled to a decree of cessio. Trustee, after giving eight full days' notice to bankrupt, to report resolution to Lord Ordinary or sheriff. Court, after hearing parties, with or without a report by accountant, to decide whether resolution is to be recalled or not. If confirmed, bankrupt to be only entitled to decree of cessio, and sequestration to proceed in common form. (169.) An appeal may be taken either to Lord Ordinary or sheriff against the resolutions of a meeting of creditors, or a deliverance by the trustee or commissioners. Note of appeal to be lodged in the hands of either the clerk of the bills or sheriff-court within fourteen days. Where an appeal is taken or a petition and complaint presented against the trustee or commissioners, or against any of the creditors, the court to order service, and the parties to appear on a certain day and debate. The Lord Ordinary may then dispose of case as he deems proper, with or without a record. The sheriff may decide without a record, provided he specify the facts, and give the grounds of judgment; he may also order minutes to contain the facts and pleas in law, without argument, and, holding them as a closed record, proceed summarily, assigning the reasons of his judgment. In case of appeal against resolutions of creditors, court may order a new meeting of creditors to reconsider. (170.) Any deliverance of sheriff after awarding sequestration, except where expressly otherwise enacted, may be appealed in time of session to inner-house, in vacation to Lord Ordinary. Note of appeal to be lodged with sheriff-clerk in eight days. Process to be transmitted to bill-chamber. Lord Ordinary's decision, when not expressly declared final, to be subject to review in inner-house. Competent for inner-house or Lord Ordinary to remit to sheriff with instructions. (171.) Reclaiming notes against Lord Ordinary's judgments to be presented within fourteen days, and disposed of as speedily as forms of court will admit. (172.) Sheriff to regulate interim management of estate during the pendency of appeals or petitions and complaints. (173.) Where an appeal is taken to the House of Lords, sequestration to proceed otherwise without interruption. Lord Ordinary to regulate interim possession and management; his regulations not subject to appeal. (174.) Deliverances, certified copies, and extracts, to be judicially noticed by all courts and judges in the Queen's dominions, and to be received as prima facie evidence, and as sufficient warrants for legal diligence and execution. (175.) Deliverances, bonds, schedules, and executions may be either written or printed, or partly both. Service or citation by an officer not to require witnesses. (176.) Trustee with consent of commissioners may compromise or refer to arbitration any questions that may arise. Such compromise or decree-arbitral to be binding both on creditors and bankrupt. (177.) Court of Session agents may practise in sheriff courts in proceedings under this act, but can only take the fees legally exigible there. (178.) Parties guilty of false swearing in oaths made in pursuance of this act may be prosecuted by the Lord Advocate, or trustee with Lord Advocate's concurrence, providing he is authorized by a majority of creditors present at a meeting called for the purpose. Party convicted, besides the ordinary punishment, to forfeit to trustee his whole interest in sequestrated estate, which is to be distributed either under the sequestration, or, if that should be closed, by a multiplepoinding as provided in § 150. (179.) The Lord Ordinary or sheriff may on cause shown order for three months all letters addressed to the bankrupt to be delivered to the sheriff clerk or trustee, to be opened in presence of sheriff after written notice to bankrupt to attend. If letters relate in whole or in part to the estate they are to be placed in such custody as sheriff may direct. This order may be renewed as often as necessary. (180.) Directs the fee payable on certain proceedings to form a fund for paying salaries of officers of court, surplus to be at disposal of Treasury. (181.) Bill-chamber clerks to charge no fees except for copies of interlocutors or papers at the rate of 6d. for every 150 words, without any additional charge for stationery. (182.) After the commencement of this act Gazette keeper to furnish on the day of publication copies to the keeper of edictal citations, bill-chamber clerks, and accountant. These copies to be filed, and access allowed to anybody for 6d. (183.) Charges for advertisements in Gazettes ordered by this act, or the 6 and 7 Will. IV. c. 56, fixed as per schedule K. (184.) Exempts from stamp duty, after the commencement of this act, all deeds relating solely to a bankrupt estate as to which sequestration has been or may be awarded, discharges to bankrupt, deeds of reinvestment, powers of attorney, decrees-arbitral, &c., and generally all writings forming part of the proceedings ordered in a sequestration. (185.) Empowers Court of Session, by act of sederunt, from time to time to regulate, with regard to this act, the procedure and the duties of officers in that court, the bill-chamber, or sheriff court, and to establish a table of fees. Such acts of sederunt to be transmitted within a month by the Lord President to a principal secretary of state, to be laid before both houses of parliament.

INCOME TAX, &c.

CHAP. 80. To grant Relief in assessing the Income Tax on Lands in Scotland

in respect of certain Public Burdens charged thereon; to alter and regulate the Allowances to Clerks to the Commissioners of Income Tax; and to amend the Laws relating to the Land, Assessed, and Income Taxes, and the Redemption and Purchase of the Land Tax. July 29.

(1.) Enacts that where the commissioners of inland revenue are satisfied that the owner of lands in Scotland pays public rates or assessments which in England are charged on occupiers, or is charged with public burdens which are not levied in England, they are to give reasonable relief in respect of such payments in the assessment of the income tax, and that either by abatement of the assessment or repayment of the tax, under such regulations as they may think fit. (2.) Repeals allowances to the clerks of the income tax commissioners, and grants other allowances in lieu. (3.) Repeals § 2 of 16 and 17 Vict. c. 117, relating to contracts entered into for redemption of land tax. (4.) Empowers the commissioners for the land tax to unite two or more parishes or townships for the more convenient execution of the acts imposing the land, assessed, and income taxes. Such union to be certified to the commissioners of inland revenue for the approval of the Treasury, and if they approve to be carried into effect. The quota of land tax now chargeable on any parish or place not to be altered.

STAMP DUTIES AMENDMENT.

CHAP. 81. To reduce the Stamp Duties on certain Instruments of Proxy; to amend the Laws relating to the stamping of Articles of Clerkship to Attorneys and others; and to exempt from Stamp Duty Admissions to the Freedom of the City of London by Redemption. July 29.

(1.) After the passing of this act the stamp duty on proxies for voting at meetings of joint stock companies or of heritors of a parish to be 6d. (2.) The provisions in § 6 of 7 Vict. c. 21, and of the other stamp acts, to apply to the new duties. (3.) Empowers Treasury to authorize the stamping of articles of indenture of apprentices to writers to the signet and other embodied legal practitioners in Scotland, after expiry of six months from their date, on payment of the following penalties: If the deed be dated before 5th August 1853, the sum of £2 where it is sought to be stamped within one year, £10; after one and within two years, £20; after two and within three, £30; after three and within four, £40; after four years, £50. (4.) Applies only to London.

RACE-HORSE DUTY.

CHAP. 82. To repeal and reimpose, under new Regulations, the Duty on Race-horses. July 29.

(1.) Repeals, after 5th April 1857, the present duty payable on race-horses. (2.) Imposes a duty of £3, 17s. a-year on every horse which shall within the year start or run for any plate, prize, or sum of money, or other thing. (3.) Duty to be deemed an excise duty, and the provisions of the excise acts to be applied thereto. (4.) Duty to be paid by owner to clerk of course before horse starts. Clerk to give receipt, which shall free the owner from again paying duty for the same horse at any other race within the year. The owner of any horse refusing to pay duty or to produce to the clerk a receipt showing the duty to have been already paid, to be liable to a penalty of £50. (5.) Clerk of the course not to allow any horse to start or run at any race, except on payment of duty or production of receipt. (6.) Commissioners of inland revenue to provide books of printed forms of receipts and counterfoils, and to supply them to every clerk of the course who applies. (7, 8.) Clerk of the course receiving duty to give a printed form of receipt properly filled up, also to fill up and keep the counterfoil. To be accountable for the said forms and counterfoils to any authorized officer of inland revenue, and to be liable in the sum of £3, 17s. for every form delivered to him and not produced to the officer. (9.) Every clerk of the course twice a-year, within the first ten days of January and July, to return to inland revenue officer a list of all the horses that have started or run at any race where he has officiated within the preceding half year, to specify the name of the horse, his owner, the race, and the date and place; to distinguish those horses which paid duty, and where receipts were produced to give the name of the clerk who signed them, and the place and date of payment. (10.) Clerk of the course to pay over the monies received by him to collector of inland revenue, as directed by the commissioners, and to be entitled to an allowance of 1s. per pound. (11.) Any clerk of the course refusing to perform the duty required of him by this act, or suffering things to be done contrary to the regulations herein contained, to be liable to a penalty of £50. (12.) Interpretation clause: "Race-horse" to include mares and geldings, and to mean any horse starting or running for any plate, prize, or sum of money, or other thing, and to be a sufficient designation for any horse in proceedings for recovery of duty or penalties. The person in whose name any race-horse is entered to be deemed the owner. (13.) Act not to extend to Ireland.

COAST GUARD AND MANNING OF NAVY.

CHAP. 83. To provide for the better Defence of the Coasts of the Realm, and the more ready manning of the Navy, and to transfer to the Admiralty the Government of the Coast Guard. July 29.

(1.) Act to be called "Coast Guard Service Act 1856." (2.) Interpretation clause. (3.) Coast Guard after a day to be named by Treasury, to be raised and governed by Admiralty; men and officers not to exceed 10,000. (4.) Lands held for existing coast guard service to be vested in Admiralty. (5.) Empowers Admiralty to acquire land for stations, each station not to exceed three acres. The sections 336 to 345 (each inclusive) of the act 17 Vict. c. 107, to be held incorporated in this act. (6.) All the powers and authorities of the existing coast guard to be vested in the new one. (7.) Men and officers to have the same privileges as to remittances of pay, &c., and under the same regulations as to discharge, as the navy. Service in the coast guard to reckon the same for pensions as actual service in the fleet. (8.) Coast guard borne on the books of vessels of war to be under the same laws and customs as persons serving in the fleet, and officers to have the same power of summary punishment. Orders for imprisonment by officers not to have any effect until approved of in writing by the officer commanding the district. Prisoners to be under the regulations of 11 Vict. c. 62 and 17 Vict. c. 69. (9.) Courts martial to be constituted according to 22 Geo. II. c. 33. (10.) Officers of coast guard may command royal naval coast volunteers. (11.)

Act to extend to Isle of Man and Channel Islands, and to be registered in the royal courts of Guernsey and Jersey.

BRIBERY AT PARLIAMENTARY ELECTIONS.

CHAP. 84. To continue the Corrupt Practices Prevention Act 1854. July 29.

(1.) Continues the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 102 (vide Almanac for 1855, p. 156) till 10th August 1857, and thereafter till the end of the then next session of parliament.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

CHAP. 85. To continue the General Board of Health. July 29.

(1.) Continues it for one year from the passing of the act, and to the end of the then next session of parliament.

FORMS OF DEEDS.

CHAP. 89. To abolish certain unnecessary Forms in the framing of Deeds in Scotland. July 29.

(1.) After 1st September 1856 not necessary to mark the pages of any deed or writing by numbers, and no deed can be challenged because its pages are not marked by numbers. This act not to affect any judgment already pronounced, or any question in dependence, or any regulation as to the testing clause of deeds imposed by the act 1696, c. 15.

JUDICIAL PROCEDURE AND SECURITIES FOR DEBTS.

CHAP. 91. To amend and re-enact certain Provisions of an Act 54 Geo. III. relating to Judicial Procedure and Securities for Debts in Scotland. July 29.

On the preamble that the new bankrupt act had repealed the act 54 Geo. III. c. 137, and that it was expedient to amend and re-enact certain provisions therein relating to judicial procedure and securities for debt, enacts, (1.) An arrestment in the hands of a person out of Scotland will not interpel him from paying the original creditor, unless it be proved that he or those authorized to act for him knew of the arrestment. (2.) Court of Session may make acts of sederunt to regulate processes of ranking and sale, whether at the instance of creditors or apparent heirs. Where sale is under authority of Court of Session purchaser, after term of payment may consign price and interest at any term of Whitsunday or Martinmas in any joint stock bank of issue. On doing this and giving notice to the agent who conducted sale, he is to be discharged. Court may also, on the application of any creditor, order purchaser to lodge price and interest at any of the said terms, intimation being previously given to purchaser and common agent. In all cases of judicial sale, the lands may be sold whether the ranking be concluded or not, unless the court see cause to delay the sale. (3.) Allows a judicial sale at instance of creditors in all cases where the interest of debts and annual burdens exceeds the yearly income of the property for sale, or where there has been sequestration without any other proof of bankruptcy or insolvency. (4.) Where there is a ranking and sale the decree of sale to be held to be a general decree of adjudication in favour of every creditor included in the decree of division. The decree to have the same effect as if it had been extracted at the date of first calling the process in the outer-house. No separate adjudication to be allowed to go on while a process of sale is in dependence. Court may rule by act of sederunt the accumulation of the principal and interest of the debts. Any creditor in a situation to adjudge, may carry on the action of sale in lieu of the original pursuer in case he shall desert or abandon it. (5.) When the first process of adjudication is brought for payment or security of debt, intimation is to be ordered in the minute book and on the wall for twenty sederunt days, to allow other creditors to produce the instructions of their debts, with signeted summons of adjudication, that they may be conjoined in the decree. If this form be omitted the adjudication is null and void, without prejudice to bringing it forward again and conjoining it with any after adjudication, and without prejudice to the validity and order of ranking of posterior adjudications. When any after processes of adjudication are brought, court to regulate by act of sederunt as far as possible, for the pari passu preference of them with one another. Where there are penalties for non-payment in bonds or obligations for sums of money, court to restrict them to the expenses necessarily incurred in making the debt effectual. (6.) An adjudication is rendered effectual, in the case of a crown holding, by lodging a draft charter and note in the office of presenter of signatures, in terms of act 10 and 11 Vict. c. 51; in the case of holding of a subject, by executing a charge of horning against superiors, and recording the said draft charter and note or charge in the register of abbreviates of adjudications. (7.) Any person may grant heritable security for balances due on cash credits, or for relief to parties who may be bound with him in payment of such sums. The principal and interest to become due on such cash credits to be limited to a certain definite sum, not to exceed the amount of the principal sum and three years' interest thereon at five per cent. The party to whom cash credit is granted may draw out and pay in such sums as parties may agree on. The infestments on such heritable securities to be as valid as if the whole sum had been advanced prior to their date. The security to continue till the cash account is closed, the balance paid up, and the sasine renounced.

COMMISSIONERS OF SUPPLY.

CHAP. 98. To constitute all legally qualified Persons in Scotland Commissioners of Supply without being named in an Act of Supply. July 29.

(1.) All males of full age qualified in terms of the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 91, § 19, (vide Almanac for 1855, p. 154), otherwise than by nomination ex officio, to be commissioners of supply, and entitled to act in the same way as if named in an act of supply. (2.) The last completed valuation roll of the county to be prima facie evidence of proprietorship and value for the purposes of this act, provided that where any lessee has been entered in the column of proprietors, the assessor is to write the word lessee after the name, which in that case is not to be evidence of proprietorship. (3.) Before the 10th December each year parties wishing to be commissioners to give in a written claim to the clerk of supply, and any commissioner who objects to any party being admitted or continuing on roll to give written notice of objection to said officer before the 17th December. The clerk of supply to intimate to the party the notice of objection by post, and give all parties concerned ten free days' notice of the time and place fixed for disposing of the claims and objections. (4.) The commissioners of supply in every county, on 30th April yearly, are to elect a committee to dispose of claims and objections. Committee to meet not sooner than 20th November, three to be a quorum. Parties objected to to produce their titles. Committee to hear parties, receive competent evidence and make a memorandum of it, and give a decision. Cases must all be disposed of before the 20th December. (5.) Clerk of supply to adjust and authenticate list of commissioners by 31st December each year. Persons interested entitled to inspect and copy it. List to be conclusive as to right of acting and voting as commissioners of supply, except as to sheriffs and magistrates who may be ex officio commissioners, who are entitled to act though not on list. (6.) Any party dissatisfied with the decision of the commissioners, on a claim or objection may within ten days appeal to the Lord Ordinary on the bills, who is to dispose of the appeal summarily and finally. Clerk of supply to adjust list in accordance with his judgment. (7.) Act to be called "The Commissioners of Supply Scotland Act 1856."

MARRIAGE.

CHAP. 96. For amending the Law of Marriage in Scotland. July 29.

(1.) After 31st December 1856 no irregular marriage to be valid in Scotland unless one of the parties has lived in Scotland for the twenty-one days next preceding the marriage, or has his or her usual residence there at the time. (2.) After 31st December 1856 parties contracting an irregular marriage may apply within three months jointly to sheriff or sheriff substitute of the county where the marriage was contracted, for a warrant to register it. Upon proof that they have been married, and that one of them had lived for the twenty-one days next preceding in Scotland, or had his or her usual place of residence there at the date of marriage, the sheriff is to certify the same and grant warrant to the registrar of the parish to record the marriage. A certified copy of the entry signed by the registrar, which he is bound to give for 5s., to be evidence of a valid marriage. (3.) After the above date magistrates not to convict parties for irregular marriages, unless evidence other than the acknowledgment of the parties be produced that one of them had at the date of marriage his or her usual residence in Scotland, or had lived there for the twenty-one days next preceding. Registrar not to record any marriage on production of an extract conviction for having contracted an irregular marriage, except the conviction bear that sufficient proof as to residence was produced.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES OF SHEEP AND CATTLE.

CHAP. 101. To continue certain Acts to prevent the Spreading of contagious or infectious Disorders among Sheep, Cattle, and other Animals. July 29.

Continues the act 11 and 12 Vict. c. 107 (Almanac for 1849, p. 122), as extended by the act 16 and 17 Vict. c. 62, till the 1st August 1857, and the end of the then next session of parliament.

NUISANCES—LODGING-HOUSES—HEALTH OF TOWNS.

CHAP. 103. To make better Provision for the Removal of Nuisances, Regulation of Lodging-houses, and the Health of Towns in Scotland. July 29.

(1.) Act to be called "The Nuisances Removal Scotland Act 1856." (2.) Repeals the "Nuisances Removal Acts" of 1848 and 1849, so far as they apply to Scotland, except as to proceedings actually taken or in progress. (3.) Interpretation clause: "Board" to mean Board of Supervision for the Poor. "Sheriff" includes sheriff substitute. "Owner" includes trustee, factor, and, in case of municipal or public property, the managers. "Author of a nuisance" is the person through whose act or default the nuisance is caused or continued. "Common lodging-house" signifies a house where lodgers are kept at a rate not exceeding 3d. per night each, whether the same be paid nightly or weekly. (4.) The local authorities to execute the act are, police commissioners, whom failing town councils, and, where these have no jurisdiction, parochial boards. (5.) In parishes not entirely in the jurisdiction of police commissioners or town council, board of supervision to determine the local authority. In the case of a burgh or town situated in more than one county, board of supervision to determine in which it is to be held as situated for the purposes of this act. Such decision to be final. (6.) The local authority may appoint committees, two to be a quorum, to receive notices, take proceedings, and execute this act. Committee or the local authority may, by a written order signed by their chairman, empower an officer or person to take proceedings on their behalf. (7.) Local authority may where necessary appoint inspectors of nuisances and inspectors of common lodging-houses, with office rooms and proper salaries, and make by-laws for regulating their duties. If no inspectors be appointed, in all cases where the act prescribes duties to be done by such officers, the local authority must appoint some person to do them for a suitable remuneration.

Part I. Removal of Nuisances. (8.) "Nuisance" includes, 1. Any deficiency in size, structure, or repair, or other circumstance rendering any inhabited house, building, or part thereof, unwholesome or unfit for human habitation; 2. Any pool, ditch, drain, privy, urinal, or ashpit, so foul as to be injurious to health; 3. Any animal so kept as to be injurious to health; 4. Any deposit within fifty yards of any dwelling within burgh offensive or injurious to health; 5. Any manufactory or business offensive or injurious to the health of the neighbourhood. (9.) Where there is reason to believe that a nuisance exists, the local authority or inspector may demand admittance to the premises for inspection at any time between 9 A. M. and 6 P. M. If refused, application may be made to any justice having jurisdiction, stating on oath the belief that a nuisance exists. Justice to order in writing the custodier of the premises to admit the local authority or inspector. If order not obeyed, custodier to be liable to a penalty not exceeding £5. If no custodier can be found, the local authority or inspector may enter. (10.) Where the existence of a nuisance is ascertained on examination, or certified in writing by the parish medical officer, or where the nuisance did exist at the time the demand for admittance was made, and is likely to recur, a summary petition to be presented to sheriff or any resident magistrate, who shall if satisfied deem for the removal or remedy of the nuisance. Application in respect of any manufactory or business can only be made on medical certificate. (11.) The decree need not be restricted to the special prayer of the petition, but the author of the nuisance may be ordered to provide sufficient privy accommodation, means of drainage or ventilation for, or to repair, or to pave, cleanse, whitewash, disinfect, or purify the buildings, or to empty, cleanse, fill up, or remove any pool, ditch, drain, privy, or ashpit, or to remove the animal, or carry away the offensive matter, or discontinue the manufactory, or do such other acts as are necessary to remove the nuisance, and that in a time and manner specified. If the magistrate think the nuisance is likely to recur he may interdict it, and if the building be rendered unfit for human habitation he may prohibit its being so used until it is improved. (12.) If decree be not implemented the author of the nuisance, except in the case of its being an offensive manufactory or business, to be liable in a penalty of 10s. a-day; and if an owner or occupier authorize knowingly an interdict to be violated, he shall incur a penalty not exceeding 20s. a-day. Where the nuisance is a manufactory or business, the penalty to be not less than £2 nor more than £5 for the first offence, £10 for the second, and double the amount on each subsequent conviction, up to £200. In this last kind of case, if the best available means of mitigating the nuisance have not been used, magistrate may suspend his decision on condition of the author of the nuisance adopting within a reasonable time the proper means for preventing injurious effects. (13.) Where structural works are required to remove a nuisance, the magistrate may order such to be carried on under the direction of any public body having jurisdiction in the place in respect to similar works, or, if there be no such body, under the direction of any person he may appoint. Before making an order the local authority is to furnish him, within a specified time, with an estimate of the cost. (14.) Where any decree has not been complied with or infringed, the magistrate may authorize the local authority to enter the premises and execute decree, or if in the original application it appeared that the author of the nuisance was not known or could not be found, the local authority may be ordered to execute the decree. The expenses incurred may be recovered whatever their amount by small debt actions. (15.) Anything removed by local authority may be sold by public roup after not less than five days' notice by printed handbills, except where delay would injure health, when the sheriff may order immediate destruction or sale. The proceeds of the sale to be applied in payment of the expenses, the surplus to be given to the owner, who is to be liable for balance of expenses if proceeds are insufficient. (16.) When local authority is of opinion that any ditch or drain alongside a public road or street, used for the conveyance of sewage, cannot be freed from foulness without laying down a sewer or some other structure, they are required to lay down such structure within the limits of their jurisdiction, and to keep it in good repair. They may enter and use any premises necessary, paying such damages therefor as may be assessed by the sheriff on summary application, to such party as he may direct. Local authority to assess all the premises from which any material other than pure water is carried into said sewer for payment of expenses, and that either in one sum, or by instalments, or as a perpetual burden. Sums assessed to be collected after fourteen days' notice, under the same compulsitors as the prison assessment. (17.) Act not to injure any river or canal navigation, or the irrigation of land, or diminish the supply of water for these purposes. (18.) Authorizes inspector to enter at all reasonable times premises to examine meat, poultry, game, fish, fruit, or vegetables for sale, or which there is reason to believe is intended for human food. In case any such articles appear unfit for food, they may be seized, and if they appear unfit to the magistrate he may order them to be destroyed, or so disposed of as to prevent their being used as food. The person to whom they belonged, or in whose custody they were found, to be liable to a penalty not exceeding £10 for each article so found. (19.) Manufactures of gas, naphtha, vitriol, or dye-stuffs, or parties using the refuse of such manufactures, not to pollute water used for domestic purposes, under a penalty of £50. (20.) This penalty may be recovered by the party whose water is polluted, or in his default, and after notice to him to proceed, by the local authority. Penalty must be sued for during continuance of offence, or within six months thereafter. (21.) Besides penalty the offenders to forfeit £5 a-day during the time the act causing the pollution continues beyond twenty-four hours after notice has been served on them. The money to be paid to the parties giving the notice. All monies recovered by local authority, after paying damages caused by nuisance, to be applied to defray the expenses of executing act.

Part II. Prevention and Mitigation of Diseases.

(22.) When any place is threatened or affected by any formidable epidemic, three or more privy councillors, the lord president of the council, or a secretary of state being one, may order this Part II. of the act to be put in force in Scotland, or in any part thereof, and may from time to time extend, renew, or revoke said order. Subject to revocation or renewal order to be in force for six months, or such shorter period as shall be fixed. Order to be certified by clerk of Privy Council, and published in Edinburgh Gazette, the publication to be conclusive evidence of order. (23.) When order issued board of supervision to be vested with powers herein provided. Queen may, during the subsistence of the order, appoint as additional members of that board the sheriffs of any counties except Perth, Renfrew, and Ross, who are to be paid by the Treasury at a rate not exceeding £100 per annum. Board may appoint a medical officer for the period, at a salary of not more than £200 per annum, to be paid by Treasury. It may also employ additional clerks, whose salary and office expenses are to be defrayed in the same way as the general expenses of the board. (24.) During the continuance of order, board to issue regulations for the prevention or mitigation of the epidemic. Regulations to be published in the Edinburgh Gazette, and may be specially communicated to local authorities. Board may direct inspectors to apply to sheriff, who is to give the requisite orders to carry regulations into effect. (25.) Orders of Privy Council and regulations of board to be immediately laid before both houses of parliament, if then sitting, or if not within fourteen days after commencement of next session. (26.) Regulations to provide for speedy interment of the dead, for house to house visitations, for dispensing medicines and affording to persons seized such medical aid and accommodation as may be required. Local authority to carry out regulations and provide everything advisable for mitigating the disease; they are also to prosecute in case of wilful violation or neglect of regulations. (27.) The local authority and their officers, in carrying out regulations, empowered to enter premises at reasonable times of day for inspection where they have reason to believe any person has recently died, or that there is a necessity for carrying out there any part of the regulations. (28.) Where an order of council is in force, if any house is proved to be overcrowded so as to be dangerous to health, the local authority may regulate it as if it were a common lodging-house, the certificate of inspector of nuisance, or of medical officer, or of two medical practitioners, to be evidence. (29.) Orders in council to extend to parts of the sea adjacent within jurisdiction of the Admiralty, and board may issue regulations for cleansing, disinfecting, and preventing disease in ships and vessels lying there, as also in inland waters. (30.) When, in compliance with regulations of board, any parochial medical officer attends on board a vessel, he may charge extra for such attendance at the rate he is paid by parish. Captain to pay such charge on behalf of owners, with reasonable expenses for treatment of sick. If the medical attendant be not the parochial one he may charge as in the case of private patients of the same class, to be paid as above. If charges are not paid, action may be brought by medical officer against the captain, the vessel and cargo to be subject to a lien for the amount.

Part III. Regulation of Common Lodging-houses.

(31.) Local authority to keep a register of all common lodging-houses within their jurisdiction, to contain the names and residences of the keepers, the situation of the house, and the number of lodgers authorized. They may refuse to register a person as keeper unless he produce a certificate of character in a form to be prescribed, signed by three poor's rate payers in the parish. (32.)

After expiry of one month after the passing of this act, no lodger to be received into a common lodging-house till it has been inspected and registered. (38.) A certified copy of the entry in the register to be evidence, and every person applying at a reasonable time may get one gratis. (34.) Local authority may make rules as to common lodging-house for the separation of the sexes, for fixing the number of lodgers in each house and room, for promoting cleanliness and ventilation, and regulating the conditions under which inspection may be made. They may impose penalties on offenders, not exceeding £5 for each offence, and in the case of continuing offences 40s. for each day after written notice of offence has been given. The rules may be altered or repealed. Penalties to be so imposed as to allow recovery of any sum less than the full amount. Rules not to be in force till confirmed by secretary of state, and not to be confirmed unless notice has been given in one or more newspapers generally circulated in the place for at least one month before, and a copy in writing, signed by chairman, has been for a month open gratis at the office of the local authority to all poor-rate payers. Copies to be furnished to applicants on paying 6d. for every hundred words. (35.) The rules when confirmed to be printed and hung up in the office of the local authority; copies to be furnished gratis to every common lodging-house keeper, who is to hang up a copy in some conspicuous part of every room where lodgers are received; copies to be furnished to rate-payers for 2d., and a copy purporting to be signed by a secretary of state to be evidence. (36.) Where lodging-house has not a proper supply of water, and such can be had at a reasonable rate, local authority may, in writing, require keeper to procure the same within a specified time, under penalty of losing his registry. (37.) Where beggars or vagrants are received, the keeper if required to report to such person as local authority may direct every person who resorted there the preceding day or night, and to fill up schedule sent for the purpose. (38.) When a person in a lodging-house is ill of fever or infectious disease, the local authority may cause him to be removed to an hospital on the certificate of the medical officer or of two medical practitioners that the disease is infectious, and that the patient may be safely removed. They may order his clothes and bedding to be disinfected or destroyed on giving compensation to the owner. Such compensation to be paid by inspector of the poor, who is to be repaid out of the assessment authorized by this act. The amount of compensation to be certified in writing in a list. (39.) Where infectious disease occurs, keeper of lodging-house to give immediate notice to the inspector, the parish medical officer, and the inspector for the poor, who is to take the instructions of the parochial board. (40.) Keepers of lodging-houses to give free access at all times to any officer of the local authority. (41.) To clean the rooms, passages, stairs, floors, windows, doors, walls, ceilings, privies, cesspools, and drains to satisfaction of inspector, as often as required by rules, and to limewash the walls and ceilings twice a-year in the first weeks of April and October. (42.) Where a keeper of a lodging-house is convicted of a third offence under this act, it may be part of the sentence that he be disqualified for five years, or any shorter period, from keeping a common lodging-house, without a previous written license by the local authority. License to be withheld or granted on such conditions as may be thought fit.

Part IV. Enforcement and Procedure under Act. (43.) Where local authority neglects its duty, two householders, or the inspector of the poor, or the fiscal of the county, or burgh, or justice of peace court, may give written notice of the matter to the local authority. If nuisance not remedied within fourteen days, or in case of neglect under Part II. within two days, parties may present a summary petition to the sheriff, who may compel execution of the act, and appoint it to be carried out at sight of such persons as he may think fit, and at the expense of the local authority, and may decern for the expense of the application. (44.) Applications to the sheriff to be by summary petition. Petition to refer simply to the clauses of the act. Sheriff may order answers in three days, or order parties to attend. On advising answers or hearing parties, he may decern, or appoint some one to examine the premises, and report, or he may order a proof,

If either party desire it, on any specified points within five days. Proof may be adjourned; when completed, decree to be given within three days. Expenses may be found due or modified. (45.) No written pleadings allowed. Sheriff to take notes of evidence as in civil proofs. No decree under this act to bar a party's right of relief against others liable. (46.) Where the value of the subject complained of as a nuisance, or the cost of operations necessary to remove it, or the value of the business interfered with by it exceeds £25 or £50, sheriff to certify that in his decree; parties may then appeal from sheriff substitute to sheriff by lodging a note of appeal in three days after decree with sheriff clerk, and serving it on the opposite party; the note to operate as a sist. Sheriff clerk to transmit process, with the notes of evidence, to the sheriff, whose decision is to be final where subject below £50. When above that value an appeal lies to the Lord Ordinary on the bills. Note of appeal to be lodged and served within eight days: note to operate as a sist: Lord Ordinary's judgment to be final. (47.) No appeal competent except in such certified cases. (48.) Sheriffs and justices to exercise jurisdiction, though they may be members of local authority. (49.) Proceedings under this act not subject to review, except as herein provided. (50.) Notices, petitions, and orders may be served by delivery at the residence of the parties or by post. When addressed to the owner or occupier of premises, they may be served by delivery to some person on the premises, or by fixing them on some conspicuous part thereof. (51.) Copies of orders of local authority or their committee, purporting to be signed by chairman, to be prima facie evidence. (52.) One or more joint owners or occupiers may be proceeded against alone, without prejudice to any right of relief he may have. (53.) If occupier prevent the owner from carrying out the provisions of this act, the sheriff or any justice may require the occupier in writing to permit the execution of such works as the judge may think necessary, within a reasonable time, under a penalty not exceeding £5 a-day for continuous refusal. (54.) Penalty, not exceeding £5, for wilful violation or obstruction of the act, where no special penalty is imposed. Act not to exempt party from any penalty or liability he may be otherwise subject to. (55.) Expenses or penalties due by owners may be recovered from occupiers to the extent of the rent. If paid, to be deducted from the rent; if not paid, to be a preferable real burden to the extent of two years' real value of the subjects. (56.) All charges and expenses incurred by local authority, and not recovered, to be defrayed by an assessment, to be levied along with and in the same way as the prison or police assessment, according as the town council or police commissioners resolve, where such bodies are the local authority, in other cases to be levied along with the poor's assessment, or where no such assessment by an assessment levied in the same way the poor's assessment would have been levied. (57.) Forms in schedule of act to be used for the purposes of the act. (58.) Police and constables to aid officers in carrying out act. (59.) Act not to impair any right of action at common law in regard to nuisances.

Part V. Amendment of Act 13 and 14 Vict. c. 83. (The Towns' Police and Improvement Act.) (60.) Repeals the 74th section, and enacts that when a new sewer is made commissioners may levy on occupiers a special sewer rate not exceeding 6d. a pound per annum on the yearly value of all premises situated in that drainage district. Such rates to be assessed separately, and separate accounts kept. (61.) Commissioners may borrow money on the security of their general and special sewer rates. The provisions of the act applied to such bonds, and to be mutatis mutandis in the forms there given, and to entitle the creditors to recover their money out of the first and readiest of the said general and special sewer rates. (62.) Money so borrowed to be applied wholly in the construction of sewers. The sewers' rates not to be assigned in security of money borrowed for any other purpose. (63.) Commissioners to levy as part of sewer rates a sinking fund amounting to five per cent per annum on the sum borrowed. This sum to be annually invested at interest. Amount of money borrowed for sewers not to be taken into account in assessing under the 340th section (vide Almanac for 1851, p. 182). (64.) Repeals § 213 of the act, and provides that the commissioners may requi-

the owners of land abutting on a street to pave and flag it. If owners fail to do so within a month after written notice, commissioners to do the work themselves at owner's expense. Street to be kept in repair by commissioners out of the assessments levied under the act. (65.) Where it is necessary for the public health for drains to be discharged below high water mark, the commissioners, with consent of the Woods and Forests, may make the requisite works under the regulations as to works provided in the act. (66.) The magistrate may sentence offenders under the said act to imprisonment not exceeding sixty days. In the event of a pecuniary penalty not being immediately consigned, or caution for good behaviour or keeping the peace not being found, the party may be sentenced to imprisonment till payment be made or caution found. The imprisonment in case of default not to exceed sixty days, and the imprisonment in respect both of offence and default not to exceed ninety days. (67.) The owner or occupier of property within burgh used either wholly or partly for agriculture, may petition sheriff to have it found agricultural, and either wholly exempted from assessment, or made only partially liable. Petition to be served on commissioners with an induciae of ten days. After hearing parties and taking such evidence as may be necessary, sheriff to determine to what extent the property is agricultural, and at what rate it should be assessed. The sheriff may at a future time, on the commissioners' petition, find that part or the whole of the property has ceased to be used in agriculture, and direct it to be assessed like other burghal properties. (68.) Proceedings before the sheriff or magistrate under this act, unless otherwise provided, to be final. (69.) In the execution of the Burial Grounds Scotland Act, 18 and 19 Vict. c. 68 (Almanac for 1856, p. 141), where the limits of any parliamentary burgh exceed one parish, or contain parts of more than one parish, the whole ground within burgh to be held as one parish for the purpose of that act, and excluded from other parishes. The town council to be the board, provided that any parish where a school, chapel, church, or preaching station is maintained out of the funds derived from such burying grounds, is to be exempted from this provision, unless the town-council supply funds to the same extent, to the satisfaction of the sheriff of the county. (70.) Where, under the powers contained in the act 13 and 14 Vict. c. 83, in defining the boundaries of a town, burgh, or populous place, the sheriff has committed any error, he is empowered to rectify the same on its being brought under his notice by any heritor or ratepayer interested. Any acts done or payments made prior to the rectification not to be affected.

REFORMATORY AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

CHAP. 109. To amend the Mode of committing Criminal and Vagrant Children to Reformatory and Industrial Schools. July 29.

(1.) In proceedings under the act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 86, the court do not require to name the particular school to which the child is to be sent, it is enough to direct that it is to be sent to such a school as may afterwards, before expiry of the term of imprisonment, be directed by the presiding magistrate. (2.) A judge who has ordered a child to be sent to any industrial or reformatory school, may, in England, any time before expiry of the term of imprisonment, and in Scotland within fourteen days of the date of the order, change the school originally named for any other where the managers may be willing to receive the child. (3.) If the parent, guardian, or nearest relative of any child certify to the magistrate, within fourteen days of the order, or change of order, that they object to its being sent to the school named, and name another duly certified institution, and prove that the managers are willing to receive the child and pay or find security for any additional expense so caused, the child is to be sent to the last named school. (4.) Any children sent from Scotland to a school out of Scotland who had no settlement in a Scotch parish and might have been removed from Scotland under the 8 and 9 Vict. c. 83, after being sent out of Scotland under this act not to be chargeable on a Scotch parish. (5.) Act not to diminish the secretary of state's power to order the removal or discharge of any child. (6.) The expense of conveying young persons to the school to be defrayed in England by the treasurer of the county or city where the sentence was passed; in Scotland by the parochial board of the parish on which the child, if a pauper, would have been chargeable. Where secretary of state orders a removal from one school to another, Treasury to pay expenses. (7.) Governor of prison to send with the child to the school the original duplicate of the warrant of commitment, or if there be no duplicate, a copy, with a signed memorandum certifying that the person sent is the person named therein. The possession of the warrant or copy to authorize detention in the school. (8.) An attested copy of the secretary of state's certificate to be evidence that a school is duly sanctioned, and the warrant of commitment or copy thereof, with a statement signed by the manager that the person referred to was received and kept in the school or otherwise disposed of, to be evidence of the conviction, imprisonment, detention, and identity of the child. (9.) Imposes a penalty not exceeding £5 for wilfully withdrawing a child from a school, or inducing it to abscond. Penalty to be recovered by summary complaint to any justice or magistrate at the instance of the officer of the school. Failing payment offender to be imprisoned for not more than sixty days. Penalty to be applied to the general purposes of the school. (10.) Secretary of state within a month after the passing of this act to publish in the London and Edinburgh Gazettes a list of the certified reformatory or industrial schools. When a new school is certified, notice to be published in Gazettes within a month. The publication to be evidence sufficient to justify any court committing children thereto. When secretary withdraws a certificate, notice to be published in the Gazettes within a month. (11.) Applies to England. (12.) The acts 17 and 18 Vict. c. 74 and c. 86, and 18 and 19 Vict. c. 87, to be read as part of this act. (13.) The word "court" to include all persons authorized by these acts to commit children to reformatory schools or other similar institutions.

EVIDENCE IN FOREIGN CIVIL SUITS.

CHAP. 113. To provide for taking Evidence in Her Majesty's Dominions in relation to Civil and Commercial Matters pending before Foreign Tribunals. July 29.

On the preamble that it is expedient to afford facilities for taking evidence in her majesty's dominions in relation to civil and commercial matters pending before foreign tribunals, § 1. Enacts that any court or judge authorized by this act may, on application, order the examination upon interrogatories or otherwise of witnesses in this country before any person named in the order in relation to civil or commercial matters pending before a foreign tribunal. The production of any specified writings or documents may also be ordered. Order to be enforced like other orders by that court. (2.) A certificate by the foreign ambassador or consul at London that the application is in regard to a matter depending before a tribunal of his country, and that the tribunal desires to obtain the testimony asked for, to be evidence. Where such certificate is not produced other evidence to be admissible. (3.) Persons authorized to take the examination of witnesses under this act to examine upon oath, or affirmation where such is allowed by law. Persons giving false evidence to be guilty of perjury. (4.) Witnesses entitled to be paid as for attendance at a trial. (5.) Witnesses may refuse to answer questions criminating themselves, and to have the same privileges as to answering questions and producing documents as if at a trial before the court in this country which authorizes their examination. (6.) The superior courts at Westminster and Dublin, and the Court of Session in Scotland, to have authority under this act. The Lord Chancellor and two judges of the common law courts at Westminster, to frame rules to give effect to the act and regulate the procedure.

POOR LAW AMENDMENT.

CHAP. 117. To amend the Law relating to the Relief of the Poor in Scotland. July 29.

(1.) The board of supervision, with consent of home secretary, to appoint two general superintendents of the poor in Scotland, who shall take the oath de fidei. Board, with consent of secretary, to assign them districts, and to have power to remove them. Salary paid by Treasury not less than £800 or more than £400 per annum each. (2.) Superintendents to have the powers of the commissioners in the act 8 and 9 Vict. c. 83, the Poor Law Act. (3.) Enacts that instead of repaying sums borrowed for poor law purposes, as directed by the 62d section of the act, by annual instalments of not less than a tenth, the annual repayments need not exceed a thirtieth, exclusive of interest. (4.) This act and the Poor Law Act to be construed as one act.

REGISTRATION OF MARRIAGE.

CHAP. 119. To amend the Provisions of the Marriage and Registration Acts. July 29.

Act comes into operation on the 1st January 1857. The only clause which affects Scotland is the 8th, which enacts, that where one of the parties intending to marry without a license lives in Scotland, a certificate of proclamation of banns by the session clerk to be equivalent to the superintendent registrar's certificate for marriage in England.

EDINBURGH MUNICIPAL ACT.*

(Local Act.)

CHAP. 32. An Act to extend the Municipal Boundaries of the City of Edinburgh; to transfer the Powers of the Commissioners of Police to the Magistrates and Council, and for other Purposes relating to the Municipality of the said City. 23d June.

The preamble recites the various public and local acts affecting the city of Edinburgh, and declares it to be expedient that the municipal boundaries of the city should be enlarged so as to be co-extensive with the parliamentary franchise; that the magistrates and council should be increased in number, the subordinate magistrates abolished, and that the powers of the police commissioners should be transferred to the magistrates and council. (1.) Act to be called "The Edinburgh Municipality Extension Act 1856." (2.) Interpretation clause. The word "city" to mean the city of Edinburgh; sheriff to include sheriff-substitutes. The word "subjects" used in reference to the franchise to mean houses, shops, &c. in respect of which the franchise may be exercised. (3.) The municipal boundaries of the city and royal burgh of Edinburgh to be the same as the parliamentary, described in 2 & 3 Will. IV. c. 65, and the jurisdiction of the magistrates and council extended accordingly. After the first election of magistrates and councillors under this act, the magistrates of the regality of the Canongate and of the baronies of Calton and Portsburgh to cease, and all actions in dependence before these subordinate jurisdictions to be disposed of by the magistrates to be elected under this act. The dean of guild's jurisdiction not to be extended beyond its present limits. (4.) The jurisdiction of the sheriff and justices of peace of the county of Edinburgh to remain as before, except where expressly altered. (5.) Justices of the peace appointed under "the Edinburgh Police Act 1848," for the city of Edinburgh, to hold quarter, special, and petty sessions on the same days and in the same manner as other justices in Scotland. (6.) The magistrates to be elected under this act to grant certificates to public-house keepers within the bounds, and appeals from their judgments to be made to the quarter sessions or adjourned quarter sessions of justices for the city. The rights of the present clerk of the peace for the county to the fees paid by applicants for certificates out of the present royalty are reserved to him. (7.) Offences against the public-house regulating acts, 9 Geo. IV. c. 58, and 16 & 17 Vict. c. 67, or breaches of certificates, may be tried in the police court at the instance of the superintendent. The form of process and disposal of penalties to be regulated by the Police Amendment Act 1854, and no fees to be paid to the clerks or officers of court. (8.) The magistrates to be elected under this act to have an exclusive jurisdiction within their bounds as to weights and measures. (9.) The provisions of this act in regard to the municipal and parliamentary franchise to receive effect in so far as regards the city, though at variance with the provisions of the general Burgh Reform Act, or any other act of Parliament. (10.) The lord provost, the sheriff-depute, and a person to be appointed by one of the secretaries of state, or any two of them, to divide the city into thirteen wards for the exercise of the parliamentary and municipal franchise, each ward to be numbered and named. Seven of the wards to be north and six south of a line running from the parliamentary boundary along the centre of the London Road, Regent Road, Waterloo Place, Princes Street, Lothian Road, St Cuthbert's Lane, Morrison Street, road to Coltbridge. The object of the act is declared to be, that in each ward there should as nearly as possible be the same number of subjects of the yearly value of £10 and upwards, the value to be taken from the roll made up under the Valuation Act. The proposed division into wards to be delineated on a plan which is to be open to inspection for fourteen days, and after due notice and hearing of parties interested, the proposed division is to be finally adjusted, and after approval by the secretary of state to receive effect, and to be published in the newspapers. The powers of the sheriff under 5 and 6 Will. IV. c. 78, § 3, reserved. (11.) When the division into wards has been effected, and the first registration of electors taken place thereafter, the city clerks to make a new register of electors, inserting after the name of each elector the number of his ward, without specifying the parish. Each entry to be certified by their initials, and each page by their signature. This new register to be continued and amended from year to year under authority of the sheriff. (12.) From this new register the city clerks are to form ward registers to be printed annually. Each elector to be entitled to a copy of any ward register for 1s. Expense of making registers and printing to be defrayed out of the municipal revenues and sums received for sale of copies. (13.) Regulates the election of a member of parliament should such an event occur before the completion of the new registers. (14.) Not necessary for electors claiming to be enrolled to specify the parish, but must set forth the number of the ward within which the subjects lie on which they claim: schedules of claims to be altered accordingly. (15.) Lists of claimants divided according to their several wards to be affixed on or before the 26th of July to the door of the church of St Giles. (16.) After the passing of this act the right to elect the town council to belong to registered voters who have resided for the six months prior to 30th June in this and all future years within the limits of the act, or within seven statute miles of some part thereof. No person entitled to vote who has received parochial relief, or been pensioner of any corporation within twelve months of the election. The town clerk at the time of the election, or who made up the list of electors for the election, not to vote. The regulations of the act 3 and 4 Will. IV. c. 76, and other public acts, to be in force. Notice of the annual elections to be affixed to the door of St Giles' church and advertised once in one of the newspapers. The appointment by the senior magistrate of legal substitutes to preside at the polling places, and of poll clerks, to be valid notwithstanding the going out of office of said magistrate. (17.) After this act the number of councillors to be elected to be 39, of whom one is to be chosen lord provost and six bailies. The dean of guild and convener of the trades to be members of council. The majority of the council (i. e. 21 members) to be a quorum. Where four bailies are by any act of parliament constituted trustees or members of any governing body, the four senior of the six bailies to discharge the duty. (18.) On the first Tuesday in November 1856 the 39 councillors are to be elected. (19.) At the first election each ward is to choose three councillors, at each succeeding election one councillor in room of the councillor who has been longest in office. At the election in 1857 that councillor in each ward shall retire who had the smallest number of votes at the election in 1856, and in 1858 the councillor shall retire who had the next smallest number of votes at the election in 1856. Where the votes in any ward have been equal, the magistrates and council are to determine who shall retire. The lord provost and treasurer to remain in office for three years. (20.) The lord provost, whom failing the senior magistrate present, to preside at first meeting of the council elected under this act, until the election and induction of the lo:

provost then to be chosen, but unless himself a new councillor to have only a casting vote. (21.) Upon the election and induction of councillors and office-bearers under this act, the magistrates, councillors, and office-bearers previously in office in the city, Canongate, Calton, and Portsburgh, to go out of office. (22.) New magistrates and council to stand in the same relation to the extended city as the present magistrates and council do to the present burgh, and to have in every way the same rights and powers of administration. (23.) No magistrate, councillor, or partner of any magistrate or councillor, to furnish goods ordered by the council, or execute any public work. No magistrate or councillor to be appointed to any office of emolument in the gift of the council till twelve months after he has ceased to be a member of council. (24.) Transfers all trusts or other grants administered by the magistrates and office-bearers, or by the magistrates and council of the city, or Canongate, or Calton, or Portsburgh, to the new magistrates and office-bearers, or magistrates and council of the city, to be held and administered in the same way as before. This provision not to affect the rights or powers of private individuals nominated or appointed in said trusts or grants. No person in the territory added to the city by this act, other than the town council, to have any right to be an ex officio trustee or manager, as being in the description of persons within the city who are ex officio trustees or guardians. All rights of property, or personal privilege or immunity within the city, to remain intact. (25.) Vests the property of the city and subordinate burghs in the new council. (26.) Rights of superiority belonging to any of the abolished magistracies to be transferred without any formal conveyance to the new magistrates and council. (27.) Abolishes the right to levy the one per cent. tax on valued rent, payable in aid of the common good by 25 Geo. III. c. 28. (28.) The previous acts extending the royalty to remain in force so far as not inconsistent with the present act. (29.) Parochial arrangements not to be affected by the present act. Teinds of lands within the extended bounds reserved to their true owners. (30.) The annuity tax payable within the present royalty and Canongate not to be extended beyond its present limits. (31.) Tenures of lands and the records not to be affected. (32.) Thirlage not to be extended to territory not previously subject. (33.) Qualification of road trustee for the county not to be affected by this act. (34.) After first Tuesday in November the payments of £60 a-year to the Canongate and £30 a-year to each of the resident magistrates of Portsburgh by the commissioners of police are to cease. (35.) After Whitsunday 1857 the customs levied at the Watergate and top of Easter Road to cease. (36.) Council chamber of the Canongate to be maintained for the use of the inhabitants of that district and other public purposes. (37.) Contains provisions with regard to the present clerk of the Canongate. (38.) New council to elect two of their number to perform the duties of the resident bailies of Canongate in regard to the stipend of the ministers of Canongate, laid down in the Scotch act of 5th October 1663. (39.) After the passing of this act the offices of commissioners of the southern districts to cease, balances of land tax in their hands to be paid to Inland Revenue Office. (40.) The land tax payable by the city to be assessed and paid as before; the assessors appointed for the city and burgh of Leith under the Lands Valuation Act to supersede the stent-masters; the magistrates and council of Edinburgh to come in place of the magistrates of Canongate and commissioners of southern districts. No person not previously subject to land tax to be rendered liable by this act. (41.) After 11th November 1856 the lands within the police jurisdiction of Edinburgh and within the parliamentary boundary of Leith to be disjoined from the Edinburgh police territory, but to remain liable for police assessment up to Whitsunday 1857. (42.) The territory disjoined by the preceding clause to form part of the "Old Bounds" described in the "Leith Municipal and Police Act 1848:" property therein acquired for police purposes to be made over to the Leith police commissioners. Lands therein used solely for agricultural purposes, including nursery grounds and market gardens, not to be liable to assessment for ordinary police purposes under the Leith Police Act. The magistrates and council of Edinburgh to pay over to the Leith police commissioners half the net assessment received by them from the disjoined territory for the year ending Whitsunday 1857. (43.) Repeals the provisions in the Edinburgh Police Act 1848 as to election of police commissioners general and resident, being from § 6 to 28 inclusive and § 33 and 42. (44.) Transfers the power and authority of police commissioners to the new town council as soon as they are elected and inducted, and substitutes throughout the police act for the words "the commissioners" the words "the magistrates and council," and for the title Commissioners of Police the title of Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Town-council. The minute books of the town-council to come in place of the books of proceedings of the commissioners. (45.) Vests the property of the police commissioners in the magistrates and council. (46.) Confirms deeds granted, debts contracted, and contracts entered into under authority of police acts. (47.) Unpaid police rates, debts, and penalties to be recovered by the magistrates and council and applied to the purposes of the acts. (48.) Empowers magistrates and council to form committees to carry out police acts, and to name conveners with casting votes, and to fix the quorums of such committees. In the absence of the convener the preses elected by the committee to have a casting vote. In appointing the several committees each ward is to be represented in one or other of them. No committee to have power to fix the number and pay of the watching force, or other officers of police, or to lay on assessments for general or special purposes. Committees to report their proceedings at each ordinary meeting of council. (49.) Officers appointed under the police commissioners to continue in office under the new council. The provisions of the 72d section of the police act 1848 as to the superintendent of police to remain in force. (50.) Police accounts to be kept separate from city affairs; to be open to inspection, and published in the same way as the accounts of the municipal revenues. (51.) Conveyances of heritable property acquired for police purposes to be taken in favour of the magistrates and council, and recorded in the Register of Sasines, and to be as valid as if they had been followed by a sasine recorded according to law. (52.) Town-councillors to be constables within the limits of this act, and to be head constables, and have a general superintendence of their respective wards for police purposes. The magistrates and council to appoint, remove, and reappoint two electors residing or carrying on business in each ward to perform the duties of resident commissioners, said electors also to be constables within the limits of the act, and in the absence of all councillors the head constables in their respective wards. (53.) After November all police offences to be judged of in the police court by the magistrates or any one of them. The power conferred on the sheriff and his substitutes by the 80th section of the Edinburgh Police Act 1848 to continue. The lord provost and the sheriff, and in the event of difference between them the lord advocate, to arrange the order in which the magistrates and sheriffs shall officiate as police judges. Offences committed in the territory annexed to the Leith police district to be judged of in the Leith police court. (54.) Provides compensation to all persons deprived of office by this act, the amount to be fixed by the magistrates and council, and paid out of any revenues under their control. (55.) Repeals that part of the Edinburgh Paving Act (9 and 10 Vict. c. 365) which provides that the convener of the southern districts, the senior bailie of Portsburgh, the two bailies of the Canongate, and seven elected members of town council, and three persons elected by the commissioners of the southern districts, shall be members of the city of Edinburgh paving board, said repeal not to take effect till the second Monday in December after the passing of the act. (56.) After the said second Monday in December the junior bailie of Edinburgh to be a trustee of the middle district of roads, and a member of the city paving board. (57.) On the first Tuesday in November in each year the electors in each ward shall choose from among the electors who reside or carry on business within the limits of this act, one person to be a trustee of the said middle district, who shall enter on his office on the second Monday of December following and remain in office for one year; such person may be a town-councillor also. The election to be conducted at the same time and by the same parties who officiate at the election of councillors, and the expense if any to be included in and defrayed from the same fund. The city clerks within ten days after the election annually to transmit to the clerk of the paving board a certified list of the thirteen persons elected, and the clerk of the paving board to intimate to each of the thirteen to attend the annual meeting of the board held on the second Monday in December. In the event of any default in the election, or death or declinature of parties elected, it is competent for the remaining trustees to carry the paving act into execution. They are to supply vacancies by electing qualified persons in room of those who have failed, the person selected to remain in office until the expiry of the period during which the person whose place he is selected to fill would have continued in office. (58.) Provides that the board as constituted under this act, and the old paving act so far as unrepealed, is to be called "The City of Edinburgh Paving Board," and is to execute all acts of parliament having relation to the middle district of roads. (59.) Vests the property and powers of the old paving board in the new one. After the second Monday in December after the passing of this act, the officers appointed under the old act to continue in office in the same way and under the same conditions as before. (60.) Former acts of paving board to be valid; new board to represent the old one in regard to all rights, liabilities, claims, and demands. (61.) Expenses of this act to be paid out of the municipal revenues of the city.

ABSTRACTS OF LEADING CASES

IN THE SUPREME COURTS,

*From the beginning of the Winter Session 1855-56, to the End of the Summer Session 1856.**

CHURCH-MEMBERSHIP.

Thallon v. Kennedy, 15th Nov. 1855.

In the course of an inquiry into the pursuer's conduct by a kirk-session, he wrote a letter withdrawing from membership. Held that it was competent for the session still to go on with the case, and to suspend him from church privileges, and that the pursuer had no claim of damages on that account.

The pursuer was a member of the United Presbyterian Church which meets in Kirkgate Chapel, Leith. The kirk-session had endeavoured to effect a reconciliation between the pursuer and certain members of his family, and several communications took place, which ended in his being cited to attend the next meeting. The pursuer thereupon wrote a letter, in which he stated: "I think it proper to withdraw myself from membership in the Kirkgate congregation until our present difference is placed on a satisfactory footing." The session, however, cited him again, and in respect of his refusal to meet them, suspended him from church-membership, and instructed their clerk to intimate the sentence. The pursuer then raised an action of damages for libel, contending that it was incompetent and ultra vires for the session to proceed with the case after his withdrawal. The Court, however, dismissed the action, holding that the session had done nothing that was either ultra vires or defamatory—that no persons had a right to decline a jurisdiction to which they were subject by withdrawing as soon as proceedings they did not relish were instituted against them, and raising an action of damages against the judges who proceeded with the case.

* These Cases are abbreviated from the ordinary Professional Reports, and are strictly limited to points of general interest and practical importance.

PAROCHIAL BOARD.

Hardie v. Kirk-Session of Linlithgow,
15th November.

Property bought by a kirk-session in 1707 and administered by them exclusively ever since for relief of the poor and other charitable purposes, found not to belong to the parochial board.

In 1707 the kirk-session of Linlithgow bought 35 acres of land from monies which had accumulated in their hand, and the origin of which could not now be traced. The title was taken to their then eleemosynar for "the use and behoof of the said kirk-session and poor of the said parish." The property had been managed by them ever since, and the annual proceeds were devoted principally to the poor both casual and parochial. The parochial Board, founding on the 52d section of the late act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 73, claimed that the session should denude in their favour, and account for their intrusions since the passing of the act. The Court held that, ex facie of the titles, this estate did not fall under the operation of the 52d section, which applied to property vested in the heritors and kirk-session or others for the use and behoof of the poor. That the onus of proving it to be held in trust for the proper parish poor fell upon the pursuers, and that they had failed to prove that, as in point of fact, a large portion of the annual income had been applied for the relief of parties who had no legal claim, and whose interests would be prejudiced by sustaining the pursuer's action.

SALE—ACCEPTANCE.

Johnston v. Clark, 21st November.

In order to make an offer of sale binding, the acceptance must be absolute. If the party adjust conditions to this acceptance, the offerer is not bound.

An agreement was entered into by Clark, the proprietor of Westerinch, and Johnston, by which Clark agreed to sell him the lands for £5500; but in respect that Johnston had not examined the lands in reference to purchase, the agreement was not to be binding upon him unless he declared within fourteen days, by a writing under his hand, that he adhered to it. Within the specified time, Johnston wrote that he adhered to the bargain, but upon three conditions: 1st, That the feu-duty was merely nominal; 2nd, That the extent of the land, including the mess, was not less than 200 acres; 3d, That the whole of the minerals in the lands should be conveyed.

Clark having refused to convey the lands, Johnston raised an action to compel implement, arguing that he did not by his letter add any new conditions, but merely put in writing his understanding of facts stated in regard to the property at the time the original agreement was entered into, and which he offered to prove. The Court dismissed the action, holding that an acceptance is nothing unless absolute; that the acceptor cannot force an offerer to reconsider and apply his mind a second time to the matter in hand, and that the qualifications here were material and affected the nature of the agreement.

TRUST-DEED.

Mackilligin's Trustees v. Mackilligin,
23d November.

A trust-deed may be effectual although it does not contain a conveyance of the lands.

The late Mr Mackilligin of Relugas conveyed his whole property in trust to certain persons for certain purposes. He subsequently executed a codicil in which he recalled the nomination of the trustees he had made and made a fresh appointment, but without conveying the land to the new trustees. Argued for the heir-at-law, that heritage could not be affected except by a deed expressly conveying it, and that here the original appointment and conveyance being revoked by the codicil and no new conveyance being made, the trust-deed became inoperative and ineffectual. The Court held that the deed and codicil were to be read together; that they constituted an effectual trust-deed; and that the trustees were entitled to ask the heir-at-law to make up titles and convey the property over to them.

RAILWAY SHARES—TRANSFERENCE.

Howden & Aitken v. Kennedy & Co.,
28th November.

A person who buys railway shares on condition of paying a call, which has been made but is not yet due, is not entitled to plead that the sale is null in respect the Companies Clauses Act, § 17, declares, that shares upon which calls have been made are not transferable.

The pursuers, acting as the defender's brokers on 7th October 1847, bought 50 shares of New Caledonian Railway Stock at 1s. per share. A call of £1, 5s. had then been made upon each share, payable on 14th October, and it was a condition of the purchase that the defenders should pay the call. The defenders paid the price of the shares and the commission, but failed to pay the call. The pursuers, who, as brokers, by a rule of the Exchange, were personally liable, paid the call and raised an action against the defenders for the amount. The defence was, that the shares were, by the 17th section of the Companies Clauses Act, not transferable at the time they were bought, and that the sale was consequently a nullity. The Court repelled the defence, holding that it was plain that the defenders were bound by the contract to pay the call; that there was nothing illegal in such a contract; and even if there were, it was not for the defenders to plead such illegality.

HOUSE—MUTUAL GABLE.

Monteith v. Law, 30th November.

A party who buys a building-stance and makes use of a mutual gable is liable for one-half the expense of it.

The defender bought a plot of ground in Garscadden Street, Glasgow, the eastern boundary of which is the gable of the pursuer's house. This gable was built as a mutual gable, and stood for half its thickness on the defender's feu, who in building his house accordingly made use of it as the gable. The pursuer claimed £46, 12s. 9½d. as the half the value of the said gable. The Court found him entitled to it. The Lord President observed: "The principle to be applied here is, that the liability attaches from the beginning to the adjoining proprietor who is in the position of the defender, but that (apart from special contract) he is not bound to pay the builder of the gable until he makes use of it. The nature of the property implies the obligation to pay, and the presumption is that payment has not been made before the party has availed himself of the privilege of using the gable."

CRIMINAL PROCESS—REVIEW.

Jameson v. Lothian, 3d December.

(High Court of Justiciary.)

Held that it was incompetent to review in the Court of Justiciary an interlocutor of the Sheriff finding the libel relevant and remitting the case for trial.

A pannel accused of theft and fraud before the Sheriff of Edinburgh objected to the relevancy of the libel. The Sheriff repelled the objections, and the pannel advocated the case. Objected that an advocacy was incompetent at this stage of the proceedings, for the recent Sheriff-Court Act, which fixed two diets, did not intend to give any right of review which had not existed before; on the contrary, it expressly enacted that the second diet should proceed absolutely on the day named for it without any hindrance. The Court sustained the objection, and dismissed the advocacy with expenses.

CRIMINAL SENTENCE.

Grant v. Grant, 3d December.

(High Court of Justiciary.)

A farm-servant who had deserted his service was tried, under the 39th section of the Act 4 Geo. IV. c. 34, for the said desertion, found guilty, and sentenced to imprisonment for a period not exceeding two calendar months. The Court unanimously quashed the sentence in respect of its vagueness, holding that no definite period of imprisonment had been awarded.

BANKRUPT—PERSONAL PROTECTION.

Hodge, Appellant, 4th December.

If a majority of creditors agree to grant a bankrupt personal protection, the Sheriff has no power to withhold his assent.

On 18th June last a majority of the creditors of George Buchanan resolved that the personal protection be renewed for twelve months, and instructed the trustee to make the necessary application to the Sheriff.

The appellant and others, who formed the minority, appeared before the Sheriff and objected. The words of the statute (2 & 3 Vict. c. 41, § 58) are, that "the trustee shall apply to the Sheriff, who shall renew the protection;" and the Sheriff held that under these words he had no discretion, but must, if satisfied that there was the necessary majority, renew the protection. To this view of the statute the Court adhered.

CARRIER—REPARATION.

Bates v. Cameron, 6th December.

A carrier who had received a box of goods to forward per rail for despatch by a particular steamer to America having failed to do so, held liable for the value of the goods estimated at the invoice price.

Bates & Co., American merchants, through their Glasgow agents, sent a box of muslin trimming, on 3d April 1850, to Cameron & Co.'s office, who are general carriers, for transmission to Liverpool, in time for the steamer "America," which was to sail for Boston on the 6th. The box, through some delay on the part of Cameron, did not arrive at Liverpool in time, and the pursuers' agents declined to forward it by the next vessel as the period for a profitable market for the goods had been in a great measure lost. They then raised an action for £83, 9s. 8d., the value of the goods as per invoice, and for £80 as damages for loss of profit. The Sheriff ordered the defenders to sell the goods and consign the free proceeds. The defenders refused, and the Sheriff decreed against them for the invoice price. The defenders advocated, pleading that as they were not the proprietors it was not their business to sell the goods, and that all they could possibly be liable for was any special damage that might have been sustained through the original failure to transmit the goods in time, and that nothing about this had been proved; and that, in point of fact, no loss had been really sustained. The Court held that this was a case of importance as to carriers' liabilities, and that in the circumstances the Sheriff's decision was right. The box here had not arrived in time for the steamer; the delay was owing to the fault of the defenders; the goods remained in their hands, and the pursuers having to pay the price of the goods were entitled to go against the defenders for it. That they might have been entitled to the profit they had lost, but not having proved anything about it, all the Court could do was to keep them indemnis against actual loss, and that the defenders were bound to pay the invoice price.

STAMP—EVIDENCE.

Bannatyne v. Wilson, 13th December.

In this case, a document without a stamp, bearing to be a "Principal State or Account," and containing a receipt for the balance, was admitted as collateral evidence of the true nature of the transaction between the parties.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT.

Hay v. Linton, 15th December.

(High Court of Justiciary.)

The Reformatory or Industrial Schools Act enacts, that if children under fourteen be found begging they may be brought before a magistrate, and after due intimation to the inspector of the poor and the parents or guardians, unless "the parents, guardians, or other persons interested" appear and find caution, they may be sent to an industrial school. Held in construing this act, that it is illegal to detain a child in custody during the time necessary for intimation, and that the inspector of the poor may offer caution.

Susan Guy, a child of about nine years old, was brought before one of the Edinburgh bailies on the charge of being found begging, and the superintendent of police presented a petition praying that she should be sent to the reformatory school. During the intimation the child was detained in the police cells. The inspector for the poor stated that the child and her mother were paupers on the paupers roll, and offered to find caution. The magistrate, holding that the inspector was not one of the parties entitled by the act to find caution, transmitted the child to the Original Ragged School at the Castlehill. In consequence of this decision, the parochial board became liable to pay 5s. a-week to the ragged school during the time the child remained there, and as the same course had been followed in other 38 cases, the parochial board brought the present suspension to try the question. The Lord Justice General, in delivering the opinion of the Court, said he looked upon this case as one of great importance, and they all regarded it in that light. It was the first case that had come before the Court in reference to the functions and applications of a very important statute. There were two matters: one as to the validity of the tender of caution; the other, in reference to those warrants by which the child was dealt with while the proceedings under the petition were going on. The Court was of opinion the offer of caution was sufficient. The interest of the poor law inspector entitled him to come forward, and the caution he tendered was unobjectionable. That there might be a very great and important interest to the poor law board for behoof of those children not to separate families but to have them all maintained together, and they had themselves the power of giving their funds to educate pauper children; and in regard to the warrants granted, it appeared they were not applicable to the condition of the party under this petition, that they were irregular, and ought not to have been issued.

HEIR—EXHIBITION OF TITLES.

Liddell v. Wilson, 19th December.

A party died leaving a general trust-deed. The trustees proceeded to make up title in the usual way, by an action of constitution against the heir-at-law. The heir raised an action for exhibition of the title-deeds ad deliberandum. The action was objected to as incompetent; but after a careful review of all the authorities, the Court sustained the heir's right to bring the action.

TOLL—SUNDAY EXEMPTION.

Spottiswoode v. Laing, 22d December.

This was a case as to whether the toll at Drygrange Bridge, near Melrose, was liable to the exemptions in the General Turnpike Act. The Court decided that it was, and also decided the general question, that parties who require post-horses to be sent from a town in the neighbourhood to take them to church on Sunday, are entitled to have them sent free through the toll-bar to take the carriage to church, and also to return free through the toll after having taken the carriage home, on their way back to the stables of their owner.

SHERIFF'S DECREE—REVIEW.

Hopkirk v. W. & J. Wilson, 22d Dec.

It is incompetent to bring a Sheriff Court decree up for review where the sum concluded for is below £25, although the decree with expenses may be for more than that sum.

The pursuer here had been found liable by the Sheriff to pay the defenders £14, 19s. 2d. for coals furnished to him, and £10, 8s. 10d. of expenses, with 4s., being the dues of extract. He suspended, but the Court held they could not entertain the case. The expenses were extrinsic of the debt or right in issue, and neither increased its amount nor added to its value, and the power of the Court in regard to them did not depend on the conclusions of the summons.

AGENT AND CLIENT—DONATION.

Anstruther v. Wilkie, 19th Jan. 1856.

A stipulation by a client to give his agent a sum of money beyond the amount due to him professionally is illegal and cannot be enforced.

The defender, a solicitor in Edinburgh, had acted as the pursuer's agent, and carried through the disentailing of the Elie estates, the settlement with creditors, and much serious and heavy agency. The pursuer agreed to give him £1000 beyond the amount of his account, and granted a bond and disposition in security for that sum. His accounts were made out, and a quarrel having taken place about the taxation of them, the pursuer brought a reduction of his bond and disposition in so far as regarded this £1000 donation, arguing that it was illegal and contrary to the rules of sound policy to allow agreements of this kind to be entered into where one of the parties stands in such a relation to the other that he is morally speaking not a free agent. The Court reduced the deed. Lord Wood said: "I am of opinion that in this country a gift from a client to an agent, pending the subsistence of the relation, cannot be maintained; it is absolutely void. I say absolutely, independent of and excluding all inquiry; for it is plain that were it not so, but modified so as to make the invalidity depend on the circumstances of the case, the object of protecting the client from the influence of the agent would in all probability be to a great extent defeated, and the client's interest would be sacrificed in those very instances where he had been most unscrupulously dealt with, but where the expertness and management of the agent had enabled him effectually to secure the injustice of the transaction from detection."

ALIMENT—ACT OF GRACE.

Advocate General v. Magistrates of Inverness, 21st January.

(In Exchequer.)

A party held entitled to the benefit of the Act of Grace, though the crown was the incarcerating creditor.

Ewen Fraser was imprisoned in the jail of Inverness at the instance of the crown for failure to pay a double assessment imposed on him for killing game without a certificate. He petitioned the magistrates of Inverness to be allowed aliment under the Act of Grace. The bailie, upon inquiry, and after hearing parties, awarded aliment at the rate of 14d. per diem. The case was removed into Exchequer, and the crown contended that the Act of Grace 6 Geo. IV. c. 62 only applied to poor persons imprisoned for civil debts, which was not the case here; and besides, that as crown debtors were not specially mentioned in the act, the rights of the crown could not be affected by it. The Court, however, held, that this party not being imprisoned in modum pauperis, he must be held as in jail for a civil debt; and that as there was no exception made in the Act of Grace of debts due to the crown, the petitioner was entitled to the benefit of that act.

CRIME—CONCEALMENT OF PREGNANCY.

Advocate v. Gall, 24th January.

(High Court of Justiciary.)

The Court, after full argument, decided that a woman who had disclosed her being in the family way to the putative father was not guilty of the statutory crime of concealment of pregnancy.

TUTOR—EXPENSES.

Johnstone v. Beattie, 29th January.

Scotch tutors are entitled to claim from their ward's estate the expenses incurred in an unsuccessful litigation in Chancery in defence of their office.

Miss Beattie of Crieve was an infant when her father died, leaving a will, in which he named certain gentlemen in Scotland to be her tutors. They accepted office and administered the estate. The child was taken to England by her mother, who soon after died, and the child's maternal relatives applied to have her made a ward of Chancery. The Scotch tutors appeared and objected, and a long litigation ensued. At last the House of Lords, by a majority of three to two, sustained the Lord Chancellor's jurisdiction, and appointed English guardians to the pupil. Miss Beattie having now attained the age of puberty, the Scotch tutors, whose office had expired, claimed to have the expenses of this English litigation deducted out of the pupil's funds. The expenses amounted to £1918, 0s. 9d. For the minor, it was objected that these expenses were not proper tutorial outlays, being incurred in litigation with the ward herself, and that being the expenses of a suit in Chancery, that court was alone and exclusively entitled to deal with them. The Court allowed the expenses in question, holding that this was a question of Scotch law to be determined by a Scotch court. That the proceedings taken by the tutors in England were reasonable and proper proceedings, and in the discharge of their duty to their ward, and could not in any sense be viewed as adverse or hostile, and that mere failure to succeed did not form the test for allowing or disallowing said expenses.

POOR—SETTLEMENT.

Hay v. Thomson, 6th February.

In the case of an illegitimate child born to a pauper widow, the parish of the mother's settlement is liable for its maintenance.

Elizabeth Lothian or Campbell was born in the parish of Cranstoun. Her husband died having a settlement in the parish of St Cuthbert's, which accrued to her and is now her settlement. After his death she had an illegitimate child, born in the Maternity Hospital in the parish of Canongate. The question was, which parish was liable for the maintenance of the child? The whole Court was consulted, and by a majority they held the parish of the mother's settlement was the parish liable, and that it was of no consequence how that settlement had been acquired, whether by marriage or industrial residence or birth; that her settlement, however constituted, was the settlement of her illegitimate child.

DEEDS—PAGINATION.

The Edinburgh and Glasgow Bank v. Galbraith, 5th February.

It is essential to the validity of a deed written bookways, that the pages should be marked either in figures or letters.

This was a challenge of a bond and disposition in security for £5500 over the estate of Macrihanish, brought by a postponed creditor. The sole ground of reduction was that the deed was not paged. It was written on two sheets of stamped paper: it ended on the seventh page, and the testing clause bore that it was written on this and the six preceding pages; there was also a regular catchword connecting each page with the preceding. The Court, upon a full review of the authorities, unanimously held, that the deed was invalid and inoperative in respect of want of pagination, and that this was a statutory requisite which could not be dispensed with. The deed was accordingly reduced and set aside.

CHURCH COURT—EXPENSES.

Burt v. Taylor, 14th February.

The objecting minority of a presbytery are not liable for any portion of the expenses incurred by the majority in carrying on a prosecution against a member before the church courts.

Certain rumours having arisen affecting the character of the Rev. Mr Burt of Ferry-port-on-Craig, the presbytery of St Andrews, by a majority, appointed a committee to make full inquiry. The minority dissented and protested. The committee employed professional agents to make a recognition, and ultimately a libel was prepared in name of the presbytery against Mr Burt for drunkenness. The libel was prosecuted, and Mr Burt found guilty and ultimately deposed by the General Assembly. The present action was raised to recover from the minority their share of £352, 12s. 2d., being the expenses incurred in these proceedings. The argument was, that they had acted in discharge of a statutory duty incumbent on the whole presbytery, and it would be contrary to equity that any members should be exempted from paying their share: that they had no choice but to prosecute, and the prosecution was clearly ob majus bonum ecclesie. The Court, however, held that there was no claim: that it was not a case for contribution, because there were no civil or patrimonial interests involved, and it would be extremely hard and against equity to call upon a conscientious minority to pay expenses incurred against their opinion. The proceedings were taken not for the benefit of the members of presbytery, but for the people of the parish, and there is nothing in the constitution of a presbytery which confers power on a majority to bind a dissenting minority in personal expenditure or patrimonial risk and loss to any extent or effect.

DAMAGE—LIABILITY OF OWNER.

Cleghorn v. Taylor, 27th February.

The owner of the property held liable for the damage done by the fall of an insecurely built chimney can.

The tenant of a house belonging to the defenders employed a slater to put up a chimney can with an iron turning top. This was done in an insecure and insufficient manner, and seventeen days afterwards it fell on the glass roof of an adjoining ware-room, smashing an immense quantity of crockery ware; and the question was, whether the owner of the premises or the slater employed to put up the can was primarily liable for the damage. The owner maintained that without culpa on his part there could be no liability, that he had done all he could by employing a skilled workman, and that if damage arose from the failure of duty on the part of the workman, the owner was not to be made liable.

The Court, however, unanimously held the owner liable in the first instance for the damage caused by his property being in an insecure and insufficient state, leaving him to seek his relief against the tradesman he employed. Lord Wood said, Were it otherwise, and were the proprietor not responsible from the time that the work is completed, the most inconvenient and unjust consequences would ensue; for if not then, although the loss arose a year or two, or six years after, the proprietor's defence would be good, and the injured party would have to seek his reparation from the tradesman or his representatives who might have been employed, if they could be found, which very possibly might not be the case, and this however trifling the piece of work done, or however unsubstantial the tradesman may have been in his circumstances.

NIGHT POACHING.

Smith v. Young, 8th March.

(High Court of Justiciary.)

The Court decided that a tenant farmer may be guilty, under the Night Poaching Act, of "unlawfully entering upon" his farm for the purpose of taking game.

SEQUESTRATION—DISCHARGE.

M'Neille v. Campbell, 11th March.

A creditor, whose claim of debt is a prescribed account, cannot oppose the bankrupt's obtaining his discharge on a composition, without proving the validity of his debt.

The bankrupt Campbell offered a composition of 1s. per pound, which was assented to by creditors to the value of £1840, 15s. 4d. The appellant M'Neille, whose claim was £8, 4s. for boots and shoes, objected to the discharge, and appealed against the sheriff's deliverance approving thereof. The bankrupt now objected to M'Neille's right to appear, in respect that the account was prescribed, the last item being dated 30th December 1843, and the claim not being made till August 1847. The Court held, that where there is an application for discharge, and only one creditor of small amount appears to oppose it, the bankrupt is entitled to show that that party never was a creditor at all, and that here the objection of prescription having been taken, the appellant must prove his claim.

MARRIAGE—LEGITIMACY.

Fenton v. Livingstone, 27th May.

A Scotchman who had acquired an English domicile, married his wife's sister: the offspring, if legitimate in England, will be recognised as such in Scotland.

A competition for the Bedlormie estate, in the county of Linlithgow, between the sister and nephew of the late proprietor, Admiral Sir Thomas Livingstone, the question at issue being, whether the nephew was legitimate or not. The state of the fact was this: Thurstanus Livingstone, the younger brother of Sir Thomas, was born at Bedlormie about 1772. He went to sea at the age of fourteen, and never returned to Scotland. He was in the merchant service till 1796, when he became a seaman in his majesty's ship Sandwich, and being wounded in the arm received a pension in 1797. In October of that year he married his first wife, an Englishwoman, in London, and, save when absent at sea, lived with her there in different houses rented by him till she died in April 1806. One child only was born alive of this marriage, and it died in a few months. In 1808 he married the sister of his first wife, a widow, and also a domiciled Englishwoman. The defender, Alexander Livingstone, is the eldest son of this marriage. For several months Thurstanus lived with his wife in London in the house she had occupied prior to her marriage. He then went to sea for some years in the navy, and was discharged as unserviceable in November 1811. He then lived with his family in various rented houses in and near London, continuing occasionally to go to sea till 1820. After this he lived on shore in business with his wife and family till her death in 1832. He died himself in 1839; and the succession to the estate opened by the death of Sir Thomas in 1853. The nephew, if legitimate, as heir of entail, was entitled to succeed in preference to Mrs Fenton his aunt, the sister of Sir Thomas. The Court after very full argument held, 1st, That in the circumstances Thurstanus Livingstone must be held at the period of his second marriage to have been a domiciled Englishman. 2d, That his son Alexander is legitimate in England. And, 3d, That his status of legitimacy must be recognised in Scotland; but that this recognition of status did not import any approval of the connexion or recognition of the marriage of which he was the offspring.

HERITABLE AND MOVABLE.

Heron v. Espie, 3d June.

An arbitration was entered into to fix the amount due by a railway company for land taken and damage caused by them, and a decree-arbitral had been pronounced fixing the sum. A disposition of the land was drawn up, and had been revised by the proprietor's agents, but he died before it could be executed. The question that now arose was, whether the money to be paid by the railway company fell to the heir or to the executor. The question was one of great difficulty, and was argued before the whole Court. The judges, by a majority of seven to six, held that it was movable and belonged to the executor, on the ground that there had been before the proprietor's death a concluded contract of sale, and that the real beneficial interest was limited to the sum of money.

SHERIFF SUBSTITUTE—DAMAGES.

Hamilton v. Anderson, 11th June.

A sheriff substitute is not liable in damages for a judicial act not in itself incompetent or in excess of jurisdiction.

In the sheriff court of Kilmarnock the defender, who is sheriff substitute there, ordered a particular statement in a record to be expunged, because it was untrue and disrespectful to the court. The pursuer, who was the agent conducting the process, declined to delete the offensive passage, maintaining that the statement was innocent and true, and necessary to the cause, and was not meant to be disrespectful to the court. The defender thereupon suspended the pursuer from exercising his functions as procurator in the sheriff court of Ayrshire for a month. The pursuer claimed damages on the ground that this suspension was malicious and without probable cause, and had injured his status, feelings, and patrimonial interest.

The Court held the action not to be maintainable. That the order to expunge was a competent judicial order, which ought to have been obeyed by the pursuer, and that the sheriff had power to deal judicially with the pursuer's refusal to expunge, and was in so acting still within his judicial competency, and entitled to be protected by law from any claim of damages. The mere general allegation of malice was insufficient to deprive a judge of protection, otherwise the efficiency of the judicial system would be destroyed and great hardship incurred by judges.

APPEAL—COMPETENCY.

Magistrates of Renfrew v. Hoby, 12th June.

The question here was, whether the magistrates of Renfrew had a right of harbour or not, and that again depended on whether they had been in the practice of levying harbour dues within the last forty years. An issue was adjusted and a jury empaneled to try the case. After the evidence had been led, the Lord Justice Clerk, with the consent of the parties, discharged the jury without a verdict, in order that the case might be decided by the Court upon the notes, each party entitled to raise any question of law the notes and record suggested. The Court having heard parties decided against the magistrates of Renfrew, who appealed. The appeal was dismissed as incompetent, the Lord Chancellor holding that the decision here was not one given by the Court in the ordinary course of law, but was "a matter of fact found by the judges in pursuance of a delegated authority given to them by the parties, putting them in the place of the jury." It was therefore in the same position as a verdict of a jury, and could not be appealed against.

ENTAIL—MELIORATIONS.

Farquharson, Petitioner, 19th June.

The Court refused to allow the expense of trenching to be charged as a permanent improvement against an estate in a petition under the Montgomery Act, although it was alleged to be absolutely necessary to make the drains operative.

FACTORS AND TRUSTEES—EXPENSES.

Reid, Baillie, and Lord Gray, Petitioners, 21st June.

These were three petitions in which the question arose, whether, when factors, curators bonis, or trustees, happened to be members of a legal firm, that firm could charge for business done for the trust estate. The opinion of the whole Court was taken, and by a very large majority it was decided that in such a case nothing could be allowed but merely the costs actually out of pocket.

ARRESTMENT.

Kellas v. Brown, 25th June.

One of the points decided in this case was, that an arrestment of goods on board a ship in the hands of the master was valid, although the vessel was in a home port, and there was an owner on board acting as ship's-husband.

PROMISSORY NOTE—STAMP.

McGubbin v. Stephen, 10th July.

Documents conceived in this form, "Received from Mr George Stephen the sum of eleven pounds sterling, payable on demand," signed "Colin Morison," held to be promissory notes, and null for the want of the proper stamp.

IRON SCRIP.

Dixon and Johnson v. Bovill, 29th July.

Question as to validity of iron scrip notes. Opinion of Lord Chancellor that they are not.

Dixon, an iron master in Glasgow, issued the following document to Smith and Son: "Glasgow, 10th July 1849.—I will deliver 1000 tons No. 1. pig iron free on board here when required after the 10th day of September next to the party lodging this document with me." Smith and Son sold this note to Balls and Son, and received the price. Balls and Son intimated the transfer to Dixon, who agreed to implement it. Before implement, however, Smith and Son failed, without having paid Dixon, who thereupon refused to deliver the iron to Bovill, Balls and Son's assignee. The question was argued as to the validity of these documents generally, and whether they conveyed a right to the assignee absolutely like a bill of exchange. The Court of Session held them as documents in re mercatoria to be good and valid, and not to require a stamp, and that Dixon was bound unconditionally to deliver the iron to any one presenting himself.

On appeal the House of Lords affirmed the judgment, but on the special ground that it was clear from what had passed between the parties that Dixon had adopted Balls and Son as the parties to whom he was to deliver the iron, and that he had delivered some to them. As to the iron scrip notes the Lord Chancellor remarked, "If the question had turned exclusively upon the validity or invalidity of this document, I am bound to say that I should not have concurred with the Court of Session. I think that the document is invalid. The effect of such a document, if valid, is to give a floating right of action to any person who may become possessed of the document. Now I am prepared to say, that this cannot be tolerated by the law either of Scotland or of England. . . . The rule preventing such actions is by no means one of a technical nature. It is a rule founded on extremely good sense. . . . Where an action is brought by one of the contracting parties, illegality of consideration can always be pleaded as a defence. So also where action is brought by the assignee of the original contract. It is the policy of the law to preserve this principle intact, in order to prevent courts being made ancillary to the violation of the law. Now this principle is entirely defeated if a contracting party can make a floating contract enforceable by bearer, for the bearer does not sue as assignee of the original contracting party."

PROPERTY AND INCOME TAX.

The first Table which follows shows the net amount of Property and Income Tax received in Great Britain for each of the nine years (ending 5th April) from 1867 to 1905, classed under the several schedules of the statute. It is to be kept in mind that the Act 16 and 17 Vict. c. 34, extending the tax to incomes of £100 a-year, and otherwise affecting its operation, took effect from the 5th of April 1853; and that the Acts 17 and 18 Vict. c. 10 and c. 24, by which the tax was increased to the extent of one-half, took effect from the 5th of April 1854:—

The amount of tax in the year ending 5th April 1854 was affected by the Act 16 and 17 Vict. c. 34: the rate was doubled, in the year ending 5th April 1855, by the Acts 17 and 18 Vict. c. 10 and c. 24.

The subjoined Table (in continuation of tables in former Almanacs) exhibits the number and classes of persons, and the amount of income, charged under schedule D (Trades and Professions) and schedule E (Public Salaries), in Great Britain and Ireland, during the year ending 5th April 1855:—

The Act 16 and 17 Vict. c. 34, extending the Property and Income Tax to Ireland, took effect on the 5th April 1853: the amount of the rate was doubled by the Acts 17 and 18 Vict. c. 10 and c. 24, which took effect on the 5th April 1854.

STAMPS.

The following is an account of the net produce of the several Stamp Duties in the United Kingdom, in the year ending 31st March 1856:—Deeds and other instruments not included under any of the following heads, £1,218,737; Probates of Wills and Letters of Administration, £1,151,526; Bills of Exchange, £444,599; Bankers' Notes, £6152; Composition for the duties on the Bills and Notes of the Banks of England and Ireland, and of country bankers, £57,722; Receipts and Drafts, £257,630; Marine Insurances, £324,383; Licenses and Certificates, £201,258; Newspapers and Supplements, and other Papers, £255,542; Medicine, £38,289; Legacies and Successions, £1,699,346; Fire Insurances, £1,280,441; Gold and Silver Plate, £63,562; Cards and Dice, £12,327; other articles, £52,090: total, £7,063,610.

LAND AND ASSESSED TAXES.

The net produce of the several articles of Land and Assessed Taxes in Great Britain (Ireland being exempt from this fiscal burden), in the year ending 31st March 1856, is shown in the subjoined statement:—LAND TAX: On Land and Tenements, £1,157,525. ASSESSED TAXES: Inhabited Houses, £728,688; servants, £185,826; Carriages, £283,853; Horses for riding, &c. £231,594; Other Horses and Mules, £109,304; Dogs, £208,912; Horse-dealers, £13,818; Hair-powder, £1404; Armorial bearings, £53,748; Game duty, £125,364; Composition duty, £5828; additional ten per cent. by Act 3 Vict. c. 17, £11,912; other articles, £18,299: total of Land and Assessed Taxes, £3,136,077.

THE POST-OFFICE.

The "Second Report of the Postmaster-general on the Post-office," states that, during the year 1855, the number of post-offices in the United Kingdom was increased by 525, making the whole number 10,498, of which 920 are head post-offices, and 9578 are sub post-offices or receiving-offices; free deliveries were established at 1327 places where none had formerly existed; at 649 other places, the free delivery was extended or otherwise improved; in Edinburgh and Manchester, the delivery of letters was accelerated by the use of carriages for conveying the letter-carriers to the more distant parts of these cities; 60 additional towns were provided with day mails; an important acceleration was effected of the night mails between London and the North of England, Ireland, and Scotland, thus extending the interval for replying to letters at Edinburgh, Greenock, Perth, Aberdeen, and Inverness to more than four hours, and at Glasgow and Dundee to about five hours; an improvement was made on the postal communication from the north of Ireland to the south-west of Scotland, thereby affording increased facilities in relation to the large iron and coal trade between these districts; and a contract was entered into for the regular conveyance of the mail by steam to the Orkney Islands, the packet to run daily in summer and thrice a-week in winter, in lieu of occasional steam communication supplemented by a sailing-boat.

Exclusive of conveyance by steam-vessels and boats, and not counting the walks of letter-carriers and rural messengers, or the carriage of the mails from post-offices to railway stations, the whole distance over which mails are now conveyed within the United Kingdom is nearly 59,000 miles per week-day, being about 2000 miles more than at the end of 1854; this increase being wholly in railway conveyance. It will be seen, however, from the following Table, that more than half the duty is still performed by coaches and mail-carts :—

	Mails conveyed by Railways.					Mails conveyed by Coaches, &c.
	Number of miles per week day.		Average charge per mile, 1855.	Maximum, 1855.	Minimum, 1855.	Number of miles per week-day.		Average charge per mile, 1855.	Maximum, 1855.	Minimum, 1855.

United Kingdom	25,154	27,109	0 10	4 10	½	31,689	31,667	2½	10½

It is to be explained that the number of miles (8714) per week-day over which mails were conveyed by coaches, &c., in Ireland in 1854, is, by an error, much overstated.

The subjoined Table (in continuation of tables in former Almanacs) shows, as nearly as can be estimated, the number of chargeable letters delivered as well in England, Ireland, and Scotland as in the United Kingdom, in each of the five years from 1851 to 1855, with the increase per cent. on the previous year :—

Year.	England and Wales.	Increase per cent.	Ireland.	Increase per cent.	Scotland.	Increase per cent.	United Kingdom.	Increase per cent.
1851	288,151,755	4½	35,982,782	1½	36,512,649	3	360,647,187	4
1852	304,208,363	5½	37,449,953	4	37,843,182	3½	379,501,499	5½
1853	329,722,514	8½	40,419,665	8	40,675,310	7½	410,817,489	8½
1854	358,300,696	8½	41,234,596	2	44,114,009	8½	443,649,301	8
1855	368,530,340	2½	41,832,834	1½	45,853,002	4	456,216,176	2½

The proportion of letters to population in 1855 was in England about 19, in Ireland about 7, in Scotland about 15, and in the United Kingdom about 16 to each person. The increase of letters since the introduction of the penny postage in 1840 has been 380,000,000, or exactly sixfold.

The number of valentines passing through the post-office every year, as shown by the increase in the number of letters in Valentine week, is upwards of 800,000: the largest proportion is in England and Scotland, and in both these countries the number is increasing; in Ireland it is decreasing. The proportion of letters sent in envelopes is still increasing, and is now 93 per cent. of inland letters, and 71 per cent. of colonial and foreign letters. Excluding official packets, the average weight of an inland letter, or packet paying the full letter rate, is between a quarter and a third of an ounce; of a colonial letter rather more than a third of an ounce; and of a foreign letter rather less than a quarter of an ounce.

The abolition of the stamp-duty on newspapers, and the substitution of a postage charge (on the 30th June 1855), have caused a decrease of about one-fourth in the number of newspapers posted; but, retransmissions included, there are still posted about 71,000,000 of newspapers a-year, or nearly 200,000 every day; much the larger number continuing to bear the impressed stamp. The average weight of the newspapers which now pass through the post-office is about three ounces each; being a decrease since the abolition of the newspaper stamp of about half an ounce. The loss of revenue occasioned by the abolition is about £242,000 a-year, or rather more than one-half.

The number of book packets—using that term to comprehend all printed matter except newspapers—which now pass through the London office, is at the rate of about 1,400,000 a-year, being an increase of more than 1,000,000, or of 273 per cent. on the number in 1854. At the same time the average weight per packet has fallen from ten ounces to four and a half ounces, so that the increase in the total weight is less than 70 per cent. The whole number of book packets posted in the United Kingdom is estimated to be at the rate of about 3,000,000 a year. The great increase is attributable chiefly to a large reduction in postage in the summer of 1855.

Including five branches in large towns, 63 new money-order offices were opened in the year 1855, making a total of 1935. The number and amount of money orders issued in the year 1855, with the increase per cent., and the proportion of orders to population, is shown in the subjoined Table (in continuation of Tables in the Almanacs for previous years).

United Kingd. 1854	5,466,244	10,462,411	4½	16,538	1 to about 5 persons

The number of officers and servants of the Post-office (exclusive of 171 in the colonies and of agents in foreign countries) is 22,547, of whom 10,496 are post-masters, 10,314 are letter-carriers, messengers, &c. and 1519 are clerks, &c. The number attached to the chief office in London is about 2800. The new system of appointment and promotion has operated very beneficially. Mr Lang, controller of the circulation department in the Edinburgh office, states, that "the revision of this department which took place in April 1855, has been attended with success and manifest advantage to the public service; also that the system of promotion by merit, then introduced, has animated officers of all grades with a measure of zeal which has contributed greatly to their efficiency." Of 431 candidates for the situation of letter carrier in London, 313 were appointed and 118 rejected, and there was a similar proportion in Dublin; but in Edinburgh the proportion of rejections was larger, although the examination is not at all more strict.

Of £2,620,000, the gross revenue of the Post-office in 1855 from letters, book-packets, &c. £2,244,000 was from England, £189,000 from Ireland, £187,000 from Scotland. Of £97,000, the gross revenue from commission or money orders, £83,000 was from England, £7000 from Ireland, and £7000 from Scotland. The total net revenue was £1,126,000, being a decrease of £150,000, or more than 13 per cent. on the net revenue of 1854.

Of £1,591,000, the expenditure of the Post-office in 1855, £813,000 was for salaries, pensions, &c.; £25,000 for buildings; £577,000 for conveyance of mails (£401,000 by railways, £161,000 by coaches, &c., £15,000 by packets); £32,000 for manufacture of postage stamps, &c.; and £144,000 for miscellaneous charges. The actual increase of expenditure in 1855 over the previous year was about £118,000, or about 8 per cent.

The following Table shows the amount of postage, &c., collected, including postage stamps sold, at each of the six chief post-towns in Scotland, of the three chief post-towns in England, and of the three chief post-towns in Ireland, in each of the years 1853, 1854, and 1855:—

Details of the estimated expenditure of the Post-office in Scotland during the year ending 31st March 1857, will be found below, p. 238-240.

The number of births, of deaths, and of marriages registered in Scotland during each of the quarters of the year 1855, together with the annual rate per cent. of the births, deaths, and marriages during each quarter to the population at the middle of the year 1855 (estimated at 3,004,290 persons, inclusive of soldiers, &c.), is shown in the following Table:—

Marriages	3925	0·52	5097	0·67	4193	0·55	6424	0·85	19639	0·65

The births registered in 1855 were at the rate of 1 annually for every 32, the deaths at the rate annually of 1 for every 48, the marriages at the rate annually of 1 for 153 persons of the estimated population.

Making allowance for the defective number of births registered during January (the month in which the Registration Act (17 & 18 Vict. c. 80) came into operation) and February, the annual proportion of births in Scotland will be about 321 births for every 10,000 of the population, or 1 birth for every 31 persons. This proportion is below the rate of births in England, which average 332 annually for every 10,000 of the population, or 1 birth for every 30 persons. The proportion of sex was 100 male births to 95 female births, being the same proportion as in England.

The deaths registered were in the proportion of 207 deaths for every 10,000 living, or about 1 death in every 48 persons. This shows a mortality considerably below the mean of England, which is 228 deaths for every 10,000 living—below even the mortality of England in 1855, which was in the proportion of 226 deaths for every 10,000 living. The striking difference in the mortality among the inhabitants of town and country in Scotland is shown in the following Table:—

	Population 1851.	Deaths 1855.	Per Cent. of Mortality to Population.
183 Town Districts comprising all the most populous Towns.....	1,444,375	37,703	2·61, or 1 in 38
394 Rural Districts.....	1,444,367	24,451	1·69, or 1 in 58

It would appear from this table, that “the town population, even during the healthy year 1855, was cut off at the rate of 261 out of every 10,000, or 1 death for every 38 persons; while the rural population only suffered at the rate of 169 deaths out of every 10,000, or 1 death for every 58 persons.” The powerful influence which, in this country, the weather exercises on the human frame, is illustrated by the following table, showing the mean temperature and the mortality during each month of the year 1855:—

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
Mean Temp.	36°	27°	36°	44°	44°	55°	60°	57°	52°	44°	4°	35°
Deaths, ...	5977	7227	6481	5323	5362	4627	4480	4461	4047	4388	4378	5408

“Cold weather,” it is remarked in the report of the Registrar General, “requires to have continued some little time before its hurtful effects are manifested to any great extent; and accordingly, although the temperature was gradually falling during the months of October and November, little increase of mortality was occasioned till the sinking of the mean temperature to 35° in December raised the mortality to 5408 deaths during that month. Though the temperature of January was the same as that of December of the previous year, viz. 36°, the continuance of the cold raised the mortality to 5977 deaths, and the fall of temperature during February to 27° caused the deaths to rise to no less than 7227. During March the mean temperature had only risen to 36°, and the deaths numbered 6481. Somewhat milder weather then set in; but so ungenial did it continue during both April and May, that the mean temperature during each of these months remained the same, viz. at 44°, and making allowance for the additional day in May, the deaths during each of these months were the same in number,—5323 in April, and 5362 in May. Thus, as the weather improved, the deaths diminished in number, but when the weather was stationary, the mortality remained also stationary. During June the mean temperature rose to 55°, and the deaths experienced a further reduction, sinking to 4627. The heats were very moderate during both July and August, and the usual increase of deaths from bowel complaints was experienced but to a small extent; consequently the deaths both during July and August continued rather to fall, being 4480 during July, and 4461 during August. The pleasant cool month of September, however, with its mean temperature of 52°, put an end to the bowel complaints, and the mortality fell to 4047—the lowest number of deaths during any month of the year.”

The marriages registered during the year were in the proportion of sixty-five to every ten thousand of the estimated population, or one marriage for every hundred and fifty-three persons. This is considerably below the proportion for England, which averages eighty-four marriages annually for ten thousand inhabitants, or one marriage to every hundred and eighteen persons living, a proportion which is attained in Scotland only in the south-western counties, which include a large proportion of our manufacturing population. “Of all the counties of Scotland,” it is remarked, “marriages were fewest in Argyll, and next in Sutherland; and these, with Inverness, Ross, and Cromarty, are the counties from which the greatest number of persons are understood to have emigrated for some years past. The low proportion of marriages in the counties of Kirkcudbright and Wigtown is probably with justice attributed to so many of the young and able-bodied men being attracted to England by the greater demand for labour and higher wages; and possibly the same cause may account to a great extent for the low proportion of marriages in Berwickshire. So far as has been ascertained, it does not appear that irregular Border marriages have increased among the inhabitants of Scotland under the operation of the Registration Act, but rather the reverse; and the belief appears to be, that were a stop put to the contracting of irregular marriages on the Border by parties from England, these marriages would soon cease to be contracted by the native population.”

As the number of births was 93,498, and the number of deaths, 62,154, the natural increase of the population of Scotland during the year amounted to 31,344 persons. From this have to be deducted the numbers who emigrated (amounting so far as has been ascertained) to 4965; thus leaving a clear gain to the population of Scotland, through births alone, of 26,379 persons.

The subjoined Table shows the estimated population of England and Wales (including army, navy, and merchant seamen at home, belonging to England and Wales) at the middle of each year from 1851 to 1854, and the number of births, deaths, and marriages registered during each of these five years:—

During the first quarter of 1856, says the Report of the Registrar-general, “the health of the population has been, on the whole, satisfactory; and the mortality not only below the average of the quarter, but below the mean annual mortality of England: this diminished mortality is, no doubt, chiefly owing to the mild winter, and to the fact, that with the exception of small-pox in some localities and of scarlet fever in others, no virulent epidemics have been general among the population.” It is remarked by the Registrar-general that “the health of the population has been very satisfactory during the second quarter, and the mortality has not only been below the average of this quarter, but lower than that of England during the same quarter for a period of at least eleven years.” During the third quarter, the Registrar-general observes, “the health of the population has, as a whole, been most satisfactory, and has reached a lower percentage than is believed ever to have been attained among the inhabitants of a large country like Scotland, where at least one-half of the population is congregated in towns.”

The Quarterly Returns of the Registrar-general for 1856 are accompanied by tables of Meteorological Observations, of which the mean results, as applicable to Scotland as a whole, are shown in the two following tables:—

EMIGRATION.

During the period of forty-one years between the close of the war against France in 1815 and the end of the year 1855, the number of persons who left the United Kingdom was 4,293,763; of whom 1,132,963 went to the North American Colonies; 2,591,045 to the United States, 507,783 to the Australian Colonies and New Zealand; and 61,974 to other places. During the fifteen years between 1816 and 1830 the greatest number who emigrated in any one year was 46,441; the average of the whole period was 24,582. In 1844, the average rose to 78,099; the largest being 128,344 in 1842. In 1846 the emigrants number 170,807, the pressure of the famine in Ireland, they rose to 280,849 in 1850; 335,066 in 1851; 323,429 in 1854; and 170,807 in 1855. In 1852, the largest number was less than a half of that of 1852, the largest number of the average (305,600) of the eight years migration from the United Kingdom was estimated at 24,997 in 1852; at 192,609 in 1853; at 150,209 in 1854, while the decrease in the total emigration was 52.08 per cent., the decrease in the same years to 33.23 and 64.95 per cent.

Between the beginning of 1841 and the end of 1854, upwards of 2,000,000 persons emigrated from Ireland, being nearly one-fourth of the population of that island according to the census of 1841.

Of the 176,807 emigrants from the United Kingdom in 1855, there were to the United States 103,414; to the North American Colonies 17,966; to the Australian Colonies 52,309; to all other places 3118. Of the 323,429 emigrants in 1854, there were 90,966 English; 25,872 Scotch; 150,209 Irish; 37,704 Foreigners; and 18,678 not distinguished. Of the 176,807 emigrants in 1855, there were 57,132 English; 14,037 Scotch; 78,854 Irish; 10,554 Foreigners; and 16,230 not distinguished.

Of the 25,872 Scotch emigrants in 1854, there were 4888 to the United States; 6706 to the North American Colonies; 14,192 to the Australian Colonies; and 86 to other places. Of the 14,037 Scotch emigrants in 1855, there were 3797 to the United States; 5471 to the North American Colonies; 4657 to the Australian Colonies; and 112 to other places. Of the Scotch emigrants in 1855, there sailed from Scotch ports 7465, from English ports 6572. The number of emigrants who sailed from Scotch ports in 1855 was 8227, of whom 83 were English; 7465 were Scotch; 464 were Irish; 54 were Foreigners; and 161 were not distinguished. There sailed from Aberdeen, 1422; from Dumfries, 21; from Dundee, 41; from Glasgow, 4791; from Greenock, 1277; from Kirkwall, 15; from Leith, 27; from Montrose, 281; from Port-Glasgow, 22; from Stornoway, 330. Of the 8227 emigrants from Scotland in 1855, 4105 were males; 3946 were females; and the sex of 176 was not distinguished.

The number of emigrants who returned to the United Kingdom in 1855, was 22,821, being equal nearly to 13 per cent. of the emigration during the same year. Of these there came from America, 18,402; from Australia, 4419: the proportion of cabin to steerage passengers from Australia was 16½ per cent.; from America 1½ per cent.

EDUCATION.

The expenditure in Scotland, during the year 1855, from the Parliamentary Grants under the management of the Committee of Privy Council on Education, was, on schools connected with the Established Church, £22,959 (being an increase of £3765 over the previous year); on schools connected with the Free Church, £20,693 (being a decrease of £1202 as compared with the previous year); and on schools connected with the Episcopal Church, £2823 (being an increase of £1457 over the previous year). The whole expenditure in Scotland from the beginning of the grants in 1839 to the 31st of December 1855, was, on schools connected with the Established Church, £120,826; on schools connected with the Free Church, £102,334; on schools connected with the Episcopal Church, £5183. The whole expenditure in Great Britain from 1839 to 1855, was £2,002,586, of which there was, on schools connected with the Church of England, £1,330,829; on schools connected with the British and Foreign School Society, £181,196; on Wesleyan schools, £75,138; on Roman-catholic schools, £48,552; on workhouse schools, £101,469.

The following Table shows the number of schools in Scotland, built, enlarged, or improved with aid from parliamentary grants; the amount granted; the amount subscribed by the promoters; the amount expended; and the number of children for whom accommodation has thus been provided, from 1839 to the 31st December 1854:—

The number of Established Church schools, built, enlarged, or improved in 1855, was 16; the amount granted to them, £1735; the amount subscribed by their promoters, £3829; the total amount expended on them, £5564; the number of children for whom accommodation was provided in them, 1053. The number of Free Church schools, and other schools not connected with the Established Church, built, enlarged, or improved in 1855, was 18; the amount granted to them, £897; the amount subscribed by their promoters, £1774; the total amount expended on them, £2672; the number of children for whom accommodation was provided in them, 597.

There were actually inspected in Scotland, between the 1st September 1854 and the 31st August 1855, 548 schools connected with the Established Church, having 47,689 children present at examination, 294 certificated teachers, 660 pupil teachers, a total income of £48,474, and a total expenditure of £48,619; 314 Free Church schools and other schools not connected with the Established Church, having 30,254 children present at examination, 259 certificated teachers, 590 pupil teachers, a total income of £26,273, and a total expenditure of £26,648; and 85 Episcopal Church schools, having 7199 children present at examination, 32 certificated teachers, 95 pupil teachers, a total income of £4405, and a total expenditure of £4636.

The grants to Schools of Industry in Scotland, from 1850 to 1855, were, to Back of Fisherrow, £19; Dundee, General Sessional, £27; Dundee, Rosebank, £4; Edinburgh, United Industrial, £216; Edinburgh, Original Ragged, £72; Glasgow (Murdoch's) Industrial, £3; Jedburgh, St John's, £3; Kilmarnock, Reformatory, £25.

Reformatories in Scotland.—A return, dated in February 1856, shows that the following reformatories have been certified in Scotland under the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 86 [see Almanac for 1855, p. 151], and that each school is capable of containing the number of children indicated by the figures placed after its name: Inverness Ragged School, 12; Glasgow House of Refuge for Boys, 318; Glasgow House of Refuge for Girls, 200; Greenock Industrial School, 120; Greenock Reformatory School, 70; Paisley Ragged School, 100; Stranraer Industrial School, 50; in all, 7 schools, with accommodation for 870 children (namely, 504 boys and 366 girls). The same return shows, that, in addition to three schools included in the above list (namely, the Inverness Ragged School, the Greenock Industrial School, and the Stranraer Industrial School), the following have been sanctioned under the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 74 [see Almanac for 1855, p. 142], for the reception of vagrant children, and that each school is capable of containing the number of children indicated by the figures placed after its name: Aberdeen Industrial School, 400; Ayr Ragged School, 180; Kilmarnock Ragged School, 241; Edinburgh Industrial Ragged Schools, 300; Edinburgh United Industrial School, 286; Arbroath Industrial School, 100; Glasgow Industrial Schools, 220; Govan Reformatory Schools, 100; Perth Ladies' House of Refuge for Girls, 30; Perth Female School of Industry, 50; Perth Boys' School of Industry, 53; in all, 11 schools, with accommodation for 1790 children.

RURAL POLICE.

In the Table which follows are shown the total number of rural police in each county of Scotland, and the yearly salary of the chief officer in 1856, the total annual cost of the force in each of the years 1853, 1854, and 1855, the date of its establishment, the area of the county in square miles, and its population (exclusive of burghs having police establishments) according to the census of 1851:

Of the 468 policemen employed in 1856, 20 were chief officers, 14 inspectors, 25 sergeants, 105 first class constables, and 208 second class constables. The salaries of the inspectors amounted to £551, of the sergeants to £442, of the first class constables to £1185, and of the second class constables to £654. In addition to the salaries stated in the above table, there are allowances for horses to the chief officers, of £50 in the county of Edinburgh, £30 in the county of Forfar, and £40 in the county of Haddington.

There is no rural police establishment in any of the counties of Bute, Lanark, Orkney, and Shetland. The return from the county of Ross is defective. In the county of Renfrew the police force was not established until November 1855, so that its expenses had not been ascertained at the date of the return.

THE POOR LAWS.

The "Tenth Annual Report of the Board of Supervision for the Relief of the Poor in Scotland," dated in August 1855, was presented to Parliament in February 1856.

Assessments.—During the ten years that have elapsed since the institution of the Board, the progress of the change from voluntary contribution to legal assessment, as the means of raising funds for relief of the poor, has been as follows:—

Mode of Assessment.	August 1846.	August 1847.	August 1848.	August 1849.	August 1850.	August 1851.	August 1852.	August 1853.	August 1854.	August 1855.
First mode.....	323	431	471	499	524	534	554	567	581	593
Second mode.....	35	37	40	34	30	30	30	29	24	24
Third mode.....	31	34	36	40	40	39	37	35	35	31
Local usage.....	56	56	55	52	50	50	50	49	49	49
Total parishes assessed.....	445	558	602	625	644	653	671	680	689	700
Total parishes unassessed....	435	322	278	255	236	228	211	202	194	183

An explanation of the several modes of assessment which are in the option of parochial boards, subject to the sanction of the Board of Supervision, will be found in the Almanac for 1849, p. 151. Of the 593 parishes assessed in the "first mode" in August 1855, 114 are assessed "with classification," and 479 "without classification." During the year embraced in the report, the parochial boards of 8 parishes resolved to change the mode of assessment or classification formerly adopted. The Board of Supervision sanctioned the proposed change in 7 cases, and refused to sanction it in 1 case. Of the 7 parishes in which a change was sanctioned, 1 adopted the first mode with classification instead of the third mode; 1 abandoned classification; and in 5 parishes the alteration was in the classification formerly adopted. The number of parishes assessed "on means and substance" is less by 1 than it was in the previous year, although the whole number of parishes assessed has been increased by 11. Of the parishes which have thus exchanged voluntary contribution for compulsory assessment, 3 are in Aberdeenshire, 1 in Argyllshire, 1 in Buteshire, 1 in Forfarshire, 1 in Inverness-shire, 1 in Kincardineshire, and 3 in Perthshire. From the Table given below at p. 224, showing with other details the number of parishes assessed and unassessed in each county, it will be seen that there are now 10 counties in which there are no unassessed parishes, namely, Bute, Clackmannan, Edinburgh, Elgin, Nairn, Ross and Cromarty, Roxburgh, Selkirk, Sutherland, and Wigtown. In each of the four counties of Berwick, Kinross, Linlithgow, and Renfrew, there is only 1 parish unassessed. In only one county, that of Orkney and Shetland, does the number of unassessed parishes exceed the number of assessed.

Receipt and Expenditure.—The sums received from all sources for the relief and management of the poor in each of the seventeen years undernoted were as follows:—

Year.	Sums received.	Year.	Sums received.	Year.	Sums received.
1836.....	£171,042	1844-5.....	£258,814	1850-1.....	556,044
1837.....	180,123	1845-6.....	306,044	1851-2.....	541,889
1838.....	192,829	1846-7.....	435,367	1852-3.....	554,700
1839.....	199,660	1847-8.....	533,073	1853-4.....	570,713
1840.....	202,812	1848-9.....	503,613	1854-5.....	614,423
1841.....	218,481	1849-50.....	583,590

"The sum expended," says the Report, "for the relief and management of the poor during the year ended 14th May 1855 (including £20,605 expended on poor-house buildings, and £6355 on general sanitary measures) has been £611,784. In the preceding year, the expenditure for the same purposes was £578,928. There has, therefore, been an increase in the expenditure of £32,856."

In the first Table on the next page are shown the amount and details of the poor-law expenditure in each of the last ten years, together with the rate per head of the population (calculated for the first five years on the census of 1841, and for the last four years on the census of 1851), and the rate per cent. on the annual value of real property as returned to parliament in 1843:—

Comparing the year ending on the 14th of May 1855 with the year ending on the 14th of May 1854, it will be seen that there is, on the one hand, a decrease of £708 in medical relief, and of £5244 in poor-houses buildings; and, on the other hand, an increase of £32,533 in the relief of the poor on the roll or registered; of £2969 in the relief of the casual poor; of £2951 in management; of £409 in law expenses, of £95 in general sanitary measures; of £32,856 in the total expenditure; of 2½d. of the rate per head of population; and of 7s. 3½d. on the rate per cent. on real property.

The subjoined Table exhibits the amount of the expenditure in each of the last ten years, for the relief of the poor on the roll or registered, and of the casual poor, together with the yearly increase or decrease, and the average allowance to each pauper on the roll or registered.—

14th May 1855 . . . . .	486,589	33,514	..	4 11 8½

"This increase in the expenditure on relief during the past year," say the Board of Supervision, "is not greater than might have been expected to arise from the increase in the price of food, and it is satisfactory to observe, that the average allowance to each pauper has risen or fallen in amount with every considerable rise and fall in the price of provisions. In 1847, it was £4, 11s. 9d. In 1850 and the four succeeding years, it ranged from £4, 0s. 2d. to £4, 2s. 7½d., and this year it is £4, 11s. 8½d. But it will be observed that the tendency has been to a general increase in the average scale of allowances, and that, since the rise in 1847, they have never fallen to what they had previously been."

Numbers of the Poor.—The number of registered poor on the 14th of May 1855, was 79,187, being an increase of 967 since the same date in the year immediately preceding, and an increase of 636 since the 14th of May 1850. The number of such poor who died or ceased to receive relief during the year ending on the 14th of May 1855, was 20,673, making the whole number of poor relieved by order of the parochial boards, and admitted by their respective parishes to be properly chargeable to them, 100,860, the number in the previous year being 103,777. The number of casual or unregistered poor was 42,853, being an increase, as compared with the preceding year, of 7912. The number of such casual poor relieved on the 1st of January 1855, was 4680, or 71 more than on the 1st of January 1854; on the 1st of July 1855, the number was 3680, being 679 more than on the same day in 1854. The whole number of registered and casual poor, relieved during the year ended on the 14th of May 1855, was 143,483, showing an increase of 4684 on the number for the previous year (138,799).

The following Table shows the numbers and classes of poor relieved and refused relief in Scotland, the numbers removed to England, Ireland, or to other parishes, the number of insane or fatuous poor, and the number of pauper orphans or deserted children, during each of the last ten years, according to the returns made to the Board of Supervision :—

A comparison of the year ending on the 14th of May 1855 with the year ending on the 14th of May 1854, shows an increase of 967 in the number of the registered poor at the end of the period embraced in the account; of 7912 in the number of casual poor relieved during the year; of 399 in the number of insane or fatuous poor; and of 675 in the number of orphans or deserted children. There was, on the other hand, a decrease of 2217 in the number of registered poor relieved during the year; of 4175 in the number of such poor who died or ceased to receive relief; of 716 in the number of poor refused relief; of 53 in the number of such poor relieved under order of the Sheriff; and of 893 in the number of poor removed to England, Ireland, or to other parishes.

The returns of the number of poor for the year ending at Whitsunday 1855, show for the first time the number also of the dependants on such poor. The casual poor have been distinguished, also for the first time, into such as were relieved by the inspector on his own responsibility, and such as were relieved by order of the parochial board, but from their settlements being still undetermined are not classed with the registered poor of any parish. The results of this enumeration are shown in the following Table :—

Number of registered poor relieved during the year	100,560
Number of their dependants	40,569
Number of registered poor who have died or ceased to receive relief during the year	20,673
Number of dependants of such registered poor	6,382
Number of casual or unregistered poor relieved during the year	42,863
So classed because of undetermined settlements	3,114
Dependants of such	2,327
All other casual poor	39,749
Dependants of such	26,454
Number of poor removed from parish voluntarily or by warrant	2,163
Number of their dependants	1,708

Poor-houses.—During the year to which their Tenth Report applies, the Board of Supervision approved of resolutions to erect poor-houses in the parishes of Hawick and Arbroath, and in the Kyle combination of 13 parishes in Ayrshire; being in all 3 poor-houses for 15 parishes, with an aggregate population of 66,747. They approved of sites for poor-houses in the parish of Elgin, and in the combinations of the Black Isle and Skye; and of plans for the poor-house of the Black Isle combination, of new plans for the poor-houses of Latheron, Dumfries, Dundee, and Stirling, and of plans for additional buildings in the poor-houses of Glasgow and Dalkeith. They also sanctioned the occupation of a building at Hawick, as a temporary poor-house for that parish. It will be seen from the two following Tables that the number of poor-houses in operation was 29, for the use of 104 parishes, singly or in combination, with a population of 996,459; the number of poor-houses in progress 15, for the use of 72 parishes, singly or in combination, with a population of 282,930; so that when the latter have been completed, there will be 44 poor-houses, for the use of 176 parishes, singly or in combination, with a population of 1,279,389. There are 138 parishes, with a population of 518,433, which have acquired a right to send paupers to the poor-houses belonging to other parishes, but some of these are embraced in combinations for proposed poor-houses, or propose to have poor-houses of their own, so that the whole population to which poor-house accommodation was available in the year 1854-5, was 1,512,894.

The next Table gives the number and the result of applications to sheriffs for the relief refused by inspectors or parochial boards, in each of the nine years from 1846 to 1855 :—

Year.	Number of Applicants refused Relief by the Inspector or Parochial Board.	Number of Cases in which the Sheriff ordered Interim Relief.	No of Applicants refused Relief by Inspector or Parochial Board, but relieved by Sheriff.
1846-47	5,841	778	563
1847-48	8,577	1,080	766
1848-49	15,395	1,002	768

1853-54	6,473	353	294
1854-55	5,757	323	241
Total....	79,952	5,743	4,411

The number of applications to the Sheriff in the year 1854-55, on the ground that relief had been improperly refused, was 1167: in the year immediately preceding, it was 1239. The number of such applicants admitted to the roll of paupers, by final order of the Sheriff, in the year 1854-55, was 69: in the year immediately preceding, it was 116.

Medical Relief.—The Board of Supervision report that they had completed the arrangements for the seventh distribution of the parliamentary grant of £10,000 in aid of medical relief in Scotland. The number of parishes which resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the grant, was 632; but of these only 594 established their claims by producing vouchers for the required amount of expenditure from their own funds, and otherwise satisfying the Board that the conditions of the grant had been fulfilled. In the year 1853-54, 615 parishes resolved to participate, but only 581 established their claims. The increase, therefore, during the year 1854-55, in the number of parishes actually participating in the grant, is 13. The whole sum expended on medical relief to the poor during the year ending 14th May 1855, was £27,166, which is equal to 2·25 pence per head of the population of Scotland in 1851. The population (according to the census of that year) of the parishes and combinations that resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the grant, was 2,419,392, and of the parishes that have not so resolved, 469,350. The sum expended on medical relief by the former was £24,724, being equal to about 2·45 pence per head of the population: the sum expended by the latter was £2441, being equal to about 1·24 pence per head of the population of these parishes.

Insane and Fatuous Paupers.—The number of cases of lunatic paupers, during the year ending May 1855, in which application was made to the Board of Supervision to dispense with removal to an asylum, was 226. Removal was dispensed with in 213 cases, and in 13 cases the Board refused to dispense with removal to an asylum. In the year immediately preceding, removal was dispensed with in 188 cases, and in 13 cases the Board refused to dispense with removal to an asylum.

Number of Poor and Amount of Expenditure in each County.—The following Table (in continuation of similar Tables in the Almanacs for former years) shows the number of permanent and casual poor in each county of Scotland (distinguishing the number of assessed from the number of unassessed parishes) during the years ending on the 14th May 1854 and the 14th May 1855, and the total amount of money expended for their relief, distinguishing the amount paid for the relief of the permanent poor, from the amount paid for the relief of the casual poor :—

Of the 100,560 poor on the roll or registered, during the year ending on the 14th May 1855, 27,841 were males, and 72,719 were females. The sex of the casual poor is not distinguished. Of 4292 insane or fatuous poor, 1956 were males, and 2336 were females.

Church Collections, Voluntary Contributions, and Mortifications.—The following Table shows the amount of money for relief of the poor received from voluntary contributions and church collections, as well as from mortifications and all other sources (assessments, voluntary contributions, and church collections excepted), during each of the nine years from 1846-7 to 1854-5 :—

Year ending	Voluntary contributions & church collections.	Mortifications and all other sources.
14th May 1847.....	£50,950	£27,713
14th May 1848.....	38,483	29,722
14th May 1849.....	34,171	27,965
14th May 1850.....	28,745	36,032
14th May 1851.....	25,917	38,029
14th May 1852.....	26,325	36,064
14th May 1853.....	22,816	40,489
14th May 1854.....	23,146	43,485
14th May 1855.....	23,257	41,702

The whole sum derived from church collections in assessed parishes during the year ending May 1855, was £15,269, of which £9185 is stated to have been expended on relief of the poor. From this sum, however, must be deducted £390 handed over to the parochial boards. It would appear therefore that the sum of £8804 derived from church collections was actually applied by the kirk-sessions to the relief of persons in their respective parishes who required assistance. "But these funds," the report intimates, "are generally employed to afford aid to persons who have fallen into temporary difficulties, with a view to prevent them from becoming chargeable to the parish as paupers; and it is doubtful whether any of the persons so assisted have also been chargeable to the funds raised by assessment."

Casual Sick Poor.—The public prosecutor having reported that he had been called upon to investigate more than one case in which casual sick poor had died in parishes where they had no domicile, without having been provided with proper lodging by the inspector, the Board considered it necessary to recall the attention of parochial boards to the Board's minute of 24th February 1848, and to require the inspectors to report to the Board what accommodation or arrangements, if any, existed in their parishes for the reception and treatment of casual sick poor. It appeared from these reports that in many parishes the object contemplated in the Board's previous communications had been misapprehended or imperfectly understood. The Board, therefore, deemed it necessary to explain their intentions more in detail, and with that view issued a circular letter, in which they also pointed out the personal risk to which parochial boards and inspectors expose themselves by disregarding their duty in this respect. Although the Board have reason to fear that all parochial boards are not yet duly sensible of the duty of providing a place of accommodation in the parish for those occasional cases of casual sick poor, in which the patients cannot safely be removed elsewhere, the Board are happy to be able to state that in a large number of parishes such accommodation has now been provided.

Cholera.—In compliance with a request by the General Board of Health, the Board of Supervision called for returns showing the number of cases of cholera and of deaths from that disease, in each parish of Scotland, from the outbreak of the epidemic on 31st August 1853 to its disappearance on 17th November 1854. The following Table shows the results of these returns, which, however, cannot be relied upon as altogether complete or accurate. No cases, it will be seen, occurred in the counties of Peebles, Banff, Elgin, Nairn, Sutherland, and Caithness.

Inspectors.—The Board of Supervision report that they had investigated charges against 15 inspectors; had dismissed 1 for neglect of duty; had accepted the resignation of 7 whose conduct or fitness was under investigation; had declared a vacancy in the office of 1 whose health incapacitated him as well from discharging his duties as from tendering his resignation; had censured 6 for neglect or failure of duty, intimating in some instances that a repetition of the offence would be punished by dismissal; that where the offices of inspector and medical officer were held by the same person, they had called upon him to resign one of the offices; that where an inspector had been appointed a procurator-fiscal, they intimated that these offices ought not to be held by the same person; and that where a parish proposed to reduce the salary of an inspector unduly, they intimated that if the effect of such reduction were to remove the inspector, they could not give it their sanction.

The following Table (in continuation of similar Tables in the Almanacs for previous years) exhibits the estimated population, the amount of money levied for poor-rates, and the amount expended for the relief of the poor in England and Wales in each of the five years (ended at Lady-Day, or 25th March) from 1851 to 1855, together with the rate per head of the amount levied and expended for relief to the poor, on the estimated population, the rate in the pound of expenditure for relief to the poor on the annual value of ratable property in 1847, and the average price of wheat per quarter, in each year as ending at Lady-day:—

Year ending at Lady Day.	Estimated population.	Amount of money levied for poor-rates.	Amount of money expended in relief and maintenance of the poor. The expenditure in 1855, it will be seen, exceeded the expenditure in 1854 by £607,188, or 11.3 per cent., being an increase of 7d. per head of the population, and of 2½d. in the rate per pound of the annual value of ratable property. "There is reason to infer," say the English Poor Law Board, in their Eighth Annual Report, "that this increase is, in a great measure, to be attributed to the severity of the winter, and to the continued high price of many of the principal necessities of life. The latter cause has obliged the guardians in many instances to increase the amount of money allowances to the permanently disabled and aged poor receiving out-door relief, while the expenditure on account of relief in kind, and of supplies for the use of workhouses, has, for the same reason, been augmented. Some of this excess of expenditure is attributable also to an increase in the number of persons in receipt of relief," as shown in the following Table:—

Year ending at Lady Day.	The average Number of Paupers of all Classes (including Children) at one time in receipt of relief.			Ratio per cent. of Paupers relieved on the Population. The total number of paupers (in-door and out-door) in receipt of relief in 624 unions (containing 14,131 parishes, and a population, in 1851, of 16,521,245) under boards of guardians in England and Wales, was 812,594 on the 1st of July 1855, and 795,111 on the 1st of July 1856, showing a decrease at the latter date of 17,483, or 2·2 per cent. The number of adult able-bodied paupers (male and female) exclusive of vagrants, in receipt of relief, in the same 624 unions, was 132,265 on the 1st of July 1855, and 122,987 on the 1st of July 1856, showing a decrease at the latter date of 9278 or 7·0 per cent. The expenditure for in-maintenance and out-relief, in the same 624 unions, was £2,036,785 in the half-year ending Lady-day 1855, and £2,098,655 in the half-year ending Lady-day 1856, showing an increase in the latter period of £61,870, or 3·0 per cent.

The subjoined Table (in continuation of Tables in the Almanacs for previous years) shows the amount of poor-rate collected and expended, and the number of paupers relieved in Ireland, in each of the years ending 29th September 1854 and 1855 :—

Decrease.	89,260	31,016	...	7,584	37,280	74,893	40,814	...

It is remarked by the Irish Poor Law Commissioners, in their Ninth Annual Report, that “ the comparison of last year’s account with that of the year ended 29th September 1854, is highly satisfactory, showing a reduction of expenditure under the Poor Law Acts of not less than £74,893, or nearly ten per cent. on that of the previous year. The whole amount of that expenditure is probably about 2s. per head of the present population of Ireland. In England and Wales the cost of relief appears to be about 5s. 6d., and in Scotland about 4s. per head of the population. The average poundage of the Irish Poor Law expenditure on the valuation of Ireland is at present 1s. 2½d. Supposing no increase or decrease of the numbers relieved to take place, the item of in-maintenance (excluding the cost of clothing) would be less by £180,000 per annum, if the prices of the articles of consumption were what they were in the years 1850 and 1851. There is now, therefore, a fair prospect that the relief of the poor in Ireland will again be not more than £500,000 per annum, or 10½d. in the pound on the present valuation.”

The following Table shows (1.) the number of paupers (exclusive of vagrants) in receipt of relief (distinguishing out-door from in-door) in the several unions and parishes under Boards of Guardians in England and Wales, on the 1st of January in each year from 1852 to 1856; (2.) the number of paupers in receipt of relief (distinguishing out-door from in-door) in unions in Ireland at the close of the first week of January in each year from 1852 to 1856; (3.) the number of paupers, exclusive of casual poor, in receipt of relief in parishes in Scotland, on the 14th of May in each year from 1851 to 1855; and (4.) the total number of paupers (exclusive of vagrants and casual poor, and of paupers in parishes not under boards of guardians) in the United Kingdom at the dates and during the periods above mentioned :—

The expenditure under the Prison Boards of the several counties of Scotland for the year ended 30th June 1855 was as follows: Aberdeenshire, £2161; Argyllshire, £754; Ayrshire, £1633; Banffshire, £404; Berwickshire, £366; Buteshire, £250; Caithness-shire, £215; Clackmannanshire, £531; Dumbartonshire, £507; Dumfriesshire, £684; Edinburghshire, £7329; Elginshire, £320; Fifeshire, £1378; Forfarshire, £3475; Haddingtonshire, £410; Inverness-shire, £1181; Kincardineshire, £247; Kinross-shire, £154; Kirkcudbrightshire, £366; Lanarkshire, £12,073; Linlithgowshire, £503; Nairnshire, £124; Orkney, £102; Peeblesshire, £199; Perthshire, £1348; Renfrewshire, £2647; Ross and Cromarty shires, £488; Roxburghshire, £710; Selkirkshire, £197; Stirlingshire, £1572; Sutherlandshire, £237; Wigtownshire, £505; Zetland, £199; Perth General Prison for year ended 31st December 1855, including £606 the cost of transmitting prisoners, £11,001: total £54,286.

In the year 1854-55, the total number of persons sentenced to imprisonment for six months and upwards was 860 (namely 572 males and 288 females), of whom 579 (namely 379 males and 200 females) were sentenced for six months, and under twelve months; and 281 (namely 193 males and 88 females) were sentenced for twelve months and upwards. The average daily number of prisoners for the year was 2316, of whom 1452 were males and 864 were females. The aggregate amount of the sums apportioned by the Prison Board and assessed on the several counties and burghs of Scotland for the year was £42,179; of which £1200 was for building, &c. the General Prison; £8247 for building local prisons; £32,383 for current expenses of local prisons; and £348 for interest and redemption of the debt due by the Prison Board of Forfarshire to the burgh of Dundee.

The number of civil prisoners during the year was 685; of whom 35 were imprisoned for fines or forfeitures of £8, 6s. 8d. and under; 240 for debts above £8, 6s. 8d. and under £20; 199 for debts of £20 and under £50; 63 for debts of £50 and under £100; 57 for debts of £100 and under £500; 3 for debts of £500 and under £1000; and 6 for debts of £1000 and upwards; 43 meditatione fugæ; 7 ad factum præstandum; and 32 for other causes. Of the whole number of civil prisoners, 28 consented to work, and 654 did not consent to work: 648 were males, and 37 were females. The average daily number of civil prisoners during the year was 60, of whom 53 were males, and 7 were females.

The Twenty-first Annual Report of the Inspector of Prisons for Scotland, being for the year 1855, states that there has been a considerable decrease in the number of criminal prisoners committed to the Scotch Prisons during that year: the number in 1854, including recommitments, amounted to 23,212, while in 1855 there were only 20,328, thus showing a decrease of 2984 on the year.

It appears that during the five years and a half from January 1851 to June 1856, there were 22 escapes from criminal prisons in Scotland, namely 3 in 1851; 8 in 1852; 4 in 1853; 5 in 1854; 1 in 1855; and 1 in 1856. Of the 22 persons who escaped, 10 were recaptured, and one, a civil prisoner, voluntarily returned.

STATISTICS OF CRIME.

The following Table exhibits the total number of Criminal Offenders in Scotland, as well on the average of each of the four quinquennial terms of 1836-1840, of 1841-1845, of 1846-1850, and of 1851-1855, as in each of the years 1854 and 1855, distinguishing males from females; the total number brought to trial; the number convicted, outlawed, or found insane; the number convicted under the aggravation of previous convictions; and the number sentenced to death and executed.

It is remarked by Mr Redgrave, in the preface to the English Criminal Returns for 1854, that “ for any comparison of crime as shown by these tables, it will be necessary to bear in mind the changes which have taken place in the laws defining crimes and imposing punishments, and those giving magistrates summary jurisdiction over offences theretofore punishable on indictment only, thus removing such offences from the tables altogether; and those causes also connected with the increase of population, emigration, the price of food, the disturbance of labour,” &c.

It is observed in the preface to the Criminal Tables for Ireland that the number of persons charged with offences in 1855 exhibits a falling off, as compared with 1854, of 2776, or 23·55 per cent. (the decrease in male offenders being 24·17 per cent., in female offenders 22·28 per cent.) The diminution extends to every county except five (Londonderry, Fermanagh, Sligo, Meath, and Leitrim), and to every city and town except two (Kilkenny and Galway). Offences against property with violence have decreased 31·81 per cent.; offences against property without violence, 29·37 per cent.; malicious offences against property, 54·56 per cent.; forgeries and offences against the currency, 14·37 per cent.; and offences not otherwise enumerated, 31·36 per cent. Offences against the person have, on the other hand, increased 6·59 per cent. The proportion of convictions to committals was 59·81 per cent. in 1854; and 57·92 in 1855. The proportion of acquittals to committals was 40·19 in 1854; and 42·08 in 1855.

"It appears," says the preface, "that education is progressing to some extent among that portion of the population which supplies the inmates of gaols, as in 1849 the proportion who could 'read and write' amounted to but 17·66 per cent. on the committals; whilst in 1855, 23·14 per cent., or nearly one-fourth of the entire number, had arrived at that degree of instruction: the proportion who could 'read only' had also risen, since 1849, from little more than one-tenth, namely, 10·77 per cent. to somewhat less than one-sixth, namely, 15·85 per cent. In 1849, the state of instruction of 28·60 per cent. of the number committed could not be ascertained; in 1855, 20·28 per cent. were similarly returned. If the fluctuating number of those whose instruction could not be ascertained be excluded, the result will be that the proportion who were wholly illiterate has fallen from 60·16 per cent. in 1849 to 51·10 per cent. in 1855." The education of the female offenders is much more limited than that of the males: in 1855, the proportion of the entirely illiterate was 31·45 per cent. among the former, and 59·41 per cent. among the latter; of every 100 female offenders 10, of every 100 male offenders nearly 30, can 'read and write.' The proportionate number of offenders to population was 1 in 589 in Leinster; 1 in 681 in Munster; 1 in 915 in Ulster; 1 in 811 in Connaught; 1 in 727 in all Ireland. The number of summary convictions at petty sessions and of cases brought before magistrates was 37,958 in 1854, and 29,274 in 1855. The number of committals for drunkenness, to county or town gaols, under the Act 6 and 7 Will. IV. c. 38, was 11,215 in 1854, and 9056 in 1855.

In the prefatory remarks to the Tables for Scotland for 1855, it is observed that the number of persons charged with offences in 1855 exhibits a decrease, as compared with 1854, of 364, or 9·114 per cent. There is an increase in nine counties, viz. Aberdeen, 18 per cent.; Argyll, 25; Caithness, 6; Inverness, 38; Kinross, 5; Selkirk, 9; Stirling, 1; Sutherland, 5; Wigtown, 21. The proportion of convictions to committals in 1854 was 75·488 per cent., and in 1855, 75·152 per cent. The proportions of acquittals to committals in 1854, was 24·512 per cent., and in 1855, 24·848 per cent. As compared with 1854, there was a decrease in 1855 of 8·8171 per cent. in offences against the person, of 31·2 in offences against property with violence, of 8·016 in offences against property without violence, and of 0·41 in miscellaneous offences: there was, on the other hand, an increase of 47·17 per cent. in malicious offences against property, and of 42·53 per cent. in forgery and offences against the currency. Comparing 1855 with 1854, there was in the first-named year a decrease of 12·64 per cent. in the number of offenders who could neither read nor write; of 6·97 per cent. in those who could read and write imperfectly; and of 14·939 per cent. in those who could read and write well: on the other hand, there was an increase of 5·1283 per cent. in those who had had a superior education.

The number of "Ticket-of-Leave men" or convicts released by license in Scotland between the 1st of October 1853 and the 31st of December 1855 was 627, being in the proportion of 1·8 per 10,000. The number released in England and Wales during the same period was 4104, being in the proportion of 2·3 per 10,000.

The following is a statement of the number of housebreakings and other depredations, in which the offenders have not been detected, with the supposed value of the property stolen, in each county, burgh, or town in Scotland, between the 30th of June 1854 and the 1st day of July 1855. The figures prefixed to the name of the county or burgh show the number of cases; the figures affixed, the value of the property stolen. Counties: 187 Aberdeen, £386; 37 Argyll, £53; 91 Ayr, £150; 15 Banff, £52; 57 Berwick, £116; 5 Bute, £7; 12 Caithness, £44; 14 Clackmannan, £30; 23 Dumbarton, £85; 84 Dumfries, £263; 28 Edinburgh, £387; 9 Elgin, £6; 13 Fife, £107; 39 Forfar, £53; 37 Haddington, £48; 20 Inverness, £75; 12 Kincardine, £60; 6 Kinross, £43; 14 Kirkcudbright, £28; 123 Lanark, £534; 24 Linlithgow, £28; 7 Orkney, £82; 1 Peebles, £7; 102 Perth, £178; 71 Renfrew, £124; 15 Ross, £51; 33 Roxburgh, £94; 5 Selkirk, £6; 32 Stirling, £477; 1 Sutherland, £3; 33 Wigtown, £14: total of counties, cases 1150, value of property £3606. Burghs: 1244 Aberdeen, £1050; 39 Airdrie, £43; 74 Arbroath, £69; 22 Ayr, £11; 5 Banff, 18s.; 6 Campbelton, £5; 1 Dingwall, £1; 58 Dumfries, £100; 223 Dundee, £272; 2911 Edinburgh, £3701; 18 Elgin, £7; 25 Falkirk, £29; 2 Forfar, 3s. 6d.; 1 Fortrose, £1; 48 Greenock, £216; 6 Helensburgh, £9; 1 Kirkealdy, £2; 2 Kirkwall, £10; 6 Kirkintilloch, £8; 28 Leith, £73; 1 Montrose, £15; 205 Paisley, £195; 124 Perth, £107; 32 Portobello, £93; 13 Rothesay, £55; 2 Selkirk, 18s. 8d.; 3 Stirling, £43; 3 Stranraer, 16s. 10d.; 1 Wick, 7s. 6d.: total of burghs, cases 5104, value of property £6128: total of counties and burghs, cases 6254, value of property £9734.

PUBLIC OFFICES CREATED IN SCOTLAND, 1848-55.

A return ordered to be printed by the House of Commons on the 14th August 1855, shows the following new places to have been created and appointments made in Scotland since the 6th April 1848:—

1. Customs.—Aberdeen, 1853: 1 locker and weigher, £50 a-year and day-pay; Banff, 1850: 1 tide-waiter and boatman at Fraserburgh, £40 a-year and day-pay; Dundee, 1850 and 1854: 1 tide-surveyor at Broughty Ferry, £100, 4 boatmen, each £40 a-year and day pay, 3 inspectors of patrol, £90 (after 5 years, £95, after 10 years, £100) a-year; Glasgow, 1853 and 1854: 6 tide-waiters, 3 at £25, and 3 at £20 a-year and day-pay, 4 clerks, 1 at £95, 1 at £85, and 2 at £75 a-year, 1 landing-surveyor at £350 a-year, 3 searchers, 1 at £200, and 2 at £150 a-year, 2 superintending lockers, 1 at £100 and 1 at £95 a-year, 2 lockers, 1 at £40 and 1 at £35 a-year and day-pay, 4 weighers, 2 at £35 and 2 at £30 a-year and day-pay; Grangemouth, 1854: 1 tide-surveyor, £100 a-year; Greenock, 1849 and 1854: 1 locker at £35 a-year and day-pay, 4 weighers at £30 a-year and day-pay; Inverness, 1850: 1 tide-waiter, &c., at £40 a-year and day-pay; Kirkcaldy, 1852: 1 principal coast officer at Anstruther at £100 a-year; Leith, 1849, 1853, and 1854: 1 principal coast officer at Granton, £70 a-year, 1 principal coast officer at Dunbar, £100 a-year, 3 inspectors of patrol, 1 at £100, 1 at £95, and 1 at £90 a-year, 2 clerks, 1 at £160 and 1 at £85; Peterhead, 1850: 1 collector at £150, and 1 comptroller at £120 a-year; Port-Glasgow, 1849: 1 tide-surveyor at £100. It is explained that the coast guard formerly stationed at Broughty Ferry was withdrawn in 1850, and that 2 offices of tidewater, 1st class, and 2 of boatmen at Dundee, were abolished in 1854; that

1 searcher at Glasgow at £150 a-year was abolished in 1855, and the office of superintending locker at £60 a-year and 2s. 6d. day-pay was abolished in 1854; that 1 office of searcher at Grangemouth, with a salary of £100 a-year, was abolished in 1854; that at Greenock, 5 offices of tide-waiter were abolished in 1849; that Anstruther in 1852 was reduced from a sub-port to a creek, and the offices of sub-collector and sub-comptroller, with salaries of £120 and £100 a-year, were abolished; that Dunbar in 1849 was reduced from a sub-port to a creek, and the offices of sub-collector and sub-comptroller, with salaries of £150 and £120 a-year, were abolished; that in 1853, the number of tide-waiters on 2d class at Leith, with salaries of £20 a-year and 2s. 6d. day-pay, were reduced from 19 to 17; and that in 1850, Peterhead, formerly a sub-port attached to Aberdeen, was made an independent port.

2. Inland Revenue.—Ten preventive officers in Scotland, at £100 a-year each, and eleven preventive men at £26, 1s. 5d. a-year each, in all, 21 persons at an annual charge of £1286 with £1806 of allowances and expenses. This addition was made in July 1853 to suppress any illicit practices that might arise in consequence of the augmentation of the rate of duty on spirits. Four supernumerary surveyors of taxes in Scotland at £75 a-year each, sixty surveyors of taxes, four at £400 a-year each, four at £340 a-year each, and fifty-two at £165 a-year each; in all, 64 persons at an annual charge of £11,840. This addition was made in June and July 1854, in consequence of the increase of business from the extension of the Income Tax to incomes of £100, and the alteration of the Assessed Taxes, which brought more persons into charge. Ten preventive officers in Scotland at £100 a-year each, and thirty preventive men at £26, 1s. 5d. a-year each; in all, 40 persons at an annual charge of £1782, with £3285 of allowances and expenses. This augmentation was made in August 1854 to suppress any illicit practices that might be apprehended from the further additional spirit duty in Scotland.

3. Ordinance Department.—A barrack-master at Greenlaw, in 1854, at £91, 5s. a-year, with £25 of allowances and expenses.

4. Post-Office at Edinburgh.—In the Secretary's office, one supplementary clerk at £70, rising by £5 a-year to £120 a-year. In the Surveyor's office, two stationary clerks at £60, rising by £4 a-year to £120 a-year each; and five clerks in charge, in the same office, at £80, rising by £5 a-year to £120 a-year each, with actual travelling expenses, and 10s. a-day when travelling for a week and under, and 7s. a-day when travelling for more than a week. In the Accountant's office, one examiner at £300, rising by £20 a-year to £400 a-year; one cashier at £300, rising by £20 a-year to £400 a-year; and one supplementary clerk at £70, rising by £5 a-year to £120 a-year. In the Sorting office, two assistant inspectors of letter-carriers at £80, rising by £5 a-year to £120 a-year each; one charge-taker at 26s. a-week, rising by 1s. a-week yearly to 30s. a-week; thirteen letter-carriers at 18s. a-week, rising by 6d. a-week yearly to 21s. a-week; one messenger at 22s. a-week, rising by 6d. a-week yearly to 25s. a-week; two labourers at 16s. a-week; two extra porters and railway messengers at 18s. a-week each; two runners from Edinburgh at 14s. a-week each; two messengers in charge of bags at 21s. a-week each. In all, 36 persons have been appointed, on the grounds chiefly of general increase in the business and increased accommodation to the public.

5. Works and Public Buildings.—Clerk of the Works, £460 a-year, with travelling expenses, amounting on an average of two years to £1 a-week; first assistant, £200 a-year; second assistant, £120 a-year. Similar places to those of the Clerk of the Works and his first assistant, existed in the late Office of Woods, Forests, Land Revenues, and Public Buildings.

6. Law and Justice.—Third Sheriff-substitute of the county of Edinburgh, £700 a-year; and junior Sheriff-substitute at Glasgow, £700 a-year: these appointments were made under the Act 16 and 17 Vict. c. 80, in consequence of increased duties. Two clerks in the office of the Deputy-keeper of the Records in her Majesty's General Register House at Edinburgh, at £80, rising by £5 a-year to £120 a-year each: these appointments were made in July 1854, in consequence of a new arrangement of the office.

7. Exchequer.—Seventh clerk in the department of the Queen's and Lord Treasurer's Remembrancer of Exchequer, at £80, increasing by £5 a-year to £120 a-year.

8. General Registry Office of Births, Deaths, and Marriages (Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 80).—Registrar-general, £400 a-year; secretary to Registrar-general, £300 a-year; chief clerk and book-keeper at £120, rising progressively to £150 a-year; two clerks at £80, rising to £150 a-year each.

9. Miscellaneous.—Fourth clerk in the consolidated establishment of Manufactures and Fisheries, at £80, rising to £100.

Secretary, £176; Porter, £75; Curator of Statue Gallery, £72); £239 for purchasing examples and works on art for the School of Design, for Prizes to Students, and for furnishings and expenses (viz. examples and works of art, £45; prizes, £74; furnishings, £3; professional charges and travelling expenses (22 days) of the Director of the Ornamental Department, £71; time and travelling expenses (12 days) of a Commissioner of the Board, £45; £758 for contingent expenses, viz. taxes, insurance, repairs, furnishings, postage, printing, advertising, heating, cleaning and lighting, &c.

The expenditure by the Board of Manufactures on the National Gallery at Edinburgh, from 6th November 1849 to 5th April 1855, was £38,243, of which £4000 was paid for the site, and £34,243 expended on the works for the building. Of this sum, £25,000 was received from the Treasury in terms of a Parliamentary grant.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE AND ART.

The Third Report of the Department of Science and Art states that, towards the close of the year 1854, the Geological Survey of Scotland was begun, and that at the date of the Report (June 1856) about 117 square miles of Haddingtonshire have been mapped on the six-inch scale, and will be published on the maps of the one-inch scale.

The ground and temporary buildings for the Scottish Industrial and Natural History Museum in Edinburgh were purchased during the year 1855, but during the continuance of the war, the government had an understanding with the authorities in Edinburgh that they would not press for the immediate building of the new Museum. Peace being now established, provision will have to be made for the commencement of the work. Considerable progress had been made in obtaining contributions for the Museum, and large additions were expected during the year 1856. It was considered desirable by the government to render the industrial collections available for the purposes of instruction to the students of the University, the buildings of which are contiguous to the site purchased for the erection of the new Museum. The director, Dr George Wilson, was therefore, at the recommendation of the Board of Trade, appointed Professor of Technology at the University, and had 40 pupils attending his course of lectures. The Museum of Natural History in the University, was, during the year 1855, joined to the Department of Science and Art, the collections having been purchased and sustained chiefly by public funds, and the Town Council of Edinburgh having liberally yielded all right in the property which it might possess. With the view of rendering the collections of the Museum useful to the public, the Board of Trade directed that it should be thrown open on one day in the week free of charge, and that the price for admission should on the other days be reduced from one shilling to sixpence. These changes have been attended with great benefit, for while in the period between the 9th October 1854 and the 24th February 1855 the number of visitors (at 1s. each) was no more than 833, in the period between the 8th October 1855 and the 23d February 1856, the number of visitors was 100,947, of whom 978 were admitted on close days (at 6d. each). Notwithstanding this very large accession of visitors, uniformly good conduct prevailed even during the days when the attendance was largest; and though the rooms were frequently overcrowded, on no occasion was any injury beyond that of a very trifling kind sustained by the collection. The arrangement and improvement of the Museum, so well begun by the late Professor Forbes, had been energetically followed up by Professor Allman, who had advanced far towards the formation of a catalogue. The expenditure on the Industrial Museum for Scotland, during the year ending the 31st March 1856, amounted to £7738, of which £7000 were for the purchase of a site, £330 for the salaries of principal officers, £65 for wages of subordinate officers, £50 for salaries of professors, £173 for ordinary repairs, furniture, fittings, &c.

A separate School of Science was established at Aberdeen, in addition to systematic classes opened during the year at Edinburgh. An additional Nautical School was opened at Leith. The Table which follows collects the chief regarding local schools of art in Scotland:—

The proportion of rejected to successful candidates for degrees or admission is 1 to 5 at the University of Edinburgh; 1 in 10 at the University of Glasgow; 1 in 7 at the University of St Andrews; 1 in 4 at King's College, Aberdeen; 1 to between 7 and 8 at Marischal College, Aberdeen; 1 in 6 at the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh; 4 in 31 at the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh; and nearly 1 to 4 or 23·22 per cent. at the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, Glasgow.

The fees for the degree of M.D. are £25 at Edinburgh; £25, 3s. at Glasgow; £26, 5s. at St Andrews; £26, 5s. 6d. at King's College, Aberdeen; and £26, 5s. at Marischal College, Aberdeen. The fees for the degree of M.C. at Glasgow, are £10, 10s.; for the degree of M.B. at King's College, Aberdeen, £5, 5s.; and at Marischal College, Aberdeen, £16, 5s. To those who have taken all their medical education at Marischal College, Aberdeen, the fees are £1 for the degree of M.B., and £15, 5s. for the degree of M.D. The fees paid for a diploma are £10 at the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh, and £10 at the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, Glasgow. The fees for the diploma of the Royal College of Physicians, Edinburgh, are not stated.

During the ten years from 1846 to 1855, the University of Oxford granted 10 degrees of M.B. and 7 degrees of M.D.; the University of Cambridge, 27 degrees of M.B., 11 degrees of Licentiates in Medicine, and 23 degrees of M.D.; the University of London, 146 degrees of M.B. and 95 degrees of M.D.; the University of Durham, 6 degrees of M.D.; the University of Dublin, 106 degrees of M.B. and 26 degrees of M.D.; the Queen's University in Ireland, 34 degrees of M.D.; the Royal College of Surgeons of England admitted 4082 members, 580 fellows, and 294 licentiates in midwifery; the Society of Apothecaries of the City of London, 2615 licentiates; the King and Queen's College of Physicians in Ireland, 7 fellows, 19 honorary fellows, and 71 licentiates; the Royal College of Surgeons in Ireland, 14 fellows, 512 licentiates, and 56 licentiates in midwifery; and the Apothecaries' Hall of Ireland, 214 licentiates.

APPEALS TO THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

The Table which follows shows the number of causes presented to the House of Lords in each year from 1835 to 1855, distinguishing the causes from Scotland; the number standing for hearing at the commencement of each session; the number decided; and the number remaining unheard at the end of each session:—

RECORDS OR REGISTERS OF DEEDS AND WRITS.

Of records or registers in Scotland (other than books of courts) for the registration of deeds, sasines, inhibitions, adjudications, protests, and other legal instruments or writs, there are four classes: (1.) Particular or local Registers kept in the counties by Sheriff Clerks; (2.) Particular or local Registers kept in burghs by Town Clerks; (3.) Particular or local Registers of Sasines, Reversions, and the like, kept in the provinces; and (4.) General Registers of Sasines, Deeds, Batails, Crown Charters and Writs, Patents, and the like, kept at Edinburgh.

(1.) Particular or Local Registers kept in Counties by Sheriff Clerks.—The registers kept by Sheriff Clerks are four in number: (i.) Register of Deeds and Probative Writs; (ii.) Register of Protests; (iii.) Particular or Local Register of Hornings and Expired Charges; (iv.) Particular or Local Register of Inhibitions. The last two registers (which in many instances are contained in one) are transmitted periodically, as volumes are completed, to the Lord Clerk Register's Department in the General Register House at Edinburgh, where they are preserved. The following Table shows the amount of the yearly salary and emoluments of each Sheriff Clerk, where these are fixed or have been returned, the number of deeds or instruments recorded in all the registers kept by him, and the aggregate amount of the fees of registration, during the year 1855. The fees are fixed by the act 1 and 2 Vict. c. 119; and by the acts of sederunt, 16th March 1748, 27th January 1830, and 7th July 1836.

(2.) Particular or Local Registers kept in Burghs by Town Clerks.—The registers kept in burghs by Town Clerks are three in number: (i.) Register of Sasines of lands held burgage; (ii.) Register of Deeds; and (iii.) Register of Protests. None of these registers is transmitted to the General Register House at Edinburgh, but the volumes of which they are composed are issued from the Lord Clerk Register's Department. The following Table shows the yearly salary and emoluments of each Town Clerk, in so far as they have been returned, the number of deeds or instruments recorded in all the registers kept by him, and the aggregate amount of the fees of registration, during the year 1855. The fees are fixed by acts of the town councils, by use and wont, by authority of the magistrates, or by the acts of sederunt 10th July 1811, 27th January 1830, 21st December 1849, and 13th December 1851. There is no return from any of the burghs of Annan, Jedburgh, Inverness, Inveraray, Nairn, or Queensferry.

(4.) General Registers of Sasines, Deeds, Entails, Crown Charters and Writs, Patents, and the like, kept at Edinburgh.—The number of general registers kept at Edinburgh (and with one or two exceptions periodically transmitted to the Lord Clerk Register's Department in Her Majesty's General Register House) is twenty; the number of the keepers is six, and one of these, the keeper of the general register of sasines, &c., is keeper also of the particular register of sasines, &c. for Edinburgh, &c. The following Table shows the name of each general register, the yearly salary, and emoluments of the keeper, the number of deeds or instruments recorded, the aggregate amount of the fees of registration, the number of assistants and clerks employed, and the aggregate amount of their salaries and emoluments, in the year 1855. The fees are fixed by the Court of Session, by the Exchequer, by immemorial usage, by acts of sederunt of 10th July 1811, 14th July 1847, 17th November 1849, and 13th December 1851, and by the acts of Parliament 50 Geo. III. c. 112, and 10 and 11 Vict. c. 48, c. 49, c. 50, c. 51. The sums stated as the salaries and emoluments of the keeper, assistant, and clerks of the general register of sasines, &c. include also the salaries and emoluments of the keeper, assistant, and clerks of the particular register of sasines, &c. for Edinburgh, &c. both registers being kept by the same keeper.

The valuation of railways and canals is included in the counties of Berwick, Clackmannan, Dumfries, Kincardine, and Roxburgh: it is not included in the counties of Dumbarton and Fife: the return does not show whether it is or is not included in the other counties. It may be added, for the purpose of comparison, that the yearly rent of lands and heritages in the counties of Scotland was valued in 1649 at about £410,000; and in 1674 at £319,281. The valuation of each county in the last-mentioned year, as stated in Scots money, is given below in the table on p. 253.

The following Table exhibits the valuation of the royal and parliamentary burghs (with the exception of Forfar and Lerwick, from which no returns were received) arranged according to the alphabetical order of the counties in which they are situated:—

The annual value of real property in counties and burghs, it has been seen, in the year 1855-6, was £11,757,138. It may be added, for the purpose of comparison, that the annual value assessed to the property and income tax in 1815, was £6,652,655; in 1842-3, £9,481,762; and in 1848-9, £10,715,385.

The next Table shows the yearly assessable value of the lands and heritages belonging to or leased by each railway and canal company in Scotland, for the year ending at Whitsunday 1856, together with the lineal measurement of the line or canal, and the cost of its stations, wharfs, docks, &c. :—

COMMISSIONERS OF SUPPLY AND LANDOWNERS.

The following Table shows (1.) the number of proprietors in each county of Scotland, standing on the Valuation Rolls under the Act 17 and 18 Vict. c. 91, as of the value requisite to qualify for Commissioners of Supply in terms of that act; (2.) the number of proprietors possessed of the former qualification for Commissioners of Supply, as owners of £100 Scots of old valuation; (3.) the total new valuation of the county (excluding burghs); and (4.) the total old valuation, in pounds Scots. It is to be premised that in Clackmannan, Dumbarton, Dumfries, Edinburgh, Fife, Haddington, Linlithgow, Orkney, Peebles, Perth, Renfrew, Shetland, Sutherland, and Wigtown, the number of Commissioners of Supply is the number after deduction of proprietors possessed of qualifications in more than one place; that in Clackmannan, Dumbarton, Dumfries, Edinburgh, Haddington, Linlithgow, Orkney, Peebles, Perth, Renfrew, Sutherland, and Wigtown, the number of heritors of £100 Scots on the old valuation rolls is the number after deduction of heritors of that amount in more than one place; that in Dumfries, Edinburgh, Haddington, Peebles, and Perth, the number of proprietors, whether on the new or on the old valuation rolls, is the number after deduction of those who possess properties in more than one place; that in Shetland there was no old valued rent, but one merk land being held, by the Prisons Act, to be equal to two pounds Scots of old valued rent, and the land-tax being levied on 13,726 merks, twice that number of pounds has been set down as the equivalent of the old valued rent in Scots money.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS OF SCOTLAND.

The first of the following Tables shows (1.) The number of the occupants of agricultural tenements in each of the years 1855 and 1856 (exclusive of tenants of woods, owners of villas, farmers, householders, and the like), paying a yearly rental of £10 and upwards, in each county of Scotland, with the exception of Argyll, Caithness, Inverness, Orkney and Shetland, Ross and Cromarty, Sutherland, and that part of Bute which lies within the Island of Arran, the returns from these six counties and part of a seventh (distinguished in the subsequent pages by an *), being from occupants paying a yearly rental of £20 and upwards; (2.) The aggregate number of acres of such agricultural tenements under tillage in each county, as well in 1855 as in 1856; and (3.) The number of acres of such agricultural tenements under each kind of crop or tillage in each county, as well in 1855 as in 1856 (with the exception of rape, which was not separately returned in the former year). The second Table shows the number of live stock in each county, possessed by the occupants of the agricultural tenements included in the first table, as well in 1855 as in 1856.

It is to be premised that besides the acreage and stock embraced in these returns obtained in 1854 that there were then 238,170 acres of land cultivated, 108 head of live cattle owned, by occupants of agricultural tenements less than £10 yearly, in twenty-five counties and in that part of Bute which lies within the Island of Arran, and rented at less than £20 yearly, and in that part of Buteshire which lies within the Island of Arran, as stated in the Almanac for 1856, pp. 213, 214.

In the subjoined Table are shown the numbers and value of live stock in Ireland in each of the last five years, the valuation being made according to the rates assumed by the Census Commissioners of 1851, namely, on horses, £8; cattle, £6, 10s.; sheep, 22s.; pigs, 25s. each. It is to be premised that the enumeration of stock in 1856 began on the 22d of June, or six weeks earlier than in the previous year :—

PRICES OF GRAIN IN THE EDINBURGH MARKET.

The following Table shows the average prices (per imperial quarter) of wheat, barley, and oats in the weekly grain market of Edinburgh from the 31st of October 1855 to the 3d of December 1856, together with the number of quarters of each of these kinds of grain exposed for sale and sold on each market-day, and the average prices and quantities for the year ending on the 22d of October 1856. For the purpose of comparison, a column is added showing the "imperial weekly average" price of wheat in England for the week ending on the first Saturday after the Edinburgh market-day (Wednesday).

A "State respecting the supply and sales of grain in the Edinburgh corn-market during the year ended at 27th August 1856," printed by order of the Magistrates and Council, gives the following results:—

COAL MINES.

The number and causes of fatal accidents in collieries in Scotland in each of the years 1853, 1854, and 1855, are shown in the following Table:—

Year.	Lives lost from miscellaneous causes.	Lives lost in shafts.	Lives lost from falls of roof.	Lives lost from explosions.	Total lives lost.
1853.....	16	25	25	15	81
1855.....	16	26	19	7	68

"This statement," says the Inspector of Coal Mines in Scotland, "shows a diminution (during the year 1855) on the aggregate of thirty accidents from all causes, fifteen of these coming under the head 'miscellaneous.' The accidents from explosions of fire-damp are nearly 50 per cent. fewer than in the previous year, and there is every reason to believe that this favourable aspect is the result of increased attention on the part of the owners and managers to the better ventilation of their collieries." The quantity of coal raised in Scotland during the year 1855 is estimated by the Inspector at 7,650,000 tons, being an increase of 202,000 tons as compared with the previous year. This shows an average of one death by accident for every 112,500 tons of coal raised; the average in 1854 having been one death for every 82,285 tons raised.

FISHERIES.

The total produce of the herring fisheries in Scotland and the Isle of Man, during the year 1855, was 897,462½ barrels or crans, being an increase over the preceding year of 157,111½ barrels. The total quantity cured was 766,703½ barrels; the total quantity branded, 280,581½ barrels; the total quantity exported, 442,264 barrels; the total quantity assorted after the Dutch mode and branded accordingly, 224,782 "full" and 640 "maties;" and the total quantity taken and sold for immediate consumption or promptly disposed of, 130,759 barrels; showing an increase, as compared with the preceding year, of 130,141½ barrels in the quantity cured; of 68,737½ barrels in the quantity branded; of 80,567½ barrels in the quantity exported; of 47,094 barrels "full," and 283 "maties" in the quantity assorted after the Dutch mode and branded accordingly; and of 26,970 barrels in the quantity taken and sold for immediate consumption. "These returns," say the Commissioners of British Fisheries, "are the third highest on record (being exceeded only by those of the years 1849 and 1853), and show both an important and a prosperous trade. A great quantity of fish has been taken with few interruptions or casualties; the prices to all classes engaged in the fishery have been remunerative; and the markets both at home and upon the Continent have maintained a promising appearance throughout the year. The system of foreign purchasers attending personally at the stations to buy the herrings they required, has extended itself, and is found especially convenient and advantageous for a business like the fishery, carried on in small and widely scattered creeks upon remote and almost unknown parts of the coasts. For the trade abroad to have been so well sustained, although the ports in the Baltic and some of the herring-consuming countries were much disturbed by the war, is matter of sincere congratulation, and has proved of signal benefit to the large population connected with the fisheries, among whom the gradual tendency of money to become scarce and accommodation on credit restricted, might have otherwise produced severe losses and suffering. That more than a third of the whole quantity cured was branded, when taken in connexion with the high standard of cure required of branded herrings in all the markets of Europe, is conclusive as to the superior curing attained, and to its general diffusion under the superintendence of the officers. Upon the Continent, Scotch herrings have continued to rise in public favour; for the export to that quarter has exceeded by 106,136 barrels the export of the previous year. That so large an export has not arisen from a redundancy of produce, but from our herrings attaining a better position in the foreign markets, is shown by the ready sales effected there at high prices, in striking contrast with the immense fishing of 1849, when every market was glutted with Scotch herrings. Yet the total export to the Continent in that year was only 257,108 barrels, being 86,921 barrels less than in 1855. The possession of such fisheries must be a source of wealth to any nation, and their value becomes every year more manifest. The fishing towns begin to show improved dwelling-houses; shops of larger size, with superior commodities offered for sale, are on the increase; bank agencies are extending to places that recently were little more than straggling villages of fishermen's huts; and roads and travelling communications are being opened up. At sea, the advance is still more conspicuous. The boats are much larger, of better construction, and more complete. The number and value of the trains of nets in use by each boat have also greatly increased; and taking into view the whole equipment, the precariousness of success, and the risks to which the property is exposed, the amount of capital embarked by fishermen in the adventure of the herring fishery is truly surprising, and is believed to be without a parallel among the men in any other trade." In illustration of the value of the fisheries as a source of supply of hardy seamen for the navy, it is stated that the number of Naval Coast Volunteers at the end of 1854 was 1821 in England, 1497 in Scotland, and 683 in Ireland. Thus Scotland, it is remarked, with a population of only 2,888,742, produced only 324 volunteers less than England with a population of 17,927,609, and 814 more than Ireland with a population of 6,553,210.

The total produce of the cod and ling fisheries in Scotland and the Isle of Man, during the year 1855, was 177,100 cwts. and 6316½ barrels, being an increase over the preceding year of 9373½ cwts. and 150 barrels. There were cured dried 113,561½ cwts.; cured in pickle, 6316½ barrels; and exported, 29,154½ cwts. cured dried, and 25 barrels cured in pickle; being an increase, as compared with the previous year, of 3877 cwts. and 150 barrels in the quantity cured, and of 9597 cwts. and 25 barrels in the quantity exported. The quantity taken and sold fresh or otherwise consumed, was 63,539 cwts., being an increase over the preceding year of 5497 cwts.

The total number of persons engaged in the fisheries in the year 1855 was 94,155, being an increase, as compared with the previous year, of 26,321 persons. The number of boats employed in the shore-curing department of the fisheries was 11,747, manned by 41,602 fishermen and boys, being an increase, as compared with the previous year, of 856 boats and 1243 fishermen and boys.

The number of square yards of netting employed in the fisheries in 1855, was 80,031,507, being an increase upon the preceding year of 2,820,936 square yards. The number of yards of lines was 34,023,034, being an increase of 3,503,370 yards. The total value of boats, nets, and lines, was £618,484, being an increase in value, as compared with the previous year, of £31,064.

The following Table shows the number, class, and tonnage of boats, whether decked or undecked, the number of fishermen and boys, curers, venders, coopers, netmakers, and others employed in the fisheries, in each district, in the year 1855 :—

The increase of horse-power in the factories of the United Kingdom was 6567 in the year 1852-53 ; 5758 in the year 1853-54 ; and 2047½ in the year 1854-55.

The number of accidents from machinery in factories in Scotland was 334 in the half-year ending 30th April 1853 ; 307 in the half-year ending 30th October 1853 ; 288 in the half-year ending 30th April 1854 ; 268 in the half-year ending 30th October 1854 ; 242 in the half-year ending 30th April 1855 ; and 222 in the half-year ending 30th October 1855.

ber of steam-vessels that entered from foreign ports in the ports of Scotland, in the year 1855, was 132 (viz. 126 British, and 6 Foreign); their tonnage 33,616 (viz. 32,350 British, and 1166 Foreign): the number that cleared for foreign ports was 157 (viz. 146 British, and 11 Foreign); their tonnage 46,488 (viz. 43,364 British, and 3124 Foreign).

The following Table (in continuation of tables in the Almanac for former years) exhibits the tonnage inwards and outwards, both of sailing and of steam-vessels, distinguishing British from Foreign vessels, and vessels in the foreign and colonial trade from those in the coasting trade, at every port in Scotland, in the year 1855:—

Of 396,908 British tonnage which entered inwards in the foreign and colonial trade in 1855, 364,558 tons belonged to sailing vessels, and 32,350 to steam-vessels; of 271,170 Foreign tonnage, 270,004 belonged to sailing vessels, and 1166 to steam vessels: of 548,891 British tonnage which cleared outwards in the same trade, in the same year, 502,147 tons belonged to sailing vessels, and 46,744 to steam vessels; of 291,259 Foreign tonnage, 288,135 belonged to sailing vessels, and 3124 to steam-vessels.

Of 1,959,918 British tonnage which entered inwards in the coasting trade, in 1855, 967,748 tons belonged to sailing vessels, and 992,170 to steam-vessels; of 2,034,287 British tonnage which cleared outwards in the foreign trade, in the same year, 1,042,426 belonged to sailing vessels, and 1,011,861 to steam-vessels: of the Foreign tonnage in the coasting trade, no part belonged to steam-vessels.

There were registered at the ports of Scotland in 1855, 4 colonial-built vessels with a tonnage of 1867; and 9 foreign-built vessels, with a tonnage of 1912.

The number of gallons of British spirits exported from the United Kingdom in 1854 was 680,564 (viz. to British Colonies and Possessions, 474,062; to Foreign Countries and Colonies, 206,502): the number of gallons exported in 1855 was 3,840,691 (viz. to British Colonies and Possessions, 312,265; to Foreign Countries and Colonies, 3,528,426).

The number of proof gallons of spirits distilled in the United Kingdom in 1855, was 27,485,193, viz. in England, 7,921,983; in Scotland, 11,283,636; in Ireland, 8,279,574. The number of gallons delivered duty-paid direct from distillers' stocks, was 4,327,977, viz. in England, 1,409,046; in Scotland, 2,117,059; in Ireland, 801,872. The number of gallons put into bond was 23,157,216, viz.

in England 6,512,937; in Scotland, 9,166,577; in Ireland, 7,477,702. The number of gallons in bonded stores on 31st December 1855, was 4,795,114, viz. in England, 534,063; in Scotland, 1,146,646; in Ireland, 3,114,405.

The number of gallons of proof spirits on which duty was paid for consumption in the United Kingdom in 1855 was 21,957,275, viz. in Great Britain, 15,728,419 (2,343,649 at 6s., 8,736,346 at 7s. 10d., 4,648,424 at 8s. a-gallon); in Ireland 6,138,856 (10,281 at 3s. 4d., 2,401,602 at 4s., 1,896,168 at 6s., 1,830,805 at 6s. 2d. a-gallon). The amount of duty so paid was £7,617,582, viz. in Great Britain £5,984,199, in Ireland £1,633,382. Since the passing of the Act 18 Vict. c. 22 [see the Almanac for 1856, p. 135] assimilating the rate of duty in England and Scotland, no correct account can be rendered of the consumption of these countries separately; neither have the malt and grain spirits been distinguished since the abolition of the malt drawback by the Act 18 and 19 Vict. c. 94 [see Almanac for 1856, p. 146].

There were imported into England from Ireland in 1855, 1,696,628 gallons; into Scotland from Ireland, 8263 gallons; into Ireland from England, 145 gallons; into Ireland from Scotland 766,646 gallons. The number of gallons removed under bond to be warehoused in England without payment of any duty, in 1855, was 3,131,953 (viz. from Scotland, 2,059,781, from Ireland 1,072,172); the number of gallons on which duty was paid within 21 days was 2,646,645 (viz. from Scotland 1,770,229; from Ireland 876,416): the number of gallons actually warehoused under excise lock, was 485,308 (viz. from Scotland 289,552; from Ireland 195,756).

The number of gallons of spirits of all kinds charged with duty for consumption in the United Kingdom in the year 1855 was 26,745,962, of which 21,957,275 were British, and 4,788,687 were Foreign and Colonial. There were consumed in Great Britain (the consumption in England not being accurately distinguishable from Scotland since the assimilation of the rates of duty on spirits by the Act 18 Vict. c. 22) 15,728,419, and in Ireland 6,228,856 gallons of British spirits. There were consumed in England, 4,457,455, in Scotland 192,148, and in Ireland 139,084 gallons of Foreign and Colonial spirits.

NUMBER OF LICENSED PUBLICANS AND GROCERS.

The following Table gives the number of persons licensed (exclusive of brewers) to sell spirits, &c., in each county of Scotland, for the year ending the 10th of October 1855, distinguishing those who are publicans only from grocers who sell spirits not to be drunk on the premises, and showing the proportion which the whole number of publicans and grocers so licensed bear to the population according to the Census of 1851:—

RAILWAYS.

The "Report to the Lords of the Committee of Privy Council for Trade and Foreign Plantations, of the proceedings of the department relating to Railways for the year 1855," bears date in May 1856.

The length of new lines of railway in Scotland authorized by Parliament in 1855, was 76 miles. The two lines of most importance were the Glasgow, Dumbarton, and Helensburgh Railway, along the north bank of the Clyde, and the Banff, Macduff, and Turriff Railway. The other lines were merely short branches in connexion with existing railways. The total length of line in Scotland authorized by Parliament at the end of the year 1855, was 1541 miles, of which 1083 were open for traffic, leaving 458 miles authorized but not open on 31st December 1855. All the railways in Scotland are constructed on the narrow gauge. At the close of the year 1855, the number of companies in Scotland having a single line of railway was 20; the length of such line, 254 miles.

The following Table (in continuation of similar tables in former Almanacs) shows the actual number of passengers of each class, the per-centage proportion of each class to the whole number, and the average number of each class per mile in Scotland during the year 1855:—

"The general result," says the annual report, "would appear to be, that as regards the first-class passenger traffic in England and Scotland the fares have been diminished, and the receipts per passenger have decreased in a greater ratio than the diminution of fares, but the receipts per mile have increased. Railways have, therefore, been used by this class more frequently, and for shorter distances. The fares at which third-class passengers in England and Scotland have been carried have also been reduced: the average distance travelled by this class does not however appear to have diminished, but the receipts per mile have largely increased. As regards the second-class traffic in England, the fares have not been diminished, but the average distance travelled over has decreased: the receipts per mile have not, however, varied much. In Scotland the second-class traffic has largely decreased, in respect of the actual receipts and of the receipts per passenger; the fares have at the same time been diminished. This diminution of receipts may perhaps be due to the fact that there is very little difference between the average fare per mile for first and second-class, and a great difference between the average fare of second and third-class."

The total length of line of railway in the United Kingdom, authorized by Parliament at the end of the year 1855, was 12,851 miles, of which 8280 miles were open, leaving 4571 miles authorized, but not open, on the 31st December 1855. Of the 8280 miles open at the end of 1855, there were 6210 in England, 1083 in Scotland, and 987 in Ireland. The total amount of money authorized to be raised by railway companies, in the United Kingdom, by shares and on loan, at the end of 1855, was £374,971,966, of which £297,583,284 had been raised, leaving to be raised £77,388,682, of which, it is estimated, that from £30,000,000 to £40,000,000 was for railways for which the parliamentary powers had expired. The total number of proprietors in railway companies in the United Kingdom, on the 31st December 1855, was 166,272. The total number of passengers conveyed on railways, in the United Kingdom, in the year 1855, was 118,595,135, or 14,503 per mile; the receipts for passengers were £9,525,205, or £1164 per mile; the receipts from all sources of traffic were £21,507,599 or £2629 per mile. The total amount of capital paid up at the end of the year 1855 was £222,422,043, of which £169,604,017 was ordinary, £52,816,026 preference; the total amount raised by loans was £75,161,241; the average interest on preference shares was at the rate of 4·92 per cent., its amount, £2,603,382; the average interest on loans was at the rate of 4·35 per cent., its amount £3,285,475; the total amount of interest on preference shares and loans was £5,888,857; the gross receipts were £21,507,599; the amount available for dividend, after deducting 48 per cent. on gross receipts for working expenses, and the interest on preference shares and loans, was £5,295,095; the average rate of dividend on the whole of the ordinary share capital invested in railways was 3·12 per cent. The number of persons employed on the 8116 miles of railway open for traffic in the United Kingdom on the 30th June 1855 was 97,952, or 12·07 per mile: the number of stations was 2798, or ·34 per mile.

The proportion which the number of passengers killed and injured from causes beyond their own control bore to the total number carried, reduced for the purposes of comparison to the standard of 1,000,000, was, in 1854, in England, ·09 killed, 3·08 injured; in Scotland, ·10 killed, 3·51 injured; in Ireland, ·14 killed, ·57 injured: in 1855, in England, ·08 killed, 2·51 injured; in Scotland, ·08 killed, 4·50 injured; in Ireland, ·14 killed, ·97 injured.

The expenditure of the railway companies in Scotland during the year 1855, in so far as it could be ascertained and classified, was as follows:—maintenance of way, £151,907; locomotive working and repairs, £421,221; traffic charges, £262,047; police, watchmen, &c., £15,278; rates and taxes, and government duty, £44,735; compensation for accidents and losses, £4598; miscellaneous and general expenses, £145,933; interest on loans, £383,040; in all, £1,428,759. The proportion of expenditure to receipt is 49 per cent. in Scotland, 48 per cent. in England, 41 per cent. in Ireland. The per-centage proportion of maintenance of way is 14·53 in Scotland, 14·43 in England, 12·94 in Ireland; of locomotive including rolling stock, 40·28 in Scotland, 37·99 in England, 43·09 in Ireland; of traffic charges, 25·06 in Scotland, 26·64 in England, 25·77 in Ireland; of miscellaneous charges (including policemen, watchmen, compensation, &c.,) 15·85 in Scotland, 13·42 in England, 14·09 in Ireland; of rates and government duty, 4·28 in Scotland, 7·52 in England, 4·11 in Ireland (where there is no government duty on passengers). The expenditure per mile run by the trains, was 36·63*d.* in England, 28·38*d.* in Scotland, 26·77*d.* in Ireland. The receipts per mile run by the trains were 68·45*d.* in England, 57·24*d.* in Scotland, and 63·41*d.* in Ireland. The total receipts per mile from all sources of traffic, have risen, in England, from £2908 in 1854 to £2978 in 1855; in Scotland, from £1961 to £2003; in Ireland, from £1010 to £1060. The average working expenses per mile have increased, in England, from £1352 in 1854 to £1504 in 1855; in Scotland from £961 to £997; and in Ireland from £465 to £468.

The following is an account (in continuation of similar accounts in former Almanacs) of the total amount of money which each Railway Company in Scotland had raised at the end of the year 1855 by shares and loans. The figures prefixed to the name of the railway show the number of its proprietors:—

965 Aberdeen, £1,729,769; Alford Valley (abandoned), £4344; 331 Arbroath and Forfar, £211,517; 33 Ayr and Dalmellington, £50,812; 87 Ayr and Maybole Junction, £000; 10 Ayrshire, Bridge of Weir, and Port Glasgow Junction, (abandoned) £25,000; 285 Banff, Macduff, and Turriff Junction, £9629; 2782 Caledonian, £8,252,794; 121 Caledonian and Dumbartonshire Junction, £196,520; 151 Crieff Junction, £22,876; 107 Deeside, £115,087; 377 Dundee and Arbroath, £309,274; 192 Dundee and Newtyle, £106,420; 395 Dundee and Perth and Aberdeen Railway Junction, £730,474; 75 East of Fife, £6,015; 608 Edinburgh and Bathgate, £250,098; 1849 Edinburgh and Glasgow, £3,516,556; 1750 Edinburgh, Perth, and Dundee, £3,236,615; 225 Fife and Kinross, £000; 195 Forth and Clyde Junction, £143,339; Forth and Clyde Navigation (Drumpeller Railway), £14,420; 111 General Terminus and Glasgow Harbour, £147,993; Glasgow, Airdrie, and Monkland Junction (abandoned), £98,258; 2060 Glasgow and South Western, £4,372,204; 208 Glasgow, Dumbarton, and Helensburgh, £42,258; Glasgow, Strathaven, and Lesmahagow (abandoned), £000; 680 Great North of Scotland, £671,356; Great North of Scotland, Eastern Extension (abandoned), £7105; 219 Inverness and Nairn, £86,000; 14½ Inverury and Old Meldrum Junction, £5073; 155 Jedburgh, £10,490; 4 Kilmarnock and Troon, £45,000; 87 Leven, £26,484; 279 Monkland, £626,487; Monkland (Slamannan and Borrowstounness stock), £30,500; 120 Morayshire, £32,950; 3466 North British, £4,394,960; 12 Paisley, Barrhead, and Hurler (abandoned), £24,150; 151 Peebles, £90,471; 119 Perth and Dunkeld, £27,765; 86 St Andrews, £25,500; 1120 Scottish Central, £1,613,562; 335 Scottish Midland Junction, £734,877; 63 Selkirk and Galashiels, £22,600; 456 Stirling and Dunfermline, £520,000; Strathtay and Breadalbane, £12,000.

The following Table (in continuation of similar tables in the Almanacs for previous years) shows the length of line of each Railway in Scotland open for traffic on the 30th of June and on the 31st of December 1855; with the number of passengers, the receipts from passengers, and the total receipts from all sources of traffic, during each of the half-years ending on the 30th of June 1855, and the 31st of December 1855:—

The following is a list of the Railway Acts for Scotland passed in the session of 1855, with the length of each line, and the amount of its proposed capital stock:—Banff, Macduff, and Turriff Junction Railway, length 17 miles, 74 chains, capital £120,000; Caledonian Railway (plant and station accommodation), capital £375,000; Dundee and Perth and Aberdeen Railway Junction (Consolidation); East of Fife Railway, length 7 miles, 8 chains, capital £32,000; Edinburgh and Glasgow Railway Amendment, capital £165,000; Fife and Kinross Railway, length 14 miles, capital £70,000; Glasgow, Dumbarton, and Helensburgh Railway, length 18 miles, 43 chains, capital £240,000; Glasgow and South Western Railway Consolidation, length 1 mile, 5 chains; Great North of Scotland Railway Extension, length 12 miles, 50 chains; Inverury and Old Meldrum Junction, length 4 miles, 43 chains, capital £22,000; Jedburgh Railway, length 7 miles, 16 chains, capital £35,000.

THE CALEDONIAN CANAL.

The total amount of tonnage rates received from vessels navigating the Caledonian Canal was £4392 in the year ending 1st May 1855, and £5134 in the year ending 1st May 1856; showing an increase during the latter period of £922. The total number of passages made on the Canal in the year ending 1st May 1855 was 1713, of which 591 were through passages from east to west; 462 were through passages from west to east; 258 were passages on parts of the canal; and 402 were passages by steamers. The total number of passages in the year ending 1st May 1856 was 1932; of which 696 were through passages from east to west; 609 were through passages from west to east; 213 were passages on parts of the canal; and 412 were passages by steamers.

"The state of the Canal revenue," say the Commissioners in their Fifty-first Annual Report, "considered in reference to the causes likely to affect it unfavourably during the past year, must be looked upon as encouraging. The war with Russia, though greatly interfering with the Baltic trade, has not prevented a positive increase in the number of foreign vessels resorting to the canal. The unprecedented prevalence of easterly winds, continuing almost through the month of May, has enabled the larger class of vessels to avoid the canal, and make the north-about voyage, the direction from east to west being that in which it is ordinarily attended with the greatest difficulty, and being, consequently, the course of the great majority of the large ships which resort to the canal. The same cause has diminished the tonnage rates, which are mainly derived from vessels of this class, while it increases the apparent expenditure under the head of 'pilotage,' a requisite for large vessels going through with a fair wind. This is, however, reimbursed by a charge on the vessel included in the towage dues."

The total income of the year ending 1st May 1855, was £6499; the total expenditure, £6550; showing an excess of payments of £51, which was supplied from the balance in bank, now reduced to £1018. The total expenditure from the 20th October 1803 to the 1st May 1856, was £1,368,203; of which sum £554,904 were for labour and workmanship; £202,320 for quarries and masonry; £192,264 for general repair and completion of the navigation from 1840 to 1848; £139,981 for machinery, cast-iron, tools, diving-bell, helmet, &c.; £83,341 for purchase of land and damage; £77,975 for timber; £60,764 for management and law expenses; £24,208 for the cost and maintenance of steam tug-vessels. Of £1,368,203, the total income from 20th October 1803 to 1st May 1856, £1,242,387 were derived from parliamentary grants, and £90,748 from canal dues.

THE CRINAN CANAL.

The total amount of dues received from vessels navigating the Crinan Canal in the year ending 30th April 1855, was £2075; of which sum £566 were from steamboat dues, and £1508 were from vessel and boat dues. The amount in the year ending 30th April 1856 was £2060; of which sum £589 were from steamboat dues, and £1471 were from vessel and boat dues.

The total number of passages in the year ending 30th April 1855 was 2159; viz. of steamers, 483; of vessels, 1259; of boats, 417. The total number of passages in the year ending 30th April 1856 was 2014, viz. of steamers, 497; of vessels, 1128; of boats, 389.

It is stated by the Commissioners that "the extreme dryness of the spring of 1856 occasioned the complete exhaustion of the reservoir: the Canal was never absolutely shut, but for two or three days there was not more than 7 feet 6 inches depth of water in the western reach, and the Canal steamers were twice obliged to go round the Mull of Cantyre."

TURNPIKE ROAD TRUSTS.

The following Table (in continuation of similar tables in the Almanacs for former years) shows the principal results of the statutory abstract presented to parliament of the general statements of the income and expenditure of the several Turnpike Trusts in Scotland, between the term of Whitsunday 1852 and the term of Whitsunday 1853. It is to be premised that the first column showing the length of road (exclusive of fractions of a mile) in each county, is taken from a parliamentary paper dated in April 1852; that there is no return for Orkney and Shetland; and that the return for Inverness-shire includes the "Highland roads and bridges" of Argyllshire, Buteshire, Ross-shire and Cromartyshire, Sutherlandshire, Caithness-shire, Aberdeenshire, Banffshire, Elginshire, and Nairnshire.

The aggregate balance in the hands of treasurers at Whitsunday 1852, was £112,298; the balance due to treasurers at the same date was £22,105. The revenue derived from fines was £2; from incidental receipts, £25,947; from money borrowed on security of tolls, £20,489. The expenditure for manual labour was £83,109; for carriage of materials, £8857; for materials for surface repairs, £21,062; for land purchased, £770; for damage done in obtaining materials, £1502; for tradesmen's bills, £5565; for salaries of treasurers, £2099; for salaries of clerks, £4669; for salaries of surveyors, £10,501; for law charges, £5069; for interest of debt, £39,485; for annuities, £522; for improvements, £33,718; for watering roads, £259; for debts paid off, £36,508; for incidental expenses, £13,706. The amount of bonded or mortgage debts was £1,652,482; of floating debts, £32,426; of unpaid interest, £589,268; of balances due to treasurers at Whitsunday 1853, £20,085. The arrears of tolls for the current year of the account amounted to £4776; the arrears of other receipts for the current year, to £9020; the arrears of former years, to £30,651; the balances in treasurers' hands at Whitsunday 1853, to £114,450.

The sums expended on the repair of Highland Roads and Bridges in the year 1853 were £4199 in Inverness-shire (382½ miles 1313 yards of parliamentary, and 148½ miles of military roads); £2017 in Ross-shire (210½ miles); £744 in Sutherlandshire (96½ miles); £890 in Caithness-shire (54 miles); £214 in Aberdeenshire (15½ miles, 971 yards); £132 in Nairnshire (20½ miles); £330 in Morayshire (8 miles 1615 yards parliamentary, and 26½ miles of military roads); £23 in Banffshire (1½ mile); £107 in Buteshire (17 miles); £1523 in Argyllshire (130½ miles of parliamentary, and 80 miles of military roads); in all, £10,181, (being an increase of £581 over the previous year), of which £2517 were paid from the funds of the Commissioners, and £2865 from toll-dues, leaving £4798 as the proportion payable by the counties. There was farther expended £1022 (being an increase of £336 over the previous year) in maintaining in repair 136 miles 1653 yards of roads in Caithness-shire surrendered to the charge of the Commissioners in 1838.

The following Table shows the comparative state of the Turnpike Trusts in England and North Wales in 1837 (when the highest amount of revenue for tolls was received), 1847, 1849, 1851, 1852, and 1853:—

The total receipts of the Turnpike Trusts in South Wales, in 1853, were £37,138 (of which £27,319 were from tolls); the total expenditure, £37,965 (of which £20,645 were for repairs, £2032 for improvements); the amount of debts payable by annuities, £218,220.

The total receipts of the ordinary highways in the counties of England and Wales, for the year ending the 25th March 1854, were £996,871 (of which £915,025 were from rates or assessments); the total expenditure, £1,012,658. The total receipts of the highways of the cities, boroughs, towns, boards of health, &c., in England and Wales, for the year ending the 25th March 1854, were £1,083,177 (of which £911,415 were from rates or assessments); the total expenditure, £1,076,295. The total receipts of the highways in England and Wales, for the year ending the 25th March 1854, were £2,080,049 (of which £1,826,440 were for rates or assessments); the total expenditure, £2,088,954.

It appears from the report of the commissioner appointed to inquire into the Turnpike Trusts in Ireland in 1856, that there were in that year 325 miles of turnpike in that island, and 41,000 miles of presentment roads, or roads supported by local rates.

SAVINGS BANKS.

The Table on the opposite page shows (in continuation of Tables in former Almanacs) the amount received from depositors in Savings Banks, the amount paid to them, and the amount of the capital of Savings Banks, as well in Scotland as in the United Kingdom, in each of the five years from 1851 to 1855.

The 46 Savings Banks had, on the 20th November 1854, 45 unpaid, and 97 paid officers. The amount of security given by the unpaid officers was £16,200, by the paid officers, £31,750. The salaries and allowances to the paid officers amounted to £4945. The annual expenses of management, inclusive of all payments and salaries, amounted to £6192, equal on an average to 6s. 5d. per cent. on the capital of the banks. The total amount invested with the Commissioners for the Reduction of the National Debt (excluding the surplus fund) was £1,925,365; the amount of the separate surplus fund in the hands of the Commissioners, £191; the balance in the hands of treasurers, £11,235. The average rate of interest paid to depositors was £2, 17s. 9d. The annual number of receipts from depositors was 216,569; the annual number of payments to depositors, 141,789.

The subjoined Table exhibits (in continuation of Tables in the Almanacs for 1856, p. 231, for 1855, p. 266, and for 1853, p. 176) the number of Savings Banks in each province of the United Kingdom on 20th November 1854; and the number of accounts remaining open, the total amount owing to depositors, the number of annuities granted, and their amount, as well on the 20th November 1854 as on the 20th November 1853:—

THE ORDNANCE SURVEY OF SCOTLAND.

The House of Commons, on the 3d of March 1856, ordered that a select committee be appointed to consider the Ordnance Survey of Scotland.

The Report of the Committee, which is dated on the 6th of May last, begins with a recapitulation of the history of the Survey, of which all that is material has been recorded in the Almanacs for 1852 (pp. 192, 193), 1853 (p. 187), 1855 (p. 274, 276), and 1856 (pp. 238, 239).

The committee proceed to remark that since the Ordnance Survey was undertaken, and general attention more immediately directed to its object, there has been a gradual progress of public opinion in favour of conducting it on the larger scale of 25 inches to a mile, or equal to one inch to an acre. The idea of a cadastral survey on this scale originated, it is stated, with Delambre and Laplace in 1793; and a commission of which they were members recommended it to Napoleon in 1807, who adopted it, and carried out the survey of France upon that scale with signal success. The proposal to adopt the 25-inch scale in Great Britain was first made by Colonel Dawson of the Tithe and Enclosure Commission, who stated that had his suggestions been adopted in 1837, when the one-inch Ordnance maps were found utterly useless for the purposes of the Tithe Commission, an expense of £3,529,830 might have been saved to the country, besides a further considerable but unascertained outlay in respect of surveys for roads, canals, water supply, and the sale and transfer of property. "Very valuable evidence," say the committee, "has been given by the Lord Advocate of Scotland as to the effect of the adoption of a survey on the 25-inch scale, on mortgages and transfers of landed property. The Lord Advocate confined his evidence to the facilities that would be afforded to this important class of transactions, by correct maps of property, published and circulated under the authority of the Government; he stated that, in his opinion, the depositing of such maps might be available to supersede descriptions of property; that the system of registration of deeds now in force in Scotland affords peculiar facilities for such a system; and, in his own words, that 'he is perfectly satisfied that in ten or twenty years, although conveyances would, in all probability, keep up descriptions, as lawyers do, for greater safety, yet he thinks that that system might be gradually dispensed with.' Such an opinion, coming from so high a professional source, is well worthy of consideration." It was confirmed by the evidence of the distinguished engineer, Mr Charles Vignolles, who stated that in Bavaria all transfers of land are made by cadastral maps on a 25-inch scale; that no practical difficulties occur in the use of these maps, and that he does not believe that there would be any difficulty in applying a similar system to Great Britain; that it would be necessary to re-register property transferred in this manner, when it was subdivided and sold in separate lots, but that in Scotland, where every conveyance and transfer of property is registered, every difficulty would be obviated by employing the same officers who are employed in registering deeds to register the plans also.

The committee report that they examined most carefully into the estimates and probable cost of the survey, as proposed by Colonel James; and found that after a year and a half's experience, his original estimates are fully borne out and confirmed in practice, and that a sum of £917,000, of which £284,000 has been already expended, will cover every expense attendant on the 25-inch cadastral survey of Scotland, including the publication of maps on the reduced 6-inch and 1-inch scales, and the maps of the towns on the 10-feet to the inch scale; that for the 6-inch survey alone £817,000 would be required, including the publication of the maps, and for the 1-inch survey alone £250,000, including the publication of the maps; that the difference of the cost of surveying between the 25-inch and 6-inch surveys would be comparatively immaterial, and that the recent introduction of the anastatic and photographic processes, the substitution of piece-work for day-labour, and other improvements, will lead to increased economy in producing reduced maps from an enlarged survey. It also appears that £76,000 has already been paid back into the Treasury for maps sold, and that the Treasury are now realizing £4000 annually from the sale of Ordnance maps; that one year more will pay off the cost of engraving Ireland, and that a few years more will repay the cost of engraving Scotland; and that the superintendent of the survey finds, from experience, that as regards the 25-inch maps, 33 copies taken by the anastatic or zincographic process will repay the entire cost of production, and that he feels quite confident that if his suggestions with regard to the publication of the 25-inch scale map are followed, the entire cost of the publication will be eventually repaid at no distant period. The sum of about £633,000 required to accomplish the survey of Scotland in the manner proposed, would be spread over ten years, thus requiring an annual vote of £63,000 a-year to complete the survey of Scotland on the most approved principles.

“The time,” say the committee, “has now arrived when it is absolutely necessary for Parliament to consider, and finally determine, the comprehensive question, What is the nature of the survey which they are prepared to sanction as the one which will most conduce to the general interest of the nation at large? Your committee have come to a decision in favour of the 25 [or 25½ inches to a mile] scale for a cadastral survey of the country. In doing so they are influenced by the great advantages which may be anticipated from the prosecution and completion of such a national work on principles which have been already successfully acted upon in the surveys of France, Bavaria, Switzerland, and other countries in Europe. Of the purposes which a national survey ought to subserve, some of the principal appear to be, 1. the registration of titles; 2. the simplifying and cheapening conveyances of land, deeds of sale, leases, and all transfers of landed property; 3. local valuation and assessments; 4. adjustment of civil and ecclesiastical divisions; 5. enclosure of waste lands; 6. sanitary purposes; 7. statistics; 8. parliamentary purposes, in reference to standing orders; 9. geological and mineral surveys; 10. general drainage, water supply, and engineering purposes; 11. military and purely scientific purposes. To secure such advantages as these, it is essential that a national survey should be conducted on a scale which, at the same time that it is susceptible of reduction for geographical uses, is also large enough to be available for general purposes of utility to all classes of the nation. It will be found from the evidence that the partial prosecution of the survey on a large scale has already produced the most important scientific and practical results. It has been proved that, unless the survey be conducted on a scale large enough to admit readily of the insertion of all the names and places in the populous mining and manufacturing districts, the attainment even of a correct geographical map is always difficult, and in many cases entirely impracticable. It has also been established that areas cannot be accurately measured from the paper (which is the real test of the practical usefulness of a cadastral survey) on a scale of less than 24 inches. While it is possible to reduce, it is impossible to enlarge a parent map. A survey conducted on a small scale is liable to error; and the error, however small, if magnified even by the stretching of paper or other accidental causes, may be and has been productive of serious consequences. The committee have therefore recommended the completion of the Ordnance Survey of Scotland on such a scale and in such a manner as will secure the greatest accuracy and uniformity on the one hand, and make the most of the work that has already been done on the other. Thirteen counties in Scotland have been already surveyed [Wigtown, Kirkcubright, Edinburgh, Haddington, Fife and Kinross, Linlithgow, and the isle of Lewis engraved upon the 6-inch scale; Ayr, Dumfries, Renfrew, Linlithgow, Peebles, and half of Berwick, surveyed, and lines plotted, and in part published, upon the 25-inch scale]. These comprehend, with the exception of Lanarkshire, Perthshire, Aberdeenshire, Forfarshire, and a few of the north-eastern counties, by far the most important of the populous and cultivated districts, to which alone the survey on the 25-inch scale is to be limited. It is admitted that, under any circumstances, a map of the Highlands, published on a 1-inch scale, must be produced. The plan recommended by the committee, which will be completed for £633,000, includes an estimate for a publication of the Ordnance Survey on both the 6-inch and 1-inch reduced from the 25-inch scale. Now, the production of a 1-inch Ordnance map of the whole country as speedily as possible is an essential part of the plan. It is admitted that, for the sake of accuracy, the survey for a map on a 1-inch scale must be conducted on a larger than a 1-inch scale; and as no unnecessary delay can occur by adopting the 6-inch as the intermediate scale for the production of the 1-inch map, the committee recommend that it should be proceeded with. The plans on the 25-inch scale, though admirably adapted for the purposes above mentioned, are too large for use out of doors. Contoured maps for engineering, geological, and several other purposes, on a uniform and intermediate scale between the 25-inch and the 1-inch are required. Such maps can be sold at a price which will cover the entire cost of making them, and they will be found of great value as maps of reference for many public as well as local and private purposes. The committee think, besides, that it would not be real economy to incur the expense of a national survey, without, by the publication of such maps, deriving the utmost advantage from it. The completion of the publication of the 6-inch maps is necessary to render the survey uniform in both the Highland and Lowland districts. Even for those who may doubt whether, in the first instance, a survey founded on the cadastral 25-inch and intermediate 6-inch scale is the very best that could have been adopted for Scotland, yet, adverting to the fact that five counties have been already surveyed on the 25-inch scale (Ayr, Dumfries, Renfrew, Linlithgow, Peebles, and half of Berwick), that eight counties (Wigtown, Kirkcudbright, Edinburgh, Haddington, Fife, Kinross, Linlithgow, and the island of Lewis) are actually engraved on the 6-inch scale, and that more are in progress, it is a matter for consideration whether, under these circumstances, it may not be wise to execute, at the further outlay of £633,000 in ten years, a survey of Scotland on principles on which similar national works have been performed with success in other countries in Europe, and which will be available for the general purposes above enumerated."

In conducting the survey, it appears that the method adopted for ascertaining and recording levels is that which was recommended by the commission of May 1854 (see the Almanac for 1855, pp. 275, 276); and the committee report their opinion "that the weight of evidence greatly preponderates in favour of the system of contouring now in operation, and which is working satisfactorily."

The expenditure on the Ordnance Survey of Great Britain and Ireland up to the 31st March 1856, was £2,350,127, viz. England, £969,219; Scotland, £283,668; Ireland, £1,077,240.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SCOTCHMEN IN IRELAND.—It appears from the General Report on the Census of Ireland for the year 1851 (issued in September 1856) that the number of persons born in Scotland and residing in Ireland was 8585 in the year 1841, and 12,309 in the year 1851, being 0·11 per cent. of the population in the former year, and 0·19 per cent. in the latter year. Of the 12,309 Scotchmen in Ireland in 1851, there were in Belfast town, 2214 (being 2·21 per cent. of the population), and in Dublin city, 1852 (being 0·73 per cent. of the population). The greatest number of Scotch in 1851 was found in Belfast: in 1841 the city of Dublin contained the greatest number. The following places show a decrease in the number of Scotch in 1851 as compared with 1841, viz. Carrickfergus town, Drogheda town, and the counties of Carlow, Dublin, Galway, Kilkenny, King's County, Louth, Mayo, Monaghan, Roscommon, Tipperary, Waterford, Wexford, and Wicklow. For the number of persons born in Ireland and residing in Scotland in the year 1851, reference is made to the Almanac for 1855, pp. 219, 220.

LEGACY DUTIES.—The amount of revenue received in Scotland for stamp duties on legacies was £96,927 in the year 1849; £111,097 in the year 1850; £95,633 in the year 1851; £92,849 in the year 1852, £87,706 in the year 1853; £133,180 in the year 1854; and £129,877 in the year 1855. The amount received for duties on probates, administrations, and testamentary inventories, was £76,933 in the year 1849; £75,272 in the year 1850; £71,314 in the year 1851; £70,429 in the year 1852; £80,630 in the year 1853; £96,326 in the year 1854; and £88,931 in the year 1855. The total duty on legacies received in Scotland from 1805 to 1855, was £3,221,748: the total duty on probates, administrations, and testamentary inventories, received in Scotland from 1805 to 1855, was £2,309,273.

COALS, CINDERS, AND CULM.—The quantity of coals, cinders, and culm shipped at the ports of Scotland coastwise to other parts of the United Kingdom, was 469,948 tons in the year 1849; 464,123 tons in 1850; 496,106 tons in 1851; 501,413 tons in 1852; 476,767 tons in 1853; 476,772 tons in 1854; and 530,578 tons in 1855. The quantity exported from Scotland to foreign countries in 1849 was 330,765 tons, of the declared value of £117,860; in 1850, 336,463 tons, of the declared value of £119,645; in 1851, 397,702 tons, of the declared value of £134,282; in 1852, 317,815 tons, of the declared value of £109,844; in 1853, 378,641 tons, of the declared value of £154,711; in 1854, 351,670 tons, of the declared value of £176,269; and in 1855, 426,888 tons, of the declared value of £206,218.

MALT.—The number of quarters of malt made in Scotland in the year ending 10th October 1854, was 449,180, of which 134,179 were used by brewers and victuallers. The number of quarters of malt made in Scotland from 10th October 1854 to 30th September 1855, was 395,646, of which 114,839 were used by brewers and victuallers.

LICENSED BREWERS AND VICTUALLERS.—The number of licensed brewers in Scotland was 146 in the year ending 10th October 1851; 142 in the year ending 10th October 1852; 133 in the year ending 10th October 1853; 124 in the year ending 10th October 1854; and 120 in the year ending 10th October 1855. The number of licensed victuallers in Scotland was 44,752 in the year ending 10th October 1851; 14,684 in the year ending 10th October 1852; 14,812 in the year ending 10th October 1853; 13,667 in the year ending 10th October 1854; and 12,977 in the year ending 10th October 1855. The number of licensed victuallers, in the last year, who brewed their own beer, was 137: the number of bushels of malt consumed, during the same period, by licensed brewers, was 797,689; by licensed victuallers, 121,027.

BARRACKS IN (THE MILITARY DISTRICT OF) NORTH BRITAIN.—A return, dated in March 1856, states that the yearly salaries or civil pay of the barrack-masters at Edinburgh and Glasgow, are £181, 10s. each; of the barrack-masters at Aberdeen, Berwick, Dundee, Fort Augustus, and Paisley, £136, 17s. 6d. each; of the barrack-masters at Greenlaw and Hamilton, £91, 5s. each; of the acting barrack-master at Ayr, £18, 5s.; and of the master-gunner in charge at Fort William, £18, 5s.; and of the garrison gunner in charge at Fort Charlotte, Shetland, £18, 5s. The master-gunner in charge at Blackness, the deputy storekeeper acting as barrack-master at Fort George, and the deputy storekeeper acting as barrack-master at Stirling Castle, received no civil pay.

PILOTAGE.—The following statement shows the amount of the sums received for pilotage of vessels into and out of the Ports of Scotland, and the number of vessels so piloted, in the year ending 31st December 1854: Aberbrothwick, £627, vessels 687; Aberdeen, £1678, vessels 3255; Ayr, £344, vessels 1524; Dundee, £1494, vessels 951; Glasgow, £3392, vessels 3350; Greenock, £994, vessels not stated; Irvine, £139, vessels 348; Kirkcaldy, £46, vessels 70; Districts under the jurisdiction of the Trinity House of Leith, £2223, vessels 1922; Port of Leith, £1541, vessels not stated, and return otherwise imperfect; Lossiemouth, £193, vessels 562; Macduff, £230, vessels, 507; Peterhead, £519, vessels 1642; Wick, £504, vessels 791. The volume (Sess. 1855, No. 516) of statutory returns (16 and 17 Vict. c. 129) from which these statistics are derived, contains the by-laws and regulations in force relating to pilots or pilotage, the names and ages of the licensed pilots or apprentices, the rates of pilotage in force, and the expenditure of the sums received for pilotage. The amount of pilotage dues received during the year 1855 was at Aberbrothwick, £546; Aberdeen, £1632; Ayr, £365; Dundee, £1443; Glasgow, £3160; Greenock, £1489; Irvine, £167; Kirkcaldy, £13; Leith, £1816; Lossiemouth, £186; Macduff, £216; Peterhead, £486; Wick, £447.

WRECKS.—The number of wrecks and casualties reported to have occurred to vessels on the coasts of the United Kingdom, was 1015 in 1852; 832 in 1853; 987 in 1854; and 1141 in 1855. Of the whole number in this last year, 576 occurred on the east coast, and 251 on the west coast of Great Britain, and 34 off the Orkneys, Shetland, and the Hebrides. The number of lives lost was 920 in 1852; 689 in 1853; 1549 in 1854; and 469 in 1855.

ELECTION EXPENSES.—The amount of election expenses incurred by Sir Michael Robert Shaw Stewart, Bart., when he was chosen to represent the county of Renfrew in Parliament, in May 1855, was £223. The amount of election expenses incurred by the Right Hon. Edward Pleydell Bouverie when he was chosen to represent the Kilmarnock district of burghs, on 7th April 1855, was £109; and when he was again chosen to represent the same burghs, on 16th August 1855, £85. The amount of election expenses incurred by Mr Adam Black, when he was chosen to represent the city of Edinburgh in February 1856, was £893; the amount incurred by his opponent, Mr Francis Brown Douglas, £851.

THE EDINBURGH GAZETTE.—During the year ending on the 31st of March 1855, the receipts from advertisements in the Edinburgh Gazette, sale of copies, &c. amounted to £2667. The expenditure was for editor's salary, £200; for printing, publishing, paper, stamps, &c. £1078; in all, £1278. The excess of receipts over expenditure was thus £1389.

BIBLES AND PRAYER-BOOKS.—The amount paid for drawback of duties on paper used in printing Bibles, Testaments, and Prayer-Books, in England was £8068 in 1854-5, and £9094 in 1855-6; in Scotland £2088 in 1854-5, and £1209 in 1855-6.

THE NAVY.—The number of officers, seamen, boys, and marines voted for the service of Her Majesty's navy for the year 1856-57, was 76,000, being an increase of 6000 as compared with the previous year. The estimated charge was £12,148,641, being an increase of £291,135 as compared with the previous year.

THE ARMY.—The number of officers, non-commissioned officers, and rank and file of Her Majesty's land-forces, voted for the effective service of the United Kingdom (exclusive of the troops in the East Indies, 26,363 in number) for the year ending 31st March 1857, was 244,716; the number of the non-effective service, 2000; in all, 246,716, being an increase of 30,378 over the previous year. The estimated charge was for the effective service, £32,758,280, for the non-effective service, £2,240,224; in all, £34,998,504, being an increase of £6,328,007 over the previous year.

Of the 33,115 county electors in 1832, 3211 were on the roll of freeholders; the difference, 29,904, shows the number called into existence by the statute. The returns for the burghs in 1833 are in some instances defective, and below the truth.

THE MOST HONOURABLE ORDER OF THE BATH,

Established in 1399, was revived by King George I. in 1725, enlarged in 1815, and enlarged and remodelled in the month of April 1847. It consists of the Sovereign, of a Great Master (being a Prince of the Blood Royal, descended of the body of King George I., or other exalted personage named by the Sovereign), and of nine hundred and fifty-two Companions or Members, divided into the three classes following, each class being subdivided into two sections, Military and Civil: 1st, Knights Grand Cross, seventy-five in number, of whom not more than fifty shall belong to the military division, being officers of or above the rank of Major-General in the army, or Rear-Admiral in the navy; 2d, Knights Commanders, one hundred and fifty-two in number, of whom not more than one hundred and two shall belong to the military division, being officers of or above the rank of Colonel in the army, or Captain in the navy; 3d, Companions, seven hundred and twenty-five in number, of whom (except under special and temporary exigencies) not more than five hundred and twenty-five shall belong to the military division, being officers of or above the rank of Major in the army, or Commander in the navy, whose services shall have been marked by the especial mention of their names in despatches published in the London Gazette. The qualification of members of the civil divisions of each of these three classes is no otherwise limited than that, by their personal services to the crown or by the performance of public duties, they shall have merited the Royal favour; and that no person shall be appointed to one class who is not qualified for the other and higher classes. Honorary members, being foreigners, may be appointed in such numbers as the Sovereign shall think fit. For each class and division, appropriate insignia are appointed by the Statutes of the Order, enacted by Her Majesty the Queen, and published in the Edinburgh Gazette of 1st June 1847.

THE VICTORIA CROSS, OR ORDER OF VALOUR.

This naval and military decoration was instituted by an instrument under the sign-manual of the Queen, dated the 29th of January 1856, "for the purpose of rewarding individual instances of merit and valour." It is ordained that the distinction shall be styled "The Victoria Cross;" that it shall consist of a Maltese cross of bronze, with her Majesty's royal crest in the centre, and, on an escroll underneath, the inscription "For Valour;" that the Cross shall be suspended from the left breast by a blue riband for the navy, and by a red riband for the army; that the names of those upon whom her Majesty may be pleased to confer the decoration shall be published in the London Gazette; that any one who, after having received the Cross, shall again perform an act of bravery, which if he had not received such Cross would have entitled him to it, shall have such farther act recorded by a Bar attached to the riband by which the Cross is suspended, an additional Bar being added for every additional act; that the Cross shall be awarded to those officers or men only who have served the Queen in the presence of the enemy, and have there performed some signal act of valour or devotion to their country; that with the view of placing all persons on a perfectly equal footing of eligibility for the decoration, neither rank nor long service nor wounds nor any other circumstance or condition whatsoever, save the merit of conspicuous bravery, shall be held to establish a sufficient claim to the honour; and that every warrant officer, petty officer, seaman, or marine, or non-commissioned officer or soldier who shall have received the Cross shall be entitled to a special pension of ten pounds a-year, each additional bar carrying with it an additional pension of five pounds a-year.

SECTION II.—ENGLAND.

ENGLAND AND WALES.

EXTENT.—The length of England and Wales, from Portland Bill, Dorset-shire, in lat. 50° 31' N., to Berwick-on-Tweed, in lat. 55° 46' N., is 363 miles ; the extreme breadth, from the North Foreland, Kent, in long. 1° 26' E. to the Land's End, Cornwall, in long. 5° 41' W. is 320 miles. The area of England is 50,922 square miles, or 32,590,429 acres ; that of Wales, 7398 square miles, or 4,734,486 acres ; that of England and Wales, 58,320 square miles, or 37,324,915 acres. Of the 52 counties into which they are divided, England contains 40, Wales, 12. It is estimated that the cultivated acres in England are about 25,632,000 ; the uncultivated, 3,454,000 ; the unprofitable, 3,256,400 ; that in Wales the cultivated acres are 3,117,000 ; the uncultivated, 530,000 ; the unprofitable, 1,105,000. In 1815 England was assessed at £49,744,622, and Wales at £2,153,801 ; in 1843 England at £79,020,995, and Wales at £3,212,849 ; in 1851 England at £90,820,728, and Wales at £3,988,378.

POPULATION.—The progress of the population of England and Wales from 1801 to 1851, as ascertained by decennial census, is exhibited in the following table. It will be kept in view that the army at home (29,846) is included in the return for 1841, and that the return of 1851 includes not only the army, but 45,296 persons on board ships in the several ports and docks.

1801.	Inc. p.ct.	1811.	Inc. p.ct.	1821.	Inc. p.ct.	1831.	Inc. p.ct.	1841.	Inc. p.ct.	1851.

EXTENT AND POPULATION.

THE length of the mainland of Scotland, from the Mull of Galloway, county of Wigtown, in lat.  $54^{\circ} 39'$  N. to Dunnet Head, Caithness-shire, in lat.  $58^{\circ} 40'$  N. is 278 miles, the breadth, from Buchan-ness, Aberdeenshire, in long.  $1^{\circ} 47'$  W. to the most westerly point in Ross-shire, in long.  $8^{\circ} 52'$  W. is 150 miles. The area, including the islands, but excluding salt-water friths, bays, and channels (except in the Orkneys, where 390,147 acres of salt water are included) is 31,324 square miles, or 20,047,462 statute acres; of which 152,967 are inland waters and fresh water lakes. The number of counties is thirty-three; the number of parishes in 1831 was 948. The old valued rent of the counties, as ascertained in 1674, was £319,281; the new valued rent of the counties, as ascertained in 1855, was £8,155,972. The annual value of the real property in the royal and parliamentary burghs, in 1855, was £3,514,962.—The following Table exhibits the area of each county in square miles and statute acres, the annual value of its real property (inclusive of burghs) in 1855, and the number of its inhabited houses, separate occupiers of dwellings, and persons, in 1861.

The comparative population of the seven chief towns of Scotland and of England, at each of the six decennial enumerations of the last half-century, is shown in the following Table :—

LIST OF THE PEERAGE OF SCOTLAND,

AS IT STOOD ON THE 1ST MAY 1707; ORDERED TO BE LAID BEFORE THE HOUSE OF LORDS 22D DECEMBER 1707.

[By this document, commonly called The Union Roll, it is understood that the order of precedence among the Peers of Scotland is regulated; and, with certain amendments, it is that called at all elections of their representatives, though it cannot be looked on as a complete list, such as should exclude claims to Peerages not entered in it. By the act 11 and 12 Vict. c. 52, it is ordered that, until otherwise directed by the House of Lords, the Lord Clerk Register, or the Clerks of Session officiating at elections in his name, shall not call the title of any Peerage on The Union Roll in right of which no vote has been received or counted since the year 1800. It is farther provided by the act 14 and 15 Vict. c. 87, that after every election the titles of Peerages in right of which no vote has been received or counted for fifty years or upwards, shall be transmitted to the Clerk of Parliament, and on an order to that effect being issued from the House of Lords such titles shall not be called at future elections, until the House of Lords shall otherwise direct.

The Roll, as originally framed, contained 154 Peers; namely, 10 Dukes, 3 Marquesses, 75 Earls, 17 Viscounts, and 49 Barons; and there have been subsequently enrolled 8 Peers; namely, 1 Duke, 2 Marquesses, 1 Earl, and 4 Barons. These are distinguished by the letters ad. and a date (that of their enrolment) placed after their names. The dates of the creations have been prefixed; Peerages which are attainted, extinct, or dormant, are printed in italics; the date of the attainder, extinction, or abeyance, being added; and an asterisk has been placed after the names of those who are likewise Peers of England, Great Britain, or the United Kingdom.]

THE EXISTING BARONETAGE OF SCOTLAND AND NOVA SCOTIA.*

[The dignities and order of KNIGHT-BARONET OF SCOTLAND AND NOVA SCOTIA, projected by James VI. in 1621, "as a means of expressing his affection towards his ancient kingdom," and of promoting the colonization of Nova Scotia, were instituted by Charles I. on the 28th May 1625. The number of creations in his reign was about 122; in that of Charles II. about 80; of James VII. about 20; of William II. and Mary about 30; of Anne about 30; in all, upwards of 280, of which about 150 are at present existing.

The Badge of the order is a medal bearing the arms of Nova Scotia, encircled by the motto "Fax mentis honestæ gloria," suspended from the neck by an orange-tawny riband.]

[For a List of the Baronetcies of Scotland and Nova Scotia which have merged in Peerages, see Almanac for 1838, page 325. In 1840 the Baronetcy of Dalrymple of Cousland and Fala, created in 1697, merged in the Earldom of Stair; in 1843 that of Hempriggs emerged from the now dormant Barony of Duffus; and in 1855 that of Southesk, created in 1663, merged in the Earldom of Southesk.]

THE FREE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND.

[The Sixteenth General Assembly of the Free Church convened at Edinburgh on the 22d May 1856. The Assembly voted an address to the Queen on the occasion of the return of her birthday, congratulating her on the re-establishment of peace. They also passed the following Acts:—"Act anent Sustentation Fund." This act declared a dividend to each clergyman of £140 per annum, and reappointed the special committee under the declaration that this did not imply any alteration of view on the part of the Assembly in regard to the present mode of distribution. The act also rescinded the regulations which were suspended by last General Assembly, directed the whole income of the fund for 1857 to be distributed on the principle of an equal dividend, and recommended the systematic and vigorous prosecution of the special movement for increasing the income of the Sustentation Fund commenced in the year 1854, and which had already resulted in raising the dividend from £119 to £140. "Act anent Theological Faculty at Glasgow." Ordains, with consent of a majority of Presbyteries, the Theological Faculty of Glasgow to consist of four Professors. "Interim Act anent the Taking of Students on Trials." (1.) Repeals Act 8 of the year 1813, which provided, that where Synods meet twice a-year, Presbyteries, before asking leave to take a Student on public probationary Trials, should have sustained his preliminary examination. (2.) Enacts, that in all cases Presbyteries shall defer Examination of Student until they get permission of Synod, and till Student has passed the Examination Board. "Standing Order." Printed Reports of Committees to be lodged with clerk on the 2d day of Assembly's meeting, and held as read. "Act anent Professors of Theology in Divinity Hall, Glasgow," &c. Appoints Dr Patrick Fairbairn one of the Professors of Theology, Mr James Gibson to be Professor of Theology and Church History, and Dr James M'Cosk to be Professor of Apologetics and Theology in the Divinity Hall, Glasgow. "Act anent Collections." Besides the six usual general Collections, recommends a Collection to be made on the third Sabbath of March for the work of Evangelization in Glasgow; and concludes by earnestly recommending that on the Sabbath on which a Collection is intimated, as also on the Sabbath on which it is made, public prayer be specially offered up on behalf of the particular scheme:—For, 1st, Divine direction to those employed in the management; 2d, That the Holy Spirit be poured out on its Missionaries, Ministers, and Teachers; and, 3d, That the Lord may condescend to own and bless it. "Act appointing the Diet of next Assembly,"—Fixed for the 21st May 1857.

The annual accounts of the Free Church show the whole sums raised for its various objects, during the year ending 31st March 1856, to be £289,305, 5s. 9d.

ALEXANDER MURRAY DUNLOP, LL.D., Advocate, M.P., Legal Adviser.

PATRICK CLASON, D. D., Edinburgh; Sir HENRY WELLWOOD MONCREIFF, Bart., B.A., Edinburgh, Principal Clerks.

JAMES CRAWFORD, jun., W.S., Depute-Clerk.

The Commission of Assembly meets on the second Wednesday of August, third Wednesday of November, and first Wednesday of March, at twelve noon.

SECTION X.

CHIEF MAGISTRATES AND TOWN-CLERKS OF THE CITIES, BURGHES, AND TOWNS RETURNING MEMBERS TO PARLIAMENT,

WITH STATISTICAL NOTICES.

[In the following list are given statistics of 79 towns, namely, 63 Royal Burghs sending representatives to Parliament; 3 Royal Burghs which do not send representatives to Parliament; and 13 Towns which are not Royal Burghs, but send representatives to Parliament, under the provisions of the Reform Act 1 & 2 Wm. IV. c. 65. These 13 Parliamentary Burghs (distinguished in the following pages by *) are, Airdrie, Cromarty, Falkirk, Greenock, Hamilton, Kilmarnock, Leith, Musselburgh, Oban, Paisley, Peterhead, Port-Glasgow, and Portobello. At the Union of England and Scotland, there were 70 Royal Burghs in Scotland, but four of them in the county of Fife—Auchtermuchty, Earlsferry, Falkland, and Newburgh—which had not for some time sent members to the Scottish Parliament, were not included in the classes of burghs then formed to send representatives to the British Parliament. Their constituencies, in terms of the act 1832, now vote in the election of a representative in Parliament for the county of Fife. Besides these four, there are other three Royal Burghs (distinguished in the following pages by †) which had (as burghs) a parliamentary representation from the Union till 1832, viz. Peebles, Rothesay, and Selkirk. Their constituencies now vote in the election of representatives for the counties within which they are situated. The population and inhabited houses are given according to the census of 1851; the value of real property in 1855-6 is that within the parliamentary boundaries, as ascertained under the Valuation of Lands and Heritages Act (17 and 18 Vict., c. 91.)]

SECT. III.—EDUCATIONAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

HIGH SCHOOL OF EDINBURGH.

The date of the original foundation of the High School is unknown. It appears, however, from the City Records, to have existed as a Royal Institution as early at least as 1519. In 1696, by the enlightened zeal of the Clergy and Town Council, it was remodelled on a more comprehensive plan, receiving the name of Schola Regia Edinburgensis. The course of study has since, from time to time, been extended and improved, so as to meet the gradually advancing demands of the age. Although at first a merely classical seminary, it now furnishes systematic instruction in all those departments of knowledge which constitute a course of Commercial as well as of Liberal Education. The English Language and Literature, including Reading, Orthography, Recitation, Grammar, and Composition, together with the History of Great Britain, form integral and prominent parts of the system established in the school; while the entire curriculum of study—which occupies six years—embraces the Latin, Greek, French, and German languages, History, Geography, and the Elements of Natural Science, with Writing, Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry, Drawing, Fencing, and Gymnastics. In connexion with the institution, there is a Library containing nearly 7000 volumes selected by the Rector and Masters, and comprising many of the most important works in Ancient and Modern Literature, to which all the pupils of the school have access.

An annual examination takes place in the last week of July in the presence of the Magistrates and Town Council, who are the patrons of the school; of the Clergy in the city, the Professors of the University, and other competent judges. Prizes, consisting of gold and silver medals, and books, are then presented for general scholarship and particular merits. The holidays extend from the examination day to the 1st of October, when the school reassembles, and when the Rudiment or junior Latin class is formed for the year.

The quarterly fees are, in the Rector's class, £1, 5s.; in the four junior classes, £1, 1s.; French, 10s. 6d.; German, 10s. 6d.; Arithmetic, 7s. 6d.; Mathematics, 10s. 6d.; Writing, 7s. 6d.; Drawing, 10s. 6d.; Fencing and Gymnastics, 10s. 6d.; attendance on the last seven branches being optional.

The High School originally stood in the Old Town, on part of the ground called Kirk of Field, anciently belonging to the monastery of Black Friars. It was rebuilt on nearly the same spot in 1777. As this situation had become unsuitable, from the great extension of the city northwards, and as the accommodation had proved inadequate to the rapidly increasing number of pupils, the present structure was founded in 1825, on the south slope of the Calton Hill, which was deemed more convenient, on the whole, for the inhabitants of the city. To this locality the establishment was removed in 1829. The splendid edifice, there erected at a cost of £30,000, was designed by Thomas Hamilton, architect.

The main building, 270 feet in length, has a magnificent hexastyle Doric portico in the centre, which is united to the wings by two corridors, the entablatures of which are supported by twelve columns, also of the Doric order. There is ample accommodation for conducting the various branches of study according to the most approved methods of instruction. The playground, a portion of which is roofed over for recreation in unfavourable weather, is spacious, extending to nearly two acres, and commands a picturesque view of the ancient city and surrounding country.

EDINBURGH ACADEMY.

The Edinburgh Academy, which was established in 1824, and incorporated by royal charter 5th Geo. IV., is under the superintendence of a Board of fifteen Directors, three of whom are elected annually from the body of subscribers. The education is conducted by a Rector, who exercises constant supervision over all the classes, besides instructing those under his immediate care; four Classical Masters; a Master of French and German; a Mathematical Master; a Master of English and Elocution; and Masters of Writing, Fencing, Drawing, Fortification, and Military and Civil Engineering. Each class is taught in the classical department by the same master exclusively for the first four years. At the commencement of the fifth it comes under the tuition of the Rector, assisted by the same master, and continues under them during the sixth and seventh years. In the three junior classes all the boys in each class are instructed together in the various branches. But for the fourth and subsequent years of the course, each class is separated into two Divisions, one of these—"The Classical Side"—is adapted for boys destined for the learned professions, or who desire a thorough classical training. The other—"The Modern Side"—is intended for boys who are to enter upon the civil or military service, or upon mercantile pursuits. The other branches (with the exception of French and German, which are introduced, the former in the fourth year, and the latter in the sixth), are begun with the youngest class, and are continued without interruption during the whole course. The complete course extends to seven years, and combines a thorough classical education with systematic instruction in English, French, and German, Writing, Ancient and Modern History, Geography, and the various branches of Mathematics. At the annual examination of the pupils in the last week of July, prizes are awarded for eminence in the various departments of knowledge, and also for the best exercises on literary and classical subjects, previously proposed for competition. Beside the public examination, which is conducted in the presence of Professors from the University, and other learned persons, the Senior Classes are subjected to a complete and searching examination on paper, under the management of Examiners appointed each year from one of the English Universities. Pupils are admitted at any period of the session, and may at any time change from one "Side" to another. The Academy meets, after a vacation of two months, on the 1st of October. The Academy is situated to the N. E. of the Royal Circus. It is a handsome building, after a design by Mr Burn, and cost the subscribers upwards of £14,000.

THE HERIOT FOUNDATION SCHOOLS.—Inspector, William M'Dowall

By an Act of Parliament (6th and 7th William IV. cap. 25), the Governors of the Hospital were empowered to found and erect, from the surplus revenues, elementary schools within the city, for educating, free of all expense, 1st, The children, in poor circumstances, of deceased Burgesses and Freemen; 2d, The children of Burgesses and Freemen who are unable to provide for their support; and, 3d, The children of poor citizens and inhabitants of Edinburgh, but only whilst residing within the royalty. They were also empowered "to allow to any of the boys, in the course of their education at such schools, being sons of Burgesses and Freemen, such uniform fixed sum of money in lieu and place of maintenance, and such uniform fixed sum for apprentice fee, after their education at the said schools is completed, as shall be determined." There are already twelve Heriot Schools, namely, eight juvenile and four infant schools, attended by upwards of 3000 boys and girls. In the eight juvenile schools, there are Sabbath morning classes.

FETTES' ENDOWMENT.

Sir William Fettes, Bart., of Comely Bank, born in 1750, died May 27, 1836, leaving the residue of his estate for an endowment for the maintenance, education, and outfit of young people whose parents have either died without leaving sufficient funds for that purpose, or who from innocent misfortune are, during their own lives, unable to give suitable education to their own children.—The management of the charity is vested in Trustees.

CHALMERS' HOSPITAL.

George Chalmers, plumber in Edinburgh, who died March 10, 1836, bequeathed the greater part of his fortune, estimated at about £30,000, for the erection and endowment of an Hospital "for the Sick and Hurt."

The management of the charity is vested in the Dean and Faculty of Advocates. After allowing the fund to accumulate for some years, in conformity with the will of Mr Chalmers, the trustees have recently purchased Lauriston House for the purposes of the Hospital, and it is understood that the objects of the founder will now be carried into effect as speedily as possible.

DONALDSON'S HOSPITAL.

This splendid institution was founded by James Donaldson of Broughton Hall, printer, who died at Edinburgh in October 1830. By his will, dated 4th July 1828, he bequeathed the greater part of his property, amounting to about £200,000, to certain trustees, for the endowment and erection of an hospital for the maintenance of poor boys and girls, after the plan of the Orphan Hospital in Edinburgh and John Watson's Institution.

The then surviving trustees, by deed of constitution dated November 22, 1844, vested the management of the institution in the Lord Justice General, Lord Clerk Register, Lord Advocate, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, Lord Lieutenant of the County, the Principal of the University, the senior Minister of the Established Church in Edinburgh, the two Ministers of St Cuthbert's Parish, the Preses of the College of Physicians, the Treasurer and the Secretary of the Bank of Scotland, all for the time being, ex officio; in the said trustees themselves, of whom Walter Cock, W.S., is now the only survivor; and in fourteen other gentlemen, three of whom go out annually by rotation, their successors being appointed by the remaining managers.

The hospital has accommodation for 300 children,—150 boys and 150 girls; there are at present in the hospital 151 children (80 boys and 71 girls), of whom 49 (28 boys and 21 girls) are deaf and dumb. Those eligible for admission are declared to be, "1st, Poor children of the name of Donaldson or Marshall, as directed by the said James Donaldson himself, in his last will and testament, if appearing to the governors to be deserving; 2d, such poor children as shall appear to be in the most destitute circumstances and the most deserving of admission." None are received whose parents are able to maintain them. These children are to be clothed and maintained in the hospital, and taught such useful branches of a plain English education as will fit the boys for trades and the girls for servants. The age of admission is from six till nine, and that of leaving the hospital fourteen years.

The building, which occupies a commanding position at the west end of the city, is a spacious quadrangular structure, in the Elizabethan style, from an admirable design by W. H. Playfair.

Governors, Lord Justice General, Lord Clerk Register, Lord Advocate, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, Lord Lieut. of Edinburghshire, Principal of the University of Edinburgh, Senior Minister of the Established Church, Edinburgh, Ministers of St Cuthbert's, Preses of College of Physicians, Treasurer and Secretary of Bank of Scotland, Wal. Cook, W.S., A. Gillespie, M.D., David Mure, advocate, The Right Hon. Sir George Clerk, Bt., Anthony Murray, W.S., Archibald W. Goldie, W.S., John Caddell, Rev. Wm. #### STEWART'S HOSPITAL.

Mr Daniel Stewart of the Exchequer, who died in 1814, after the payment of certain legacies, and the erection and endowment of a Free School in his native parish of Logierait, left the residue of his fortune, amounting to about £13,000, and some house property in the Old Town of Edinburgh, to accumulate for the purpose of being applied in the building and endowing of an hospital for the maintenance and education of boys, the children of honest and industrious parents whose circumstances in life do not enable them suitably to support and educate their children at other schools. Poor boys of the names of Stewart and Macfarlane, residing within the city of Edinburgh or suburbs, are to have a preference, and, failing them, any other poor boys residing within the same district. The age for admission is between seven and ten, and that for leaving the Hospital not later than fourteen.

SOCIETY FOR THE INDUSTRIOUS BLIND.—INSTITUTED IN 1793.Asylums, Male No. 58, Female No. 38, Nicolson Street.*

This Institution was opened for the reception of the Industrious Blind of Scotland on the 23d September 1793. The necessary funds were raised through the exertions of the late Rev. Dr David Johnston of North Leith, and several other charitable gentlemen of Edinburgh. The Asylum continues to depend principally for its support on the annual bounty of the citizens, and the sale of goods manufactured by the Blind. The number of inmates varies from 90 to 100; nearly one-third of the male members are married, whose families are also maintained by means of the charity. In addition to instruction in their several trades, the Blind are carefully taught the principles of the Christian religion, and receive a useful education.

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS OF SCOTLAND FOR 1856.

The concluding portion of the Statistical Returns of the Agriculture of Scotland for the year 1856, was issued on the 13th of December, after the sheet of the Almanac (pp. 253-258) containing the first portion of the returns had been printed off.

On a careful revision, a few immaterial errors have been detected in the columns for 1856 of the table at pp. 254, 255, showing the number of acres in tillage, and of each kind of crop. On the one hand the number of acres under vetches was overstated by 865; and the number of acres in bare fallow by 2250½. On the other hand, the number of acres under wheat was understated by 1485½, of barley by 75½, of oats by 386, of turnips by 389½, of potatoes by 420½, of grass by 191½. The number of acres under wheat was 168,216 in 1854, 191,300½ in 1855, and 263,328 in 1856. "A comparison between the years 1856 and 1855," remarks Mr Hall Maxwell, in his report to the Board of Trade, "exhibits uniformity as regards the gross results, with very considerable variations in detail. In 1856 the area under tillage was 3,545,191 acres, in 1855 it was 3,530,068½ acres, showing an excess in 1856 of 15,122½ acres, which is perfectly in accordance with the agricultural improvements known to be in operation, and with the inducements which high prices have held out to break up old pasture. As regards details, the most prominent difference between the two years is the increased area under wheat. Indeed, the rapid extension of that crop during the three years the statistical inquiry has been in operation, is remarkable, and, but for its operation, would comparatively have been unknown. The information afforded by the acreage table for the current year [1856], enables us to account for this great excess [72,027½ acres as between 1855 and 1856, and 56½ per cent. as between 1854 and 1856], not only consistently with the circumstances of the times, but satisfactorily as regards the progress of agriculture. The remunerative prices which have been obtained for wheat make it natural that it should be substituted, where practicable, for barley and oats, and lead us to look for the conversion of grass land into grain. We may, therefore, seek to find the increase in wheat met by a corresponding decrease in the acreage of the other white crops, and of grass under rotation; as it would argue ill for the state of agriculture did any proportion appear to be a subtraction from the area under green crops. We learn, accordingly, that in 1856, the extent under barley had decreased 20,343½ acres, under oats, 15,018 acres, grass under rotation, 34,263½ acres, in all, 69,630 acres; thus, together, nearly accounting for the increase in wheat. I would guard myself, however," Mr Maxwell concludes, "against its being inferred that wheat has directly replaced so large an extent of grass. To a certain extent, and in some districts, it has succeeded grass; but, in general, its substitution for barley and oats will account for the excess: indeed, the acreage of the latter crop would probably have shown a much greater decrease than is indicated, had it not been compensated by the grass land, which, according to the ordinary rules of husbandry, was principally broken into oats. The fact that the green crops, including beans and pease, exhibit an increase of 17,479½ acres upon the breadth of 1855, is of importance, as showing that farmers are not attempting to increase the production of wheat, without, in some measure, properly and legitimately preparing for its extension."

: Of the three Tables which follow, the first shows the proportional number of acres of each kind of crop: the second shows the estimated gross produce of the chief crops; and the third, the estimated average produce per imperial acre of the chief crops, in each county in 1856. It will be kept in mind (as explained at p. 253), that in the counties marked by an *, the returns take account only of holdings rented at £20 and upwards: in the other counties, the returns take account of holdings rented at £10 and upwards.

The object of the first table, it is explained, is to indicate the relative proportions which each crop in the county bears to the whole land under tillage. The table, it will be seen, is divided into three sections: (1) the grain and other crops of an exhausting character, (2) the green crops and fallow, which are generally employed as restoratives, (3) the grass. The aggregate per centage of each of these sections is given in separate columns, and, by comparing them, a tolerable knowledge will be obtained of the average rotation in each county.

In reference to the second table—that of the estimated gross produce—it is remarked by Mr Hall Maxwell, that, "in many districts, especially along the east coast, and in some of the midland counties, the harvest has been of a most exceptional character. The grain crops, though late, generally promised well, and a portion had been secured in good condition, but the greater part was in stook or uncut, when, towards the close of September, it was exposed to a violent storm of wind and rain from the east, lasting for several days, and succeeded by weeks of weather suspending all operations. The standing grain was shaken; what had been cut sprouted, and was discoloured; while much in the stackyard heated; in short, the difficulties encountered in securing the crops were greater than have been experienced since 1816. Fortunately this state of matters did not extend over the whole country; the western counties comparatively escaped. It must be obvious," Mr Maxwell concludes, "how greatly the difficulties always attached to an estimate of produce have this year been enhanced: not only has much actually been lost, but the unusual proportion of light grain, the varieties in quality, and above all, the still unascertained damage which may have been progressing in the stack, combine to invest the estimates for 1856 with such exceptional features, that I could not permit them to go forth unattended by explanation."

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY was established at Edinburgh in 1825. The Acts of Parliament, 2° & 3° Gul. IV. cap. 81, and 8° & 9° Vict. cap. 75, have been granted for the purpose of its constitution and for the regulation of its affairs. It has been conducted with much success, and that result may be attributed not only to the extensive and influential connexions of the Company, but more particularly to the liberality of its dealings, and to the constant attention paid by the Directors to the adoption of improvements and facilities in connexion with the contract of Life Assurance.

Yearly Results—1845 to 1855.

The INCOME of the Company is now about a QUARTER OF A MILLION OF POUNDS STERLING.

INVESTMENT OF FUNDS.

The Funds of the Company are invested in Government Securities; in Loans on the security of Land, by bond or mortgage; in Landed property; in advances to the Company's Policy-holders; and in other ways affording undoubted security.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

ONE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE in THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, the operation of which has contributed in a marked degree to the great success of the Institution, is the mode pursued in the DIVISION OF PROFITS among the Assured, and the Directors request attention to its peculiar advantages. The Divisions are made at intervals of five years, and the system is such that the greatest benefits are derived by those members whose Policies are maintained for the longest period; in other words, those who pay most Premiums.

The Company have divided Profits at five periods—1835, 1840, 1845, 1850, and 1855. The following Table exhibits the results :—

Additions to Policies are vested when the Policies have been in existence for Five Years from the date of the risk commencing.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

The Mode of Division of Profits,

it will be perceived, is essentially TONTINE, affording very important advantages to Assurers. The additions under that system, during the first few years from the commencement of Assurances, may not be so large as in Offices following a mode of Division where the earlier claims have the greater benefit; but it cannot be doubted that the principle of Division in the STANDARD Company is the more equitable one—the early claimants having a fair share of benefits, while the greater advantages are conferred on those whose lives prove better than the average—those who pay the greatest number of premiums.

The Share of Profits attaching to a Policy may be applied to increase the Sum Assured, or the value may be received in Cash, or be applied to reduce the Annual Premiums.

EXAMPLES*SHOWING THE APPLICATION OF ADDITIONS TO POLICIES.*I. Application of Bonus as an Addition to the Sum Assured.

By this method the sum assured, payable at death, is increased, without any alteration in the annual premium paid to the Office. Thus—

Making the sum now assured . . . . .		£2783	0 0

The additions are in the same proportion for Policies of larger or smaller amount.

Policies will receive further additions in 1860, and at every subsequent period of division the lives survive.

II. Surrender of Bonus for Value in Cash.

According to this method, if the person assured does not wish the sum in his policy increased, he may surrender the Bonus, and take its value in cash; that is, instead of the amount being paid with the sum assured at death, such a sum will now be given as the Directors may consider equivalent to it in present value.

In the case of the policy of £1000 opened before 15th November 1825, for instance, as quoted above, assuming the party to have assured at the age of 35, and to have attained the age of 65 last birthday, the sum of £665, 15s. 2d. would be given for a surrender of the Bonus of £1152, while the policy will continue to receive its share of profits, at future investigations, as if the surrender had not taken place.

The value which would be allowed for the addition of £753 to the policy of £1000 opened in 1832, assuming the party to have attained the age of 58 last birthday, would be £383, 8s. 1d.; and the value of the additions to the £2000 policy of 1839, assuming the party's age to be 55, is £371, 5s. 11d.

III. Application of the Bonus to the Extinction or Reduction of Annual Payments of Premium for the Whole Term of Life.

A policy was opened with the Company in 1826 for £2000 on a life then aged 45. The policy has received additions to the extent of £2190; but the party wishes to get quit of his annual payments, by giving up a portion of his Bonus Additions; on what terms can he do so? He pays an annual premium of £74, 15s., and by surrendering £671, 18s. 2d. of his Bonus, he will get quit of all future payments, have an addition of £1518, 1s. 10d. to his policy, and will continue to receive further additions at each Investigation he may survive.

A person aged 40, who assured in 1830 for £1000, has received Bonus Additions to the extent of £867. He pays a premium of £32, 9s. 2d. but wishes to apply the Bonus in extinction of the annual payment. He can redeem his future premiums by surrendering £502, 11s. 8d. of his Bonus, leaving £364, 8s. 4d. to be paid along with the sum assured at death, and will receive further additions at each Investigation he may survive.

A person who, at age 30, assured in 1835 for £500, has right to a Bonus of £291. His annual premium is £12, 12s. 11d. By surrendering his addition of £291, he will be allowed an annual reduction on his premium, for life, of £8, 17s., so that his future annual payment will be £3, 15s. 11d., instead of £12, 12s. 11d. as formerly; and he will continue to receive Bonus Additions at each Investigation he may survive, as if the surrender had not been made.

A person aged 55, opened a policy in 1840 for £500, at an annual premium of £26, 14s. 7d. The Bonus Additions to this policy amounting to £173, 10s., if surrendered to the Company, will reduce the premium by £15, 0s. 9d. annually for life, making the future annual payments £11, 13s. 10d.

IV. Application of the Bonus to the Extinction or Reduction of Annual Premium for 5 Years.

A person aged 20, opened a policy in 1825 for £1000, at a premium of £20, 10s. 10d. His Bonus Additions amount to £1152. By surrendering £224, 1s. 10d. of these additions, he gets quit of the payment of his premium for 5 years, the Company being liable, in the event of his death during that period, to pay to his heirs the original sum assured, £1000, and the balance of the Bonus Additions not surrendered, £927, 18s. 2d. This policy is of course entitled to future additions at the end of each period of 5 years the party survives.

A person aged 30, assured his life for £100 in 1830. The additions made to his policy amount to £86, 14s. He pays a premium of £2, 10s. 7d., which he may get rid of for the next 5 years by surrendering £24, 5s. 8d. of his Bonus.

A person aged 45, opened a policy for £100 in 1835, with an annual premium of £3, 14s. 9d. His Bonuses now amount to £58, 4s., and by surrendering £28, 2s. 5d. of that sum, he will be relieved from payment of any premium for 5 years.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

ADVANCES TO POLICY-HOLDERS.

THE Directors resolved some time ago to authorize Advances on the Company's Policies of sums not exceeding their value at the time; an assurance is thus a fund of credit; and no Policy-holder need forfeit his Assurance, for want of funds to keep it in force, so long as the Policy itself is of sufficient value to authorize the necessary advance; and they further resolved that such advance should be made, not at a rate of interest which indifferent securities should yield, but at a rate which, while it yields to the Company a fair return for their money, enables the Policy-holder to borrow on terms as advantageous as on the best landed estate in the country, and that without any other expense than the Government stamp of a few shillings.

UNCHALLENGEABLE POLICIES.

The Directors of the STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, satisfied that there is a time when so important a contract as a Life Assurance Policy ought to become "unchallengeable:" Satisfied also that the condition of the Company's Policies restricting residence within the limits of Europe is unnecessary in the great mass of assurance transactions, passed the following Resolutions in 1851, with the purpose of giving to the assured the benefit of these views:—

RESOLUTIONS.

- I. That TWO CLASSES of Select Assurances shall be opened by the Company.
The Policies of Parties admitted to the "FIRST CLASS OF SELECT ASSURANCES," shall, subject to payment of the ordinary Premiums, be UNCHALLENGEABLE upon any ground whatever, and the Assured may, without forfeiting these Policies, or payment of extra Premiums, reside or travel in any part of the world.
The Policies of Parties admitted to the "SECOND CLASS OF SELECT ASSURANCES" shall be subject to the existing Conditions of the Company as to residing or travelling beyond the limits of Europe, and as to Military or Naval Service; but with these exceptions, and subject to payment of the ordinary Premiums, shall also be absolutely UNCHALLENGEABLE.
- II. That Parties who hold Policies with the Company of five years' duration shall be admissible to these Classes, and that this privilege shall extend to existing as well as future Assurances.
- III. That no expense shall attend admission to either Class of Select Assurances.
- IV. That admission to these Classes, First or Second, shall depend on the circumstances of each case, to be judged of by the Directors, and that a Special application be made to the Board of Directors accordingly.
- V. That on the application being granted, a certificate of admission shall be given under the hands of three of the Directors.

THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

The Directors think there is certainly a time when so important a contract as a Life Assurance Policy should become, in the hands of the assured, an unchallengeable deed. They are aware that some Institutions now agree to grant Unchallengeable Policies at once, but they consider such an abandonment of all protection against fraud to be impolitic and improper. For it must be, either that an Institution so committing themselves, agree to pay, even when they have accepted an assurance under false and fraudulent statements, or resolve to resist direct fraud practised; and if the latter, then the reservation qualifying the apparently indisputable contract, renders it nearly the same as under former regulations.

The Standard Company's Policies may virtually be considered unchallengeable from the beginning, but five years appear a necessary probation to afford protection to the Company and its Policy-holders against fraudulent assurances, and the Directors have adopted that period in their resolutions.

NEW RESOLUTIONS AS TO THE FORFEITURE AND REVIVAL OF POLICIES.

At the Special Meeting of 1851, summoned for the purpose of receiving a report from the Directors on the Fourth Division of Profits to 15th November 1850, the Directors introduced the system of "Select Assurance," under which Policies of Five Years' standing might be rendered unchallengeable and indefeasible on any ground whatever save payment of the annual premium, as already explained. It is probably the best proof of success when a good example is followed by other reasonable and prudent persons, who know the importance of the subject dealt with, and in that respect the Company may congratulate themselves, as the principle has been adopted, it is understood, by all the other Scotch offices. In England it has made no progress, and the adoption of it is one of those features of improvement and of facility in business which will mark and distinguish the liberal management of Scotch Offices. Having advanced so far in making a Policy unchallengeable and indefeasible, the Directors now propose to take a further step in the same direction, so as to make a Life Assurance Policy with this Company a still more secure basis of monetary transactions—freeing it in as far as practicable of all possibility of forfeiture even from omission or neglect.

The only ground on which a forfeiture can take place at present under the First Class of Select Assurance is non-payment of the ordinary premium, and it is to provide as far as possible against such a contingency that the following Resolutions have been adopted.

I. "That Policies of five years' duration, effected for the whole term of life at a uniform rate of premium* shall not be forfeited in consequence of non-payment of any ordinary premium, notwithstanding the expiry of the thirty days of grace; provided payment shall be tendered before the expiry of thirteen months from the date of such premium falling into arrear, reckoning, not from the end of the days of grace, but from the regular date when the premium fell due; and no evidence of health shall be required—but the Directors shall not receive payment of any such arrear except with a fine of 5 per cent per month on the premiums in arrear. At the expiry of such period of thirteen months the Policy shall be entirely forfeited, and the Directors shall calculate the value of such Assurance according to their usual practice, and carry the same to a 'Forfeited Policy Account,' to the credit of the persons who were interested in the Assurance so forfeited, to remain there till the end of five years from the regular date when the premium fell due which was not paid. But if no claim shall be made and substantiated for such calculated value within the said period of five years, the same shall be carried into the general funds of the Company, for their own use."

* This does not include Survivorship Assurances, Joint Lives and Survivorship Assurances, and Assurances on which any portion of the Premiums may be allowed to remain unpaid as a debt on the Policy.

" II. That all other Policies, on which the ordinary premium may not be paid within the thirty days of grace allowed for payment, shall be forfeited, but may be revived by the Board of Directors within three months from the regular date of such premium falling due, if the Directors are satisfied with the explanation given as to the cause of non-payment—the parties proving it to have been an oversight;* and if the Directors are thus satisfied, medical evidence as to the health of the party whose life is assured shall be dispensed with; but the Directors shall impose a fine not exceeding 10 per cent. on the premium in arrear. If the Directors are not satisfied, from the circumstances stated, that the forfeiture of the Policy was through oversight, or if the period of arrear exceed three months, the Policy may still be revived on evidence of health and habits satisfactory to the Directors, provided application be made within thirteen months from the date of the premium falling into arrear, reckoning, not from the end of the days of grace, but from the regular date when the premium fell due; but the Directors shall impose a revival fine not exceeding 5 per cent. per month on the premiums in arrear. The Directors to be the sole judges of the evidence relating to health and habits, and entitled to decide accordingly."

FOREIGN RESIDENCE:

Persons whose lives are assured are allowed to pass and repass by sea, in time of peace, from any part of Europe to another, without application being made for such license, or payment of any additional premium on account of the same.

No extra Premium is charged for foreign residence, temporary or permanent, within the limits of Europe.

* A Declaration on the subject to be made before a Justice of the Peace, in a form to be provided by the Office.

Persons having occasion to go beyond the limits of Europe are allowed to do so on favourable terms.

Persons whose Policies have existed for five years, whose pursuits hold out no prospect of their going abroad, and who have at the same time no intention of leaving Europe, may, subject to the approval of the Directors, have their Policies relieved of the Clause as to forfeiture or payment of extra Premiums, in the event of their going abroad. See "Select Assurance," page 7.

GENERAL REGULATIONS.

BEING DESIROUS TO AFFORD EVERY SAFE ENCOURAGEMENT TO THE EXTENSION OF THE SYSTEM OF LIFE ASSURANCE AMONG ALL CLASSES, THE DIRECTORS MAKE IT THEIR STUDY TO CONDUCT THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY ON THE MOST LIBERAL PRINCIPLES.

No charge is made on Parties assuring, under the head of Entry-Money or Admission Fee, or for Stamp-Duty on Policies.

Premiums can be made payable yearly, half-yearly, quarterly, by a single payment, on ascending and descending scales, or by equal annual payments.

If any person be desirous to surrender an Assurance entered into for the whole term of life, the Policy will be purchased by the Company at an equitable rate, at any time after effecting the Assurance, one year's premium having been paid, in the case of Policies with Profits; and after three Annual Premiums have been paid in the case of Policies without Profits. Policies, the premiums on which are payable on an ascending scale, bear no value until the Premiums become equalized.

The age of persons Assured is admitted in all cases to be correctly stated and finally proved, where satisfactory evidence on the point is produced to the Directors, and the Policy will be marked accordingly.

The interest which one person has in Assuring the life of another will, in like manner, be admitted.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

THE system of the NORTH BRITISH INSURANCE COMPANY combines the benefit of Mutual Assurance with the safety of a large Protecting Capital, and thus affords all the facilities and advantages which can prudently be offered by any Life Assurance Office.

Parties may either assure a precise sum at a low rate of Premium, or, as in Mutual Assurance Offices, pay a higher rate, and have Periodical Returns in the shape of Bonus Additions to the sum insured.

NON-PARTICIPATING POLICIES may at any time be transferred to the PARTICIPATING CLASS on equitable principles.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The Books close for the next Septennial Investigation and Division of Profits on the 31st of December 1858.

BONUSES are considered additions to the sum insured, and share in the future Profits. Thus, for example,—

A Policy of £1000, having £285, 16s. of previously vested additions, was at last Septennial Balance, 31st December 1851, ranked as a Policy for . . . . . £1285 16 0

And had a further addition made to it at that date of 112 10 3

And will, according to the principle of division above mentioned, be ranked at next investigation on 31st December 1858, as a policy for } £1398 6 3

NOTE.—In the event of death before the next Division of Profits in 1858, a PROSPECTIVE BONUS of £1 per cent. per annum on the above sum of £1398, 6s. 3d. is guaranteed, or £13, 19s. 8d. for each Premium paid since last investigation, being equal to £1, 8s. per cent. per annum on the original sum assured.

GENERAL FACILITIES.

Bonuses may at any time be commuted for an equivalent Cash Payment, or may be applied in reduction of future Annual Premiums.

Parties who may be desirous to discontinue their Policies (after three years' subsistence) may either have the surrender value in Cash, or a NEW POLICY FOR A CORRESPONDING LARGER SUM FREE OF PREMIUM.

On Insurances for the whole life, half the premium may remain on credit for the first five years, or one-third during the convenience of the party assured.

No extra charge for residence in British North America, the Cape, Australia, New Zealand, and parts of the United States; and no license required except for the voyage.

Policies, on proof of age of the party assured, are declared INDISPUTABLE from and after the expiry of FIVE YEARS from their date, provided that the ordinary annual and extra Premiums stipulated by the Policy be duly paid.

Parties effecting Insurance with the Company may, on application, receive a Certificate declaring the Policy exempt, FROM AND AFTER THE EXPIRY OF FIVE YEARS FROM ITS DATE, from the payment of extra premium for travelling or residing beyond the limits of Europe, or for entering into MILITARY or NAVAL SERVICE, and from the necessity of applying for License so to travel or reside, or for entering, after the expiry of the said FIVE YEARS into MILITARY or NAVAL SERVICE, provided it shall be shown, to the satisfaction of the Directors, that they have, at the time of application, no intention or prospect of going abroad, or of entering into Military or Naval Service.

Advances made on Policies to the extent of their acquired value.

No Entry Money, or other charge beyond the Premium.

N. B. In order to have the benefit of the year's entry, Proposals on the Participating Scale should be lodged on or before the 31st of December.

ANNUITIES.

1. IMMEDIATE ANNUITIES are granted on favourable terms.
2. DEFERRED ANNUITIES, to commence at any specified age, may be secured, either with or without return of premium.

FOR EXAMPLE.—A male of 30 years of age may secure an Annuity of £10, to commence on his attaining the age of 60, for an Annual Premium of £1 : 16s. without return, or £2 : 6 : 1 with return of premium to his heirs, in the event of his not arriving at 60.

3. SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES may be secured, with or without return of premium.

FOR EXAMPLE.—A husband aged 30 may secure to his wife of the same age a Survivorship Annuity of £10, for an Annual Premium during their joint lives of £2 : 12 : 10 without return, or £3 : 14 : 2 with return of the premiums paid, in the event of his being the survivor.

REVERSIONARY INTERESTS.

The Company are ready either to purchase Reversionary Interests and Life Rents, or to make advances on them to the extent of the security they afford.

FIRE INSURANCE.

The Company Insure against Fire—Silk, Cotton, Woollen, and Flax Mills, Buildings of all descriptions, Furniture, Stock-in-Trade, Merchandise, Agricultural Stock, Implements of Husbandry, and effects of every kind, at the Lowest Rates of Premium corresponding to the risk.

Farming Stock is Insured without the Average Clause, and loss and damage by Lightning thereon made good.

No charge is made for Policies when the sum insured amounts to £300, or for Transfers from other Offices.

Insurance for seven years charged for six years only.

Losses settled with promptitude and liberality. A duty of 3s. per cent. per annum on all property Insured from Fire in Great Britain and Ireland is payable to Government, with the exception of Farming Stock and Public Hospitals, which are exempt.

Prospectuses, containing Tables of Rates and every other information, may be had at the Head Office in Edinburgh, or at any of the Company's Agencies in the country.

THE system followed by this Institution is that of purely MUTUAL ASSURANCE, —the Policy-holders being the only parties who are interested in the Funds or entitled to share in the Profits. The whole affairs are minutely investigated at intervals of seven years, when the Profits ascertained to exist are applied and allocated according to certain principles fixed by the Deed of Constitution. During the past period of its history, the Society has paid away to the families or other representatives of deceased Members, ASSURANCES and BONUS ADDITIONS to the amount of more than

TWO MILLIONS FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS STERLING.

In many of these cases the Bonus has been of large amount; and under various of the older Policies, the payment under each of them has been (including the Bonus Additions) MORE THAN DOUBLE THE AMOUNT ORIGINALLY ASSURED.

The INVESTED FUND now possessed by the Society, which has arisen entirely from the accumulation of the Annual Contributions, amounts to very nearly

THREE MILLIONS STERLING;

And the ANNUAL REVENUE exceeds

THREE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY THOUSAND POUNDS.

The NEXT PERIODICAL INVESTIGATION takes place as at 31st December 1859, and in the ALLOCATION OF PROFITS to be then made, all participating Policies effected during 1857 will be ranked as Assurances of THREE YEARS' STANDING.

Mutual Assurance combined with Moderate Premiums.

The Scottish Provident Institution,

FOR LIFE ASSURANCE AND ANNUITIES.

Incorporated by Act of Parliament.

No. 14, ST ANDREW SQUARE, EDINBURGH.

The only Office which combines the advantage of Participation in the WHOLE PROFITS with MODERATE PREMIUMS.

The Premiums are, at early and middle ages, about a fourth lower than in other Mutual or Participating Offices. They are as low as the non-participating rates of the Proprietary Companies, which they admit of being, not only with safety, but with ample reversion of Profits to the Policy-holders, being free from the burden of Dividends to Shareholders.

Examples of ANNUAL PREMIUM to Assure £100 at Death.

| Age—25  | 30     | 35      | 40      | 45     | 50     |
|---------|--------|---------|---------|--------|--------|

Thus a person of 30 may secure £1000 at death for a yearly payment of £20, 15s.; which, if paid to any of the other Mutual Offices, would secure a Policy for £800 only, instead of £1000.

The arrangement, by which the premiums are reduced to a rate commensurate with the risk, is obviously more suited for securing a competent family provision, in case of early death, than that which, by the same yearly outlay, secures a much smaller present sum, with the hope only of prospective and contingent additions.

PROFITS.

The principle on which the Profits are divided is at once safe, equitable, and favourable to good lives—the surplus being reserved for those members who alone can have made surplus payments; in other words, for those whose Premiums, with accumulated Interest, amount to the sums in their Policies.

The practical working of the system has been, that at the First Division of Surplus—15½ years after the commencement—Bonus Additions have been made to the Policies which have come within the Participating Class, varying from 20 to 54 per cent. on their amount.

In all points of practice—as in provision for the indefeasibility of Policies, facility of license for travelling or residence abroad, and of obtaining advances on the value of the Policies—the regulations of the Society, as well as the administration, are as liberal as is consistent with right principle.

ANNUITIES are granted on favourable terms.

*.* Policies are issued free of Stamp Duty; and attention is invited to the circumstance that Premiums payable for Life Assurance are now allowed as a deduction from Income in the returns for Income-Tax.

Copies of last Report, explanatory of the principles, may be had on application at the Head Office or Agencies.

THE SCOTTISH EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY

is an Institution peculiarly adapted to afford provision for families. It is a purely Mutual Assurance Society. The whole profits are allocated every THREE YEARS amongst Policies of more than five years' duration. No part is, as in the case of a Proprietary Company, diverted from those who are Assured and paid away to Shareholders: and the additions which have already been made to Policies, afford the clearest evidence of the prosperity of the Institution, and the great advantages derived by its Members. For example:

A Policy for £1000, opened before March 1836, is increased to £1467 2 11

A Policy for £1000, opened before March 1840, is increased to £1352 7 10

The total additions to Policies made at and preceding 1st March 1856, amounted to EIGHT HUNDRED AND SEVENTEEN THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-ONE POUNDS.

The PROFITS or BONUSES may, in the option of the Assured, be applied thus:—

- 1st, They may be ADDED TO THE SUM ASSURED, payable at Death;
- 2d, They may be COMMUTED INTO A PRESENT PAYMENT to the Policy-holders; or,
- 3d, They may be APPLIED IN REDUCTION OF THE FUTURE PREMIUMS.

The next TRIENNIAL ALLOCATION takes place on 1st March 1859, when an additional Bonus will be declared.

POLICIES RENDERED INDISPUTABLE.

By a Resolution of the Society, Policies may, after being of five years' endurance, be declared indisputable on any ground whatever, and the Assured be entitled to travel or reside beyond the limits of Europe, without payment of Extra Premium for such travelling or residence. Special application must be made to the Directors for such privileges, however, and satisfactory evidence adduced that, at the time of his application, the Assured has no prospect or intention of going beyond the limits of Europe.

THE WHOLE OF THE NET PROFITS of the LIFE ASSURANCE business are employed for the benefit of the Assured, NINE-TENTHS being appropriated to making BONUS ADDITIONS to the Policies, and the remaining one-tenth being added to the CAPITAL or GUARANTEE FUND.

The Profits are ascertained and divided every year, and each Policy (of the Participation Class), taken out before 15TH MAY, shares in the division of that year.

The additions to Policies made at the last two Divisions were at the rate of £1, 5s. per cent., or £12, 10s. per £1000 for the year.

The BONUSES may be converted into CASH, or applied in reduction of Premium.

The Premiums are on the most moderate scale, and no charge is made for Entrance-Money, Stamps, or Medical Fees.

Under a NEW TABLE OF RATES the first year's Premium for a Participating Policy has been much reduced. Thus, at the age of 25, a person may assure his life for £500, at a cost for the first year of only £8, 12s. 6d. (instead of £10, 3s. 4d. under the ordinary Tables). The future Premiums may be similarly reduced by the application of the yearly Bonuses.

THE COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Was established in 1846, for the purpose of extending to the Colonies of Great Britain, and to India, the benefits of Life Assurance; and for the purpose of giving increased facilities to persons visiting or residing in Foreign countries.

The general management of the Company is under the direction of persons who have been long practically acquainted with and connected with the working of Life Assurance institutions; and it has been the study of the Directors to afford all those advantages to their Policy-holders abroad which are commanded by Assurers in this country.

THE COLONIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

For the purpose of giving increased facilities, also, in the Company's transactions, the Directors have formed Local Boards of Management, and Branch Offices, in the different Colonies, where Assurances may be effected and Premiums paid.

RATES OF PREMIUM.

The European rates of Premium are charged for residence in British North America, the Cape, Mauritius, Australia, and parts of the United States.

Moderate rates of extra Premium are charged for the East and West Indies, and other places abroad.

DIVISION OF PROFITS.

The first Investigation and Division of Profits took place as at 25th May 1854, and the addition to Policies was at the rate of £2 per cent. per annum of Reversionary Bonus, as shewn in the following Table, —the examples being Policies of £1000.

| Policy opened before | Original Sums Assured. | Bonus Additions. | Total Sum Assured. |

Future Investigations and Divisions of Profits will be made every five years. The next will take place at 25th May 1859.

CLAIMS SETTLED IN THE COLONIES OR AT HOME.

From the extent and nature of the Business transacted by this Company, the advantages afforded to Assurers cannot fail to be very great.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE conditions of the Policies now in course of being issued by this Company are not surpassed in liberality by those of any Institution of equal standing.

Assurances may be effected without participation in profits at very moderate rates of premium, suitable for Business transactions, in which the risks are of definite amount, or for cases of any description in which, from whatever cause, the largest possible assurance at the commencement, in proportion to the premium, is desired in preference to the chance of greater benefits at a larger outlay.

Assurances with participation in profits are generally preferred for Family Provisions. The affairs of the Company are investigated at intervals not exceeding five years, and Bonuses are allocated to Policies of this class, in proportion to the amount assured by each, and the number of years for which premiums have been received. Further additions are also made to Policies that become claims between two periods of division, securing, for such cases, advantages similar to those derived from Annual Investigations. The progress of this department of the business is highly satisfactory, a larger number of participating Assurances having been issued by the Company since the commencement of the current financial year than in any corresponding period of its history.

The next Investigation is appointed to take place at 31st Jan. 1857.

*.* Copies of Prospectus, with every information and Forms of Proposal, may be obtained at any of the Offices or Agencies of the Company.

FIRE INSURANCE

On almost every description of Property, at moderate Rates of Premium.

Policies may be transferred from other offices without expense.

Aberdeen, November 1856.

Life Association of Scotland.

CAPITAL, £400,000.

ANNUAL INCOME—(1856)—£110,000.

ESTABLISHED 1838.

EMPOWERED BY ROYAL CHARTER IN 1841, AND FURTHER BY SPECIAL ACT OF PARLIAMENT IN 1853.

THE ASSOCIATION, since its commencement, has twice received the sanction and approval of Government, after due inquiry into its constitution and the state of its affairs.

The Policy-holders of the Association incur none of the risks of Partnership. They are free from all responsibility, and the Sums assured are guaranteed.

The Regulations have been all adopted expressly with the view of reducing the expense of Life Assurance to the lowest scale consistent with permanent stability. This object has been effected mainly by the system of allocating the Profits—the share of each participating holder being handed to him every year (in money) at the time of payment of his Annual Premiums. The Annual Premiums are thus reduced to a comparatively small sum. Policy-holders having been for many years required to pay only 13s. per £1 of their Premiums; that is, instead of £20, a payment of only £13 has been required; instead of £10, £6, 10s.; and instead of £5, £3, 5s. The benefits of this system are afforded by no other Scotch Assurance office.

The Policy-holders participate at the first Division of Profits after they have been five years on the books, and at every Annual Division thereafter. Until they participate in the Profits, they may keep up Policies of £500 and upwards, by payment of only One-half the usual Premiums; the remaining half bearing interest, and being allowed to remain unpaid so long as the Policy-holders please—(see Prospectus.) Under this system, Policies of £1000 may be secured at the following payments for the first year:

| £18, 2s. 6d. | £17, 2s. 2d. | £23, 4s. 8d. | £34, 7s. 9d. |

The Rates for Non-Participating Assurances have lately been re-adjusted and reduced, and One-half only of the first five years' Premiums need be paid. The following are the first payments under that system for Policies for £1000:

DECLARATION OF BONUS.

The Company having this year completed the fourth quinquennial period of its existence, the Directors, after a careful investigation into the Life Department, resolved to recommend, from the profits of the past five years, a Bonus, present and prospective, to the policy-holders of the participating class, of £1, 7s. 6d. per cent. per annum, on all policies current at the 31st of January last; and although, from the Report of the Committee of Investigation, it appeared that a considerably higher Bonus might have been declared, the Meeting resolved to adopt the recommendation of the Directors, and to carry forward the surplus for appropriation at the next declaration of profits, to take place in 1861.

DIVIDEND.

At the same time, the Directors having recommended that the Dividend to the Shareholders for the past year be increased from 6 to 7½ per cent. on the paid-up capital, the same was adopted accordingly.

Life Assurance.

THIS Institution, which combines every advantage of a Scotch and English Office, rests its claim to the support of the Public generally, on the sound and equitable principles of its scheme.

It combines the MUTUAL or Participating, with the PROPRIETARY or Non-Participating System of Assurance. In the former, the Assured are entitled to the WHOLE of the accumulated Profits. In the latter, they are charged the lowest Rates of Premium consistent with security to the Establishment.

In both branches the Policy-holders are fully protected by the large Proprietary Capital of the Company, subscribed by a numerous and influential body of Shareholders.

The remarkable success of the Institution will be evident from the result of the SECOND DIVISION of Profits in June 1853, when an Annual Reduction or Allowance of THIRTY per Cent. was made on the Premiums payable during that and the four following years,—or an equivalent Addition made to the sum Assured; and when it appeared that during the five years ending 31st December 1852, New Policies had been issued to the extent of £864,016, and the total amount Assured during the twelve years since the foundation of the Institution amounted to £1,972,506.

During the two subsequent years new Policies have been issued to the extent of £360,723.

Loans can be effected with this Company on Policies on the mutual scale which have been five years in existence, to the extent of the surrender value, on the simple deposit of the Policy, without further security.

Fire Assurance.

Premiums of Assurance against Fire are charged at the usual moderate rates, with a Reduction of £10 per Cent. on the Residences and Furniture of Clergymen of all denominations, and the Buildings and Contents of Churches and Church Schools.

Detailed Prospectuses, the necessary Forms of Proposal, and every requisite information as to the mode of effecting Assurances, may be obtained either by letter, or personal application, at the Branch Office of the Institution, 31, SOUTH HANOVER STREET, EDINBURGH.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE FOLLOWING IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC,

No Entrance Money or Admission Fees are charged;

No Charge for Life Policy Stamps;

And Fees to Medical Referees paid by the Company.

THE immediate advantages of a moderate Scale of Premiums, in addition to the large Share of Profits appropriated to the Assured.

New Insurances for £100 and upwards, for the whole Term of Life, will receive Bonuses on the principle of Four-fifths or Eighty per cent. of the Profits from Life Insurances being divided among them at the end of every Fifth Year.

The Share of the Profits allotted to each Policy may be applied in either of the following ways, at the option of the Assured, viz.:—

- 1st, By a Bonus or Reversionary Sum being added to the amount insured under the Policy, payable at the death of the Life.
- 2d, Or by an immediate payment in Cash of its present value.
- 3d, Or by the amount being applied in an Equivalent Reduction of the future Annual Payment—such option to be signified within Three Months after the Bonus shall be declared.

Insurances may be effected, without Participation of Profits, at a lower rate of Premium than is charged for Insurances entitled to Profits.

Permission to persons, not being seafaring persons, in the course of their occupation, to pass in Steam-boats or Decked Vessels, during peace, from one part of Europe to any other part of Europe, without license from the Directors, or extra charge.

Peculiar advantages are afforded to Policy-holders, in cases of death by Duelling, Suicide, or by the hands of Justice, as stated in the conditions.

Payment of Claims in Three Months after the usual proofs.

INSURANCES MAY ALSO BE EFFECTED

Upon the joint continuance of two or more Lives.

Upon the joint Lives, and the Life of the Survivor, of two or more persons.

Upon the contingency of one Life dying before another.

Upon the Life assured attaining any specific age, or dying previously thereto.

PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID

Either yearly or half-yearly.

By a single payment.

By a limited number of payments.

By an ascending or descending scale.

Annuities granted and purchased, and Endowment for Children effected.

WEST OF ENGLAND FIRE AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY CONTINUED.

FIRE INSURANCES are effected on the following advantageous terms, the Rates having been reduced—

First Class, from.....2s. to 1s. 6d. per cent.

Second ditto,.....3s. to 2s. 6d. ..

Third ditto,.....5s. to 4s. 6d. ..

In addition to which, the disposable Surplus Premiums which may be derived from Fire Insurances will be ascertained at the end of every Fifth Year, and persons then insured to the extent of £300 and upwards, and whose Policies shall have been in force the two preceding years, will be entitled to participate in a Molety of such Surplus.

The above advantages being combined with the recent Reduction of Premiums, will give the terms offered to the Public by this Institution a manifest superiority, and entitle it to a preference.

INSURANCE from Loss or Damage by Fire has been found a measure of great importance to the security of Property and to the happiness of Families. This precaution is seldom neglected by Merchants and Tradesmen, and is equally necessary to Gentlemen, Farmers, and Manufacturers of every kind.—The PHOENIX OFFICE was established by a numerous Proprietary in January 1782, upon principles of public utility. The promptitude and cheerfulness with which the most important Losses have been made good by the Company are well known;—a large Capital in Government Securities is at all times held in readiness for that purpose.

N. B.—The private fortune of every individual Shareholder in the Company is responsible for its engagements; and no person insured in this Office is liable for the Losses of others, as is the case in Contribution Societies.

T. GEORGE BARCLAY, Esq., Deputy-Chairman.

THE Income from the Premium Fund of this Company is upwards of £110,000 per annum, and the investments exceed 37 per cent. of the sums insured.

The SCALE OF PREMIUMS adopted will be found of a very moderate character, but at the same time quite adequate to the risk incurred.

ONE-THIRD of the Premium on Insurances of £500 and upwards, for the whole term of life, may remain as a debt upon the Policy, to be paid off at convenience; or the Directors will lend sums of £50 and upwards, on the security of Policies effected with this Company for the whole term of life, when they have acquired an adequate value.

FOUR-FIFTHS, or 80 per cent. of the Profits, are assigned to Policies every fifth year, and may be applied to increase the sum insured, to an immediate payment in cash, or to the reduction and ultimate extinction of future premiums.

At the fifth appropriation of Profits for the five years terminating January 31, 1856, a reversionary Bonus was declared of £1, 10s. per cent. on the sums insured, and subsisting additions for every Premium paid during the five years. This Bonus, on Policies of the longest duration, exceeds £2, 5s. per cent. per annum on the original sums insured, and increases a policy of £1000 to £1638.

The next appropriation will be made in 1861, and parties who insure during the current year will participate in the Profits to the fullest extent.

Proposals for Insurances may be made at the Chief Office, as above; at the Branch Office, 16, Pall Mall, London; or to any of the Agents throughout the Kingdom.

The Surrender Value of a Policy will be paid in Cash; or, if preferred, a new Policy will be issued for an equivalent sum, for which no future Premium will be required.

Loans are granted to the Assured at any time, but only to the extent of the Surrender Value of the Policy.

A Policy may be exchanged by the substitution of a healthy and approved life, the new Policy being entitled to all the advantages, by way of Bonus or otherwise, equivalent to those attaching to the original Policy.

Forms of Proposals, Prospectus, and every information, may be had at the Head Office, or of the Agents.

THIS CORPORATION has granted Assurances on Lives for a period exceeding One Hundred and Thirty Years, having issued its first Policy on the 7th June 1721.

Two-thirds, or 66 per cent. of the entire Profits, are given to the Assured.

Policies may be opened under any of the following plans, viz.:—

At a low rate of Premium, without participation in profits, or at a somewhat higher rate, entitling the Assured, either after the first five years, to an annual abatement of premium for the remainder of life, or, after payment of the first premium, to a participation in the ensuing quinquennial Bonus.

The high character which this ancient Corporation has maintained during nearly a Century and a Half, secures to the public a full and faithful declaration of profits.

The Corporation bears the whole Expenses of Management, thus giving to the Assured, conjoined with the protection afforded by its Corporate Fund, advantages equal to those of any system of Mutual Assurance.

Premiums may be paid Yearly, Half-yearly, or Quarterly.

All Policies are issued free from Stamp-duty, or from charge of any description whatever, beyond the Premium.

The attention of the Public is especially called to the great advantages offered to Life Assurers by the Legislature in its recent Enactments, by which it will be found that, to a defined extent, Life Premiums are not subject to Income Tax.—The Fees of Medical Referees are paid by the Corporation.

Annuities are granted by the Corporation, payable Half-yearly.

Every facility will be given for the transfer or exchange of Policies, or any other suitable arrangement will be made for the convenience of the Assured.

It is optional in the assured to have the Bonus applied in reduction of the annual premium instead of added to the policy as above.

The following are among the Benefits afforded by this Company:—

1. Policies rendered indisputable.
2. Loans granted on deposit of Policies of five years' standing to the extent of their value.
3. All claims on Policies issued in Scotland are payable on Scotch Confirmations.
4. A GUARANTEED RETURN will be made at any time for the surrender of existing whole term Policies effected by even rates of 40 PER CENT. of the amount of ordinary Premiums received thereon; thus making them available as a security either for a cash credit with a bank or for an advance from a private friend.

YORKSHIRE Fire and Life Insurance Company.

Established at York 1824, & empowered by Act of Parliament.—Capital, £500,000.

THIS Company has been established thirty-two years, and has met with great support and encouragement; and it is confidently anticipated that the liberality of its terms, and the ample security which it affords to the public for the fulfilment of its engagements, will continue to secure to it the preference it has hitherto enjoyed.—The Directors have had an entirely new and extensive set of Tables drawn up for the Insurance of FEMALE LIVES, it having been found by experience that a considerable Reduction may be made in the Premiums for such Insurances.

The following specimen is exhibited of the Rates for both MALES and FEMALES, which are the lowest upon the average taken by any office.

THE realized Assets of this Company amount to One Million, Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand Pounds.

The Annual Income exceeds Two Hundred Thousand Pounds.

The number of existing Policies is upwards of Six Thousand Five Hundred.

The total Amount assured exceeds Four Million, Four Hundred Thousand Pounds.

A Division of Surplus will take place in JUNE 1857: the divisions are quinquennial, and the whole Surplus (less 20 per cent. only) is distributed amongst the Assured.

The Premiums required, although moderate, entitle the Assured to 80 per cent. of the Quinquennial Surplus.

The Lives assured are permitted, in time of peace, and not being engaged in mining or gold-digging, to reside in any country—or to pass by sea (not being seafaring persons by profession) between any two parts of the same hemisphere—distant more than 88 degrees from the Equator, without extra charge.

All Policy Stamps and Medical Fees are paid by the Company.

By recent enactments, persons are exempt, under certain restrictions, from Income Tax, as respects so much of their income as they may devote to Assurances on Lives.

The Annual Reports of the Company's State and Progress, Prospectuses, and Forms, may be had, or will be sent, post-free, on application at the Office, or to any of the Company's Agents.

Any additional information will be afforded by Mr JOHN SHAND, W.S., the Company's Agent for Edinburgh.

DEFENDER

FIRE AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Offices—34, NEW BRIDGE STREET, BLACKFRIARS, LONDON.

Capital, One Million Sterling.

Fire Insurance.

THIS Company has been mainly instrumental in obtaining for the public the reconsideration and reduction of the rates upon many important risks, and continues to insure against loss or damage by Fire—Silk, Cotton, Woollen, Corn, Flax, & Flour Mills, Factories, Warehouses, and Buildings of all descriptions, Furniture, Stock-in-Trade, Merchandise, Ships in Harbour or on the Stocks, Agricultural Produce, Implements of Husbandry, and Effects of every kind, at Lower Rates of Premium generally than are charged by other Offices.

Small Sums in the shape of Profits are, by some Companies, returned to the insured at the end of a term of years, but the DEFENDER, by naming a low rate when the risk is first accepted, will be found to put parties on a still better footing.

Farming Stock is covered without the average clause, and loss or damage by lightning thereon is made good.

The Duty payments to Government show steady progression in the business done by the Company. In 1846 the sum of £1858 was paid for duties, £2816 in 1847, £4220 in 1848, £4938 in 1849, £5766 in 1850, £6160 in 1851, £7026 in 1852, £7543 in 1853, £7848 in 1854, and £8050 in 1855.

All Fire losses paid immediately upon the claim being examined.

There is no charge made for the Policy, and no expense attends the transference of Insurances from other Offices.

Life Assurance.

The Tables of Premiums have been reduced as low as can safely be done, avoiding the risk consequent upon insufficient charges. Credit is given if required for a portion of the Annual Premiums during the first Five years, the remainder becoming a charge upon the Policy for such period as may be agreed upon, with interest at 5 per cent. Premiums received Half-yearly, Quarterly, or Monthly, as may be convenient. All Life claims paid within three months after satisfactory proof of the death of the assured, or sooner by arrangement with the Directors.

The Assured on the Participation Scale are entitled to two-thirds of the Profits, and may receive the amount in cash, by an addition to the sum assured, or, by a reduction of the Annual Premium. The Bonus declared upon Policies participating in Profits, for the five years ending 1852, was equal on an average to 40 per cent. upon the premiums paid.

Policies indisputable, except in cases of palpable fraud.

No Stamp Duties are now charged upon Life Policies; and it should be borne in mind that the Income Tax Act expressly exempts from charge as much of income as is required to pay Life Policy Premiums.

Contingent or Reversionary Interests, and Annuities purchased.

A liberal Commission allowed to Solicitors and others introducing Assurances to the Office.

Forms of Proposals for Assurance, and all other information, may be obtained (free of expense) on application at the Head Office, or Agencies in Scotland.

The Board of Directors having, at the request of parties interested, resolved to extend considerably their business operations in Scotland, will be glad to receive applications from parties of some influence who may be willing to act as Agents for the Company in City, Town, or Village, and to whom a liberal scale of commission will be given. Applications from such, addressed to the Managing Director, accompanied with a reference to London or Glasgow, will meet with prompt attention.

LORD VISCOUNT TORRINGTON, Chairman.

THE INDISPUTABLE LIFE POLICY COMPANY was established in 1848, and introduced valuable improvements into the practice of Life Assurance, by making Life Policies certain and absolute documents of security. Instead of issuing merely doubtful instruments, like ordinary Policies, depending for their validity upon numerous questions, which are kept open until the claims arise, then to be discussed and proved, this Company take upon themselves the duty of making all necessary inquiries as to the Life proposed before granting the Policy, which, when issued, becomes an indisputable document of debt.

To remove all doubt on this important subject, the following clause was inserted in the Deed of Incorporation of the Company, registered in terms of the Act 7 and 8 Vict. c. 110.

Clause 84.—That every Policy issued by the Company shall be indefeasible and indisputable, and the fact of issuing the same shall be conclusive evidence of the validity of the Policy, and it shall not be lawful for the Company to delay payment of the money assured thereby, on the ground of any error, mistake, or omission, however important, made by or on the part of the person or persons effecting such Assurance, and that on the contrary the amount so assured shall be paid at the time stipulated by the Policy, as if no such error, mistake, or omission had been made or discovered.

Complete indisputability is thus made binding upon the Company, and is guaranteed to every Policy-holder.

A Reduction of 25 per cent. has been made on the Premiums of all Policies of five years' standing.

Established 1837.—Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vict. Cap. 9.

Chairman—Major-General ROBERT ALEXANDER, Blackheath Park.

ADVANTAGES OF THIS INSTITUTION.

INCREASING RATES OF PREMIUM.

A Table especially adapted to the securing of Loans or Debts, and to all other cases where a Policy may be required for a temporary purpose only, but which may be kept up, if necessary, throughout the whole term of Life.

HALF-CREDIT RATES OF PREMIUM.

Credit given for half the amount of the First Seven Annual Premiums, the amount of the unpaid Half-Premiums being deducted from the sum assured when the Policy becomes a claim.

SUM ASSURED PAYABLE DURING LIFE.

The amount payable at the death of the Assured, if he die before attaining the age of sixty, but to the assured himself, if he attain that age, thus combining a provision for old age with an assurance upon life.

ORPHANS' ENDOWMENT BRANCH.

Established for the purpose of affording to parents and others the means of having Children educated and started in Life, by securing annuities, to commence at the Parent's death, and to be paid until a child, if a son, shall attain his 21st year, or, if a daughter, her 25th year of Age.

Instituted 1839.—Empowered by her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent.

Annual Division of Profits—applied in reduction of the current year's Premium.

Policy-holders entitled to participate in the profits after payment of Five or Seven Annual Premiums according to the table of Rates selected.

Premiums charged for every three months' difference of age—not, as is usually the case, for every whole year only.

Half-Credit Policies granted on terms unusually favourable to the assured, the amount of half premiums for which credit is given being liquidated out of the profits.

At the Annual General Meeting in 1852, a reduction of 30 per cent. was made on the current year's Premium on all participating Policies.

A Board of Directors in attendance daily at two o'clock.

Medical Attendants remunerated in all cases for their Reports.

THIS Office has been established upwards of twenty years, during which period a very large amount of Fire and Life Business has been done in Scotland; and the increasing business of this Company is to be attributed to the numerous advantages and facilities it offers to the Commercial Community, as well as the LIBERALITY with which all its operations are conducted.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

This Company issues Policies upon every description of Property, including Mills and Special Risks, upon the most favourable terms.

Policies transferred from other Offices free of expense.

The Renewal Receipts of Fire Policies can be made to fall due at either the Scotch or English Terms.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

In this branch of business this Company offers peculiar advantages, combining all the improvements in the mode of Insurance which experience has proved to be desirable, with the security arising from a large subscribed capital and an established business, and likewise the benefit the Life Policy-holders derive from the profits accruing from the Fire Department.

Prospectuses and all particulars may be obtained at the Office, or from any of the Agents of the Company.

Special Notice.—Third Division of Profits.

THE unusual success which has attended the cautious yet energetic operations of this Company, has enabled the Directors to add Reversionary Bonuses to Policies on the participating class, averaging nearly 2 per cent. per annum on the sum insured, or from 30 to 100 per cent. on the Premiums paid.

Parties insuring with this Company do not incur the risk of Co-partnership, as in Mutual Offices.

Established nearly a Quarter of a Century.

ANNUAL INCOME UPWARDS OF £125,000.

The Funds or Property of the Company as at 31st December 1855, amounted to £566,124, 2s. 6d., invested in Government and other approved Securities.

Current Accounts are received on the same principles as those observed by the London Bankers. Every person connected with the establishment signs a Declaration of secrecy as to the accounts of individuals. No Christmas Boxes or other gratuities are allowed to be taken by the Officers of the Bank. The Bank also takes the agency of Joint Stock Banks, Private Bankers, and other parties residing at a distance. Cheques upon penny stamps may be drawn from any place in the United Kingdom.

Parties who are desirous of having Current Accounts, without being under the necessity of keeping a balance, are charged a small commission, proportionate to the amount of their transactions.

Sums from £10 to £1000 are received on Deposit, at a rate of interest to be fixed at the time, and they are re-payable upon demand, without notice.

Sums of £1000 and upwards are also received on Deposit Receipts, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, with regard to the rate of interest, and the time of repayment. Trustees and others who have money which they cannot immediately employ, may thus obtain an interest for it, until an opportunity occurs for its permanent investment. Parties may lodge money upon an Interest Account who have no Current Account, and those who have Current Accounts may transfer any portion of their Balance to an Interest Account.

CIRCULAR NOTES are issued for the use of Travellers on the Continent, payable at every important place in Europe. These notes are issued without charge, and are cashed abroad free of Commission. The Bank also issues free of charge, Letters of Credit on all the principal cities and towns in Europe, and upon New York and Chicago, United States; Cape Town, Graham's Town, Cape of Good Hope, Port Elizabeth, and Algoa Bay. Letters of Credit and Bills of Exchange are likewise granted AT PAR, upon Melbourne, Geelong, Avoca, Belfast, Ballarat, Castlemaine, Maryborough, Sandhurst, and Hobart Town. The Circular Notes may be obtained at the Bank or any of its Branches as above. The Letters of Credit and Bills of Exchange are issued only at the Head Office in Lothbury.

Valuable Works

WILLIAM OLIPHANT AND SONS, EDINBURGH.

DEDICATED BY SPECIAL PERMISSION TO THE QUEEN.

DAILY BIBLE ILLUSTRATIONS: being ORIGINAL READINGS FOR A YEAR on Subjects from Sacred History, Biography, Geography, Antiquities, and Theology.

By JOHN KITTO, D.D., F.S.A., Editor of "The Pictorial Bible," etc.

This work, which is especially designed for the Family Circle, embraces the leading Historical Incidents of the Sacred Narrative, and extends to Eight Volumes, foolscap 8vo, enriched with fine Frontispieces, Vignettes, and numerous Engravings. The last volume contains an elaborate Index. Each volume is complete in itself, and is sold separately, 6s., cloth.

The Set forms a most appropriate and useful present, and may be had handsomely bound in Antique Calf, £3, 12s.; and in Antique Morocco, £4, 4s.

Extract from Professor EADIE's Critical Estimate of Dr KITTO's Writings.

"Dr Kitto's last, and in some respects, best work. It merits, and it has obtained, an immense popularity. The topics are selected with admirable skill, and are usually founded on some striking scene or novel adventure, some fact or sentiment, some attractive feature of character or remarkable incident in eastern life and enterprise. Each is told with a charming simplicity, surrounded with numerous and beautiful illustrations, and interspersed or closed with pointed and just reflections. He throws light, throughout the series, on many obscure allusions, says many tender and many startling things, opens his heart to the reader, as he unfolds the stores of his learning—all his utterances being in harmony with his avowed design, to make this work 'really interesting as a reading book to the family circle,' for which it is primarily intended. The interest never flags, dry detail is avoided, and the themes for the Lord's Day are in uniform keeping with its sacred character. These eight volumes are, in fact, the cream of all that Dr Kitto had previously written."

WORKS PUBLISHED BY A. FULLARTON & CO., LONDON, EDINBURGH, AND GLASGOW.

History and Biography.

HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, from the Discovery of the American Continent to the end of the War of Independence. By GEORGE BANCROFT, Esq., and CHARLES BOTTA. In two volumes, imp. 8vo, Maps, Portraits, and other Illustrations, £1, 8s. cloth.

"A work of the deepest interest to any student of these times, and executed in a manner that must elevate in general esteem the national literature of America."—The Statesmen of the Commonwealth, by John Foster, Esq., of the Middle Temple.

HISTORY OF THE FRENCH REVOLUTION. By M. A. THIERS. Translated by T. W. REDHEAD, Esq. In one volume, imperial 8vo, with Twenty Original Portrait and Scenic Illustrations, engraved in the first style of art, price 22s. cloth.

HISTORY OF THE CONSULATE AND EMPIRE OF NAPOLEON. By M. A. THIERS. Vols. 1 to 3, with Sixty Illustrations, price 22s. cloth each.

"Much the cheapest edition which has yet appeared; and certainly one of the handsomest, whether we look at the manner in which it is printed, or at the number and character of its pictorial illustrations."—Glasgow Constitutional.

Vol. 4, completing the History, in course of publication.

A MEMOIR OF FIELD-MARSHAL THE DUKE OF WELLINGTON; with interspersed notices of his principal Associates in Council and Companions and Opponents in Arms. Illustrated by a series of Forty-eight Portraits, Battle Scenes, and Maps illustrative of the various Campaigns, &c. In 2 volumes, imperial 8vo, cloth, price £1, 16s.

HISTORY OF EDINBURGH from the Earliest Period to the Completion of the Half Century 1850; with Notices of Remarkable and Distinguished Characters. By JOHN ANDERSON, Author of "Reminiscences of Dr Chalmers." In one volume, demy 8vo, cloth, price 10s.

"Mr Anderson has produced a useful, indeed, a necessary, book."—Athenæum.

"Its earlier pages will be found to contain many a characteristic fact and graphic picture, representative of ages wholly unlike our own; and its latter portions to form a useful record of events which, though they occurred only a few years ago, are already confused together in the memory of at least the men in middle life who witnessed or took a part in them, and are not yet recorded elsewhere."—Witness.

HISTORICAL TALES OF THE SCOTTISH WARS, embracing the Martial Achievements of Scotland. In four volumes, small 8vo, with Illustrations, price 16s. cloth.

These Tales consist of a series of Historiettes, or narratives connected with Scottish History, constructed on the same principle as Sir Walter Scott's TALES OF A GRANDFATHER, and carefully selected and compiled from the most authentic Histories, Chronicles, Diaries, and Original Manuscripts, preserved in the public libraries and in private collections.

A HISTORY OF THE HIGHLANDS AND HIGHLAND CLANS, comprising curious and interesting Selections from the Stuart Papers. Illustrated Edition, on fine paper, with Portraits, Armorial Bearings, Map of Clan Territories, Coloured Specimens of Clan Tartans, Scenery of Important Localities, and Numerous Woodcuts. By JAMES BROWNE, Esq., LL.D., Advocate. In four volumes, royal 8vo, price £3, cloth.

No other Publication exists in which the subject of the Highlands and Highlanders is treated of in all its branches, or to which reference may be conveniently made for information respecting them, presented in an elegant, agreeable, and accessible form. His late Majesty was pleased to allow access, for the first time, to the STUART PAPERS, for the use of the author in preparing this NATIONAL WORK.

TURKEY AND THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE. History of Turkey and the Ottoman Empire from the earliest Period to the present Time. By WILLIAM DEANS. In one volume, cloth, with Map and Plate, price 3s.

Geographical Works.

PUBLISHED UNDER THE PATRONAGE OF HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD; or, Dictionary of Geographical Knowledge, compiled from the most recent authorities, and forming a complete body of Modern Geography, Physical, Political, Statistical, Historical, and Ethnographical. Edited by a Member of the Royal Geographical Society. In seven volumes, imperial 8vo, with 124 Maps and Engravings, and numerous Wood-cuts, price £10, rich and strong cloth.

"The volume contains a very complete and well-digested body of information, superior in most respects to what is to be found in existing Gazetteers. Maps and engravings illustrate many of the different subjects treated, and great attention appears to have been paid to the statistics of hydrography upon which the nautical surveys and charts of the Admiralty have been largely consulted by the compilers. With respect to the orthography of places, also (a fertile source of confusion in similar publications), great efforts have been made to establish a uniform system, especially in regard to names in Oriental, African, and unwritten languages, that mode of spelling being adopted which is sanctioned by the Geographical and Asiatic Societies of London, and generally by all the best European writers. Another feature of excellence is the attention paid to ethnography, upon which so much light has recently been thrown by the labours of Humboldt, Duponceanu, Prichard, and others."—Times.

"The aim of the parties concerned in this publication is lofty. They purpose not only to give existence to a good book, but to one which, upon its subject, shall take unquestioned precedence of every other. So far as we have examined the part before us, we must pronounce it in all respects excellent."—British Quarterly Review.

"A work of greater extent, enterprise, and merit, than is yet generally known. It is more comprehensive than Gazetteers in general—geography, physical (in its largest sense), political, and statistical; hydrography, ethnography; the positions of places, comprising the three elements of latitude, longitude, and altitude; and a special and unusual attention to the orthography of names. The materials, also, are, like the plan, to be, as far as possible or desirable, new."—Scotsman.

"Immeasurably superior to any other that I am acquainted with."—Captain Washington, R.N., Hydrographer to the Admiralty.

CHEAP HISTORY OF ROME FOR SCHOOLS.

Now ready, price 1s. 6d. bound,

OUTLINES of the HISTORY of ROME, with Exercises for Examination. Edited by HENRY WHITE, B. A. Trinity College, Cambridge, M. A. and Ph. Dr. Heidelberg.

It might be thought almost a superfluous undertaking to publish another Manual of Roman History, considering the number already in use in our schools. But most of these were either designed for advanced students, or are abridgments, more or less accurate, of works now become obsolete, in consequence of the great progress made during the last few years in the elucidation of Roman annals. There appeared, accordingly, to be room for an introductory work, embodying the latest investigations of modern historians, and at the same time supplying a want often felt by enlightened teachers. The Author has endeavoured to combine both these desiderata in the present Outlines, which will be found to contain a short but clear and connected narrative of the leading events in Roman history, from the earliest times down to the overthrow of the Western Empire in A. D. 476. It is hoped, that while in many cases this little volume may serve to create a desire for a more minute and critical study of the transactions which it records, it may also furnish an accurate general outline of the subject to those who may not have the opportunity of reading larger works.

FOR THE EDUCATION OF YOUNG LADIES, 1, PARK PLACE,

HEAD MASTER, . . . . . MR DALGLEISH.
LADY SUPERINTENDENT, . . . . . MISS KENNEDY.

THE OBJECT of this INSTITUTION is to give to YOUNG LADIES of the higher ranks an extended Course of Instruction, combining Class-teaching by MASTERS, with the supervision of the conduct and deportment of the Pupils, under the immediate direction of a LADY SUPERINTENDENT.

The Pupils are arranged in five principal divisions, according to age and previous advancement in their studies; and the enrolments for the several Divisions at no time exceed the number of Pupils necessary for securing a proper gradation of Classes, and the requisite attendance of Masters.

The Class-instruction is confided to twenty-one PROFESSIONAL TEACHERS, of whom five are engaged in connexion with the English department and relative branches. In all the departments, the Class-instruction is conducted exclusively by the Masters.

The LADY SUPERINTENDENT is assisted in the supervision of the Pupils by five Principal and seven Junior Governesses.

B O A R D.

MR and MRS DALGLEISH, assisted by Resident Governesses, receive a limited number of Young Ladies as BOARDERS.

The House occupied by the Institution—formerly the Town residence of the late Sir Archibald Campbell, Bart.—is peculiarly suitable for a Boarding and Educational Establishment. The Premises are unusually large and commodious; and, while central for both Teachers and Day-pupils, the situation, in the immediate vicinity of the widely-extended Southern Suburbs of the City, is one of the healthiest and most delightful in Edinburgh.

PROSPECTUSES, containing full information, may be had on applying at the Institution, 1, Park Place, Edinburgh.

BOARD.

MR OLIPHANT receives into his Family at his house, 28, Charlotte Square, a limited number of Boys as Boarders.

HAMILTON PLACE ACADEMY, EDINBURGH,

UNDER THE PERSONAL SUPERINTENDENCE OF

MR MACLAREN, F. E. I. S., HEAD MASTER,

ASSISTED BY

Mr GAWAN, English and Mercantile.
Mr STORRE, English and Mercantile.
Mr MACLAREN, English & Mercantile.
Mr CRANSTON, A. M., Classical and Mercantile.

Mr ROBERTSON, A. M., Classical and Mathematical.
HERR SCHOPP, French and German.
Mr NAPIER, Drawing.
Mr MÜLLER, Pianoforte.

Mons. BROUNEAU, Dancing and Calisthenics.

The Academy was reopened on Monday, 22d September, 1856.

THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION pursued in this INSTITUTION comprehends the various sections of a complete ENGLISH, CLASSICAL, and MERCANTILE EDUCATION, combining the Practical and Scientific Branches with the Languages and General Literature, in which Pupils are thoroughly prepared either for Domestic Usefulness, Military Schools, the Counting-House, or University.

The School is now divided into Six Class-Rooms, all large, lofty, well lighted, and properly ventilated, each conducted by its appropriate Master,—an arrangement attended with obvious advantages, as each Teacher has his peculiar department, to which his exclusive attention is constantly directed; and the Classes are so arranged that Pupils may attend one or more branches at their respective hours as Parents or Guardians may think proper. The Religious Training of the Young is made an object of primary importance in this Institution. The Session extends from the 22d September till the end of July, and is divided into four Quarters.

QUARTER DAYS—22d September, 15th December, 1st March, and 15th May.

BOARD AND EDUCATION.

MR MACLAREN receives into his Family a limited number of Young Gentlemen as Boarders, whose Studies are carefully superintended, and every attention is paid to their health, comfort, and education. The Premises, though extensive before and very commodious, have recently been greatly enlarged and improved; all the apartments, both Dormitories and Class-Rooms, are lofty, well lighted, properly ventilated, and fitted up in a very superior manner, with every convenience necessary for a Boarding and Educational Establishment; and the situation being in the outskirts of the New Town, the Boarders have the enjoyment of a Country Residence, combined with the advantages of a First-Class English, Classical, and Mercantile Education.

TERMS FOR BOARD AND EDUCATION PAYABLE QUARTERLY IN ADVANCE.

Pupils entering under ten years of age are charged . . . 30 Guineas per ann.
Pupils entering between 10 and 14 years of age are charged 35 Guineas per ann.
Pupils entering above 14 years of age are charged . . . 40 Guineas per ann.
Washing . . . . . 2 Guineas per ann.

Three months' notice is required previous to removing a Boarder.

These Charges include all Fees for an English, Classical, and Mercantile Education.—MUSIC, GERMAN, DRAWING, and DANCING charged extra.

THE SCOTTISH NAVAL AND MILITARY ACADEMY was founded in 1825. The Institution, which this year commences its 31st Session, had its origin in the public and patriotic spirit of a number of Noblemen and Gentlemen who were desirous of providing a Seminary in Scotland where young men might receive a systematic course of instruction to qualify them for the public service of their country.

The Institution under its present arrangements has been eminently successful. Since its commencement no fewer than a thousand Officers have been trained within its walls. It is gratifying to the Directors to be able to say, that many of these their former Pupils have distinguished themselves, and are now filling offices of high rank and responsibility, with honour to themselves and the Academy in all parts of the world.

The recent regulations of the Service now renders the system of instruction which has been followed in the Academy from its commencement, INDISPENSABLE for the admission of young men into the Service. With reference to these regulations the Directors have resolved, that while the qualifications prescribed by the Horse Guards and Admiralty, and those also by the Hon. the East India Company, shall be CAREFULLY AND MORE ESPECIALLY KEPT IN VIEW, such a system of instruction shall be followed out as may qualify Officers for filling the highest appointments in the Service.

To Officers quartered, or residing in Edinburgh and the Neighbourhood, the Academy offers an excellent aid in the pursuit of such valuable acquirements as Drawing, Fortification, Surveying, Modelling, Mining, Civil Engineering; and for these private hours have been set aside from two to four o'clock.

That the Pupils attending the Academy may have all the advantages enjoyed in the best Military Schools in England, it has been arranged to have a Course of Lectures on the more important branches of Physical Science, such as Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and Geology, at moderate Fees.

The Session commences on the first of October yearly, and terminates in the last week of July, when there is a Public Examination, Exhibition, and Distribution of Prizes. It is divided into Four Periods, beginning on the 1st October, 15th December, 1st March, and 15th May; and though it is desirable that Pupils should enter the Academy at the beginning of the Session, they may be admitted at any time convenient for themselves.
